When Chief Justice GIBSON was first appointed to the bench the same obection was urged sgainst him, yet he became the most distinguished of the bright galaxy of Pennsylvania Judges whose opinions are quoted wherever law is known. Gruson never conducted a cause in court, yet there is not a lawyer in Pennsylvania who does not regard his judicial opinions with reverence. Judge Story was appointed to the bench of the Supreme Court of the United States when only twentyx years of age, and he adorned even that bench of great Judges. In both these cases the appointing powers knew the learning and ability of the man they appointed, and these wise men did not consider that experience in the trial of petty criminals and spiteful law suits was such legal learning as gave qualifications to a Judge. If the Montour American had then existed to enlighten them, the State and the Nation would have lost two of its brightest Judicial stars, and the legal profession will thank kind fortune that it did not produce this modern luminary until after Gibson and Stony had filled their libraries with the most profound and horough expositions of the principles flaw.

There is, however, a solid objection to Mr. ROCKAFELLER, the Republican opponent of Mr. Scorr. Personally we know nothing about him, but his supporters say he has a very large practice in the district. If so, his election would pense and most grievous burthen. We know lawyers will say otherwise, but of causes disarranged and tediously postponed, but the expenses of trial are greatly increased. The Judges from other districts who are called to try the cases in which the sitting Judge was counsel, fail to attend very frequently and often can not be obtained. We have known parties enough to be ready for trial, with all their numerous witnesses, to keep a court employed for a full week, yet after appearing at the or two, would be informed that the Judge was not coming and therefore their cases must go over. All the expense of the attending jurors, &c. would of course have to be paid by the county. Both county and parties to suits are whole term on the bench, although the constantly expecting and urging trial. a lawyer in large practice to the Judgship of the district in which he prac-

The qualifications that make a lawyer a necessful practitioner at the bar are not those that make him that has stolen the public domain from an efficient Judge. Close habits of study and logical thought, firm nerve and independence of mind, the capacity to distinguish right from wrong intuitively, or to sift justice out of conflicting or loubtful testimony, and executive ability, are the leading qualifications desired in a Judge, but these are rarely acis a rebuke of the Radical Congress that | quired by mere jury lawyers or lawyers of large practice in petty business. Rather, they are blunted and lost sight of by the extensive practitioner. An intellectual man well read in the law and other sciences and practical information, possessing the other qualifications suggested, will nearly always make a superior Judge, while a mere successful practitioner is very liable to

WHY THEY WANT TO DEFEAT MC-CANDLESS .- The reason why the Radal leaders are so auxious to elect Stanton Auditor General is apparent when passes all the corrupt and swindling bills like the Evans swindle. If General McCandless is elected, the Democracy will place a guard over the State Treasury, and all the robbing, plundering schemes will have to pass under his oboff and choke the leeches.
