Auditors—U. J. Campbell, A. J. Albertson, Daniel Lies. Cormer—John D. Houck. Jory Commissioners—Isaac McHride, John Mc-

Superintendent-CHARLES G. BARKLEY. House For District-Directors, S. H. MILLER, HILLIAM KHAMER, Bloomsburg, and Johnson ELEE, Greenwood, CHARLES CONNER, See y. Bloomsburg Official Directory.

Bloomslarg Banking Co.—John A. Funston, Provident, H. H. Grotz, Cashler, First National Bank—Chas, R. Paxton, Pres't., J. P. Tuetts, Cashler, bia County Mutual Saving Fundand Loon As-m-E. H. Little, Prest., C. W. Millen, Hoomsburg Building and Saving Pand Ausora-line Jon's Thomas, Pres't., J. B. Romson See, Hoomsburg Mittal Saving Pand Association— J. 4. Browen, President, M. Whitmoyer, See'y.

Bloomsburg Directory.

PAPER BAGS just received and for sale at the STOVES AND TINWARE. JACOB METZ, dealer in stoves and tinward Main street, above court house.

CLOTHING, &c. DAVID LOWENBERG, Merchant Tailor, Main St., 2d door above American House. W.M. MORRIS, Merchant Tailor corner of Cen-tre and Main at., over Miller's store.

DRUGS, CHEMICALS, &c. E. P. LUTZ, Druggist and Apothecary, Main st.

MOYER BROS., Druggists and Apothecaries M Brower's block Main st, CLOCKS, WATCHES, &C.

HENRY ZUPPINGER, Watches, Speciacles Lewelry &c., Main Street near West st.

LOUIS BERNHARD, Watch and Clock make the near southeast corner Main and Iron sts. D. CATHCART, Watch and Clock Maker, Mar-

BOOTS AND SHOES. DAVID BETZ, Boot and Shoemaker, Main st., below Hartman's store, west of Market.

HENRY KLEIM, Manufacturer and dealer in Boots and Shoes, Groceries, etc., Main street bast Bloomsburgt C. M. BROWN, Boot and Shoemaker, Mai

PROFESSIONAL. DR. H. C. HOWER, Surgeon Dentist, Main st.

D. WM. M. REBER, Surgeon and Physician Dit. B. F. KINNEY, Surgeon Dentist,—Teet extracted without pain: Main st., nearly of posite Episcopal Church, C. G. HARKLEY, Attorney of Law. Office, 2

J. B. McKELVY, M. D., Surgeon and Physicial horth side Main at, below Market. J. R. EVANS, M. D., Surgeon and Physician

J. C. RUTTER, M. D. Surgeon and Physician J. B. ROBISON, Attorney-at-Law, Office Hart-

MILLINERY & FANCY GOODS. E. PETERMAN, Millinery and Fancy Goods M building Main street, Milliner, Ramsey

M ISS M. DERRICKSON, Millinery and Fancy Goods, Main st., below Market. M RS. E. KLINE, Millinery and Fancy Goo Main street below Market.

THE MISSES HARMAN Millinery and Fant Totods, Main at., below American House,

HOTELS AND SALOONS. FORKS HOTEL, by T. Bent, Taylor, cast en

MERCHANTS AND GROCERS.

C. MARR, Dry Goods and Notions, som D. A. BECKI, EY, Boot and Shoe store, book stationery, Main st., below Market. E. JACOBS, Confectionery, groceries etc., Mai

FOX & WEIB, Confectionery and Bakery wholesale and retail, Exchange Block, H. C. HOWER, Hats and Caps, Boots and Sho Main st., above Court House.

J. H. MAIZE, Mammoth Grocery, fine Greerles, Fruits, Nuts, Provision, &c., Mannet Iron Streets.

S. H. MILLER & SON, dealers in Dry Good S. Groceries, Queensware, Flour, Salt, Shoe Notions, etc., Main st.

MISCELLANEOUS. CONSTABLES BLANKS for sale at the COLUM

C. M. CHRISTMAN, Saddie, Trunk & Harnes maker, Shive's Block Main Street.

E. J. THORNTON, Wall Paper, Window Sha E. and fixtures, Rupert block, Main st.

C. FOSTER, Glue Maker, and White and Fancy

JACOB DIEFFENBACH Broom Factory, Or ders left at his resider, e or at Miller 4 Son' fore promptly filled, Best green Western brust

NOTE BOOKS, and blank NOTES, with or with out exemption, for sale at the COLUMNIA Light Street.

H. F. OMAN & Co., Wheelwrights, first doc PETER ENT, dealer in Dry Goods Grocerie Flour, Feed, Sait, Fish, Iron, Nails, etc., Mai Street. R. S. ENT, dealer in Stoves and Tin ware in all its branches.

Espy.

E Proprietor. FLOURING MILLS, C.S. Fowler

ORIGOE FOUNTAIN PENS for sale cheap a

The Columbian.

BLOOMSBURG, PA., FRIDAY, JUNE 9, 1871.

COL. DEM. - - · VOL. XXXV - · NO. 16

Executor's or Administrator's Notice, $3.00 Auditor's or Assignee's Notice, $2.50. Local notices, ten cents a line.

RATES OF ADVERTISING.

One took, (twolve lines or its equivalent in Nonparell type) one or two insertions, $1.50 three insertions, $2.90.

Cards in the "Business Directory" column, $1.00 per year for the first two lines, and $1.00 for each additional line.

Poetical.

Summer is Coming.

BY TILLIE LAUBACH. All the earth is dress in green.
All the earth is dress in green,
And the flower buds are opening
Ready to receive their queen.
For the woodland now rejoices
Like the growing, wavy grain,
And the bords woldfuler footh And the herds, so blitbely feeding. Walt to welcome her sgain. Summer's coming, summer's cor

With her long, bright, sunny days. And the sun in golden torrents Showering down his torrid rays.— But the caim, and cooling zephyr, Sweet, rerfeshing, playing air; Fans her, like a child in slumber, Till her I cette cheeks are fairer.

Summer's coming, summer's coming Sone can count nor joys a ween, Though she's coming, surely coming. She is yet to us unseen. But the warhlers all are practiced, And they'll sing a sweet refrain, And the lays from pond, and chimney All will gladden her agalu.

Sammer's coming, summer's comi

All the brooks are earn and still, And gay lovers walk beside these, Chatting love's sweet theme at will, Itus sometimes the rolling thurder Warns them to a safe retreat; Then the rain,—(0, blest of sammer!) Makes all earth so pure and sweet, Summer's coming, summer's coming, I'on your best, field, wood and howers. Stake your turban mighty thunders, Lightnings play amid the showers; Every warbier sing his sweetest, Every musician Join the strain,— Summer's coming a summer.

omer's coming, summer's coming, Glad we'll welcome her again, far well, farewell! our intercourse is ouded. Contempt and seorn now claim affection A broken faith can ne'er, alas, be mended— I curse the day when first I saw thy face!

grown; ts long-closed portals opened to receive thee,

God knows 'tis fearful agony, this waking To find, dream-like, life's one great bliss h passed; I might have known the Eden love was makin Was far too bright and beautiful to last,

Had aught foretold that thou wouldst ever turi

From love that bung entranced on thy breath; Or that, as now, with leathing I should spurn I would have prayed for madness or for death, God only knows how true my soul was to thee; To me love mean a bond while life should be I did not know what now can most undo me— That some can tire of even constancy.

Then fare thee well; love such as mine wa Upon a light and fickle heart like thine; Two Fate's stern will love's bliss should

To make more sad this loady lot of mine. fow often thy mock penitance has moved me, When studied coldness stung me to rebel! Would death had smitten me ere I had proved

And found I love i "not wisely, but too well," GAY GERALD, Miscellaneous.

The City of the Occident.

Sights and Seenes on the Pacific. (Correspondence of the N. Y. Evening Post.) SAN FRANCISCO, May 11, 1871.

Your first drive in San Francisco is the climate, (the cold sea-breeze making the afternoons uncomfortable,) it is a here rears its flower spikes two feet pretty and sensible thing to rise at six | high. ome morning, and see the sea lions while it is yet warm and still. Moreover, you are sure of a good breakfast at ing at you across the broad Pacific.

If you have children in your party, they will not tire of watching the sea lions, no matter how long you stay .-And if you have any fancy yourself in wild beasts you will be both amazed and amused at the huge strange creadred yards from you, and look with their pointed heads and shiny bodies squirming; who lie like dead things a strange music for your meal. A seal in Barnum's Muscum is a strange beast! -but these monstrous mis-shapen creatures, furious, wild, free, yawning in your face, pushing each other aside, quarreling, suckling their young, rollng off the precipitous rocks into the sea, beheld. If Gustave Dore could see them, he would add another weird picture to his chamber of horrors. We tasted a bottle of California champagne, ran down to the beach and dipped our hands in the great Pacific Ocean and then drove back to our hotel over the very best road in Christendom. ROADS AND STREETS.

The greater part of San Francisco I and the city is approached from every ide over admirable roads. A New Yorker boasts of Central Park roads till orenoon, forty or fifty miles in a day where you will, within fifty miles of the city, and you find smooth, hard, macadyou may drive at the rate of ten or twelves miles per hour, and do no harm to your horses nor tire yourself.

A prominent and wealthy citizen of San Francisco, drives into town daily from his country-place, twenty-four miles distant, and does it in one hour and fifty minutes. I wondered at his endurance, until I saw the road he drives the only one who does it. "How do you get such roads," I ask-achieved by private enterprise,

Cliff House road is a toll road; the fine avenues which you ride over about Belmont, Menlo Park and Fair Banks, mill and a tank, which might be empeven to San Jose Valley, were built by private enterprise, the country road-The Californians seem to me to enjoy masters only stepping in when a begin- all the advantages of a tropical climate, generally intelligent than those who do ning had been made and a model set with but a few of its disadvantages them. Outside of Oakland we drove They have about here no malarious fe- ed fact.

for three or four miles over an admira- vers, no mosquitoes, no poisonous rep- The Address of the Democratic Members ble road, built through a difficult piece tiles; yet their roses bloom all the year of country by a company only to make | round; "I do not know the day in the whole year when I cannot gather a bou- stituents and to the people of the com-These roads are macadamized; pri- quet in my garden," said a lady here to monwealth this statement of facts in re vate enterprise provides steam stone- me; in one place in Oakland, saw the lation to the Philadelphia registry law, gasmeter out of doors near the stable; in the hope and with the belief that it constantly, near Oakland, heavy wagons dwellings need no furnaces to warm will arouse attention to the palpable ladened with crushed stone, which is them in winter; and the whole cum-brought from a distance of three or four brous machinery by which we guard be of our fellow-citizens to a voice in ourselves and our animals and tender the selection of their election officers; have got into such a habit expecting plants against cold is here unknown. to the opportunities for fraud, corrup-The greenhouse and conservatory are tion and forged returns it affords; to

The people of San Francisco complain | their own power by these means desof their climate-but with little reason. pite the wishes and the ballots of a ma Every day at twelve o'clock they get a jority of the people of that city. stiff and cool sea breeze. If you go out | The act of assembly known as the One of the pleasantest sights you can in the morning, no matter how warm it registry law was passed on the 10th day see near San Francisco is in the San is, you are warned to take with you a of April, 1869. The provisions thereof Jose Valley. San Jose, near which lies shawl or overcoat; but for seven months applicable to the rural districts are esthe New Almaden quicksilver mine, is | in the year you may lock up your um- | sentially different from those applicafifty miles from the city. I do not brella; and we, too, have dusty roads, bie to the city of Philadelphis. An en-

mate. The San Jose Valley, the Napa lect three canvassers for each election Valley, and others, lie behind the Coast district therein, whose duty was to make Rauge, and are thus sheltered from the out the lists of voters and who had ocean breezes; and here there is no after- power conferred upon them to strike noon gale, and all the winds are gentle. We came up from San Jose on a brillby driving early to the quicksliver board of aldermen also appoints the 19, 1871. mines, and later over the lovely Alame- officers to hold the elections in each da, to Santa Clara. As the train neared election division, and by the law they were directed to appoint the judge, one masses of yellow and orange, which the ently the ladies drow shawls about them inspector and one return inspector from and when we got out of the cars at San | the political party which polled the ma-Francisco, I drew on my overcoat, and jurity of the legal votes in the election was glad to close the carriage windows; division at the next preceding general and we sat by a fire in the evening. Thus, I am told, it is all summer; and inspector from the political party which as there is no rain, the country, of polled the next highest number at such course, gets dusty; and in the country- election. houses you find wraps for the neek and other appliances to keep out the dust a nucer sprinkler over the wash basin, wherewith conveniently to wash your drive. San Jose is a considerable place, but it has nothing remarkable that I know of, except the quicksilver mines, fifteen miles away, to visit which you should rise at six, and set out at seven in the morning, getting Pat Welch to drive his horses. He is an honest Irishman, who served us so well, at such a reasonable rate, and was so ready and well here,) peaches, cherries-their boughs informed, that he added much to our pleasure. The hotel of the place, the Auzeray House, is admirably kept in every way, so that no one need fear the powers taken from the people of each lourney to San Jose, and no one ought in full bearing; and in the vineyards to omit it who wishes to see one of the you find acres of the vines which we pleasantest aspects of California life. At the mines you will meet Mr. Randall, the superintendent, a young New teresting, and I was very glad my chilis charming, and worth taking if there resolution at the suggestion of the court were no mine at the end. On the way > larger tithes of the farmers' crops here than they like. PRUIT-FARMING. "Does fruit pay?" I asked a country gentleman near Fair Oaks, when we

"It does not pay me," he said: "I sell none. It is my pleasure. But some kinds of fruit pay those who make it a business. Now you would not guess special cases; but during the long dry what it is that pays best-currants, eason, which lasts from April to Octo- gooseberries and sometimes strawberber, when it does not rain at all, they ries. Peaches and apricots are a drug

"I fed tons of the finest Bartlett and like monstrous maggots crawling and watered. Artesian wells are common; Duchess pears to my hogs last year," and the windmill stands usually on top said one gentleman to me, adding, "alof a tank, from which the water is dis- monds might pay, but I planted only a discordant roars cross to you and make tributed to the house, the stables, and few, because they are not wholesome for all over the grounds, hydrants being the children." Cherries are too abunplaced at frequent intervals. From the | dant and perishable to be valuable; the hydrant a hose is led to a sprinkler pear crop, which with us is the most which stands on the lawn, on a tripod, and sends out constantly, a thin and thirty miles. The vineyards, of course, and sends out constraint, and thirty miles. The vineyards, of course, finely divided spray. The gardener removes this from time to time, and thus one gets a good reputation. It is here as make the strangest sight my eyes ever the whole spacious lawn is watered and in Europe-of two vineyards lying in kept as green and lovely as though it the same region, one will produce valuable grapes for wine, and the other will With such help, I need not tell you be rejected; the soil is the same; the that the strawberry grows to perfection. vines are the same; the culture is the same everywhere; yet the most careful great difference.

Grapes are sold at a cent and a half: pound at the vineyards, and they would pay very handsomely, I am told, at half the price. It appears to me that it would pay well to export grapes and pears to the Atlantic States at such rates as could be got for them there; for there would be, in the most extreme case, a very large margin for decay and loss, fashion. In 1835 pins which now bring fifteen cents a pack were worth one dollar. The old English pins were blunt and hard to use, while the modern American ones are slim and with fine points. There are eight pin factories in the United States, whose annual production is 6,720,000,000 pins, which are made from brass, and from Iron, which is twenty-five per cent, cheaper than brass. There is but one factory which makes hair-pins, and that one turns out fifty tons a month. Most of those used, however, are imported. Seven factotories, with a capital of $500,000, are now idle, waiting for hooks and eyes to SCHOOL children who read the news papers are found to be better acquianted with geography, spelling, and the meaning of words, grammar, and more not. This is a significant but undoubt-

of the Legislature. The undersigned present to their con-to supervise the action of the canvass ers in making up the registry list, and election in the presence of the aforesaid in the ground the winter through; and shed it contains; and to the desperate udges, who shall have power summarcharacter of the men who perpetuate ily to prevent fraudulent returns from being counted, and to determine any question arising therein. These provisions are so eminently just and proper, that the newspaper press of Philadelphia, without distinct tion of party, has approved them. Leading members of the Republican party in the House of Representatives have unqualifiedly endorsed them, but have been compelled by a party caucus to therefor. Under the latter, the board Moreover, a journey of thirty miles of aldermen or justices of the peace for puts you into an entirely different eli-that city were vested with power to seplace in the Senate, acted and voted with us in attempting to bring about these necessary enactments. Upon the question to indefinitely from said lists or add thereto at their stpone the Senate amendments by pleasure, and such action was to be final the House, (which amendments were iant warm day, which we had enjoyed and could not be appealed from. The the three propositions specified,) on May their oppression, do you not believe Mr. Elliott said: I desire to state that I vote upon the question in accordance with the views of my political associates. I vote therefore aye.

election, and one inspector and return no shadow of right to vote.

ing this ecssion proposed to the Repub-of my political associates, and against my own. I therefore vote "aye." Mr. Miller, of Philadelphia. In acordance with the instructions of the Republican caucus and against my own convictions of right I vote "aye." These amendments were indefinitely postponed by a strict party vote-47 to 11-except that William F. Smith, of Philadelphia, voted with the Democrats. We have labored during this entire session to bring about this much needed reform, because we have felt that it would measurably restore the purity of the ballot box in Philadelphia, that it would aid in preventing false personations and frauds upon the registry, that it would prevent the fraudulent countof the place, and takes great pride in upon these two important points, with ing and false returns of votes, and that the restraining power of a judicial tribunal would prevent the recurrences heretofore occurring at the meeting of the board of return judges. We have failed in the attainment of these just ends, and we now deliberately charge that the Republican organization, in obedience to a party caucus, controlled by a "ring" of Philadelphia politicians, has prevented these necessary reforms, false counting, forgery of election returns, and riot, bloodshed and murder.

> Signed by the Democratic members of both branches of the legislature.

in a speech at Atlanta, Georgia, recent-

There are many things which I might say to you to night, my friends, but which I feel it would be imprudent for me to atter. If I should speak to you of the past I should speak of memories and desperate men, this power has that are sad. If I should speak to you of the present it would be to recount a tale of tyranny and wrong that we have not the power to redress, and under know no law and recognize no system | which, therefore, it is more manly and noble for us to fold our arms and suffer from the registry lists the names of sponsible for every speculation that I circumstances, to pursue. Let the peovoters who are duly qualified, and add may chance to utter. But, my friends, ple of the North take care of them as I stand here to night and look upon infamous wrongs. One member of the be received by you as the expression of lution against the government of great my opinion in regard to the future. authority of law and for purely partisan eternally, and that wrong cannot at else the republic of America is a failure. ways endure. When Galileo was bound and irresistible convictions of his soul, as Democratic election officers. In many | " But still it moves." And so the great | render their rights; and when they see then, you are desirous of being to-day; of Philadelphia. We were powerless own hands, because there is no justice to effect this in the present condition of to be secured in any other way; but licans for enactment, and which have pelled to submit to the presence of itance, and submission to the law as power, yet our manhood and our self-respect can be preserved. Peace is what obligation, and it should be their pride, been invariably rejected by them, are power, yet our manhood and our self-

First. That the minority of the board | we hope for, peace we desire, and peace we will have. I have nothing to say to you to-night of politics, and, my friends, I hope you have nothing to do with them. You have political power, and its exercise is only postponed until the coming of that event which I cortainly anticipate-the restoration of to restore the name of any legal voter your constitutional rights. (Applause) Let us, then, stand still and quietly await developments. The men of the North, like yourselves, love their government and understand their rights, and men of the North have no idea of surrendering in their own country those great bulwarks of constitutional liberty-the right of trial by jury, the right to elect their own officers and the right to determine their own internal policy; and as soon as their prejudices and hatred against the South are removed, and they see that by the unlawful action of those in power toward the South these sacred rights of theirs are in danger of being invaded, they will become your adjuncts, and you will hold the balance of power; and in that hour your power will be great and your success will be great. (Applause.) I said, and I here repeat it, that I despair not of the restoration of our liberties. They are not ours only; they are equally the liberties of the people of the North and the South, and when they at the North see that laws are made for that the men who have descended from revolutionary sires will Alse their voices against them? Do you not be lieve that when they come to look calmly upon the question between the North and South they will foim parties and platforms upon which you can stand? And when that hour comes then will come the fulfillment of the promised era of constitutional liberty, which I so confidently anticipate and hope for to-day. I may not live to see it; but, if I do not, I shall die confidently believing that it will come. I know, my friends, that in this I run counter to the feelings that are prevalent in different portions of our country, but I believe this is the true policy for the South to pursue at present. The South cannot hasten the day of her deliverance by attempting to assume a leading part in the politics of the country to-day. Let her people quietly and earnestly devote themselves to the work of improving and building up their material prosperity, leaving those who have the power to settle these questions among themselves, simply saying to them, "We know our rights -know they are invaded," and then wait patiently untilwe see them divided and at issue with themselves, and join the party and support the candidate and the platform that promises a restoration of constitutional liberty. It is then that you will hold the balance and thus aided in perpetuating fraud, of political power in your own hands, and it is then that all your rights will once more be restored and guaranteed. (Applause.) I have shaken hands with polities. I am now engaged upon matters of life insurance. (Laughter and applause.) I would like to insure all your lives for a hundred years, (Laughter and applause.) I have, therefore, my friends, very quietly presented this opinion, which I entertain upon the by means of garbled extracts and other subject, that has been the duty of formwise, of the sayings of JEFF. DAVIS, or years, but not of present years. I know I can do you no good. I am not ly, we insert it at length, that every engaged in public affairs, but I hope to one may judge for himself what he did do you some good by showing the world that, though I have retired from active public service, yet it is my purpose to serve you, with head and heart and hand, as long as I live, Your interest is mine-not in a mere abstract and general sense but in that devoted care which I have for your welfare and happiness, and the only reward I ask or seek is that I may live to see all your political rights restored and the whole South presperous, independent and happy. (Applause.) Therefore, in with quiet and patient dignity. It I what I have said I have only spoken of speak of the future, then, I am liable what I consider the best policy for the to be misrepresented, and you held re- people of the South, under the present selves. You went to war upon the your kindly, honest faces, I feel that same question for which your ancestors there are a few plain words that may and theirs contended in the first revo-Britain-the right of commercial inde-Then, I say, I despair not of your lib- pendence or State sovereignty. You forty-eight legal voters of his district erty. I despair not of the triumph of succeeded in that first war, and State were struck from the registry without liberty. I believe that truth will live sovereignty must again be restored or Despotism cannot be exercised under a to the torture-rack for asserting his Republican form of government, and, the board of aldermen take especial care | theory that the world was a globe, and | my friends, if you can but wait all will turned upon its axis, and was there be well. If any of us die before the forced to recant, as soon as the screw day of peace and liberty dawns, let us was relaxed he cried out of the deep die in faith that it will come at last. The people of the North will never sur cases they violate the plain letter of the truths uttered by your fathers still live, the danger at home then they will need law by appointing Republicans instead and the principles they enunciated, your aid and will come to you, and of Democrats. One of the officers of the and for which they contended, still then you will be crowned with victory recent Republican State Convention was move, and will once more be felt, if | and triumphant success. (Applause) a man who had been appointed and had you will but be true to the right. Let I am not of those who "accept the sit uation." I accept nothing. These cant at the last election !! By the election and an enjoyment of these principles phrases that we hear so much of about by the red hand of battle. I trust that "accepting the situation" and about one side and of incompetent or corrupt- I may not be represented upon this our rights having been submitted to ible men upon the other, the door to point. I shall die in the firm faith and the "arbitrament of the sword" are belief that the era of true liberty will but the excuses of cowards. (Applause). are in continual demand, while hooks the purity of the ballot is utterly de- ere long dawn upon the South. If they I admit that power prevails over truth and eyes are subject to the freaks of stroyed. Such has now come to be the who carried the victorious banner and I admit that that power is so great that case in the city of Philadelphia, and exulted in the strength of their triumph it would be folly to resist it, and therethe voice of her people is stifled by the could have known, when you came for- fore I am in favor, myself, of being wiles and machinations of lawless men | ward and said that you had given up | acquiescent, and I advise you to the same course, but I do not admit that mit to the laws of the land, and could our rights have ever been submitted to have understood how true your word the arbitrament of the sword. Who tered, forged and manipulated, and was, how high were your principles of has the power to submit your liberties fraud and violence in their worst forms | honor, it would not have been neces | to the arbitrament of battle? You political supremacy of desperate and oppressive taws to hind you. Peaceful, representatives. I, as your Executive never claimed it, and never, dying or The true remedy for these wrongs peaceful you have been, peaceful you living, will I admit it. (Applause.) consist in restoring to the people the are ever. When human patience has And then, my friends, about this much rights taken from them, and in making sometimes given way, there are those talked of subject of "accepting the sitthe general law applicable to the city who sometimas take the law into their uation." You are not called upon to acknowledge that you have done wrong unless you feel it. I don't believe the legislature, and we have now sought these are mere accidental occasions. did any wrong, and therefore I don't so to amend the law as in some degree | There is no organization in the Southacknowledge it. All that a government to lessen the evils now so glaring. The there never was-whose purpose is rehas a right to claim from any of its submeasures we have again and again dur- sistance to the government. (A voice jects is that they will quietly submit to -" that's so.") Though we are com-

Orangeville Directory A. Builders, Main st., below Pine.

BOWER & HERRING, dealer in Dry Goods, Groceries, Lumber and general Merchandise, Main st. BRICK HOTEL and refreshment Saloon, by DR. O. A. MEGARGEL Physician and Surge Main st., next door to Good's Hotel.

DAVID HERRING, Flour and Grist Mili, and Dealer in grain, Mill Street. L. EDWARDS, Physician and Surgeon, Main st. first door above M Henry's Hotel. JAMES B. HARMAN, Cabinet Maker and Un-J. M. HARMAN, Saddle and Harness maker, Mainst., oppsite Frame Church. Schuyler & Co., fron founders, Machinists

SAMUEL SHARPLESS, Maker of the Hayburst

Catawissa. B. F. BALLMAN, Merchant Tailor, Second St. DR. J. K. ROBBINS, Surgeon and Physician Second St., below Main.

SUSQUERANNA or Brick Hotel, S. Kosten-Shauder Proprietor, south-east curner Main and WM. H. ABBOTT, Atterney at law, Main St.

Buck Horn. M. G. & W. H. SHOEMAKER, dealers in dr., goods, greeceries and general merchandise

Philadelphia Directory. RICHARDSON L. WRIGHT, JR.

ATTORNEY AT LAW. NO. 123 SOUTH SIXTH STREET. PHILADELPHIA

J. M. KEPHEART, BARNES, BRO. & HERRON, HATS, CAPS, STRAW GOODS & FURS, No. 503 Market Street, (Above Fifth.) PHILADELPHIA. WAINWRIGHT & CO., WHOLESALE GROCERS.

N. E. Corner Second and Arch Streets, PHILADELPHIA, Dealers in TEAS, SYRUPS, COFFEE, SUGAR, MOLASSES RICE, SPICES, HI CARR SODA, AC., AC.

Orders will receive prompt attention may 10,67-tf. Business Cards.

C. B. BROCKWAY, ATTORNEY AT LAW. BLOOMSBURG, PA.

Ar OFFICE-Court House Alley, in the Co. A. L. TURNER PHYSICIAN AND SURGION. BLOOMSBURG, PA.

Organs over Luty's Drug Store.) Market Street, ist door below Rev. D. J decto 70, C. W. MILLER,

ATTORNEY AT LAW.

ROBERT F. CLARK, ATTORNEY AT LAW, Office Main Street below the Court House somaburg Penn'a,

ATTORNEY AT LAW, Office Court-House Alley, below the Colum HAN Office, Bloomsburg Pa,

E. M. KNORR.

Having purchased the stock of the old Keystone Shoe Store, and added thereto a large and selected new stock is prepared to exhibit ver brought to this place? He is also prepared o make Boots and Shoes to order in the intest and best styles. For cash only, In the old Post Blice building, corner Main and Market Streets thomsburg, Pa.

E. J. THORNTON
burg and vicinity, that he has just received a ful and complete assortment of WALL PAPER, WINDOW SHADES,

FIXTURES, CORDS, TASSELS, and all other goods in his line of business. A the newest and most approved patterns of th day are always to be found in his establishmen mar.5, 29-tf Main St. below Market. BUSINESS CARDS,

BILL HEADS, PROGRAMMES, POSTERS, &C., &C Neatly and Cheaply Printed

LETTER HEADS

rom the Latest Siyles of Type at the COLUMBIAN OFFICE BOOTS AND SHOES. CLARK M. BROWN.

MAIN STREET, UNDER BROWN'S HOTEL. A full and complete assortment of ready made boots and shoes for men, women and children instructived and for sale at reasonable rates. Varieties to suit all classes of customers. The best of work done at short notice, as incretofors. Give him a call. [jan 71].

NEW STOVE AND TIN SHOP. ISAIAH HAGENBUCH, Store.

A large assortment of Stoves, Heaters and Ranges constantly on band, and for sale at the lowest rates.

Tinning in all its branches carefully attended to,
with attendation, pracented.

NEW COAL YARD. N E W C O A L Y A R D.

Sink undersigned respectfully inform the ethers of Hoomstorg and Columbia county, that any Hoomstorg and Columbia county of the Warf, adjoining M'Kelyy, Neal & Co's Furnnee; with a good pair of Buffalo scales on the wharf, to weigh coal, lay, and straw Likewise a horse and wagon, to deliver coal to those who desire it. As they purchase a large amount of coal, they intend to keep a superior article, and soil as the very lowest prices. Please call and examine for yourselves before purchasing elsewhere. J. W. HENDERSHOT.

THE undersigned will take in extending the county of the county of the gament articles:—Wheat, Ryc. Corn., Oats, PotaLegg., Hay, &c., at the highest cash prices, at his Grocery Store, adjoining their coal yard, J.W. HENDERSHOT.

Bloomsburg Mar. 49, 00-1y. HENDERSHOT.

VETERINARY. AUGUST FRIEND, Germany, offers his services to the HORSE AND COW DOCTOR, a new watering place accessible.

crushers and steam-rollers; and, you see miles. We, in and about New York, the town or county and State government to do everything for us, that all only affectation; the cleander remains | the incitement to violence and blood private effort and enterprise is crippled. Here in this newer country they do not | the fan palm flourishes everywhere. wait for the slow-moving government, but do things themselves, which we, to our own discomfort leave undone.

FRUIT.

-but it is well-worth while to go halfway down by rail, and then take a carriage the rest of the way down, and a driver who knows the country, and can show you some of the many lovely places which are thickly scattered over this fair valley. If you come at this season, you will find yourself in a wilderness of roses; the roads are fragrant with the bloom of the seach; the flower-gardens are gorgeous; and the yellow esckoltzia, which we with difficulty grow in our gardens, lines the sides of the railroad for miles, and lies in broad | the city, we closed the windows; preseye will hardly bear to look at. There is also a very long blue and white lupine, which, like the esckoltzla, covers the ground in broad masses, and has a wonderfully pleasing effect. But if the roses delight you by their abundance, immense size and freedom from disease and destructive insects, the orchards will amaze you. Such thrifty, full-bearing and well-grown when you drive out, and in your room each election division therein the right trees I never saw before. Fruit culture is no doubt easy here; trees of all kinds grow with a rapidity undreamed of in our harsher climate; I saw Norway spruces and pines which were forty feet high, and had been but seven years planted; and the encalyptus, the Australian blue gum, which is here very justly a favorite tree, has made a growth of fifteen feet in a single season, Nor is the variety of fruits on a single place less remarkable. We were shown through an orchard in which apples, pears, plums, (without the detestable curculio, which is yet unknown down with fruit-apricots and nectarines were growing side by side with figs of several kinds, English walnuts-fine, free-growing trees-almonds grow only with difficulty under glass. The camelia here remains out of doors all winter; the heliotrope is of Yorker, who will suffer you to see the stont wood shrub; the gladielus is al- lions of the place, and, if he is not too ready past its bloom, and is planted in busy, may even show you around. the fall; and you find it difficult to There is not much to see; but the pro- jority has power to appoint all of the recognize in the massive eight-foot high | cess of roasting the ores and ladling the | election officers, as well those to which shrub, whose brilliant bloom almost liquid silver into the iron bottles is inlikely to be to the Cliff House. You may | hides its foliage, and which is used as a breakfast there if you like; and as all hedge or screen, the scarlet granium. out-door amusements are controlled by Even the humble little sweet alyssum, which with us creeps along the ground,

The windmills are a peculiar feature of the Californian landscape. You see the Cliff House, and you take it on the them even in San Francisco, on the verandah, with all China and Japan and tops of houses; but in the ecuntry the King of the Cannibal Islands look- every place has one. Everywhere ample provision is made for water; and on one fine place near Menlo Park I was told at least half a mile of water pipes were laid.

Irrigation is not practised except in preserve their lawns by sprinkling, in the market,' as the reporter says." and new plantations are also freely were in the White Mountains. It is larger and I think much sweeter than with us. I am not, at home, a strawberry lover, but here I have relish ed them without sugar. On one place near Santa Clara, I noticed an ingenious arrangement for irrigating a strawberry bed of about three acres. A large shallow tank stood near one end of this 'patch," with its bottom nearly on a level with the upper end of the rows. ne has driven thirty mile in a brief From this was led a main, which was connected with a pipe running along here, over the best ways I ever saw. Go the whole upper end of the great field. Between every two of the rows a hole was made in this pipe, and this hole amized roads, broad avenues, often, as was stopped with a wooden plug. Thus at Santa Clara, lined with long, double we saw only a long row of wooden rows of shade trees; roads over which plugs; pull out any one of these, and the water began immediately to run down the depression between the two

Of course, all this appliance of wind nills, water-pipes, tanks and fountains s possible only in a country where they have steady winds and no severe frosts. With us the tanks would burst, the over-then I only wondered that he is pipes would have to be deeply buried in the ground; and the whole machinery would be continually getting out of ed; and discovered that, like almost order. Yet I could not help seeing that our common complaint of rusty and unpleasing lawns during July and August be prevented, on the fine places near New York, by the help of a wind tied in the fall, and housed over.

everything that is well done, it was bead and neck, when you return from a der the constitution and laws, have no we saw thousands of a little ground squirrel, which I imagine takes rather had walked through his extensive or-and experienced wine-makers find this become fashionable.

of aldermen shall have the right to select their due proportion of the election officers for each election division. Second. That the judges of the Cour of Common Pleas shall have the right improperly left off, and to strike off the names of any improperly placed thereon, Third. That the board of return dges shall meet to count the returns of

Mr. Mann said : Upon this question I vote in accordance with my judgment

It will thus be seen that this law for Philadelphia took from the people of to select their own election officers, and vested in a tribunal whose duties, unrelation to that subject. Under the registry law for the rural districts the sors elected by the people make out the canvass lists and complete the registry, and the people themselves choose their election officers in each election district. The law for Philadelphia is, therefore, directly in conflict the law for the other parts of the State. It is, in this, destructive of a vital principle of local self-government, and tramples on a right which has come to be organized as a fundamental Ameridivision and vested in the board of aldermen? The answer is found in the fact that that board was partisan in character, and could be depended upon to exercise its authority in the interests of a corrupt clique.

The majority of the board of alder-The responsibility is upon them, and mon constitute the board and that ma-

Speech of Jeff, Davis, gave to the minority of the board the right to choose the minority of the election officers. In this they acted justly, and tacitly admitted the injustice of this grossly partisan law. This act of fairness has been rescinded by the action of the board, and the Repub lican majority now appoint a majority of the canvassers, the Republican election officers and the Democratic election officers. Under the dictation of corrupt grown to be a most fruitful source of impurity in the elections of Philadelphia. Men are appointed as canvassers who of morals, but the success of their party and the attainment of their own selfish ends and those of their designing leaders. They without Lesitation strike thereto the names of those who have No legal power exists to prevent these legislature holds his place to-day because the names of one hundred and In the selection of election officers to choose astute and uncrupulous Republicans who will do the bidding of their party friends, and almost invariably select illiterate, weak and corrupt men acted as a "Democratic" election officer no one say that I counsel a recovery of shrewd and unscrupulous men upon frand and wrong is widely opened, and acting under the forms of an unjust your arms and were now ready to sub-State. Canvass lists are "doctored;" sallot boxes are stuffed; returns are alare resorted to in order to maintain the sary to exact barsh pledges and to pass