THE Court proceedings are concluded in our columns to-day. Much complaint is made about the trivial character of the causes tried, and it is even said that the expense of the Court was much greater than the whole amount involved in the trials. This was partly owing to the fact that the important causes were continued, mainly owing to the absence of Mr. BUCKALEW, but the fact still remains that the Court docket is crowded with trivial cases that scarcely involve enough to pay the fees of the attorneys engaged! What remedy there may be for this evil we are not prepared to suggest, unless the attorneys themselves set their faces against it. The two opinions of Judge ELWELL, quoted in the proceedings, will relieve their monotony and compensate the reader for the room that is occupied.

LUZERNE is the third county in the State in the list of the number of taxable inhabitants, having 43,022. The counties which exceed her are Philadelphia, with 158,022 taxables; and Allegheny with 95,955. Lancaster with 28,-535 is the fourth, and Schuylkill with 25,142, is the fifth.

THERE is a remedy for croup going the rounds, which may, perhaps, prove efficacious. It is simply allspice tea, the tea being made of whole grains of allspice. According to all accounts, it gives almost instant relief in cases where other remedies have failed, and seems at once to cut the phlegm loose and relieve the child.

DANVILLE wants to become a city. An effort will be made this winter to have it incorporated. Pin-feather cities are a nuisance to every body residing in them. So does Wilkes-Barre.

A NEW COUNTY.—The people of northern Schuylkill and counties adjoining that par are agitating the formation of a new county. Meetings have lately been held at Ashland and Mahanoy City, when it was resolved that the boundary line of the proposed new county be what is known as the Little Mountain on the north, Broad Mountain on the south, and taking from Columbia county the township of Conyngham and the Borough of Centralia; and, from Northumberland county the Borough of Mt. Carmel and part of Mt. Carmel township.

STANDARD WEIGHT.—The Legislature of Pennsylvania recently fixed the following figures as the standard weight of a bushel in this State for the articles named:

Wheat	60 lb	Onions	57lb
Rye	56 "	Peas	60 "
Shelled Corn	56 "	Malt	38 "
Ear corn	70 "	Unslacked lime	80 "
Corn meal	49 "	Anthracite coal	80 "
Coarse salt	70 "	Bituminous coal	70 "
Ground salt	55 "	Coke	40 "
Fine salt	47 "	Potatoes	60 "
Barley	47 "	Sweet Potatoes	55 "
Oats	32 "	Flaxseed	56 "
Buckwheat	52 "	Bran	20 "
Clover seed	54 "	Beans	60 "
Timothy seed	45 "	Dried apples	24 "
Turnips	55 "	Peaches	33 "

Bolton's Washington Hotel.

In connection with Bolton's hotel, Harrisburg, and the Columbia house, Cape May, GEORGE J. BOLTON has leased and is now refitting and refurnishing the Washington hotel, Chestnut street above Seventh, Philadelphia, which he purposes opening for business on Monday, March 6, 1871. This hotel has always enjoyed an excellent reputation among the public coming to Philadelphia from all parts of the country, and it is the intention of Mr. BOLTON to make it still more popular by putting it in unexceptionable management.

For location the Washington hotel is not surpassed by any public house in Philadelphia.

The wholesale business and the daily newspapers are fast concentrating in the neighborhood of Seventh and Chestnut streets, and there is probably no point in the city affording easier access to the trade or to the public institutions and places of amusement than the location of the Washington hotel.

The Washington hotel is about one square from Independence hall; it adjoins the Masonic temple; it is but one square from the rooms of the Penn Bible society; it is but three squares from the United States custom house; it is but three squares from the Mercantile library; it is but two squares from the University of Pennsylvania; it is but five squares from the rooms of the Young Men's christian association; it is but three squares from the post office; it is but four squares from the city hospital; it is but four squares from Christ church; it is but two squares from the board of trade rooms; it is but two squares from the Walnut street theatre; it is but three squares from the Arch street theatre; it is but four squares from the Chestnut street theatre.

Either at the doors of the Washington hotel or within two squares the city street cars can be taken for any of the public institutions and points of interest not a bove enumerated

The transient rates of the Washington hotel will be three dollars per day.

Arriving in Philadelphia persons can get off of the street cars at Seventh and Chestnut, Seventh and Market or Seventh and Arch, and in either case have but a step to the Washington hotel, and when leaving the city will find the location equally convenient for reaching the railroad depots by street cars, and thus save cost of carriage hire.

[Having frequently and for considerable periods been a guest of the Bolton House, the editor of the Columbian bears cheerful testimony to the efficiency of Mr. BOLTON as a landlord, the excellence of every department of his Hotels, his care in ample accommodation and his personal generosity and kindness. His Hotels are not surpassed in the land.]

DECIDEDLY the finest lot of Horses we have seen in a long time are now for sale at the Exchange stables in Bloomsburg. They are Kentucky bred, from 4 to 7 years old, and suited to all work. Mr. AARON WOLF, well known to our citizens, is the owner and takes great pleasure in exhibiting them to those who call. These horses were bought during this winter at fair figures and will be sold at corresponding low rates. Not one unsound horse in the lot as far as judges can ascertain.

Unanswerable Arguments.

Established facts are silent arguments which neither pen nor tongue can shake, and it is upon established facts that the reputation of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, as a health-preserving elixir, and a wholesome and powerful remedy, is based. When witnesses come forward in crowds year after year, and reiterate the same statements in relation to the beneficial effects of a medicine upon themselves, disbelief in its efficacy is literarily impossible. The credentials of this unequalled tonic and alterative, extending over a period of nearly twenty years, including individuals of every class, and residents of every clime, and refer to the most prevalent among the complaints which afflict and harass the human family. Either a multitude of people, strangers to each other, having annually been seized with an insane and motiveless desire to deceive the public, or Hostetter's Bitters, for no less than a fifth of a century, have been affording such relief to sufferers from indigestion, fever and ague, biliousness, general debility, and nervous disorders, as no other preparation has ever imparted. To-day, while the eyes of the reader are upon these lines, tens of thousands of persons of both sexes are relying upon the Bitters as a sure defence against the ailments which the present season engenders, and their confidence is not misplaced. The local potions which interested dealers sometimes endeavor to foist upon the sick in its stead, are everywhere meeting the fate that is due to fraud and imposture, while the demand for the great vegetable specific is constantly increasing.

BLOOMSBURG STATE NORMAL SCHOOL AND LITERARY AND COMMERCIAL INSTITUTE.

This Institution offers good opportunities in every department of Literature and Science, in addition to the Excellent Normal School Classes. Five practice in the theory and practice of Engineering instruments in the field and mine, under the instruction of the most competent Professor. The faculty aim to be very thorough in their instruction and to look carefully after the health, manners and morals of the students.

The rules and regulations of the school are such as to command the respect of the students and consequently net many feel that they can afford to violate laws which are calculated to promote their success and happiness. DR. SCHENCK ADVISES CONSUMPTIVES TO GO TO FLORIDA IN WINTER.

Having for the last thirty-five years devoted my whole time and attention to the study of lung diseases and consumption, I feel that I understand fully the course that ought to pursued to restore a tolerably fair case of diseased lungs to healthy soundness. The first and most important step is for the patient to avoid taking cold, and the best of all places on this continent for this purpose in winter, is Florida, well down in the State, where the temperature is regular, and not subject to such variations as in more Northern latitudes. Palatka is a point I can recommend. A good hotel is kept there by Peterman. Last winter I saw several persons there whose lungs had been badly diseased, but who, under the healing influence of the climate and my medicines, were getting well.

One hundred miles further down the river is a point which I would prefer to Palatka, as the temperature is more even and the air dry and bracing. Melonville and Enterprise are located there. I should give a decided preference to Melonville. It is two miles from river or lake, and it seems almost impossible to take cold there. The ladies in Florida might be better, and patients complain at times but that is a good sign, as it indicates a return of appetite, and when this is the case they generally increase in flesh, and then the lungs must heal.

Jacksonville, Hibernia, Green Cove, and many other places in various parts of Florida, can be safely recommended to consumptives to winter. My reasons for saying so are that patients are less liable to take cold there than where there is a less even temperature, and it is not necessary to say that where a consumptive person exposes himself to frequent colds he is certain to die shortly. Therefore my advice is, go well down into the State out of the reach of pervading east winds and fogs. Jacksonville, or almost any other of the localities I have named, will benefit those who are troubled with a torpid liver, a disordered stomach, deranged bowels, sore throat or cough, but for those whose lungs are diseased a more southern point is earnestly recommended.

For fifteen years prior to 1859, I was professionally in New York, Boston, Baltimore and Philadelphia every week, where I saw and examined on an average five hundred patients a week. A practice so extensive, embracing every possible phase of lung disease, has enabled me to understand the disease fully, and hence, my caution in regard to taking cold. A person may take vast quantities of "Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills," and yet die if he does not avoid taking cold.

In Florida nearly every body is using Schenck's Mandrake Pills, for the climate is more likely to produce bilious habits than more northern latitudes. It is a well established fact that natives of Florida rarely die of consumption, especially those of the southern part. On the other hand, in New England, one-third, at least, of the population die of this terrible disease. While in the States it does not prevail so largely as there are many thousands of cases there. What a vast percentage of life would be saved if consumptives were as easily alarmed in regard to taking fresh cold as they are about scarlet fever, small pox, &c. But they are not. They take what they term a little cold, which they are very careless enough to believe will wear off in a few days, and pay no attention to it, and hence it lays the foundation for another and another still, until the lungs are diseased beyond all hope for cure.

My advice to persons whose lungs are unaffected slightly is, to buy the Mandrake Pills and Pulmonic Syrup, relinquish Seaweed Tonic and Schenck's Mandrake Pills and go to Florida. I recommend these particular medicines because I am thoroughly acquainted with their action. I know that where they are used in strict accordance with my directions they will do the work that is required. This accomplished, they will do the rest. The physician who prescribes for cold, cough or night-sweats, and then advises the patient to walk or rise out every day, will be sure to have a corpse on his hands before long.

My plan is to give my three medicines, in accordance with the printed directions, each day in connection with the use of the Mandrake Pills is necessary. My object is to give time to the stomach to get up a good appetite. It is astonishing how soon this organ will recover when hungry. I have copies of such. With a relish for food and the gratification of that relish comes good blood, and with it more flesh, which is closely followed by a healing of the lungs. Then the night-sweats and chills, the creeping chills and chancy night-sweats no longer prostrate and annoy, and the patient gets well, provided he avoids taking cold.

Now there are many consumptives who have not the means to go to Florida. The question may be asked, Is there no hope for such? Certainly there is. My advice to such is, and ever has been, to stay in a warm room during the winter, with a temperature of about seventy degrees, which should be kept regularly at that point, by means of a thermometer. Let such a patient take his exercise within the limits of the room by walking up and down as much as his strength will permit, in order to keep up a healthy circulation of the blood. I have cured thousands by this system, and can do so again. Consumption is as easily cured as any other disease if it is taken in time, and the proper kind of treatment is pursued. The fact stands unimputed on record that Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, Mandrake Pills, and Seaweed Tonic have cured very many of what seemed to be hopeless cases of consumption. Go where you will, you will be almost certain to find some person restored to health who has been rescued from the very jaws of death by their use.

So far as the Mandrake Pills are concerned, everybody should keep a supply of them on hand. They act on the liver better than calomel, and leave none of its hurtful effects behind. In fact they are excellent in all cases where a purgative medicine is required. If you have partaken too freely of fruit and diarrhœa ensues, a dose of the Mandrakes will cure you. If you are subject to sick headache, take a dose of the Mandrakes and they will relieve you in two hours. If you would obviate the effect of a change of water, or too free indulgence in liquor, take one of the Mandrakes every night or every other night, and you may then drink water and eat watermelons, pears, apples, plums, peaches or corn, without the risk of being made ill by any of them. They will protect those who live in damp situations against chills and fev
