THE COLUMBIAN AND DEMOCRAT, BLOOMSBURG, COLUMBIA COUNTY, PA.

The Columbian. BLOOMSBURG, PA.

FRIDAY MORNING, JULY 28, 1871.

Rally ! for True Democratic Principles ! The dereliction of Democratic conventions and Democratic leaders in avowing correct positions on vital act-ive questions, is forcing the formation the issues, with accompanying exposof new parties peculiarly interested in those issues. The workingmen's party the public? is an example. The Democratic party of former days was peculiarly the champion of the laboring and producing interests of the country, while its various opponents were always the champions of aggregated capital. In the abstract this is true now. But our Conventions have become so cowed by successive defeats, and those who force themselves into the lead of the party so timid, that they think only of conservatism (that devilish subterfuge which opposes all measures to correct resent evil and is in favor of nothing but bawling about the "sacredness " of national debts) or some smart trick or dodge in the shape of a "new departure" by which to avoid the fire of the enemy-trundle bed patriots who skulk from the vigor of manly struggle lest defeat may follow-men who would be victors without the triamph of a single principle rather than run the risk of a defeat in the effort to establish that which is correct !

The principles of the Democratic party require that the public lands should be held for the sole use of actual settlers, and that they should be appropriated to no other purpose whatever. The same principles are hostile to every form of National Banks or Bankronizing gamblers, at least by his pres ing, and require the issue of simple ence, the Vice President at home pittifully begging the public to look at him treasury notes to meet such emergencies as can not be supplied by specie. to the winds, the Lord only knows where, and the whole government is

The same principles are opposed to all complicated forms of government and laws, which fill the country with actually in the hands and under the imhordes of officials, tax gatherers, spies, pimps and loafers, to suck the substance of the people.

The same principles require that all projects of improvement and develope-ment that can be reached by such effort shall be left to individual enterprise : and that corporations shall only be resorted to in cases that are manifestly beyond the reach of individual effort ; and that even then they shall be secure ly curbed in their powers.

The same principles require that in lovying taxes all property of whatever ind or nature shall bear its equal share and that none shall be exempt; and that in the levying of tariffs they shall be so adjusted as to bear lightly upon articles of prime necessity and heavily only upon luxuries, and upon all in proportion to their value.

The same principles regard all gov ernment as merely a necessary evil that is only to be tolerated so far as to restrain men from injuring each other, which shall leave them otherwise free to regulate their own pursuits of industry and improvement, and shall not take from the mouth of labor the bread it has earned; and that its power shall be limited to these subjects and its own protection.

The foregoing are mainly the leading characteristics of the Democratic party and we cannot conceive for the life of us why our conventions of recent years overlook or shun them. If vigorously advocated and faithfully pressed at all an epistolary hero and statesman like times, there would be no occasion for the formation of labor unions and workingmen's parties, and these would Concerning Instructions.

The 15th rule of nominations provides, that " Delegates instructed by the roters who select them, shall obey their nstructions in Convention, &c." It will be seen by this rule that delegates can be instructed only by the voters who vote for them and not by others. Therefore, when two delegate tickets are run in a district the instructions upon any one ticket will apply only to the delegate or delegates named thereon, and the election officers in such cases should score and count the instructions upon the two kinds of ticket separately and report them accordingly. Instructions to a delegate, in order to e binding, must be given to him by a majority of those who vote for him and by no smaller number.

The Radicals are preparing to carry Philadelphia in October by employing Maryland negroes to work on the streets, commencing about the middle votes upon a smaller number. In the spring of last year a con-vention was held in Paris of the medi-cal profession throughout Europe, and all the newest discoveries of the great-est lights among the disciples of Escul-apius were discussed and made public. Now with regard to the first state-ment of the convention of physicians in France, that hydrophobia is very rarely met with, we have abundant facts in our own experience to support that theory. The late president of the gentlemen's Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, S. Morris Waln, examined the books of the Pennsylvania Hondito from the function mer. THE RIGHT DOCTRINE,-The late Democratic Convention of Kentucky which represented nearly all the whit people of that State, adopted a declara-tion of principles, which declares, among other Democratic doctrines, that the Democratic party of the State pledges itself to put down all infraction of the law, whether Ku-Klux or others wise, by the power of the State Courts and the stern administration of the State laws. This is the legitimate and only constitutional method by which such offenses can be dealt with. The States have always been competent to do this in the past, and can be trusted for the future. The position assumed by the Democrats of Kentucky on this ubject illustrates what has always bee manifest to unprejudiced ment that all parties in the south condemn lawless ness, by whomsoever committed, and are ready to put it down, without need of federal intervention. ----THE Pittsburg Post (Dem.,) says

Are We Not Debased ?

Are We Not Dehased ? It is sometimes queried whether gov-eraments are instituted for the benefit of officeholders, or offices are created for the public convenience or service, and subject to the Supreme laws of the State. Since the Radical party has ob-tained control of public affairs the gov-ernment at Washington is essentially a government conducted and administer-ed for the uses and benefits of office-holders. The limitations of supreme law are subordinated to the demands of allowing each of B's 40 voters to cast his two votes for one delegate under the 5th rule of nomination. In a district entitled to three delegates where a voter shall desire to vote for but one, he will fill up his ticket in this form: $\mathbf{A}_{--} = \mathbf{B}_{--} = 3$ votes, and if he shall desire to vote for but two, then \mathbf{A}_{--} $\mathbf{B}_{--} = \mathbf{B}_{--} = 3$ votes, and if he shall desire to vote for but two, then \mathbf{A}_{--} $\mathbf{B}_{--} = \mathbf{B}_{--} = 3$ votes, and if he shall desire to vote for but two, then \mathbf{A}_{--} $\mathbf{B}_{--} = \mathbf{B}_{--} = \mathbf{A}_{--} = \mathbf{A}_{--}$ complished and polished man, just the one to impose on simple-minded people suddenly elevated as they were, and we trust his sad fate may be a timely warn-ing to many others following in his course. It revives many recollections of the Lincoln Administration that had better be forgotten, but may save us from another equally as bad. Let Gen-crat Grant immediately dismiss the Rights, THOMAS JEFFERSON in his letter to Mr. Madison, of May 12th, 1800, said in relation to the party in favor of the "alien and sedition laws," that their principles tended "directly to a change of the Federal government: to evict the State governments; consolidate them into one; and to monarchize that." from another equally as bad. Let Gen-cral Grant immediately dismiss the horse jockeys, stock gamblers, default-ers and sporting men generally who have him in their hands and betake himself to better company. It cannot be expected of him to make the White House what it was previous to the Lin-coln invasion, but he can, if he will, improve it somewhat by excluding from it those whose morals are subject to sharp criticism. He is now going at loose at Long Branch forgetting all the duties of his high office, indulging in horse-racing, fishing and dissipation generally, and his best friends (who are not in office) admit that instead of being a model for the ambitious young men to monarchize that." JAMES MADISON said: —" Take away State rights and let the builders of monarchi-be asked what further materials they need to complete their system of government." CHIEF JUSTICE MARSHALL said :— " No political dreamer ever was wild enough to think of breaking down State lines and compounding the American people into one mass."

THE Republican press, taking it for granted that $226,000,000 of the national debt have been paid off by the adminis-tration, call it "Grant's work." One would suppose that it was the tax-pay-ers' and not the tax-collectors' work. If the taxes should be doubled and five hundred millions more paid, then upon this principle Grant would be entitled to still more credit for his work! It is to still more creat for his work : It is very easy for one to pay an obligation if the money to do so is furnished by others; but it is funny in that case to say the payment was the work of the messenger who merely handed the mon-ey over. In order that Grant may do this work, the people are being taxed to death, and business is overwhere stardeath, and business is overywhere stag

Senator Fenton, who stops at the the country about two hundred and fifty dollars, and many of them much more. There are hundreds of radical rounders in this city who will swear to Ku-Klux outrages in all parts of the South for half this sum. Why not em-ploy them? Their testimony would be cheaper, and just as veritable as Southern carpet baggers and scallawags.-....

GRANT has a young fool of a fellow, named Black, acting Governor of Utah. Wanting to spread his brief authority, he issued a proclamation forbidding the Mormon Militia to parade on the 4th of July, and called on the United States troops to enforce his orders. The con-sequence was, there came near being a collision, which was prevented by the army officers and Mormon officials. One fool can do more harm than an hundred army officers and Mormon officials. One fool can do more barm than an hundred wise men can repair in an age.

per month, a very small sum for a Sen-ator. Senator Fenton, who stops at the same place, pays $1,000 a month. S. S. Cox pays $1,200 per month, and the other evening he gave at his boarding-house a $1,500 dinner. How long will a member's salary last at that rate? Mr. Huntingdon, the Cashier of the First National Bank, gave a dinner to the Japs, where there were 20 persons present at $50 per plate, or in the aggre-gate $1,000. Dr. Helmbold, of Buchu notoriety, was here for two weeks, and paid $90 per day for board and lodging. A parlor and chamber in the second story of a first-class hotel, here rents for $150 per week, or $2,000 per month. Many of the Senators and members who keep house live much more extrav-agantly. Senator Chandler lives at rate of full $33,000 per year, and Gen. But-ler spends four times his salary as a member. One of the colored members pay at the rate of $150 per week and the expenses of others are probably as great. The other three colored mem-bers go it on the economical, say $300 per month.
