The Columbian Bloomsburg Democrat.

ablished every Friday morning the Columbian Building near the House, by EARLES B. BROCKWAY, Editor and Proprietor. Trans,—Two dollars a year, paya-ble in advance.

JOB PRINTING of all descriptions

VOLUME III NO. 14.

ORANGEVILLE DIRECTORY.

DR. O. A. MEGARGEL, physician and surgeon, Water st., next deer to Good's Hotel, Vi-ni7

CATAWISSA DIRECTORY.

J. H. CREASY, dry goods, groceries, and gen-

WM. H. ABBETT, attorney at law, Main Street

TILBERT & KLINE, dry goods, groceries, and I general merchandise, Main Street. v2-nl

M. BROBST, dealer in General Merchandis V2-nl

LIGHT STREET DIRECTORY.

TERWILLIGER, Cabinetmaker, Undertaker

H F. OMAN & Co., Wheelwrights, first door

MRS, E. KLINE, millinery and fancy goods, vi-n40

WM. M. ENT, dealer in stoves and tin ware in

JOHN A. OMAN, manufacturer and dealer in vi-n64

ESPY DIRECTORY.

ESPY STEAM FLOURING MILLS, C. S. Fowler Proprietor. v2-nd

W. EDGAR, Susquebanna Planing Mill and vi2nil

BUCKHORN DIRECTORY.

JACOB & WM. HARRIS, dealers in dry groceries, drugs and medicines. First s torth end of town.

JERSEYTOWNDIR ECTORY.

HOTELS AND SALOONS.

BLOOMSBURG, COLUMBIA CO., PA.

The undersigned having purchased this well-known and eastrally-located house, the Exchange Hotel, situate on MAIN STIREET, in Hoomsburg immediately opposite the Columbia county Court House, respectfully inform their friends and the public in general that their house is now in order or the reception and entertainment of travellers who may be disposed to favor it with their custom. They have spared no expense in preparing the Exchange for the centertainment of their guests meither shall there be anything wanting on their part to minister to their personal comfort. They house is spacious, and eajoys an excellent business location.

Omnibuser run, at all times between the Ex-s location, multimes between the E-milituses run, at all times between the E-nge Hotel and the various railroad depots, to the travellers will be pleasantly conveyed from the respective stations in due time t the cars. KOONS & CLARK coomaburg, April 3, 1868.

XCHANGE HOTEL,

D. WERKHEISER, Boot and Shoe Stor and manfactory. Shop on Main street, of posite steam Mill. v2-u

F. REIGHARD, & BRO., dealers in dry goods groceries, and general merchandise. Vi2nti

BLOOMSBURG DIRECTORY. TOVES AND TINWARE.

CLOTHING, &C. D. LOWENBERG, merchant tailor, Main st., 2d vi-nus

DRUGS, CHEMICALS, &C.

I. M. MOYER, druggist and apothecary, Ex-E. P. LUTZ, druggist and apothecary, Ruper

CLOCKS, WATCHES, &C. OUIS BERNHARD, watch and clock maker R CATHCART, watch and clock maker, Merket ROOTS AND SHOES.

PROFESSIONAL. It. EVANS, M. D. surgeon and physician south D R. H. F. Kinney surgeon dentist, teeth extract ed without pain. Main st., nearly opposite vi-n# J. B. M'KELVY, M. D. surgeon and physician north side Main st., below Market. vi-nes C. BUTTER, M. D. surgeon and Physician,

DR. H. C. HOWER, surgeon dentist, Main st. B. ROBISON, Attorney-at-Law, Office Hart-man's ballding, Main Street. v2-n20 MILLINERY & FANCY GOODS. SS LIZZIE BARKLEY, milliner, Ramse

VISS M. DERRICKSON, millinery and fanc.

HE MISSES HARMAN millinery and fanc. I goods, Main street just below American house

HOTELS AND SALOONS. LEACOCK, oyster and eating saloon, American House, Main st., Baltzer Leacock superin WIDMYER & JACOBY, confectionry, bakery, and oyster saloon, wholesale and retail, Ex-change block, Main st. vi-nes FOX & WEBB, confectionery, bakery, and oys-EXCHANGE HOTEL, by Koons & Clark, Main st., opposite court house. vi-n-i CORKS HOTEL, by G.W. MAUGER, east end of Waln at. vi-nd

KOONS & CLARK, refreshment saloon, Ex MERCHANTS AND GROCERS. E 1. above Court House, groceries etc Main

C. HOWER, hats and caps, boots and shoes

WILLIAM ERASMUS, confectioneries, Main et., near the railroad.

T, SHARPLESS, dry goods, groceries, boot, shoes, etc., Enpert block, Main st., west of arket.

CRAMER & A. E. HAYHURST, Dealers in Grocuries, Confectioneries and Notions tiown, south side, two doors above Brobst's commaker shop.

J. BIDLEMAN, Agent Munson's Copper To bulke Lightning Rod. v2-n

B. PURSELL, saddle, trunk and tarnes maker, Main st., below court, house. Vi-be

The above well-known hotel has recently undergone rad-sal changes in its internal arrangements, and its proprietor announces to his former custom and the travelling public that his accommodations for the comfort of his guests are second to more in the country. His table will always be found supplied, not only with substantial food, but with all the delicacies of the season. His wines and liquid to the season with the delicacies of the season. His wines and liquid to the season with the delicacies of the season. His wines and liquid the season with the season with the season with the season of the season with the season of the season of the season with the season of MISCELLANEOUS. J. THORNTON, wall paper, window shades, and fixtures, Rupert block, Main st. vi-hil

EXCHANGE SALOON, THE Proprietor of the Exchange Saloon has to SUMMER REPRESTIMENTS, consisting of 18. KUHN, dealer in ment tailow, etc., Chem-bertin's alloy, back of American he use, with PICED OVETERS, SARDINES, TRIPE, BOLGGNAS

L'ORK'S HOTEL,

EKEP TONGUE, BOILED EGGS, SWEITZER CREESE LAGER BEER, ALE, &C. F COME ONE, COME ALL AND SEE. -63 LAWSON CALMAN. Superintendent.

WE beg leave to inform you that we are prepared to offer for your inspection, are usual assortment of MILLINERY GOODS, consisting of the Newest Shapes in Straw, S and Gimp Hata, Ronnets, &c., Velvets, S hoods, Ribbons, Flowers, Feathers, Ruch rapes, Bionds, Raids, Ornaments, &c. &c., hall be happy to wait on you at our store coarrey your order. Prices few for cash, Nos. 103, 455 and 167 N. Second St. Philadel dar, 26,68-25.

WAINWRIGHT & CO., WHOLESALE GROCERS, E. Corner Second and Arch Streets, PHILADELPHIA, Dealers in TEAS, SYRUPS, COFFEE, SUGAR, MOLARRES RICE, SPICES, BI CARB SODA, 4C., 4C., Orders will receive prompt attention.

The Columbian.

BLOOMSBURG, PA., FRIDAY, APRIL 2, 1869.

COL DEM .-- VOL XXXIII NO. 7.

BUSINESS CARDS. PRINTING

M. L'VELLE, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW,

ATTORNEY AT LAW,

TOHN G. FREEZE. ATTORNEY-AT-LAW.

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW corner of Main and Market streets, First National Bank, Bloomsburg, Pa.

ATTORNEY-AT-LAW. Office Court-House Alley, below the COLUMBIA

B. BROCKWAY, ATTORNEY AT LAW. BLOOMSBURG, PA. #3- OFFICE-Court House Alley, below the O

HARNESS, SADDLE, AND TRUNK MANUFACTURER, CARPET-BAGS, VALISES, FLY-NETS BUFFALO ROBES, HORSE-BLANKETS 4C.,

B. PURSEL.

which he feels confident he can sell at lower rate than any other person in the country. Ex-amine for yourselves. Shop first door below the Post Office Main Street, Bloomsburg, Pa. Nov. 15, 1667.

PASHIONABLE SHAVING, HAIR CUTTING AND SHAMPOOING SALCON,

Over Widmayer & Jacoby's Ice Crean Saleso, BLOOMSBURG, PA.

Hair Dyeing and Whiskers colored black or brown. Hair Tonicto destroy dandruff and beau-tifying the hair; will restore hair to its original color without soiling the finest fabric, constantly on hand. DENTISTRY.

H, C. HOWER, DENTIST. Respectfully offers his professional services to the indies and gentlemen of Bloomsburg and vicinity. He is prepared to attend to all the various operations in the line of his profession, and is provided with the latest improved Porcellan Terrir which will be inserted on gold plating, silver and rubber base to look as well as the natural teeth. Teeth extracted by all the new and most approved methods, and all operations on the teeth carefully and properly attended to.

Residence and office a few doors above the Court House, same side.

Bloomsburg, Jan.31,684f

DOWDER KEGS AND LUMBER. W. M. MONROE & CO.,

POWDER KEGS. LUMBER. give notice that they are prepared to p

UNION HOTEL, ROHRSBURG, PA. The andersigned would respectfully inform the traveling public that he has purchased and refitted in the best number the old stand formerly occupied by W. A. Kline, and that he is now prepared to accommodate his triends with all the comforts and converse neess of a first-class house. A fine new barn has been built and the surroundings placed in perfect order. The bar will always be stocked with the chokest liquors and class, and the table furnished with the best the market affords. JAMES V. GILLASPIE. July 3, 69-41

MISS LIZZIE BARKLEY

FANCY GOODS,
TRIMMINGS,
BONNETS &c. &c.

ever exhibited in Bloomsburg, and is prepared to make up dresses and all other articles of female wardrobe, at short notice, and in the best and

NEW COAL YARD. dersigned respectfully meaning and columbia county, ep all the different numbers ofstove ected lump coal for smithing purpowharf, adjoining M Kelvy. Neal & wharf, adjoining M Kelvy. Neal & and straw and straw

J. W. HENDERSHOT AUGUSTUS MASON. THE undersigned will take in ex-tenance for Coal and Groceries, the following unund articles:—Wheat, Hye, Corn, Oats, Pota loss, Lard, Ham, Shoulder, and side meat, Butter leggs, Hay, &c., at the highest cosh prices, at his Grocery Store, adjoining their cost yard, at Hennius Lander and Hennius Lander and Hennius Lander. Disconsburg Mar. 19, 23-19.

C. H. HORNE. W. S. KING. J. B. SEVBERT WHOLFSALE DRY GOODS.

rders filled promptly at lowest

CHAS. G. BARKLEY, Attorney at Law, BLOOMSBURG, COLUMBIA CO., PA.

Office in the Exchange Railding, second story. Visinger & Jachoy's Confectionary Second of here the Exchange Plate! Bloomsharg. Jan., 1, 1869.

PRACTICAL WATCH MAKER & JEWELER BLOOMSBURG, PA.

Cenet-nily on hand a fine assortment of Amer-can and Swiss Watches, clocks, Jowelry, silver-ware of the best description plated on white met-al, consisting of hutter dishes, gobiets, knives, forks, spoons, napkin rings etc. All goods and work warranted. Jan. 1, 69.

ESTABLISHED 1793. JORDAN & BROTHER,

Wholesalo Grocers, and Dealers in SALTPETER AND BRIMSTONE, No 249 North Third St. Pluladelphia.

MERCHANT'S HOTEL, PHILADELPHIA. Choice Loetry. MORNING IN SPRING.

How sweet the landscape ! Morning twine Like happy spirits float away To revel on the mountain crown Whence the glad stream comes shouting de Thro' words and rocks, that hang on high, Like clouds against the deep-blue sky. The woven sounds of pird and stream

Are falling beautiful and deep Upon the spirit, like a dream Of music in toe hour of alcep, "Bro. Graham," said Judge Winters, And from the wildwoods' dewy bowers, Soft murmurs, like the breath of flowers, The streams in veins of silver flow, The sunrise gale, o'er flower and tre It comes so fresh, so calm, so sweet It draws the heart from its retreat To mingle with the glories born in the first holy light of morn.

A cloud is on the sky above, And caimly o'er the young year's blue. Tis coming, like a thing of Love, To gladden in the rising dew; Its white waves with the sunlight blend, And gentle spirits seem to bend From its unrolling folds to hear The glad sounds of our joyous spin The lake, unruffied by the breeze,

Smiles sweetly in unbroken rest, And if t'were dreaming of the trees And blossoms pletured on its breast, Its depths are glowing bright and fair, And the blue skies seem hallowed there, Soft trembling—as they felt the thrill Of music echoed from the hill, The living soul of Beauty fills The air with glorious visions bright, They linger round the sunny hills, And wander to the clear, blue light; Off to the breathing heavens they go, long the earth they live and glow, hed o'er the lake their happy smile con too its glittering isl Oh that this hour when air or earth Are gushing love, and joy and light, And songs of gladness half the birth, Of all things beautiful and bright Each pulse beats high—each tho't is blown To flame—the spirit drinks the tone Of Eden worlds, and melts away

Miscellaneous.

THE METHODIST CONFERENCE.

BY MES. M. ADELLE HAZLETT.

" I tell you wife, it must not be. had as soon see the arch-fiend himself in our pulpit as a Freemason." "But he is an excellent preacher, and as the church is well satisfied with him, the Conference will, doubtless, return him to us for another year."

"No, Sarah, they shall not return him. I will take care that the brethren learn what a viper they are cherishing in their bosoms. It is fortunate that the next Conference is to be held here God. You say you hope to see our worlds. Only before the Throne of the in our own place."

"Let me beg of you, husband, not to be hasty in this. Our minister, Bro. done. You may prevent his return to which thriled every heart, he exclaim-Fairbanks, appears to be really a worthy us, but he will be sent to another con-ed. "Child of mortality! is not this and pious man, and as the church is gregation, while we shall, perhaps, re- enough ?" the matter to rest as it is? I really cannot believe him to be so bad a man as you fear him to be."

"Can a man be a Freemason and not shall I, George Graham-class-leader for fifteen years-be so false to my duty, as to remain quiet when Satan sends his minions into our very midst? No, Mrs. Graham; if you would evade your duty I shall not evade mine; I am a poor sinthe fold. I shall protest against his return to this church. Fortunately only a few weeks remain before the Conference meeting. I shall begin work at atical George Graham walked to his book-case, and, taking down a package of anti-Masonie almanaes, which had the appearance of being at least forty years of age and had only been pre served from the ravages of time by the their owner, who held them next to his Bible in value, he placed a broad-brimmed hat upon his head, and sallied forth under the scorching rays of an

"I declare," said the old man to him self, "this is a hot afternoon. I shall miss my map to-day, but, then, duty must not be sacrificed to the weakness of the flesh."

He called upon Bros. Jones, Keeler, arson and several others, all of whom opened their eyes in holy horror when they found that their beloved minister -Bro. Fairbanks-was a Freemason and they agreed at once to unite their tered the office of Judge Winters-one of the oldest and most influential mem bers of the church. There was a mis chievous twinkle in the Judge's eye when Mr. Graham made his business

"Well, what do you propose to do, my friend? he inquired, at length, when Mr. Graham paused for breath. "Complain of him, and have him expelled from the Conference-silenced! "But do you think that can be done!" didn't the Masons murder Morgan ?how he was abducted from home, carried a prisoner to Fort Ningara and fiblood of Wm. Morgan iserying to heaven for vengeance to-day!"

"Do you think, Mr. Graham, that the evidence was clear against those who were arrested for the crime?" "Clear as the sunlight, Judge."

"Then the criminals were of course unished according to law?" "Punished! no, not one of them!" "Why, how was that? What do you

"I mean, sir, that Dewitt Clinton, the Governor of New York, was a Freemason. And he defeated the ends of jus tice, sir; he sacrificed the majesty of the law to his Freemasonry, sir." "But," said the Judge, "if I under stand the matter correctly, Governor Isters were upon it, others were seated think, and there were not a less number Clinton, who was the first officer of the Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons ters and Mr. Graham were seated beside of the State, offered a reward, first of $3,000, then of $5,000, and finally of $10,-000, for any information which should lead to the conviction of the guilty par-

"Well, well," interrupted Mr. Gra ham, "that was only a ruse to conceal his real feelings, and his sympathy with the perpetrators of the horrid round his high intellectual forehead deed. The murderers were arrested, the evidence was clear against them, but they escaped !"

slowly but carnestly, "if nearly the entire legal strength of New York, after saying. several years' trial, found it impossible to convict a single man charged with have made law the study of m, life find much room for doubt of their guilt .-You believe in a God of justice who duty to your neighbor, your country and will cut off a tree that beareth not good your God, and in old age you will enjoy Graham. fruit. Freemasonry has survived the the happy reflections consequent upon a wreck of ages-is to day young and well spent life and die in hope of a glorivigorous. In not an institution which our immortality," God in His infinite wisdom has seen fit thus to preserve worthy of your im- Graham and whispered,"He is a Mason, partial study? Will you allow your I think." reason, your good sense and judgment to be warped, nay, controlled by a set terested in the American Bible Society, of anti-Masonic almanaes, which were now spoke. He thought that "the Bible spread over the country by misguided, class and Sabbath school were the Jachin excited men and unprincipled politi- and Boaz upon which rested the libercians? What would you say to the fact | ties of the nation." that a majority of the ministers in our Conference are Masons?"

Mr. Graham started to his feet as if a viper had stung him; for a moment he to divest our own minds and consciences stared wildly upon Judge Winters, then of all their vices and superfluities noting a smile upon the Judge's lips, he thereby fitting us, as living stones, for cemed reassured and said:

"Bro. Winters, you are triffing. A lawyer is so fond of argument that he ens." will neglect no opportunity of indulging in it, even at the expense of his' - religion, he was going to say, but he checked himself.

"Be seated, Bro. Graham," said the nest prayer; and the Bishop S--- ap Judge, "I have something more to say upon this subject; and now prepare to be surprised, but do not be hasty. I the subject of his discourse. It was am a Freemann, and have been one for twenty years."

Mr. Graham turned pale and then and thepoints to be proved. Then, with flushed crimson, but he said nothing, an eloquence which won and swayed all The Judge e attinued: "I have never hearts, with illustrations drawn from known Fr semasonry to defeat the ends | the book of nature, and applied analoof justice. I have sentenced men to gically to the subject under considerayears of toll in the State prison whom | tion, he passed to attack the strongholds I knew to be members—although un- of intidelity. His mind seemed a vast worthy ones-of the Masonic fraternity. storehouse of knowledge, and very few in The fact of their connection therewith that large congregation had ever before did not save them from a single hour of listened to so able a sermon. The hisimprisonment. The man who has been tory of the world, its warriors, statesmen. blessed with the sublime moral teachings and philosophers, seemed to pass in reof a Masonic Lodge is doubly culpable view before them. Through the plane for an immoral act, a violation of his tary system he led them and the infiniduty to his neighbor, his country or his tude of space, studded with its countless minister, Bro. Fairbanks, dismissed Living Deity did he pause. Then, from the Conference. It will not be stretching forth his hands, in a voice eive in his place one inferior to him in both talent and piety." Judge Winters paused, Mr. Graham who had again risen to his feet said: "I do not believe there are so many Mabe a guilty, perjured wretch? And sons as you say in the Methodist Conference of this State. You are a Freemason, and have an interest in Jefending your institution." "Well, Bro. Graham," said the Judge, "I will make you a proposition. Make you no further effort at present to excite ner, it is true, but a willing servant of antagonistic feeling towards Bro, Fairmy Lord and Master, and this wolf in banks in the minds of members of his sheep's clothing shall be driven from congregation, and if, before the close of the Conserence meeting, to be held here in October, I do not prove to your entire satisfaction that a majority of its members are Masons, I will not then once," and the pious, carnest, but fan- object to your plan of procedure against our minister." Mr. Graham mused for a moment.

"Judge V inters," he said, at length, "I accept your proposition. If what you claim in regard to the ministers of our church be true, it must, of course reverent care they had received from effect my prejudices somewhat, for I believe no church embodies more real piety than ours. But mind you, Judge, the evidence must be clear, and amount to positive knowledge.'

"Yes, yes, Bro. Graham, it shall be entirely satisfactory. Meantime, here is a more reliable Masonic library than your's (and he glanced at the almanaes) which is entirely at your service. Here is Masonic history, jurisprudence and text-books, landmarks, 'Constitution' and 'ancient charges.' Take as many of them as you please, and return them when you have finished their perusal,"

Mr. Graham did not know how he could consistently refuse to read some influence with that of their class leader of the standard Masonic, works, although to secure a new minister the ensuing he felt a great repugnance to doing so. year. The sun was just sinking below He therefore, selected a history and the western horizon as Mr. Graham en- text-book and, bidding the Judge good evening, left the office.

CHAPTER II. The early October days were levely in the thriving village of H--. streets presented a very unusual number of intelligent looking strangers in black broadcloth and high silk hats. The hotels were tilled to overflowing, and private residences were thrown open by hospitable owners to receive the pions men who had devoted their "Not a doubt of it-not a doubt of it; lives to the service of God and the preaching of His will as revealed in Here is an account of the whole affair Scripture. The large new Methodist and trial of the murderers" (and Mr. church afforded ample accommodation church afforded ample accommodation Graham laid the package on the table); for the transaction of the usual business of the Conference, but it was proposes on Sabbath morning to hold a love feast, to be followed by a sermon by the bishop. The church would be insufficient to accommodate the large number of people who would doubtless be in attendance, and the Agricultural Society tendered the Conference the use of their fair grounds, a part of which were covered by a grove of beautiful maples. Sabbath morning dawned bright and beautiful; light fleecy clouds were float ing in the sky, the birds were flitting about among the whispering leaves of the maples and singing anthems such as know how to sing. Some two thosusand people were col-around and in front of it; Judge Winworkers I ever saw." each other and directly in front of the rostrum. The "love feast" had commenced, and one after another spoke eloquently and feelingly of the beauties of the Christian religion, the duties and responsibilities of a life in the ministry,

"Judge," he said, abruptly ; "I will bld you good evening," and, taking his and the pleasures of a reunion like this. An old man, whose white locks swept iomeward. like mist clouds tound a mountain's brow, spoke of theprobability of this being his last meeting with his brethren as a body, exhorted all to be faithfool or a bigot !! "To my young brethren just entered upon the field of labor I would say, enthe crime of murdering Morgan, I who deavor now to store your minds with Fairbanks discussing the sermon of useful knowledge, apply that knowledge to the faithful discharge of your

Judge Winters touched the arm of Mr.

A young minister, who was much in "I scarcely know how to answer you. am an anti-Mason, and the Bishop be- at it with amazement, still with perfect longs to that fraternity. What think you of that institution ?"

Another thought that "we, as ministers of the Gospel, should endeavor not think," she said, "Masonry is one of only to teach others their duty, but first into existence by Providence to bless mankind. It is as a lofty mountaingrand majestic, beautiful; but between that spiritual building, that house not made with hands, eternal in the heav-But the time alloted to this portion of stition, bigotry and ignorance. At times the morning's exercise had passed; the the clouds pass, the mists arise, and choir sang a grand authem of praise and thanksgiving; the old man with the slivery hair offered up a short put carthicker than before, and the world looks peared upon the rostrum and announced "Faith." Clearly and concisely he laid the offspring of our excited fancies." down the proposition to be discussed But, Mr. Graham, I, in imagination, behold the misjudged mountain as it will be seen by the generations of a not distant future; the mists of error are all desses, with brows of light, clad in snowy vestments of purity. Temper- the capacity of nurse, the "Doctor"

"Yes; yes, it is enough !" cried a hun passer by ; "Then," said the Bishop, and his voice sunk to a deep pathos, "let us believe that, when the seythe of time shall cut the brittle shred of human life, we shall be suddenly revived by the ever green and ever living sprig of faith in the merits of the Lion of the tribe of Judah, and doubt not that, in the morning of the resurrection, our bodies will rise and become as incorruptible as our ly dews to send them in fertilizing souls. Let us welcome death as a kind niessenger, sent to translate us from this imperfect to that all perfect, glorious and celestial world where the Supreme Architect of the Universe presides." The Bishop had finished his discours The choir sang a hymn of praise, a ben ediction was pronounced, and the congregation dispersed. Mr. Graham and Judge Winters walked homeward to-

"What a holy man is our Bishop," said the former. "It seems as if the heavenly fire came down to consume his offering of praise and thanksgiving. Bu you have bewildered me by your frequent intimations that such or such corrupted that is honored and loved by were Masons. However, you must reso much nobleness and talent." member, Judge, the evidence was to be clear and amount to positive knowl-

"Yes," returned the Judge, "I re member, and mean to prove all that I have affirmed. " ill you come up to o'clock ?" "Yes, I will be there." And, bidding gether.

Judge Winters good day, Mr. Graham turned up the walk leading to his resi-

CHAPTER III. Six o'clock of Monday evening came and, prompt to his appointment, Mr. Graham entered the office of his friend. "Well now for the evidence," said the Judge. "Take a seat here where, through the open door, you can com mand a view of the hall, and observe who pass up into the Masonic Lodgeroom above." Mr. Graham took the position required, with a somewhat in He had not long to wait, however before one after another of the gentlemen in black broadcloth and high silk hats passed quietly through the hall and were heard ascending the staircase at the further end. Mr. Graham could scarcely credit the evidence of his own He noticed that the Judge ap peared amused, and realized that his ewn position was uncomfortable. Was he, after all, in error? were the good, plous, self sacrificing men Masons ?

Presently Bishop S -himself appeared, and pausing in the door way

"Are you not going up to the Lodge

"Yes" replied the Judge, "in a few moments." The Bishop passed on. Esquire King came into the room and swear that this is not your handwrit-guished poet in London: "A wordling said: "Cannot you go up and open the ing?" "I reckon not," was the cool was once visited, in his illness by a well Lodge, Bro. Winters? My child is sick, reply. "Does it resemble your write meaning but dolorous elergyman, who and my wife has sent for me. Put Ing?" "Yes, sir, I think it don't." "Do disfigured his countenance and wore a Bro. Fairbanks in your place in the you swear that it don't rescuible your face of perpetual mourning. As his only those heaven-taught minstrels West, and ask the Bishop to act as writing?" "Well, I do, old head." "You sad visage appeare I in the doorway, Chaplain."

lected in the grove. A temporary ros- to-night ?" asked the Judge.

on Friday evening. They are the best

During this little dialogue Mr. Graham had arisen and walked rapidly up and down the room, glancing now at Judge Winters, now at the broadcloth still filing past the door.

hat, he left the office, and walked slowly "Proof, proof!" he said to himself, "I nould think this was proof enough! Get Brother Fairbanks out of the Conference! I might as well attempt to turn an angel out of heaven! Am I a Thus soliloquizing, Mr. Graham reached his home to find his wife and Mrs.

Bishop 8-

"His sermons are always instructive," replied Mrs. Fairbanks, who was a lady of about thirty-five years of age-very intelligent and highly accomplished. "But how do you like the Bishop Bro.

The minister's wife turned her fine dark eyes full upon Mr. Graham. "I the most valuable agencies ever brought which and them mankind have placed the heavy mists of error; they have circled it with dark clouds of superthen bright glimpses are caught of rippling streams and verdant slopes. But the mists settle again, the clouds grow on and says, "Itis a dark unlovely prospect; the beauties we beheld were but dissipated by the sun of truth the clouds of bigotry and ignorance discharge their last thunder peals and float away forever, revealing the grand old mountain, based firmly in eternal truth, the hoary head covered with the crown of countless ages. And there are not only rippling streams and verdant slopes, but evergreen glades and fruitful vines and rees, and lower down broad patches of waving grain. Thousands of laborers ited the headquarters of Colonel, afterare in its vineyards and fields; many toll up steep but flowery paths for higher army corps. Failing in all her efforts fields of labor and a more extended view. And there are seven levely god- geon in the army, and having only perance, beside a crysfal stream, presents was frequently obliged to accept the inspiring all with firmness and courage; Prudence is just beyond; and Justice weight of motives as well as words. eye and finger pointing heavenward; and being as gallant as he is brave, of Hope, cheering all with visions of immortal glory; while high above all, beside a copious reservoir, stands meekeyed Charity, collecting all the heavenstreams along the lower slopes and valleys and gather in their downward too earnest a Christian to be an anti-Mason. Let me beg of you to investigate the matter calmly and impartially; do not be skeptical, do not stultify

On the Wednesday evening preced ing the full of the moon of December of the same year, Harmony Lodge, No.10, my office to-morrow evening, at six met in regular communication. There was a full attendance of the brethren and the prayer of the Chaplain, Bro-Fairbanks, was full of deep feeling as he besought God to cherish the Order, the vine of His own planting.

A candidate for the mysteries was an nounced, and as the door opened at the bidding of the Worshipful Master, George Graham was conducted juto the hall, and as he passed through the sol emn ceremonies of that hour his last distrust of Masonry was eradicated; and when all was over, and he was pro nounced an Entered Apprentice, and stood clothed in the "emplem of Innocence and the badge of a Mason," it was soon began to tune it up. One of the with an eargest heart that he grasped the hands of his brethren and thanked them for bringing him from "darkness

"Don't you know me?" said a Kenucky soldier to his former comman

"No, my friend, I don't." "Why, sir, you once saved my life."
"Ah, how was that?" "Why, sir, I served under you at the battle of Fort Donelson, and when you ran away at the beginning of the fight, I ran after you, else I might have been killed. God bless you, my preserver, my benefactor !"

COURT SCENE .- "Sir," said a flereu "Yes, some seventy-five or eighty, I know?" "Cause I can't write."

An Expensive Brenkfast, THERE seems to be a diversity of pinion about one of Cleopatra's breakfasts. It was the most costly breakfast that has ever been served to a single human being. I will, therefore, lent in nonpareil type) one or two in tions, $1.50; three insertions, $2.00.

RATES OF ADVERTISING.

SPACE. 18, 2M, 3M.
One squares. 25.04 $2.06 $4.00
Two squares. 35.0 5,00 7,00
Four squares. 7,00 9,00 11,00
Quarter column, 10,00 12,00 14,00
Half reduction. 10,00 12,00 2000
One column. 30,00 36,00 60,00

One square, (ten lines or its equiva-

Executor's or Administrator's Notice, $3.00; Auditor's or Assignee's Notice, Local Notices, twenty cents a line; by the year ten cents.

Cards in the "Directory" column, $2.00 per year for the first two lines, and 1.00 for each additional line.

tell what I know about it. After having partaken of Cleopatra's necklace, Mark Antony determined to devise the costliest breakfast ever given. After several days of gastronomical modifations, not having found what he was tooking for he summoned his cook to his presence, and told him that, if he could get up a dainty breakfast for a lady, which should be composed of as few and as small dishes as possible, and, at reward him accordingly.

Several weeks afterwards, the cook entered Mark Antony's study, and told him that he was ready to serve the dain-"He cleared up many points that have ty breakfast asked of him, and that it always been dark to me," said Mrs. was composed of one olive only. At the appointed hour the cook entered the dining room, followed by one hundred men carrying the olive (in its artificial envelope) on their shoulders. They deposited it on a table made for the occasion, and fifty carvers were set to work on it. After several hours of hard work the triumphent cook placed the olive Sister Fairbanks," was the reply. "I before the Egyptian Queen, who looked the same time, be most costly, he would delight.

The olive had been prepared in the following way: After having been stoned, it was stuffed with a rich custard, then put inside of a boned canary, which was used to stuff an ortolan The latter was placed inside of a boned oriole, which was used to stuff a thrush, which thrush stuffed a boned lark. A boned snipe was stuffed with the lark and placed inside of a robin, which was used to stuff a ployer, and which latter bird filled a quail, which was then placed inside of a pigeon. The pigeon filled a woode ek, the woodenek a partridge, the latter a grouse, the grouse a pheasant, the pheasant a chicken, the chicken a guinea fowl, which was placed inside of a goose; the goose filled a turkey, the turkey a swan, the latter an ostrich, which was used to stuff a sheep, the sheep a calf, the calf an antelope, the latter a pig, the pig a deer, the deer a bear, the bear a helfer. the latter an elk, the elk anox, the ox a hippopotamus, the latter an elephant. The olive was then roasted in its envelope, which envelope was thrown away and the olive only was served .- Pranti BLOT, in March Galaxy,

THRILLING ADVENTURE .- "Jingle," of the New York Sunday News, tells a story, which has the air of probability. While with the army of the Potomac, in the summer of 1863, Dr. Walker visward Gen. Sain. Carroll, of the Second to obtain a regular commission as surmission to remain with the troops in casion referred to, she plainly stated to with her golden scales, lifted to test the his headquarters for a few days for the laudable purpose of looking after the Higher up is Faith, with soft uplifted sick. Of course the General consented, fered her the sole use of his tent, which she accepted. So far so good.

Early on the morning after her arrival, a field officer of the Seventh West Virginia of Carroll's brigade-a bluff, honest, brave, devil-may-care old backwoodsman-took's walk over to brigade weep a thousand sheaves of plenty. headquarters, and noticing that the And all around the mountain's foot are flies of Carroll's tent were still tied, seen the hosts of the aged, the widowed, thought it somewhat strange that his the orphaned, who gather up their copi- commanding officer, generally an early ous supplies and lift their hearts in riser, should remain in bed at so late thankfulness to Him who is the widows' an bonr. "I have it!" said be, think-God and the Father of the fatherless, ing a moment-and approaching the You, Mr. Graham, are too good a man, tent, he quietly untied the canva-s doors, winking at the same time to several staff officers who were near by endeavoring to control their risibilities. The face of the sleeper was hidden by reason,do not wrestle against conscience, the bed covering, and the officer quietly but consider that no institution can be lifting the clothes at the foot of the couch, and encircling two warm ankles with his brawny paws, while he watched the head of the bed intently to see if the sleeper awoke, shouted at the top of his lungs as he dragged the body completely out of the bed to the floor. "Carroll, you lazy cass get up here! It's eight o'-," The rest of the sentence was lost in a piercing scream, such as only a female in distress can furnish at short notice, and the jolly old officer, abashed and dumbfounded, bounded from the tent like a stag struck by three-ounce bullet. The Joke was alto gether too good to keep, and the result was that every soldier in the Second Corps soon knew the story about Colonel-of the Seventh Virginia, pulling Dr. Mary Walker out of bed.

IRISHMAN AND FIDDLE. - An Irishnan, just come to this country, had never seen a fiddle. A man came into a hotel with one under his arm. He screws slipped, and he spit upon it to make it hold, and then began to draw the bow. The Irishman, who was watching bim, could stand it no longer, but bolted across the street, into another hotel, exclaiming: "I thought this was a land diberty and freedem, but the devil take such a land where ye abuse the Landlord-Who is abusing the chil-

Irishman-Why a man came into the tavern just now, with a little boy under his arm, and he began to forment the dear little creature. First, he began to pull and twist his ears, then to provoke him more, he spit in his face, and then he draw'd a briar across his belly, and Holy Virgin, how he screamed!

S.C. HALL related the following an lawyer "do you, on your solemn oath, ecdote at the dinner-table of a distintake your solomn oath that this writing the sick man started up and exclaimed: "Are there many of the ministers up does not resemble yours in a single let-o-night?" asked the Judge. ter ?" 'X'-e-s, sir!" "Now, how do you as if your religion didn't agree with