CERTAIN CURE FOR FOUNDER.—As soon as you discover that the horse is foundered, take him to the nearest brook or stream of water and the animal in it, standing in the water nearly up to his belly—his head being so high that he cannot drink. If the weather is warm, let him stand in the stream several hours; then take him out, rub his legs thoroughly to promote circulation, and again tie him in the water, if he is still lame. By repeating this process two or three times, the horse will be effectually cured.

For the Young Folks.

THE WATER OF LIFE. Long before you or I were born, there reigned in a country a great way off, a king who had three sons. This king once fell very ill, so ill that nobody thought he could live. His sons were very much grieved at their father's sickness; and as they were walking together very mournfully in the garden of the palace, a little old man met them and asked what was the matter. They told him that their father was very ill and that they were afraid nothing could save him. "I know what it is," said the little old man; "it is the Water of Life. If he could have a draught of it he would be well again; but it is very hard to get."

DUCKS. I COULD never understand why farmers do not keep ducks; as a matter of profit they are more profitable than hens. It may be that the impression that in order to keep ducks a person must have a pond or stream of water near by, has deterred many from keeping them; but there is no need of anything of the kind.

When I speak of the profit from ducks, I do not have reference to the common duck that is seen every day. I mean a breed of ducks that will weigh twelve pounds to the pair, alive, such as Rouen and Aylesbury, and both excellent layers, easily kept and reared, and being very large and excellent for the market, and it costs no more to rear them than the common ducks that will only weigh on the average about eight pounds to the pair.
