ATION-CLOSE OF TERM

The winter term of the Normal School will ciose on Tuesday next, March 23d. After a excation of one week the spring term will com- lowed, when the floor was opened and an invimence. The closing examinations, conducted in writing, commenced on Thursday of the present week.

A public literary entertainment will be given by the school, on Monday evening, March 22d, accompanied by Music and Gymnastics. The proceeds of the evening will be appropriated exclusively to making payment on a piano, recently purchased by the Board, for the use of the school. The patronage of the public i respectfully solicited. Tickets of admission, 25 cents, to be had at Clark's Book store and the Book store of Everett & Potter.

OFF WITH THE PROPITS.

We need not expect much of a revival in business until there is less profit made on many manufactured articles. This 100, 200 and 300 per cent, on articles of daily use, and for which here is a steady demand, is too strong. Particdarly does this statement apply to domestic stensils of east iron, upon which there is no machine work whatever, and no labor involved xcept that of moulding. Curtosity recently iduced a purchaser to weigh some east from aking pans in a house furnishing store, to see what they cost the manufacturer. The weight us to state that Shaifer brought his cub from a was a tride over three pounds, and their cost, at one highest rates could not exceed fifteen cents. has given our belated friends so much concern The price charged for them at retail was seventyave cents. The price of waffle irons with handles, weighing not over ten pounds and costing fifty cents to manufacture, was $2.50. Such margins of profit are excessive, and must drive large percentage of purchasers out of the market.- Ex.

THE SPRING THAW AND FLOOD. The few warm days of March started the now and we hear of destructive floods in all quarters, and yet this is evidently only the begineing of the end. On Wednesday morning actween 7 and 8 o'clock the ice on the North Branch at this place commenced moving but soon formed a gorge, extending from below Catawissa, four miles south of Bioomsburg, to Espy, two miles north. About noon the Danville bridge, tea miles south, was reported gone About I o'clock the gorge here commences moving and immediately swept away the east end of the Catawissa wagon bridge across the river, and shortly after the whole of it gave way. We hear of no other serious damage is this immediate vicinity. The ice is gorged in Fishing creek from the double bridge below to Fishing creek from the double bridge below to the lower parties of town.
