Senator-Frank D. Collins,

Friday September 22, 1871

We noblish on our first page some extracts from a recent speech of Hon, GEO. H. PENDLETON, to which we necessary. Mr. P. deservedly stands at if we could have our way would be the next Democratic candidate for Presihowever, being against him, his nomination for that position will be prevented, as it was in 1868. His ability as a statesman will not be denied and his speeches are universally read by the intelligent men of the country.

Disorganization and Danger! The Radical corruption fund is doing its work. Disorganization begins to crop out in all directions. We warned the people before it was publicly apparent that the main dependence for suc coss of the Radicals this fall was upon the large corruption fund they have raised and that this was to be used in sowing discord in the ranks of the Democracy. This discord is to be effected by means of volunteer candidates. In Columbia county the trick has failed-the volunteers are out but they have few Democratic followers, if any.

It is working, however, in some neighboring counties. Schuylkill appears to be seriously divided-Luzerne is threatened—an earnest effort is being made to make the plan successful in Montour and Northumberland, where we are threatened with the loss of two members of the Legislature—and it has also been attempted in the strong Democratic counties and districts generally. Warned of the plot, cannot our friends have the manhood to shake it off-resist it with all their power and crush it to the earth! It is a bare-faced Radical scheme, supported by their corruption fund, and is as completely in their interest as though the candidates were all professed Radicals.

We hope the Democracy will every where show that they are not to be fooled, corrupted or defeated by this or any other cunning scheme. Other tricks will also be resorted to. The only safe way to counteract them is to SUPPORT Radicals to win by foul play. Teach the leaders in these nefarious enterprises that the Democracy are determined and are neither to be corrupted or compromised or made the victims of and every man on it. scheming tricksters!

Be Warned!

The Radicals have means of raising money for election purposes that the speculations are also taxed heavily. ple are taxed through tariffs, also contribute heavily. The reader will see at raised. A very large proportion of this amount is expended through the Radical county committees, and the rest by

We do not know what the Radical committee in this county receives. We do know that in a smaller county $2,000 were paid at several different elections each year. In larger counties much larger sums have been paid. A very considerable sum of course annually comes to this county. How much of it is expended and how much sticks to somebody's fingers every one may judge. Of course we have no reliable figures.

What we want to call attention to is that this corruption fund is on hand. That a portion, at least, is being used can not be denied unless the integrity of the holders be attacked. It may not be actually received as yet, but is promised, and advances and promises can be made on the strength of it. To meet this powerful engine, the Democrats have only their own exertions to rely on. But let that exertion be made with vigor. Organize in every township and school district, and see that every Democrat is determined to attend the polls See that means are provided to take those who have no conveyances of their own, and that not one is left behind.

WM. H. SEWARD, who was far more instrumental than any other man, living or dead, in producing the rebellion, and who so freely imprisoned men of the highest character, in defiance of law and in violation of his own oath, on the general charge of lacking in a patriotism of which he never possessed the least iota himself, it is said is about returning to the country which he betrayed and deluged in blood. Ever since he left office he has been traveling in foreign countries, seeking excitement and notoriety, probably in vain effort to shake off the natural suggestions of a troubled conscience. For him there never can be peace on earth and his prospects beyond it are probably still less cheering. Walking to and fro through the earth was practised by his master, with motives only more malignant because he was the impersonation of the infernal. We don't exactly see how SEWARD can hope further to assist his fiend friend in "devouring" whatever is good on earth. He is justly abandoned and hated as savagely by the men who were his tools in the days of his power as by those who felt his treason and his tyranny. There is a he is impotent now.

Does not every Democrat, therefore, see the importance of adhering faithfully to the nominations? The candidates this year all pledged their word to submit to the decision of the convention. Every volunteer now before the people was so pledged, publicly and in plain terms. Will the people elect a man to office who thus violates his word—his solemn engagement! If any man thus directly violates his word, publicly given to every body, can he be depended upon in any thing else he says or promises? Is a man who does not regard his word a fit person to be put into office? These are questions for each voter to decide for himself.

Business in Court.

Notwithstanding the continuance of all civil causes upon the trial list at the late sitting of our County Court a considerable amount of regular and miscellaneous business was transacted. In fact a great deal of the work performed by President Judges does not appear to the public in Court reports, being performed by them at chambers between terms and also during terms. In some way and in some form, all the knotty difficult questions of law which come into controversy between citizens and which members of the bar cannot agree upon, or cannot solve, are cast upon the President Judge for decision. Cases in the Orphan's Court relating to estates; cases upon the argument list generally; bills in equity under modern practice, in addition to road and election questions and many other matters of special jurisdiction, press constantly upon the attention of the Judge in addition to his more observable and con-spicuous duties in the trial of civil and criminal cases by jury. Perfect integrity, with steady industry and patience are necessary in a Judge, and to him who exhibits them the people are under the deepest obligation. This obligation may not always be admitted, (at least in its full extent,) but it is a real one and in the long run will receive due and grateful recognition from both the legal profession and the public.

Constitutional Amendment. By the act of last session for taking the sense of the people upon the question of calling a Constitutional Convention, votes for or against a Convention are to be given upon slip tickets under the ticket heading "State." The words to be used are: "Constitutional Convention," and underneath, "for a Convention," or "against a Convention," and the tickets are to be counted and returns thereof made as votes for Governor are counted and returned under existing laws. We shall, therefore, print the Convention ticket, (on the tickets issued from this office,) immediately under the names of the candidates for Auditor General and Surveyor General; and as we are in favor of a Convention shall make these remarks only to avoid the print affirmative votes only unless others shall be specially ordered.
