

Farmer's Department.

What Shall We Have for Dinner?

FRIEND EDITOR.—There is not a housekeeper among the legion who read your paper, who is not frequently "put to it" to know what the day's dinner is to consist of. I have more than once said to myself, "O dear! what shall we have for dinner to-day?" and was no nearer to the fact. Lately I have adopted a bill of fare for the whole week, and this trouble almost entirely vanishes, and not only with me but all the meals. And this is my programme for dinner, but each housewife will of course make up one for herself. I only offer mine for consideration:

SUNDAY. Roast-beef, mashed potatoes, mashed turnips, celery or a cold salad, and a macaroni. Dessert, a rice-pudding or apples.

MONDAY. Soup made of a knuckle of veal or a shin of beef, which ought to be enough for a large family for two or three times; the roast-beef cold; roasted potatoes, stewed onions. Dessert, peach or apple pie.

TUESDAY. Stewed mutton, plenty of gravy, with potatoes, turnips, carrots, onions, commonly called an "Irish stew." Dessert, apple-dumplings, the crust made of potatoes and only as much flour as will hold the crust together. To be eaten with milk or cream and molasses, or molasses only, or sugar, as to taste.

WEDNESDAY. Soup as for Monday, corned-beef and cabbage, with side dishes of turnips and potatoes whole. Dessert, an Indian meal pudding sweetened liberally with good molasses, an excellent and wholesome dessert.

THURSDAY. A leg or quarter of mutton roasted, with potatoes cooked under the meat, mashed turnips, and coldslaw. Dessert, peach or apple pie.

FRIDAY. Pork and beans, boiled potatoes "in their jackets," and what remains of Wednesday's dinner. Dessert, apple-dumplings.

SATURDAY. Soup, which, if there should be none of the "stock" on hand from the knuckle of veal or shin of beef, referred to, can be made of the scraps on hand. Then the remains of the mutton on Thursday and the pork on Friday, with potatoes, coldslaw, &c. Dessert, a boiled bread-pudding, made of risen bread-crumbs as light as possible, liberally dressed with dried currants or raisins, &c.

I offer the above as a substantial farmer's dinner for the seven days in the week. It must be borne in mind that poultry, game or fish can be substituted for any of the dinners where fresh meat is down, or something else that happens once in a while to present itself unexpectedly.

As to breakfasts and suppers, every housekeeper will provide these as circumstances allow. One or two things, however, I would suggest, that good black tea be substituted for coffee, which is sure sooner or later to produce dyspepsia. Tea is just as refreshing and entirely wholesome. That nothing should be fried that can be broiled. Mutton, fitch, pork, chops, scapple, &c., we suppose must be, but beyond this avoid it as much as possible. There is nothing harder on the digestion than the burnt particles of fat produced by frying. No person who has not the stomach of an ostrich can swallow this for any length of time without suffering.

As I am, as you know, the wife of a farmer, I respectfully submit the foregoing to the housekeepers who read your invaluable journal.—Germantown Telegraph.

POULTRY MANURE—HOW TO SAVE IT.—Poultry manure, one of the most valuable fertilizers made up on the farm, is too often allowed to go to waste. The hens and turkeys roost upon trees, under the shed in the wagon-house, or wherever it happens. To save the manure, these birds must be taught to roost in one place. Turkeys readily take to elevated poles, near the house or barn, and these should always be provided for them. Sweep up their droppings every few days, and put in a box or barrel, and keep dry. Hens will roost under cover, and a hen-house should always be one of the farm buildings. The floor, if not boards in a loft, should be such that it can be cleaned easily and frequently. It is well to keep plaster or dried peat under the fowls. Put the sweepings in old barrels as fast as they accumulate. In a dry state they will keep a long time without much loss. It is customary to mix these droppings with wood ashes, with much attention to definite proportions, at the time of planting, and drop in the hill for corn and potatoes. If care is taken to keep the seed from contact with the manure, they produce very satisfactory results. But this is the best way of using it: Two or three weeks before planting, mix the contents of the barrels with about three times their bulk of moist loam or peat under cover. When the mass is well heated, shovel it over and mix it with as much more loam or peat, and let it lie until wanted. This may be worked into beds prepared for garden seeds, or dropped a handful to the hill, for field crops, and will always tell a good story at harvest time.

A HORSE that is in the harness every day needs an abundance of food and the right kind. Oats make more muscle than corn, and should always form part of the food of a hard working horse. Corn gives plumpness and imparts warmth. The colder the weather the more corn; the harder the work, the more oats.

FOOD FOR CHICKENS.—A writer recommends for chickens, for the first week after hatching, hard boiled eggs, to be given, chopped fine, at least twice a day; wheat steeped in milk, and coarse Indian meal, bread crumbs, &c. A change of food is necessary twice a week, substituting cracked corn for wheat.

A CORRESPONDENT of the American Farmers' Magazine helped to build a corn crib in Vermont fifty-five years ago, which is still in good order and in which no rat or mouse was ever known to be. It is on stone pillars, two feet high, each capped by a broad flat stone, smooth on the underside.

RATHER pay wages to a servant, than accept the offered help of occasional attendants—such are never paid.

Then Ohio Farmer asserts that nine-tenths of the foot and ankle ailments of the horse are traceable to standing on dry plank floors.

For The Young Folks.

Prince Cheri.

Hardly had she finished these words before Cheri saw with horror he was the monster she described. He had the head of a lion, the horns of a bull, the feet of a wolf and the tail of a viper. At the same time he found himself in a great forest, on the brink of a fountain wherein he saw his horrible form reflected, and heard a voice which said, "Consider attentively the state to which thy crimes have reduced thee. Thy mind is become a thousand times more frightful than thy body." Cheri recognized the voice of Caudill, and in his fury he turned to throw himself on her, and if it had been possible, to devour her; but he saw no one, and the same voice said to him, "I mock thy impotent fury, and will humble thy pride by placing thee under the power of thine own subjects."

Cheri thought that by flying from this fountain he should escape from much of his vexation, as he should no longer have his ugliness and deformity before his eyes; he rushed therefore into the wood; but hardly had he gone a few steps, when he fell into a hole which had been made to catch a bear, and immediately the hunters, who had climbed the trees to watch for their prey, descended, and having secured him with chains, led him towards the capital city of his kingdom.

On the way, instead of perceiving that he had drawn on himself this chastisement by his own fault, he cursed the Fairy, gnawed his chains, and gave himself up to his rage. As he approached the city to which they were conducting him, he observed great rejoicing going on; and the hunters having asked what had happened, were told that Prince Cheri, who had had no pleasure but in tormenting his people, had been destroyed in his chamber by a thunderbolt, for so they imagined. "The gods," said they, "could no longer support the excess of his wickedness, and have thus riden the world of him. Four lords, accomplices of his crimes, thought to profit by the event, and to divide his kingdom amongst them; but the people who knew that it was their evil counsel which had corrupted the King, rose to his rescue, and have offered the crown to Sullivan whom the wicked Cheri had wished to put to death. This worthy lord has just been crowned, and we celebrate this day as that of the deliverance of the kingdom; for Sullivan is virtuous, and will restore to us peace and prosperity."

Cheri glared with rage at hearing this discourse; but it was far worse when he arrived in the Great Square before the Palace. He saw Sullivan on a superb throne, and heard the people with him a long life, to repair all the evils which his predecessor had committed. Sullivan made a sign with his hand to request silence, and said to the crowd: "I have accepted the crown which you offered me, but only to preserve it for Prince Cheri; he is not dead as you believe. A Fairy has revealed this to me, and perhaps some day you will see him again as virtuous as he was in his youth. Alas!" continued he, shedding tears, "flatterers ruined him. I knew his heart, it was formed for virtue; but for the poisonous discourse of those who surrounded him, he would have been a father to you. Detest his vices, but pity him, and let us all pray the gods to restore him to us. As for me, I should esteem myself too happy to bathe this throne with my blood, if I could see him ascend it again with those good dispositions which would make him fill it worthily."

The words of Sullivan went to the heart of Cheri. He found then how sincere had been the attachment and fidelity of this excellent man, and for the first time reproached himself for his wickedness. Hardly had he listened to this good impulse than he felt the rage which had animated him subside, he reflected on the crimes he had committed and confessed he had not deserved. He ceased to struggle in his iron cage, and became mild as a lamb. They placed him in a large menagerie, where they kept all sorts of monsters and wild beasts, and chained him up with the rest.

Cheri then came to the resolution of beginning to amend his faults, by showing obedience to the man who kept these men in an ill-temper. Although the monster was very docile, he bore him without rhyme or reason. One day that this man was asleep, a tiger that had broken his chain threw himself upon him to devour him; at first Cheri felt an emotion of joy at seeing himself about to be delivered from his persecutor, but immediately after he condemned this feeling and wished himself at liberty. "I would," said he, "render good for evil by saving the life of this unhappy man." Hardly had he formed the wish than he saw his iron cage open, he threw himself before the man, who was now awake and defending himself from the tiger. The keeper thought himself lost when he saw the monster; but his fear soon turned into joy—the benevolent monster sprang upon the tiger, strangled him, and then laid himself down at the feet of his man, who had saved him. The man, penetrated by gratitude, was about to stoop to caress the monster which had rendered him so great a service, when he heard a voice which said, "A good action never goes without its reward," and at the same moment he saw only a pretty dog at his feet. Cheri charmed at this metamorphosis, bestowed a thousand caresses on his keeper, who took him in his arms and carried him to the King, to whom he related this marvelous story. The Queen desired to have the dog; and Cheri would have been very happy in his new condition had he been able to forget that he was once a man and a monarch. The Queen loaded him with caresses; but fearing that he would grow larger, she consulted her physicians who told her that she must give him no food but bread, and only a moderate quantity of that. Poor Cheri was dying of hunger half the day but he was obliged to have patience.

QUIBBLE, reading that "it has been decided in the Court of Queen's Bench, in Dublin, that a clergyman of the Court of England can legally marry himself," observes that this might be very well as a measure of economy, but even in the hardest times he would rather marry a woman.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Life Insurance Co.

NATIONAL LIFE INSURANCE CO.
OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,
WASHINGTON, D. C.
CHARTERED BY SPECIAL ACT OF CONGRESS
APPROVED JULY 25, 1868.
CASH CAPITAL, $1,000,000.
PAID IN FULL.
BRANCH OFFICE:
FIRST NATIONAL BANK BUILDING,
PHILADELPHIA.
Where the general business of the Company is transacted, and to which all general correspondence should be addressed.

OFFICERS:
CLARENCE H. CLARK, President.
JAY COOKE, Chairman Finance and Executive Committee.
HENRY D. COOKE, Vice-President.
EMERSON W. PEET, Secretary and Actuary.

This Company offers the following advantages:
It is a National Company, chartered by special act of Congress, 1868.
It has a paid-up capital of $1,000,000.
It offers low rates of premium.
It furnishes larger insurance than other companies for the same money.
It is definite and certain in its terms.
It is a home company in every locality.
Policies are exempt from attachment.
There are no unnecessary restrictions in the policies.
Every policy is non-forfeitable.
Policies may be taken which pay to the insured their full amount, and return all the premiums, so that the insurance costs only the interest on the annual payments.
No extra rate is charged for risks upon the lives of females.
It insures, not to pay dividends to policy-holders, but to so low a cost that dividends will be impossible.
Circulars, Pamphlets and full particulars given on application to the Branch Office of the Company, or to

E. W. CLARK & CO., Philadelphia.
General Agents for Pennsylvania and Southern New Jersey.
JOEL E. BRADLEY, Bloomsburg Pa.
Special Agent for Montour & Columbia Counties.
Feb. 10, 1897.

UNFAILING EYE PRESERVERS.
Messrs. LAZARUS & MORRIS,
OPTICIANS & OCUISTS,
HARTFORD, CONN.
Have, with a view to meet the increased demand for their
C E L E B R A T E D
P E R F E C T E D S P E C T A C L E S, Appointed
Miss A. D. WEBB,
STATIONER,
BLOOMSBURG, PA.

As their sole Agent for this place. They have taken care to give all needful instructions, and have confidence in the ability of their agents to meet the requirements of all customers. An opportunity will be thus afforded to procure, at all times
S P E C T A C L E S U N Q U A L I F I E D F O R A N Y
T H E I R S T R E N G T H E N I N G A N D P R E S E R V I N G Q U A L I T I E S.
Too much cannot be said as to their S U P E R I O R I T Y over the ordinary glasses worn. There is no glimmering, veiling of the sight, distance, or other unpleasant sensation, but on the contrary, from the peculiar construction of the Lenses they are soothing and pleasant, causing a feeling of relief to the wearer, and PRODUCING A CLEAR AND DISTINCT VISION, as in the natural healthy sight. They are the only Spectacles that

P R E S E R V E A S W E L L A S A S S I S T T H E S I G H T!
And are the CHEAPEST because the BEST, always lasting many years without change being necessary.
Miss A. D. WEBB,
STATIONER,
BLOOMSBURG, PA.

Is the ONLY Agent appointed in this place.
WE EMPLOY NO PEDDLERS.
Feb. 10, 1897.

WE HAVE NO TRAVELING AGENTS
Farmers and Dealers who send their orders direct to us, can avail themselves of the
LOWEST PRICES
And save the Commission. Early orders will be advantageous to buyers.
ALLEN & NEEDLES.

MANUFACTURERS OF IMPROVED SUPER-PHOSPHATE OF LIME,
AND THE AMMONIATED FERTILIZER.
PERUVIAN GUANO.
We sell only No. 1—received direct from the Government.
FISH GUANO.
A splendid Manure packed in barrels.

We also offer for sale PURE LAND PLASTER, HYDRATED CHALK and a full assortment of Oils and Candles. A DISCOUNT TO DEALERS.
ALLEN & NEEDLES,
42 South Delaware Avenue, Philadelphia.
ESTABLISHED IN 1846.

For sale by THE BLOOMSBURG IRON CO.,
Feb. 10, 1897.
BLOOMSBURG, PA.

SNYDER, HARRIS & BASSETT,
Manufacturers and Jobbers of
MEN'S AND BOY'S CLOTHING.
Nos. 305 Market, and 602 Commerce Street, Philadelphia.

GET THE BEST.
Johnson's Copper Tubular Lightning Rod is the best protection against disaster by lightning fire in view. The subscriber is agent for the above invention, and all orders by mail or by person will be promptly attended to.
J. S. RIDEMAN.

CONCENTRATED INDIGO FOR THE LAUNDRY.
It is warranted not to streak, or in any manner injure the finest fabrics.
FOR FAMILY USE: Sold in FIVE cents, TEN cents, and TWENTY cents boxes.
Each box contains 100 lbs. of Indigo having FIVE times as much color as the FIVE cents box.
For Hotel and Large Laundry use, it is put up in 250 lb. boxes.
See each box for proper Trade Mark.
For sale by
J. J. ALBERTSON, Bloomsburg, Pa.
J. J. HARRIS & Co., Bloomsburg Pa.
WALTER SCOTT, Calverton Pa.

LEHIGH VALLEY AGRICULTURAL CHEMICAL WORKS.
BREINING & HELFRICH.
MANUFACTURERS OF
BREINING'S COMPLETE BONE MANURE.
A concentrated manure combining the reliable fertilizing properties of BONE DUST or GROUND BONE, with the active elements of PERUVIAN GUANO, AMMONIATED FERTILIZER, AND SUPER-PHOSPHATE OF LIME.
NOTICE.—We prepare but one article, guaranteeing it as standard, reliable and uniform. Lower grades and variations in quality to suit different soils are produced by adulteration. Farmers can save money by buying the pure article. We use only bone and no phosphate guano for Phosphate of Lime. Send for Farmers' Manure Guide. For sale at Manufacturer's rate by
J. J. ALBERTSON, Bloomsburg, Pa.
J. J. HARRIS & Co., Bloomsburg Pa.
WALTER SCOTT, Calverton Pa.

QUICKLY, reading that "it has been decided in the Court of Queen's Bench, in Dublin, that a clergyman of the Court of England can legally marry himself," observes that this might be very well as a measure of economy, but even in the hardest times he would rather marry a woman.

DRY GOODS.

MILLER'S STORE.

FRESH ARRIVAL OF FALL AND WINTER GOODS.
The subscriber has just returned from the cities with another large and select assortment of SPRING AND SUMMER GOODS, purchased in New York and Philadelphia at the lowest figure, and which he is determined to sell at as moderate terms as can be procured elsewhere in Bloomsburg. His stock comprises of the choicest styles and latest fashions, together with a large assortment of Dry Goods and Groceries, consisting of the following articles:
LADIES' DRESS GOODS
Carpet, Oil Cloth, Cassimeres, Shawls, Flannels, Silks, White Goods, Linens, Hoop Skirts, Mustins, Hosiery, Holloware, Crockery, Hardware, Queensware, Boots and Shoes, Hats and Caps, Hosiery, Umbrellas, Looking-Glasses, Coffee, Sugar, Tea, Rice, Almonds, Ginger, Cinnamon, Nutmegs, AND NOTIONS GENERALLY.

In short, everything usually kept in country stores, to which he invites the attention of the public generally. The highest price will be paid for country produce in exchange for goods.
S. H. MILLER & SON,
Arcade Buildings, Bloomsburg, Pa.

GREAT REDUCTION IN PRICES AT PETER ENT'S STORE, IN LIGHT STREET.
OF FALL AND WINTER GOODS.
THE subscriber has just received and has on hand at his old stand in Light Street, a large and select assortment of MERCHANDISE purchased at the lowest figure, and which he determined to sell at as moderate terms as he could procure elsewhere in Light Street.
FOR CASH OR COUNTRY PRODUCE.
His stock consists of
LADIES' DRESS GOODS,
choicest styles and latest fashions, Calicoes, Muslins, Gingham, Flannels, Hosiery, Carpets, Silks, Shawls, READY MADE CLOTHING, Sateen, Cassimeres, Cottonades, Kentucky Jeans, &c., &c., &c.
GROCERIES, CROCKERY, Queensware, Crockery, Hardware, Medicines, Drugs, Oil, Paints, &c.
BOOTS & SHOES, HATS & CAPS.
In short everything usually kept in a country store. The patronage of his old friends and the public generally, is respectfully solicited. The highest market price paid for country produce.
Light Street, Nov. 8, 1887. PETER ENT.

J. J. BROWER,
Is now offering to the public his stock of
SPRING GOODS
consisting in part of a full line of
INGRAIN, WOOL AND RAG CARPETS.
Fine cloths and cassimeres for Ladies' coats, HANDMADE DRESS GOODS, of all patterns and qualities, Linens and Prints of various qualities and prices, BLEACHED AND BROWN MUSLINS, LADIES' FRENCH CORSETS, AND BALMORAL SKIRTS.
Good assortment of
LADIES' & CHILDREN'S GAITERS & BOOTS.
Fresh Groceries and Spices. New assortment of GLASS AND QUEENSWARE.
FX-NO. 1 MACKEREL
In one-half and one-fourth barrels.
Now is the time to make your selections, as I am offering goods at very low prices, and our motto is fair dealing to all, and not to be understood by any.
J. J. BROWER,
Bloomsburg, April 12, 1887.

1115 HOOP SKIRTS. 1115
WM. T. HOPKINS
Has Removed his Manufactory and Salesroom to No. 1115 CHESTNUT ST. PHILADELPHIA, Where he is selling at 75 cents to $1.00, embracing 1115 "Black," "Glove Fitting," "Madame's Patent," "Self-Adjusting," "Hautman's," "French," "English" and "Domestic" Hand-made Corsets, and superior French, English and Cottel Corsets, "Our Own Make," to which we give special attention.
Complete assortment of Ladies' Under Garments, of every description, and of the latest styles, and of the highest quality, and of the most durable material, and of the most perfect construction, and of the most perfect fit, and of the most perfect finish, and of the most perfect color, and of the most perfect texture, and of the most perfect quality, and of the most perfect price, and of the most perfect service, and of the most perfect satisfaction, and of the most perfect result, and of the most perfect success, and of the most perfect fame, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most perfect retribution, and of the most perfect justice, and of the most perfect mercy, and of the most perfect love, and of the most perfect peace, and of the most perfect happiness, and of the most perfect bliss, and of the most perfect glory, and of the most perfect honor, and of the most perfect reward, and of the most perfect punishment, and of the most