The Way to Investigate. Investigations into alleged abuses seem to be the order of the day at Washington and Harrisburg. At first blush it might seem as if Congress and our State Legislature were really in earnest in measures of reform, but the fact is that the Committees chosen are for the purpose of whitewashing the abuses complained of. The Committee to investigate the New York Custom House frauds was packed; that to examine into the sale of arms by our government to France does not contain the name of a single Senator who favored the luvestigation. In our own State the Republicans have become alarmed at the frauds of their own party in Philadelphia, especially since the McClure-Gray Committee got to work. In order to shield themselves from the effect of the revelations now being daily made, the following resolution was passed:

WHEREAS, It is alleged that frauds are perpetrated in general and special elections in the city of Philadelphia, by repeating and false counting, whereby the will of the citizens and qualified electors of said city is overruled and their rights violated by the return of persons elected to public offices of trust, profit and great responsibility, who have not been so elected;

And whereas, It is alleged that cer-

And whereas, it is alleged that cer-tain defects or provisions in the act en-titled an act relating to elections and election officers of Philadelphia, furnish the opportunity for the said fraudulent voting, false counting and consequent evils entailed on the legal voters of the said city; therefore,

Resolved, That the speaker of the house be and is hereby authorized to appoint a committee of seven members of the house, who are hereby authorized to examine into the frauds alleged to have been committed in elections here-tofore held in the city of Philadelphia. tofore held in the city of Philadelphia, and to inquire into any abuses practiced in nominations and elections held in said city, and to make report thereup-on. And if the frauds or abuses shall be found to exist, or to have been com-mitted, to report what legislation may be necessary to prevent such frauds and abuse., with power to send for persons and papers.

In appointing this Committee the Speaker gave the Republicans five members, and the Democrats two. The five are the ablest men the opposition have in the House, whilst the two accorded us are Philadelphians, both of whom voted against the investigation. The reputation of one of them, Josephs, is too well known for comment; and when it became known that he was put on the Committee as a representative of the Democratic party, the object of the investigation became apparent. Josephs, of all men, least desires investigation into his district. As Senator Summer said: "It is putting a child out to nurse among those interested in its des-

We believe the Chairman really means to do his duty, but his bands will be tied, or else the only investigation made will be that which will affect the Democratic party.

Our Petty President.

Grant has just given to the country another instance of the petty spite and rsonal rancor which actuates his official conduct. An order has been issued instructing the District Attorney of New York to prosecute all merchants who have bribed Custom House officers. Not to prosecute the sceundrels who rendered the offering of these bribes absolutely necessary for the transaction of business, but the merchants who were compelled to pay these officials in order to get their goods through the Custom House. The motive of this prosecution is plain. The testimony of these merchants before the Investigation Committee was so blackening to the Administration, that it is desirable to frighten such others as may be called on to testify in future, by the punishment of those who have dared to speak the truth. Grant has but recently shown how personal spite can sway him, in the case of General Hancock, the Department of the Army to which he was justly entitled having been abolished, to prevent his holding the position. The merchants of New pany. York may be persecuted by this little despot, but the truth is known concerning the rottenness of the Custom House, and Executive spite and malice will of so great concern to the world. THERE is trouble in Mormondom. The Gentile Judge and District Attorney are at loggerheads; and the Mormons stand by and laugh at the fray. The point of dispute seems to be that the Judge refuses to take ball for the appearance of certain Mormons, indicted for murder; while the District Attorney desires to do so. The Judge is dent, in the matter, who knows no law, neither cares for any. Meantime scoundrels go unwhipt of justice, while Grant caters to polygamy, pronounced by the party of "Great moral ideas" to be, with slavery, the twin relic of barbarism. Times change and men change with them.

votes. In the Senate on Friday of last week Mr. Sumner, on the plea of ill health, asked not to be put on the committee for the investigation of the French arms frauds, Mr. Cameron offered a resolu tion appointing Messrs. Hamlin, Car penter, Sherman, Sawyer, Logan, Ste venson, and Harlan the committee to investigate the French frauds. The resolution elicited much debate because the name of some Senator favoring the investigation was not in the resolution. An amendment was offered putting Mr. Schurz on the committee. The whole matter was finally laid on the table, and the Appropriation bill taken up. In the house, the Wisconsin Land Grant bill was debated for the better part of the day, and the discussion was at times quite personal and humorous. In the Senate, on Saturday, pending consideration of a resolution, offered by Mr. Bayard, asking for copi - of in structions to the District Atto ey of New York, relative to prosecutions of merchants, the Senate adjourned.

In the House nothing but speechmaking was done. Nothing of importance was done Monday in either the House or Senate. In the House a few new bills were re ceived, after which that body went into committee of the whole on the Deficiency Appropriation bill. The Senate, after some talk on the tea and coffee question, went into executive session and soon after adjourned. The only business of importance transacted in the Senate on Thusday was the election of the following committee to investigate the French arms frauds: Hamlin, Carpenter, Sawyer, Logan, Ames, Harlan and Stevenson The latter asked to be excused from that Senator Schurz be appointed in Section first of the bill provides that his stead, which was refused by a vote any vacancy of auditor general and of 28 nays to 23 yeas.
