Miscellaneous.

What Governor Curtin Thought of Governor Seymour in 1863.

As the Radicals have been laboring so industriously to prove that Governor Seymour is not a loyal man, and that during the war he arrayed himself in opposition to the cause of the Union, we present the following incident for their special consideration at this time.

When Lee was thundering at the door of the capital of Pennsylvania, and fear and trepidation possessed the souls of the men who are now reviling and slandering Governor Seymour, Andrew G. Curtin, then Governor of Pennsylvania, visited Camp Curtin, Harrisburg. This visit was occasioned by the disinclination of the Pennsylvania volunteers to enlist, except for the expulsion of Lee from Pennsylvania. Governor Curtin, in company with another gentleman, rode into camp in an open barouche, to see the officers, and was stopped on his way by the soldiers and called on for a speech. Rising in his carriage, he spoke substantially as follows:

FELLOW-CITIZENS OF THE VOLUNTEERS OF PENNSYLVANIA: I came here to-day to see your officers, who ought to be here to make their complaints in form. I have a right to expect the confidence of the volunteers of Pennsylvania, for I have never broken faith with them. I assure you, you will be retained just long enough to repel the present invasion—so long—no longer, be it sixty days, or thirty, or ten. But we cannot draw your pay unless you conform to the regulations of the army, and enter your names in regular form.

Then turning in his carriage and pointing to the white tents of the New York troops on the hill across the river, he exclaimed:

Look at the crowaing of yonder hill! There are the troops of our sister New York, defending our frontier, where you ought now to be, instead of wrangling here about how you will enlist. Great God! What are you doing? Thirteen regiments from New York already on the ground, and in front, while not a regiment in Pennsylvania is yet ready!

Soon after Governor Curtin applared on the hill on the opposite side of the river, rode inside the fort, into the midst of the New York troops, who poured out from their tents, and loud!y called on the Governor for a speech. Again rising in his carriage, with his hat in his hand, he spoke as follows:

SOLDIERS OF NEW YORK: Pennsylvania had a right to expect that her sister New York would come to her aid, but she did not have the right to expect that New York troops would be here on our soil, occupying the front of her defense, before her own troops were on the ground. From the bottom of my heart, I thank you for this generous alacrity. Bear my personal thanks, as well as the thanks of Pennsylvania, to your patriotic Governor for the promptness with which, through your presence, he has replied to our need. On some future occasion, I will in some more appropriate and formal manner, make known to him my grateful appreciation of his prompt action in hurrying forward to our aid this noble band of soldierly men! Again I thank you!

And with a graceful bow and wave of his hat, the Governor resumed his seat in the carriage.

FRIGHTFUL EXPENDITURES!—The expenditures of the Government during the month of July were $46,549,000,

and the total expenditure for the month of August, as just reported by the Secretary of the Treasury, was $37,730,000!

This indicates an average expenditure per month of $42,139,500, or

$505,704,000

per year! Taxpayers are you ready for peace?

WATCH THE MOVEMENTS OF THE ENEMY.—Our friends will do well to keep an eye on the secret oath bound Loyal Leagues, established thoughout the Country; these associations are intended to decoy the unwary into the support of negro equality, and negro rule. Watch them, Democrats, never was there greater occason for watchfulness and zeal.

Choice Poetry.

NEW MUSIC—THE BONDHOLDER.

To the authoress, a sister of the late Stephen C. Foster, we are indebted for an advance copy of the song entitled "The Bondholder." The music is excellent, and will no doubt become popular with the sons and daughters of plowholders. The words, which we copy below, give a good idea of how the poor are robbed in order that the rich may be paid in gold. It is a song for the times, and we commend it to Democratic Glee Clubs. Messrs S. Crainard & Sons of Cleveland are the publishers.

THE BONDHOLDER.

Oh, the Bondholder rests in a cushioned chair,
As he sits at his table to dine;
While before him is spread out the daintiest fare
And the choicest of foreign wine,
Then he thinks of the wealth that he made by the war,
For his heart has grown selfish and cold,
And he laughs, and he quaffs, and smokes his cigar,
As he counts up his interest in gold.
Oh, a rockling fellow is he, is he,
And this life passes smoothly away,
And what careth he for you or me,
While he has no taxes to pay.

CHORUS—
Then a rollicking time will have we, have we,
And our days will pass smoothly away,
When our country we see in prosperity,
And we have no taxes to pay.

And the Bondholder's wife (h her exach and four,
Knows nothing of labor and care,
As she drives by the suffering tax-payers' door,
Nor heeds the misery there,
The brave, crippled soldiers she sees not now,
Nor his children so hungry and cold;
While the laboring man by the sweat of his brow
But pays up his interest in gold.
Oh, a light merry life has she, has she.
This Bondholder's wife so gay,
And what careth she for you or me,
While they have no taxes to pay.

Then a roll'cking time, &c.

Then working men all put your hand to the wheel,
And let us no longer delay,
For I tell you we're only beginning to feel
The taxes we'll soon have to pay.
Oh! come crippled soldier, come rally again,
Till a Union restored we behold,
For our sons have been slain, and your blood shed in vain,
Till we wipe out this interest in gold.
Then a rollicking time, &c.
Then comrades arouse, for the people no more
Intend to be purchased or sold,
And one kind of money, for rich and for poor,
We'll have, be that paper or gold.
Hurrah boys, hurrah for the burdens so light,
In the sweet, merry days of old,
When, on Saturday night, by his fireside bright,
The poor counts his wages in gold,
Then a rollicking time, &c.

From the bottom of my heart, I thank you for this generous alacrity. Bear my personal thanks, as well as the thanks of Pennsylvania, to your patriotic Governor for the promptness with which, through your presence, he has replied to our need. On some future occasion, I will in some more appropriate and formal manner, make known to him my grateful appreciation of his prompt action in hurrying forward to our aid this noble band of soldierly men! Again I thank you!

And with a graceful bow and wave of his hat, the Governor resumed his seat in the carriage.

FRIGHTFUL EXPENDITURES!—The expenditures of the Government during the month of July were $46,549,000,

and the total expenditure for the month of August, as just reported by the Secretary of the Treasury, was $37,730,000!

This indicates an average expenditure per month of $42,139,500, or

$505,704,000

per year! Taxpayers are you ready for peace?

WATCH THE MOVEMENTS OF THE ENEMY.—Our friends will do well to keep an eye on the secret oath bound Loyal Leagues, established thoughout the Country; these associations are intended to decoy the unwary into the support of negro equality, and negro rule. Watch them, Democrats, never was there greater occason for watchfulness and zeal.

Make Them Tell You.

WHEN a Radical asks you to vote for Granta nd Colfax, make him tell you how much benefit you or the country will derive from such a course. MAKE HIM TELL YOU why it is that in time of peace, the party he asks you to support keeps a standing army that costs the tax-payers of the county one hundred and fifty millions of dollars a year.

MAKE HIM TELL YOU what has become of the millions upon millions of dollars that have been paid into the public Treasury since the introduction of his party into power--that there is no account of now.

MAKE HIM TELL YOU why it is that with all the taxes and tariffs that are wrung from the people annually, the public debt is still increasing at the rate of ten million of dollars per month.

MAKE HIM TELL YOU why his party makes negro voters in all the States, of the South, and then denies being in favor of negro suffrage here in the North.

MAKE HIM TELL YOU what justice there is in the Radical doctrine of taxation—which exempts the rich from all taxes and places them upon the shoulders of the poor.

MAKE HIM TELL YOU how it is that three years after the war has ceased the Union for which we were told it was waged, is further from being restored than it was at the beginning.

MAKE HIM TELL YOU why the bloated bondholder, who robbed the government and invested the money he stole in tax-exempted bonds, should receive gold for his interest, while you are compelled to take greenbacks for your work.

MAKE HIM TELL YOU why the laboring men of the North should toil and sweat, day after day, to feed a lot of negroes and fatten a pack of lousy Bureau officers, who yearly take from the public treasury over FORTY millions of dollars.

MAKE HIM TELL YOU what good will arise from voting for Grant, how much it will lessen your taxes—lower the prices of the necessaries of life, and how soon it will restore the Union, and make our Government a government of white men, established by white men, for the benefit of white men.—Northumberland County Democrat.

Grant's "White Washing Report."

WHAT is known as Grant's "white-washing report" has been pretty freely exhibited to the public—by the Jacobins at the time it was made, and more recently by the Democratic press. Nevertheless, in connection with this article, we must not omit a portion of it—for it is well to keep the record of the "available" constantly before the public, lest some Democrat should forget his Democratic record and vote for Seymour. In that report Grant says:

"Both in traveling and while stopping I saw and conversed freely with the citizens of those States. * * * * I am satisfied that the mass of thinking men of the South accept the present situation of affairs in good faith. My observation led me to the conclusion that the citizens of the Southern States anxious to return to self-government within the Union as soon as possible; that while reconstructing, they want and require protection from the government; that they are in earnest in wishing to do what they think is required by the government, not humiliating to them as citizens; and that, if such a course were pointed out, they would pursue them in good faith. It is to be regretted that there cannot be a greater comingling at this time between the citizens of the two sections, and particularly those instructed with the law-making power.

Give The People Facts.

THE time for argument has gone by, so far as the press is concerned. Whatever of argument is yet to be used, let the stumpers do it. The time is short, and the press can only give facts.

The Radicals tell us that the public debt has been decreased.

Let us see. On the 1st of September, 1867, it was $2,492,783,365
On the 1st Sept., 1868, 2,545,611,313

$42,930,948

Now if there is any truth in figures that shows an increase of the debt, in one year, of forty-two millions eight hundred and thirty thousand nine hundred and forty-eight dollars, or more than three millions and a half per month.

The increase in the last year is more than a dollar per head for every man, woman and child in the country.

So much for Radical veracity.

GRANT AND MCCLELLAN—THE COMPARATIVE LOSSES IN THEIR CAMPAIGNS.—Speaking of the comparative losses in the campaigns of McClellan and Grant, the Army and Navy Journal of August 29 says:

"We hold it to be quite evident that our total losses in killed and wounded from the Rapidan to the Appomattox were, at least, double those suffered by General Lee. We hold it to be no less evident that the total of our losses from May, 1864, up to Lee's surrender in April, 1865, was about double that of the enemy. On the other hand, it is tolerably certain that McClellan's losses in his famous Chickahominy campaign were less than those he inflicted. Taking Antietam and his other battles into the account, our belief is that McClellan's entire loss, in killed, wounded, and prisoners, was less than that suffered by his opponents at his hands."

The Army and Navy Journal is not a partisan paper, and its statements are taken as authority in all army and navy matters.

JUST seven minutes before Congress took its last "recess" a carpet-bag Congressman from one of the Southern States was sworn in. For his valuable services he received from the people's money his year's salary, $5,000, mileage and from his home to Washington. What a magnificent commentary upon Radical reconstruction.

A Talk With The Workingman.

YOU are paid for your day of hard and unremitting toil—for the wear and tear of your bones and sinews—in legal tenders. That money is thought good enough for you, and why should it not be good enough for the bondholders, who toils not, who is arrayed in fine linen, and lives upon the fat of the land? If it is good enough for him, ought you to vote for the party which tells that he must have better money than you receive—that he must have the solid gold? You are oppressed with exorbitant taxation in every variety of form. The rent of the dwellings in which you live is far too high. You are taxed two or three prices for everything you buy in the shape of clothing and provisions. Why is this? A portion of your money does not go to your landlords, or your grocer or your butcher, or your tailors, they only receive it and then pass it to the tax-gatherer. $141,000,000, Senator Sherman admits, was paid on the bonded debt last year. It is proposed to pay this interest, or two-thirds of this interest, for forty years, which would be $1,000,000,000; and then we must pay the principal of the debt, $2,500,000,000 more—pay it too in hard coin! Have you thought how much of your sweat and blood would have to go toward paying this enormous debt—of how many comforts yourself and your family will have to be deprived, in that long interval of time, on its account—unless we pay the debt or a portion of it, off in legal tenders, and thus save this exorbitant interest? Will you vote for Grant, and thus vote to establish this dreadfull incubus upon yourself and your posterity? Remember that this $4,000,000 in four years, is in addition to all the other taxes for the support of the government, and that they will be at least $6,000,000,000 more in that interval. Do you think that we can stand that burden of taxation? Do you think the $2,500,000 which is now in bonds that are not taxed—which capital in its present shape affords no man employment—ought to be permanently locked up? Or do you want it paid and the now idle capital used in building houses and steamboats, carrying on internal improvements, and giving employment to millions of laborers? If you want this change you cannot get it by voting for a ticket which believes that the bonds should go unpaid for generations to come.—Cincinnatti Inqr.

A Serious Charge--Will Grant Answer?

THE Evening Herald Says:

Mrs. A. C. Brewer, formerly Miss Cox, Holly Springs, Miss., charges Gen and Mrs. Grant with carrying off the silver plate from the house of her father, which they occupied at Holley Springs. Among valuable heir-looms that were carried off in the Grant baggage, was a handsome card waiter of salver, with the name of General Moultrie engraved in the centre, also a very massive silver waiter handsomely carved, made in England before the Revolution, with the name of lady Mary Annesly, 1779, engraved in the centre. "This waiter," she says had been in her father's family for a long period, and will be readily recognized in the Grant mansion at Washington. That and several other articles of stolen valuables that come from the South may be recognized here." A nephew of Gen Grant also at the same time carried off an antique quilt made by the grandmother of Mrs. Cox. This is a bold and open charge, made by one who claims to speak by authority, and it behooves the friends of the greatest General of ancient or modern times to prove its falsity. Will "Fawnkee" explain?

The above charge is a grave one to Make against any one, and particularly so when the person accused is a candidate for President of the United States. It does not beat round the bush, but gives names of places, persons and articles. Is General Grant guilty? Let him speak out, or the people will suspect there is some truth in the charge. It would never do to take the Brewer plate into the White House.

The October Election.

THERE is no such thing as over estimating the importance of carrying the October election. There should not be, in our vocabulary, such a word as fail. We must elect our candidate for Auditor General, CHARLES E. BOYER; we must elect our candidate for Surveyor General, WELLINGTON H. ENT; we must elect a majority of the members of Congress, and a majority of the Legislature. These things we can do, if we act vigorously, and get out the Democratic vote; and, as we can do them, we must do them. There is now but a short working period between this and the election. Work bravely—work constantly—work all the time, and we shall do all we propose, achieve a glorious State victory over the Radicals, and ensure the election of Seymour and Blair in November.

Such a glorious result as this, fellow Democrats it is worth working for, and shame on him who flinches from duty, now the pinch has come.—Patriot.
