ELASTIC-STICH. SEWING MACHINES are superior to all others for the following reaspools, and requiring no rewinding.

2. They are more easily understood and used, and less liable to derangement than other ma-

5. They are capable of executing perfectly, without change of adjustment, a much greater variety of work than other machines.

4. The stitch made by these machines is much more firm, clostic, and durable, especially upon articles which require to be washed and ironed than any other stitch.

5. This stitch, gwing to the monner in which the under thread is inwrought, is much the most plump and beautiful in use, and retains the plumpiess and beauty even upon articles fre-quently washed and broned until they are worn 6. The structure of the seam is such that, though it be cut or broken at intervals of only a few stitches, it will neither open, run, nor ravel, but emain firm and durable.

7. Unlike other machines, these fasten both nds of the seam by their own operation.

8. With these machines, while silk is used upon the right or face side of the seam, cotton may be used upon the other side without lessening the strength or durability of the seam. This can be one on no other machine, and is a great saving open all articles stitched or made up with slik. 9. These machines, in addition to their superior merits as instruments for sewing, by a change of adjustment, easily learned and practised, excente the most beautiful and permanent embroidery

In addition to their family machines they have IMPROVED DOUBLE LOCK

STITCH MACHINES, unking a stitch affice on both sides. This Corn. making a strice alike on both sides. This Company make both the Lock and Double stitch Machines, so that persons having a preference can select such as they like best, and if not suited can exchange for the other, thus giving the public the advantage of this arrangement. They also make he newly invented loring, vost-making, light shoemaking, as well as for family sewing. Large numbers of these machines are in use, and they give universal satisfaction. None who have seen this machine will willingly use the noisy and cumbrous lock-stitch. achines heretofore in general use. Price $55; with Henmers, 499.

Their No. 948 A LIGHT RUNNING MACHINE, ontaining many improvements, adapted for tal
