

BLOOMSBURG, PA.

Friday, June 4, 1875.

The editor is off on a short excursion this week, but will be at his post before another issue.

Seventy thousand majority for the Democracy in Ohio next fall, is said to be Gov. Allen's prediction. Half of it would be plenty, but the more the better. Allen himself will probably be the candidate for Governor, and a letter man could not be nominated.

The railroad war between Scott and Garrett has resulted in the former notifying the postmaster general that no trains of the Baltimore and Ohio road can pass over the Pennsylvania rails between Philadelphia and New York, after the 1st of June.

During a church dedication at Hauberr, Berks county, a fire broke out in an adjacent grove, where a number of horses and carriages were tied to the trees.

Mr. Wilson, while waiting at the railway station for a train in Little Rock, Ark., the other day, was startled by the following exclamation: "Boss, is Mr. Grant going to run for President next time?"

Col. J. C. Everhart, of Blair county, is favorably spoken of as a Democratic candidate for State Treasurer.

Grant neither forgives nor forgets. The man who stands between him and his ambition is bound to go down.

LONDON, May 23.—The Levan Herald says a series of terrible earthquake shocks occurred at the beginning of May in the province of Barossa, Asia Minor.

What a thin partition can keep brethren apart. The Presbyterian Church in North says "It does not wish to be judged now for what it said or did in the excitement of the war."

The Chicago Times of May 20th says that Mrs. Lincoln today attempted to commit suicide, after being removed from the court room, where she was adjudged insane.

The terrible destruction from forest fires in this State has turned attention to measures of prevention.

Signs of a break in the ranks of the striking miners multiply.

The strike in Schuylkill county has been captured for the 1875 term, and the feeling in that region favors an early resumption.

Gov. Hartranft is now commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic.

The President defines his position in a letter to the chairman of the Pennsylvania Republican Convention.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—President Grant has written the following letter to General Harry Whitel, President of the recent Pennsylvania Republican State Convention:

Grant speaks for the third time. At Grant has spoken. The spontaneous action of the Republicans at Lancaster was unadvised his, unblinded his dignity, and made him offer a lame apology for his conduct, and save into a positive vindication of all those who have faithfully favored his third-term pretensions.

WASHINGTON, May 30.—President Grant has written the following letter to General Harry Whitel, President of the recent Pennsylvania Republican State Convention:

EXECUTIVE MANSION, WASHINGTON, D. C., May 29, 1875. Sir:—I received your letter subsequent to the Presidential election of 1872, the press, a portion of it hostile to the Republican party and particularly to the administration, started the cry of "Cassianism," "the third term," calling justly for me to define my position on the latter subject.
