AN OLD FRIEND GONE.—In our last issue we published an account of the partial burning of the small frame house on Market street, adjoining Mekery, Neal & Co's ware-house. It was not deemed advisable by the owners to repair the damages caused by the fire, and the building has in consequence been torn down. By its destruction there was lost one of the old land marks of Bloomsburg. It was built in 1835 by Thomas Painter, who for some years published a newspaper by the name of "The Columbia County Register," under its roof. During the time of its publication there was also issued a smail but remarkably spicy little paper called "The Rattler," being the loint product.

cation there was also issued a smail but remarkably spicy little paper called "The Rattler," being the joint production of the young men of the town, and filled with personal hits both in prose and poetry. The size was small, being about that of a pane of window glass, but its contents were immense. It was continued for nearly a year. In 1845 Mr. Painter was elected Justice of the Peace, an office which he held for many years thereafter, during thirteen of which he occupied the front portion of the old building as a "Squire's" office, his daughter, Miss Susan Painter, teaching school in the back room. Mr. Painter occupied the building about twenty-three years, when it passed into the Street Club, and the formed were victorious by a score of 55 to 28. How Eggs are Hatched,—People have an idea that the hen sits on the eggs for a certain time, and when the time comes for hatching, the chicks burst forth. There never was a greater mistake. The chick, until liberated from the shell by outside aid, is as incapable of motion as if it formed a solid with the egg, which it nearly does. You might as well enclose a man in an iron down by Jackson & Woodin, near the Berwick Depot. They propose eventually to continue it to their Manufactory We would suggest that by locating here they would suggest that by locating here they would save all that trouble.

The attempt to bolster up Judge Mercur's tariff record by quoting from the letter of an unknown correspondent will not answer. It is in his powered to put the matter beyond dispute, and the should do so, as his present doubtful position looks as if he was courting support for Bradford and the tariff men of other counties.

Our neighbor in craving support for Mercur attempts to revive the war passings of the people. Having no argument, and the party having no settle policy he reiterates the stale cries of "loyal," "rebels," de., He seems to forget that Grant gave the best office in the South to Longstreet, and that his present law advier Attorney Generate army.
