Farmer's Department.

Cornmeal for Butter Making.

At a meeting of the Little Falls Farmer's Club, at Herkimer, N. Y. Judge Owens made some remarks on feeding cornmeal to cows, which are reported as follows, in the Utica Herald:

He found no ground feed so good for butter-making as Indian meal; he made a number of experiments in feeding and the best results were obtained by feeding it dry. In that state, the animal took it slow, moistening it with saliva and thoroughly masticating it. In feeding it wet, he thought it passed directly to the third stomach, and hence was not properly assimilated. Had a large cow, of the Holderness breed, upon which he experimented to see how much meal could be fed with profit. Found that feeding two quarts at a feed, and twice a day was all she would bear. This, in addition to hay, brought down the milk in large quantities. By such feed this cow yielded fourteen pounds of butter per week. Her highest product was forty-one pounds in fifteen days, besides thirty quarts of milk, which was saved out for family use. Did not regard turnips as of much value for milch cows; preferred potatoes as far more valuable to feed.

Corn and Hogs.

From carefully conducted experiments, by different persons, it has been ascertained that one bushel of corn will make a little over ten and one-half pounds of pork, gross. Taking the result as a basis, the following deductions are made, which all our farmers would do well to lay by for a convenient reference, that—

When corn sells for 12½ cents per bushel, pork costs 1½ cents per pound.

When corn costs 17 cents per bushel, pork costs 2 cents a pound.

When corn costs 25 cents per bushel, pork costs 3 cents a pound.

When corn costs 33 cents per bushel, pork costs 4 cents a pound.

When corn costs 50 cents per bushel, pork costs 6 cents a pound.

The following statement shows what the farmer realizes in his corn when sold in the form of pork:

When pork sells for 3 cents per pound it brings 25 cents per bushel in corn.

When pork sells for 4 cents per pound it brings 32 cents per bushel in corn.

When pork sells for 5 cents per pound it brings 40 cents per bushel in corn.

The Corn Crop.

The corn crop has several formidable enemies to contend with, and among them is what is commonly called the white grub, which damages the crop seriously. One of the best and most judicious remedies, perhaps the very best ever suggested, is the application of salt as soon as the plant makes its appearance above the ground. Take one part of common salt and three parts plaster or gypsum, and apply about a tablespoonful around each hill, and it will be a sure protection. The mixture should not come in contact with the sprouts, as it may destroy them. This method has been tried over and over again by some of the best farmers of Pennsylvania, Delaware and Jersey, and when properly applied has never failed to be perfectly successful. We hope our farmers, who have reason to fear the depredations of the grub this season, will try this mixture, leaving a few alternate rows of corn without the salt, and communicate to us the result. We are aware some writers say salt has no effect upon vermin, but we speak in this matter on the best authority.—Germantown Tel.

Tomatoes.

Tomato plants may now be transplanted from the hot-bed at any time. They should be set firmly in the soil, which should be well-manured: and for the first week or two, should the weather be warm, be protected against the sun during four hours of the day. If the nights be cool or frost threatened, they should be covered in some way—old newspapers, with stones or clods at the corners, are as good as anything—for the first two weeks. Mulching with grass and frequent stirring of the soil have an assuring effect in producing an abundant crop.

Some people allow the vines to run over the ground entirely, and we admit that they will produce as greatly this way as perhaps any other, but, coming in contact with the soil, their flavor is destroyed and they become insipid and worthless. Our mode is to "bush" them as we do peas, only more extensively, and we have the best of crops. The expense of trellises and framework, which amateur gardeners indulge in, is just so much money thrown away. —Germantown Telegraph.

Planting Lima Beans.

It is not generally known, or if known practiced by few, that Lima beans, so liable to rot after planting in a wet spell, can be protected against this danger by simply greasing them well before planting. It should be done thoroughly, and unless the season be extremely wet, it will prove a sure remedy. A few years ago, while a neighbor had to plant his bed a third time, ours was wholly uninjured. This is a hint worth acting upon. It may insure many a crop of early Lima, which everybody admits is the "bean of beans."—Germantown Telegraph.

The Farmer's Wife.

Is there any position a mother can covet for her daughter, more glorious than to be the wife of an honest, independent, happy farmer, in a country like this? To be the wife of one who is looked up to by the neighbors as one whose example may be safely followed—one whose farm is noted far and near as a model of neatness and perfection of cultivation? To be mistress of a mansion of her own, that may be the envy of every passer-by, because it is neat and comfortable—a sweet and lovely home? To be the angel that flits through the garden, bidding the flowers bloom, and twining roses and honeysuckles around the bed room, or sweetening their fragrance with her sweetest smile; or spreading the snowy cloth beneath the old oak at the door to welcome her husband as he returns from his toil; or even tipping the cradle with her foot as she plies the dasher with her hand, or busily moves the needle, at the same time humming a joyous song of praise that she is the happy and beloved wife of an American farmer—one of the true noblemen of this free country—one that should by right, rank as the pride and glory of America?—Colman's Rural World.

For the Young Folks.

A Child's Dream of a Star.

BY CHARLES DICKENS

There was once a child and he strolled about a good deal, and thought of a number of things. He had a sister who was a child too, and his constant companion. These two were used to wonder all day long. They wondered at the beauty of the flowers; they wondered at the height and blueness of the sky; they wondered at the depth of the blue water; they wondered at the goodness and power of God, who made the lovely world.

They used to say to one another, sometimes, supposing all the children upon the earth were to die, would the flowers, and the water and the sky be sorry? For, said they, the buds are the children of the flowers, and the little playful streams that gambol down the hillsides are the children of the water; and the smallest bright specks playing at hide and seek in the sky all night, must be the children of the stars and they would all be grieved to see their playmates, the children of men, no more.

There was one clear, shining star, that used to come out in the sky before the rest, near the church spire, above the graves. It was larger and more beautiful, they thought, than all the others, and every night they watched for it, standing hand in hand at the window. Whoever saw it first cried out, "I see the star." And often they cried out both together, knowing so well when it would rise, and where. So they grew to be such friends with it, that, before lying down in their beds, they always looked out once again, to bid it good night; and when they were turning around to sleep they used to say, "God bless the star!"

But while she was still very young, oh, very, very young, the sister drooped and came to be so weak that she could no longer stand in the window at night; and then the child looked sadly out by himself, and when he saw the star, turned round and said to the patient pale face on the bed, "I see the star!" and then a smile would come upon the face, and a little weak voice used to say, "God bless my brother and the star!"

And so the time came—all too soon!—when the child looked out alone, and when there was no pale face on the bed; and when there was a little grave among the graves not there before; and when the star made long rays down toward him, as he saw it through his silent tears.

Now, these rays were so bright, and they seemed to make such a shining way from earth to heaven, that when the child went to his solitary bed, he dreamed that, lying where he was, he saw a train of people taken up that sparkling road by angels. And the star, opening, showed a great world of light, where many more such angels waited to receive them.

All these angels who were waiting turned their beaming eyes upon the people who were carried up into the star; and some came out from the long rows in which they stood, and fell upon the people's necks, and kissed them tenderly, and went away with them down avenues of light, and were so happy in their company that lying in his bed he wept for joy.

But there were many angels who did not go with them, and among them one he knew. The patient face that once laid upon the bed was glorified and radiant, but his heart found out his sister among all the host.

His sister's angel lingered near the entrance of the star, and said to the leader who had brought the people hither.

"Is my brother come?"

And he said "no."

She was turning hopefully away, when the child stretched out his arms, and cried, "O my sister, I am here! Take me!" And then she turned her beaming eyes upon him, and it was night; and the star was shining into the room, making long rays down toward him as he saw it through his tears.

From this hour forth, the child looked out upon the star as upon the home he was to go to, when his time should come; and he thought that he did not belong to the earth alone, but the star too, because of his sister's angel gone before.

There was a baby born to be a brother to the child; and while he was so little that he had never yet spoken a word he stretched his tiny form upon his bed and died.

Again the child dreamed of the open star, and of the company of angels, and the train of people, and the row of angels with their beaming eyes all turned upon those people's faces.

Said his sister's angel to the leader—

"Is my brother here?"

And he said: "Not that one, but another."

As the child beheld her brother's angel in her arms, he cried: "O sister, I am here!—take me!" And she turned and smiled upon him, and the star was shining.

He grew to be a young man, and was busy at his books, when an old servant came to him and said:

"Thy mother is no more. I bring her blessing on her darling son."

Again, at night, he saw the star and all the former company.

Said his sister's angel to the leader—

"Is my brother come?"

And he said, "Thy Mother."

And a mighty cry of joy went through all that star, because the mother was re-united to her two children. And he stretched out his arms, and cried, "O mother, sister and brother, I am here!—take me!" and they answered him, "Not yet," and the star was shining.

He grew to be a man, whose hair was turning gray, and he was sitting in his chair by the fireside, heavy with grief, and with his face bedewed with tears, when the star opened once again.

Said his sister's angel to the leader—

"Is my brother come?"

And he said, "Nay, but his maiden daughter."

And the star was shining.

Thus the child came to be an old man and his once smooth face was wrinkled, and his steps were slow and feeble, and his back was bent.

And one night as he lay on his bed, his children standing round, he cried, as long ago—

"I see the star!"

They whispered one to another—"He is dying."

And he said, "I am. My age is falling from me like a garment, and I move toward the star as a child. And, O my Father! now I thank thee that it has so often opened to receive those dear ones who await me!"

And the star was shining—and it shines upon his grave.

DRUGS & MEDICINES.

HOOFLAND'S

GERMAN BITTERS.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS,

AND

Hoofland's German Tonic.

Prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson,

Philadelphia, Pa.

The Great Remedies

FOR ALL DISEASES OF THE

LIVER, STOMACH, or

DIGESTIVE ORGANS.

Hoofland's German Bitters

Is compounded of the pure juices, (or as they are medicinally term ed, Extracts) of Roots, Herbs and Barks, making a preparation, highly concentrated, and entirely free from Alcoholic Substance of any kind.

Hoofland's German Tonic,

Is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters, with the purest quality of Santa Cruz Rum, Orange, etc., making one of the most pleasant and agreeable remedies ever offered to the public.

Those preferring a Medicine free from Alcoholic admixture, will use

Hoofland's German Bitters.

In cases of nervous depression, when some alcoholic stimulus is necessary,

Hoofland's German Tonic

should be used.

The Bitters or the Tonic are both equally good, and contain the same medicinal virtues.

The stomach, from a variety of causes, such as Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, etc., is very apt to have its functions deranged. The result of which is, that the patient suffers from several or more of the following diseases:

Constipation, Flatulence, Inward Piles
Fulness of Blood to the Head,
Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea,
Heartburn, Disgust for Food,
Fulness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried or Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a Lying Posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the Sight, Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes,
Pain in the Side, Back,
Chest, Limbs, etc. Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imaginings of Evil, and Great Depression of Spirits.

These remedies will effectually cure Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Chronic or Nervous Debility, Chronic Diarrhœa, Disease of the Kidneys, and all Diseases arising from a Disordered Liver, Stomach, or Intestines.

DEBILITY,

Resulting from any Cause Whatever:
PROSTRATION OF THE SYSTEM,
Induced by Severe Labor, Hardships, Exposure, Fevers, etc.

There is no medicine extant equal to these remedies in such cases. A tone and vigor is imparted to the whole System, the Appetite is Strengthened, food is enjoyed, the stomach digests promptly, the blood is purified, the complexion becomes sound and healthy, the yellow tinge is eradicated from the eyes, a bloom is given to the cheeks, and the weak and nervous invalid becomes a strong and healthy being.

Persons Advanced in Life,

And feeling the hand of time weighing heavily upon them, with all its attendant ills, will find in the use of this BITTERS, or the TONIC, an agent that will instil new life into their veins, restore in a measure the energy and ardor of more youthful days, build up their shrunken forms, and give health and happiness to their remaining years.

NOTICE.

It is a well-established fact that fully one-half of the female population of our population are seldom in the enjoyment of good health; or, in other words, to use their own expression, "never feel well." They are languid, devoid of all energy, extremely nervous, and have no appetite.

To this class of persons the BITTERS, or the TONIC, is especially recommended.

WEAK AND DELICATE CHILDREN

Are made strong by the use of either of these remedies. They will cure every case of MARASMUS, without fail.

Thousands of certificates have accumulated in the hands of the proprietor, but space will allow of the publication of but a few. Those, it will be observed, are men of note and of such standing that they must be believed.

TESTIMONIALS.

Hon. Geo. W. Woodward,

Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pa., writes:

Philadelphia, March 16, 1867.

"I find 'Hoofland's German Bitters' is a good tonic, useful in diseases of the digestive organs, and of great benefit in cases of debility, and want of nervous action in the system.

"Yours truly,

"GEO. W. WOODWARD."

Hon. James Thompson,

Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

Philadelphia, April 29, 1868.

"I consider 'Hoofland's German Bitters' a valuable medicine in case of attacks of Indigestion or Dyspepsia. I can certify this from my experience of it.

"Yours, with respect,

"JAMES THOMPSON."

From Rev. Joseph H. Kennard, D.D,

Pastor of the Tenth Baptist Church, Philadelphia.

Dr. Jackson—Dear Sir: I have been frequently requested to connect my name with recommendations of different kinds of medicine, but, considering the practice inexpedient and inappropriate to my profession, I have in all cases declined. I feel it a duty I owe to suffering humanity to depart from this rule in favor of your 'German Bitters,' having used them in my own family, and the testimony of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, I do not hesitate from my own experience, to express my full conviction that, for general debility of the system, and especially for Liver Complaint, it is a safe and valuable preparation. In some cases it may fail, but rarely. I doubt not, it will be very beneficial to those who suffer from the above causes.

Yours, very respectfully,

J. H. KENNARD,

Eighth, below Coates St.

From Rev. E. D. Fendall,

Ancient Editor Christian Chronicle, Philadelphia.

I have derived decided benefit from the use of Hoofland's German Bitters, and feel it my privilege to recommend them as a most valuable tonic to all who are suffering from general debility or from diseases arising from derangement of the liver.

Yours truly,

E. D. FENDALL.

THE AMERICAN HAY KNIFE AND FORK.—We the undersigned citizens of Columbia County witnessed the trial of hay forks on the farm of Mr. Parsel, in Hemlock Township, on Monday, May 7, 1866, between the American Hay Knife and Fork manufactured by SLIFER, WALLS, SHRINER & Co., of Lewisburg, Pa., and the Rundel's Patent Hay Hook. The American Fork lifted more hay in one draught than the Rundel in three. We are satisfied it will take as much hay into the mow as two good horses can draw. We also saw it cutting hay, and think it cannot be beat as a hay knife, and cheerfully recommend it as the best hay fork and knife we have ever seen.
