

The Columbian

Bloomburg, Pa., Friday Nov. 19, 1899.

A CHARTER has been granted for an Odd Fellows Lodge at Espy.

We hope to see a full turn-out at the dedication of the Odd F. Hall in Berwick on Monday next.

WANTED.—A boy at this office to learn the printing business. One who can spell preferred.

On last Tuesday evening old Boreas took down Bradley's sign. No arrests have been made.

Our printing establishment has been moved to the third story of the COLUMBIAN building.

It is proposed to organize an Odd Fellows Lodge at or near Millville. It is about the only unoccupied ground in the County, and we doubt at a very strong Lodge could be built up there.

THE NEW Masonic Hall at Catawissa is being pushed forward rapidly, and the iron skeleton will be up in a few days. The cornerstone was laid with appropriate ceremonies on the 10th inst.

HERBY ROSENSTOCK, our accomplished Photographer has moved his place of business from the Exchange Block to the upper story of Robbins & Eyer's new building, on the corner of Main and Centre Streets. All finishing good pictures should give him a call.

CAPT. SAMUEL WATERS, of Catawissa, Pa., has purchased one of the Hollow Farm, some five miles southeast of the city. It is one of the most beautiful locations in this section of the country. He proposes to open it in January.—North Carolinian.

SINGULAR STORY.—On Thursday night, one of the employes on I. W. M. Kelly's new house, found a quarter of a pig hidden in the cellar of the house. The pig was skinned, not scalded. How it got there is a mystery, but we rather fancy somebody is short on his pork account.

THE McHENRY CASE.—This case which was to have come before the U. S. District Court at Pittsburg last week was continued until next June, when the Court meets at Williamsport. This will be much more convenient for editors and witnesses. We also learn that the McHenry property, except his distillery has been released from seizure.

BROOKS.—On Thursday night one of the large plate glass windows of Robbins & Eyer's store was broken by a careless boy named Log, who threw a stone against it. The window is very valuable being worth some $15. The boy was placed in jail on Tuesday last by Constable Woodward.

MR. JOHN KLINE, of Salladaysburg, and formerly of Columbia county, met with a sudden death by falling from a wagon loaded with wood. His death was instantaneous—the supposition being that his neck was broken by the fall. There was no one present at the time of this sad occurrence, except a little boy, son of the unfortunate man.—Herald Standard.

We have received a work on Book Keeping by Single Entry intended for the use of Public Schools and Academies by H. D. Walker, A. M., formerly Principal of the Orangeville School, and pronounces it without hesitation the best of its kind we have ever seen. It is full and complete in every respect even to the giving of valuable rules for measurements interest, etc. Its merits are undisputed and we bespeak for it the careful attention of teachers.

REMARKABLE FATALITY.—Within ten days less than three members of the family of Mr. Edward Catarrh present in the household of Consumption. His son Warren aged 14 died on Tuesday last week; the following day his married daughter at Ashland (Mr. Hoover, aged 31) perished; and on Wednesday of this week Mr. Ent himself died. He was aged about 57 years. Mr. Ent was a prominent man and a Democrat in full accord with the party. He was a brother of Peter Ent of Light Street.

ASSAULT.—Two or three nights since, as a lady was walking near the residence of Dr. J. B. Evans, she was violently assaulted by a man who was passing. Getting away from him she ran into the house of the Dr. for protection, but was followed by the man, who in the dismay of several ladies there, down stairs, who promptly ejected the intruder. We understand the man's name to be Green and that he does not reside in town.

DEPUTY PROTHONOTARY.—It is with much pleasure we learn that Gen. Ent has tendered the position of Deputy Prothonotary to B. Frank Zarr, of Beaver Valley. It is an appointment peculiarly fit to be made. Mr. Zarr is not only a representative of the Township north of the river, but has many warm friends north of it who will be gratified by his appointment. He is an excellent writer, a good German scholar, of correct business habits, and gentlemanly and accomplished in his department. During his comings to this office he will probably make this town his home.

We give in another column an article from the Chicago Times on the subject of Representative Reform, which has become one of interest in Illinois because a Constitutional Convention is soon to assemble in that State, which will sit during the coming winter. We observe also that articles are being published upon the same subject in the Tribune and Post of the same city. Thus public opinion is being gradually formed, and without reference to ordinary party divisions in favor of fundamental changes in the manner of electing representatives and other public officials. Unquestionably the more of debate which is given upon this subject the stronger will be the case in favor of reform and the more certain its ultimate triumph.

WIND.—A terrific storm of wind and rain passed over our town on Tuesday night last and caused much damage. The signs of the "Republicans" office and John A. Fanson & Co. were blown off; the roof of D. Lowenberg's stable suffered a similar calamity as did also that of John Thomas, the Welsh Baptist Church was slightly injured. Part of the brick wall of John Stewer's new house in town, fences were everywhere laid prostrate and the crops about the place were blown away. Up to the hour of going to press we have heard of no serious damage in neighboring townships but we fancy the hills for putting up fences will be tolerably heavy.

THE KALEIDOSCOPE

Where death from any cause is so instantaneous, as to allow of no perceptible motion of the body or heart, after the fatal blow has been struck, it is questionable whether an immediate paralysis of the brain does not supervene, rendering impossible the apprehension of either sights or sounds, and creating a chaotic oblivion out of which the sufferer never emerges.

A bullet through the brain, or a portion of it at least, does not necessarily produce instant death. The writer was once witness of a case in point. During the election riots, which occurred in Baltimore some years ago, a man was severely wounded through the head—the bullet was of large size, entering at one temple and passing out at the other. Death did not ensue for a considerable length of time after the infliction of the wound; and it is impossible to say how long the man might have survived, since, while lying on the ground he received a bayonet thrust from an infuriated rowdy; that of itself put an end to his life. This was probably some half hour after he had received the gun-shot wound. After falling to the earth, he had arisen two different times, and staggered a few feet, only dropping from weakness occasioned by loss of blood. All this while, he seemed to possess some appreciation of what was being done, as evidenced by his desire to leave the place where the injury was inflicted. Now if it be hard to believe that this man could have experienced more than a confused and half-numb sense of his condition, or that his sensations could have been in any manner pleasurable, after so frightful a shock to the nervous system.

Properly of gun-shot wounds, the writer remembers to have read, not long since, a graphic description of the death of a soldier on the battle-field, written by a Russian author; in which was depicted with fervor and brilliancy, the sensations, physically considered, of the dying man, as well as the mental emotions which he experienced. He had no realization of having received his death wound, and his thoughts only wandered over the joys of his past life, dwelling with fondness on the veriest trivialities of his boyhood. A dreamy half-stupor, as if he were under the influence of an opiate, held him in its gentle embrace; and, free from pain, he passed into eternity amid dreams serene and calm as those of a tired school-boy!

The narrative of several citizens fully attests to the outrages perpetrated by the Lincoln administration. A full account of the Invasion of Columbia County is one of the features of the work, and will be found to be of the greatest interest to the majority of our readers and citizens of the county generally.

There are a number of fine engravings of various Forts and places of interest during the war. The frontispiece contains pictures of the "Liberty Bell" and of Seward's "Little Bell". The Constitution of the United States with Amendments thereof is given in full; also the famous "Magna Charta" of England, with engraving of its seal.

The book is well printed and well bound, and will be found to be worth its price. Published by T. W. Hartley, Philadelphia, and for sale only by subscription. Rev. John Sutton, of Fishing Creek, is sole agent for this county, from whom the book can be procured.

We learn that Prof. Hopstead the Horse Tamer will be in town during Court week. He is meeting with immense success wherever he goes.

LOCAL NOTICES. No HUNGRING! No CHEATING!—A pint bottle full of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy is prepared from one fifty-cent package, and the proprietor offers $500 reward for a case of Catarrh which he cannot cure. Sold by Druggists, or sent sixty cents to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive it by mail.

SEASONABLE.—Mr. Wolf of the firm of Miller & Wolf has just returned from the city with a splendid stock of new Dry Goods, suitable for the season. Our lady friends should call on them by all means as the collection is one of the finest in town if not the finest. They have the very best of Groceries and Provisions which they offer at the most enticing rates.

FOR THE finest kind of Musical Instruments and music call on Alstadt, Court House Alley.

At the Mammoth Grocery a fine assortment of Ham and Shoulders, Extra Family Flour, Buckwheat Flour, Corn meal and Feed of all kinds.

WANTED.—Farmers, Mechanics, Book Agents and others. Wages from $50 to $150 per month and expenses paid. Call upon Wm. H. Curran at Exchange Hotel, Bloomsburg Pa., on the 13th, 20th and 27th of November 1899.

FRUITS—Canned and Dried of all kinds can be obtained of J. H. Maize at the Mammoth Grocery corner of Main and Iron Streets. He has also the finest stock of fresh Groceries, just received, to be found in this section of the State. Also a large assortment of Flavoring Extracts.

REMOVAL.—The undersigned would hereby inform the public generally, that he has moved his Drug and Chemical Store to his new rooms nearly opposite the old stand, where he will be happy to accommodate all who may call on him, with good and reliable goods in his line of business. Thankful for past patronage he would ask a continuance of the same, and guarantee satisfaction to all. Main Street, west side, below the Post office. EDWARD P. LUTZ.

WE have received "A School History of Pennsylvania from the earliest settlements to the present time," by J. R. Sypher. This book which has been adopted by the Board of Control for the use of the Schools of Philadelphia, is written in a concise yet comprehensive manner and seems to be admirable in every respect. It will undoubtedly meet with very general adoption. Published by J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia at $1.50. For sale at A. D. Webb, Bloomsburg. 37.

Bloomburg Market Report. Wheat per bushel $1.25, Corn 75c, Flour per barrel 4.00, Rye 1.00, Beans 3.00, Apples 1.50, Butter 35c, Eggs 1.50, Hides 4.00, etc.

How Hostetter's Bitters cure Dyspepsia. THE WHOLE STORY IN A NUTSHELL. The office of the stomach is to convert the food into a cream-like substance called chyme. This is effected partly by the action of a solvent, called the gastric juice, which exudes from the coating of the stomach, and partly by a mechanical movement of the organ, which causes the chyme to be dissolved. The chyme passes from the stomach into the duodenum, or entrance to the bowels, where it is subjected to the action of the bile and the nutritious portion of it converted into a fluid called chyle, which eventually becomes blood.

Now, it is evident that if the great solvent, the gastric juice, is not produced in sufficient quantity, or if the mechanical action of the stomach is not properly performed, the food will be but imperfectly converted. It is also clear that if the chyle, which carries such an important part of the material of the blood, is congested, or is in any unnatural condition, the second process will not be thoroughly accomplished. The food, which enters the stomach, is digested, and the nutritious portion of it converted into a fluid called chyle, which eventually becomes blood.

By this means, Hostetter's Bitters cure Dyspepsia. By their action, they stimulate the stomach, and increase the quantity of gastric juice, and they also increase the mechanical action of the stomach, so that the food is converted into a fluid called chyle, which eventually becomes blood.

THE ONLY RELIABLE CURE FOR DYSPYPSIA. Dr. Wistar's Great American Dyspepsia Pills are the only reliable cure for dyspepsia in its most aggravated form, and the only cure of long standing. They penetrate the secret of the morbid action of the stomach, and restore it to its normal condition. They relieve the most agonizing and distressing symptoms of dyspepsia, and restore the system to its normal condition.

Millinery

MISS LIZZIE BARKLEY. has just returned from Philadelphia, and has brought with her the latest assortment of FANCY GOODS, TRIMMINGS, BONNETS
