

The Columbian.

BLOOMSBURG, PA. FRIDAY MORNING, OCT. 16, 1886.

THE COLUMBIAN has the largest circulation in Columbia and adjoining counties of any paper published here, and is also a much larger sheet than any of its competitors, and is therefore the best medium for advertising in this section of the State.

Attention! Democrats! In order that cheap reading matter may be furnished the people until after the election, we make the following offer:

That we will send THE COLUMBIAN from now until after the Presidential election to clubs of twenty or FIVE DOLLARS. This is only Twenty five cents a number—and just covers the cost of the paper on which it is printed. The paper contains each week sixteen large columns of entertaining literary and political news.

No Democrat is so poor but what he can give twenty five cents to aid in the coming contest, and he should see that his Radical neighbor has a copy.

Clubs should be formed at every Post Office.

A PROVERB of remark that Russians are absolutely incapable of understanding or appreciating a joke, this story is related: "An Englishman was retreating to a Russian friend that he had once seen on a country road with this inscription: 'This road leads to the town & all persons who cannot read this may apply to the blacksmith.'"

OUT—Virginia—glorious old Virginia—the mother of States and of Statesmen, one of the original thirteen that achieved the independence of our country, the State that holds in her bosom the ashes of Washington, and Jefferson and Madison and Marshall and Patrick Henry—and her younger sisters, Mississippi and Texas, are to day out of the Union. They had got back under Andrew Johnson, but the Radicals kicked them out again and are keeping them out. Oh! loyalty, what crimes are perpetrated in that backneyed name!

TYPOGRAPHICAL TROUBLES.—From time immemorial the followers of Frost were satisfied to tramp about and alone—and scarce a generation ago the jolly journeymen who upheld the honor of the craft considered a change of shirt an extraordinary luxury. But times progress and so do printers. Few years ago on his westward way started from the DEMOCRAT establishment wherein had honorably engaged, our young capitalist had his own carriage, our young clerk, his horse, and our young sovereign for Kansas. Already a quality man of mark. We knew him as a quality man of mark. We knew him as a quality man of mark. We knew him as a quality man of mark.

Long before the time of meeting the Court Room was literally jammed with people. It was literally at length by Hon. S. S. Cox, in his very happiest style, for more than two hours in the Court Room. It was a fitting finale to so magnificent a meeting, and our people felt much gratified at witnessing the first Democratic torch-light procession ever held in Bloomsburg.

An editor and his wife were walking one day in the moonlight on an evening like that. The editor, it is said, was an exceedingly poetic nature—"Notice that moon; how bright and calm and beautiful!" "Couldn't think of anything," returned the editor, "for anything less than twenty-five cents a line."

GRAND TORCH-LIGHT PARADE.

On Thursday, October 15th, one of the largest, if not the very largest meeting ever held in Northern Pennsylvania, assembled in Bloomsburg.

The day was rainy and unpleasant, and no doubt deterred hundreds from coming, and besides induced many to leave the procession and hasten to town. In fact, all the stables in town were filled two hours before the arrival of the delegations, and at 9 o'clock counted fifty carriages in the 'Exchange' yard.

The delegations were all at the appointed places of meeting at the hour fixed by the Chief Marshal, and so systematic were the arrangements that but little delay occurred. At 11:30 the procession took up its line of march, headed by Chief Marshal Capt. C. B. Brockway and his assistants, E. W. Elwell, C. S. Furman, Wm. Ritter, Lieut. George S. Colman, John Jones, John Trout, Sanford Peck and C. M. Vanderveil. Then followed the Bloomsburg delegation headed by our Brass Band. A four horse wagon followed this, with 37 young ladies, emblematic of the States in the Union, and in their centre a beautiful personification of the Goddess of Liberty. This feature of the meeting was gotten up through the industry of Adjt. Coleman. The "White Boys in Blue" followed the ladies on foot, as marshaled by Geo. Sterner. In the rear of the Union delegation was a personification of the "Georgia Legislature," and a tall liveried bear bearing the motto, "No Jew allowed in this Department, by General order No. 11." The caricatures were excellent.

Then followed the Little Fishing Creek delegation under the Marshalship of Mr. Kleber, Hemlock and Madison under T. J. Vanderveil, Jr., Montour and a mile of Democrats from Catawissa and beyond. As soon as this delegation got under way, the Fishing Creek region led in preceded by the Orangeville Brass Band, and led by Marshall Col. H. R. Kline. This delegation numbered 135 wagons, and extended two miles. One of the wagons had 18 horses driven by Cyrus B. McHenry. Sugarloaf, the most distant of all townships, was fully represented, one large wagon load having come 20 miles. The mottoes and banners were excellent. The one borne by the Light Street delegation representing P. John kneeling to Andy Johnson, and presenting him with a copy of the Republican with the remark, "If you will only retain in me as an assessor, I will support your policy and make the Republican party a unit for you," was a sore pill for Palemon's patients. On Fifth Street the up river delegation joined the procession, led by the Berwick Brass Band. Centre township had a wagon load of young ladies representing the different States, got up in magnificent style and elicited much attention. The "Freedom's Bureau" was also an institution. Its chief was continually occupied in paying out greenbacks to indigent darkeys, much to their satisfaction.

The line of march was down Skoketown to Fifth Street, down Fifth to Market, up Market to Third, up Third to Skoketown, down Main to West Street, thence to Third, and as the streets were now all full, the procession began to double up on Main St. To give an idea of its length, we may state that when the head of the head of the procession was back at the Forks, there were two columns on Main Street, Market Street was packed full, and one third of the procession had not passed. It was 2 1/2 hours in passing a given point and would have extended 5 miles in a continuous line.

About half past two o'clock the people commenced marching two by two towards the Fair Ground, and by three o'clock the multitude had mainly gathered in.

John A. Funston, Esq., Chairman of the County Standing Committee, called the meeting to order and organized it as follows: President, Hon. C. R. Buckalew. Vice-Presidents, Hudson Owen, Wm. Lamont, Chas. F. Mann, John J. McHenry, Dr. J. A. Robbins, J. S. Weppenhiser, C. B. McHenry, Jos. B. Knitler, Esq., Peter Gilron, Esq., Jacob F. Deiterich, Judge Dyer, Judge Herbine, John Smith, Esq., Wm. T. Shuman, Dr. D. H. Montgomery, Wm. G. Quirk, Wm. Howell, David Herwig, John Whitmore, Jacob Terwilliger, Jesse Hartman.

Secretary, Capt. C. B. Brockway, W. H. Jacoby, J. S. Sanders. At stand No. 1, Hon. E. F. Pillsbury of Maine addressed the vast assemblage. But it being impossible to make the half of the people hear; a second meeting was organized, and Presided over by ROBERT F. CLARK, Esq.

Secretary, Wm. H. S. Cox of New York, Capt. Thomas Chalfant and others addressed the audience, at stand No. 2.

Long before the time of meeting the Court Room was literally jammed with people. It was literally at length by Hon. S. S. Cox, in his very happiest style, for more than two hours in the Court Room. It was a fitting finale to so magnificent a meeting, and our people felt much gratified at witnessing the first Democratic torch-light procession ever held in Bloomsburg.

The meeting was a perfect success, both as to numbers and as to speeches. Everything was of the very first class, and the day passed off without accident or breach of the peace. Most unbounded was the enthusiasm, and all the arrangements were complete and satisfactory.

AN editor and his wife were walking one day in the moonlight on an evening like that. The editor, it is said, was an exceedingly poetic nature—"Notice that moon; how bright and calm and beautiful!" "Couldn't think of anything," returned the editor, "for anything less than twenty-five cents a line."
