PATENTED OCTOBER 2, 1866, This simple, though effective machine is admit-ted by all scientific observers to be the most direct device for militaring clover seed yet discovered. A mere ginner at it is sufficient to convince the most obtase namel of its practical utility. It strips the clover head from the stalk leaving the straw standing upon the ground. It is easily drawn by one horse, and requires leat one man or lay to work it. bey to work it.

It is compact, simple in structure, and not lintio to get out of order, and can be cheaply got up.
The groat advantage in first machine is, we have the seed gathered in the chaff, ready for the clover unit or infler; besides saving the great length of time and abor of moving, bandling and threshing it from the struct, it will also pay every farmer to gather his seed with this machine, on account of the saving of the seed which is lost in the old way of gathering it.
