

The Columbia.
Bloomersburg, Pa., Friday Dec. 10, 1909.

The viewers appointed by the Court on the petition to widen Centre street between Main and Third, have reported in favor of the same, and have awarded $350 damages to Joseph Sharpless whose property is in the proposed road.

ACCIDENT.—On last Sunday a gentleman and his family were driving across the coal bridge above the furnace, one of the rails became loosened, and the horse, wagon and contents were thrown over the abutment. No one was seriously injured, but the wagon was badly wrecked. We are glad to learn that the Canal Co. are about to construct a road on this side of the canal thus avoiding the two bridges between here and Esip.

ADVERTISEMENTS FIRST.—When a young lady takes up a paper she complains at the marriages and "personals"; an old lady at the deaths; a boy at the stories; at the average man at the news. It is only the shrewd young business man, remembering the adage, "business before pleasure," who commences the right way by reading the advertisements first. This, indeed, is putting a new paper to its best use. A man who reads it is sure to keep "posted" to know what is going on in the busy world around him, to know where and how to make bargains, and where and to whom he can dispose of what he has to sell. And there is no fear but what he will get all that is valuable in the paper besides.

We have heard a business man say he thinks fifty per cent. better of a young man when he sees him, after taking up a paper, dive first into the advertising columns. It is certainly an invaluable habit for men to form—and women, too! For that matter, if everybody who takes a newspaper would make it a point to study the advertisements before being led away by the other attractions of the paper, he would immensely benefit himself, immensely benefit newspapers, immensely benefit the community.—Newspapers act like money, the part of lubricating oil to the machinery of business. They aid it to run smoothly and rapidly, and the more people make use of them the more use they can be to them.—Ez.

OUR neighbor, The Republican, during the loss of one of our employees last week, kindly permitted one of his men to assist us. It was a friendly act which the editor has no sincere thanks.

We are informed that Collins Sulliff of Searles Township, died very suddenly on the 29th of last month. He had been from home during the day, complained of feeling unwell on his way home and lived but a short time after reaching his home. The cause of death we do not learn.

A CORRESPONDENT from Millville sends us, for publication, a notice which reflects somewhat severely on the character of certain young ladies of that place. In the absence of any testimony on the other side we must decline to publish the article, lest injustice be done and we be held responsible for the slandering and abetting thereof.

We have received the sixth number of How's Musical Monthly, containing a most charming selection of vocal and instrumental music. The Magazine is well printed on heavy paper of proper size and shape for binding. Published by Elms Howe, 103 Court St. Boston, at $3 per year or 35 cents per number.

BOA LOG.—The Williamsport Gazette claims that a log has been cut there that bears the big log saved at Mr. Satterlee's mill, which yielded 1,200 feet, board measure. It says "the log has a log measure, that on the 18th instant, a log was sawed on the mill of Messrs. Bronner, Shack & Co., Williamsport, that yielded 1,200 feet, board measure."

SEVERAL of our citizens have met with severe accidents, lately. On Saturday, of last week, Mr. Michael Franke, was thrown from his buggy, while attending the funeral of his mother-in-law, and severely injured in the side. He has recently recovered. Mr. Hudson Owen, was thrown from his buggy near Bloom, on Thursday last, severely injuring his hand and head.—Berkley Gazette.

FORD DEAD.—An unknown man was found on the tunnel head, at Grove Bros. Furnaces, on Tuesday morning last. He was about five feet and five inches in height, nearly complexion, and apparently about 20 to 25 years of age. Death was evidently caused by suffocation. No mark or papers about him to identify him. The usual formalities consigned him to an unknown grave.

Since writing the above, we learn that the name was James George, for some time in the Ford Home. He is said to be from Harrisburg.—Montour American.

THE AMATEURS.—This Association, composed of young ladies and gentlemen of this place gave two entertainments on Thursday and Friday evenings of last week. The programmes were varied and embraced vocal and instrumental music, declamations, comedies and farces. The acting was good, in some instances very good, the music was especially rendered, and the association may congratulate itself on achieving a perfect success. Full houses attested the popularity of both entertainments and the fact, and we trust that there are but the fore-runners of other like entertainments yet to come. The Association is very worthy of being perpetuated. So we think.

DEATH has been life in our midst during the past week. That fearful scourge of childhood, scarlet fever, has carried off one of our little ones in the last few days. Mrs. J. M. Hilliard has been severely afflicted, having lost two of her children, both of whom were buried on Sunday last.

Not have the ravages of Death been confined to youth, for many of those mature years have passed from amongst us. Mr. Harley in Bloom, Mr. John Vance in Orangetown and Col. Berkeley near Berwick, have been added to the long list of those who were and are not.

Seldom, perhaps never, has the untimely loss of human life been brought more vividly before us all than in the closing days of November, and the opening of the present year.

THE THROAT.—An exchange paper in these days when diseases of the throat prevail, and particularly a dry, hacking cough, which is not only distressing to persons but to those with whom we are brought into business contact, thus afflicted may be benefited by trying the following remedy: Last fall we were induced to try a medicine, there was in three times a day, morning, noon and night. We dissolved a large teaspoonful of common salt in about half a tumblerful of cold water and with this we gargled the throat most effectually, just before we used it. The result has been that during the winter we were not only free from the usual coughs and colds to which, as our memory extends, we have always been subject, but the dry, hacking cough has entirely disappeared. We attribute it entirely to the salt water, and do most cordially recommend it to those of our readers who are subject to diseases of the throat.
