

THE COLUMBIAN

LAUREL & BLOOMSBURG RAILROAD
Accommodation Train, 6:45 A.M.
Express Train, 7:30 A.M.

TO OUR FRIENDS, GREETING:
By the first of July coming we shall have completed two years of the publication of the Columbia.

Hot, hotter, hottest!
Cherry pies are ripe.
August will have two new moons.

The "Glorious Fourth" will not visit Bloomsburg this year.
A number of farmers in this vicinity have made their hay.

The present month will have five Thursdays, Fridays, and Saturdays.
The present indications are that the corn crop will be an abundant one.

A wagon loaded with dried buffalo meat was in market on Thursday morning.
The Susquehanna river at this point is considerably below low water mark.

About 800,000 worth of fire crackers will be consumed in Bloomsburg this Fourth.
Four seals-looking crabs, found fourth in the pleads river at Rupert last Sunday.

The grain fields have assumed a golden tint and in a few days will be harvesting.
The Wyoming camp meeting commences August 17th and will continue ten days.

The old piers of the Catawissa bridge are being rapidly torn down to make way for the new one.
The brick work on Messrs. C. A. Klein and C. N. Furman's new building is going up rapidly.

The street lamp on the corner of Iron and Third streets is broken. How it came there we know not.
Excursion tickets will be issued on the different railroads in this section of the State for a few days to come.

Mr. B. Stidner has assumed entire charge of Brown's Hotel, and proposes to run a first-class house at very moderate rates. See his card in another column.
We are obliged to F. W. Heibach, music publisher, Catawissa, for two pretty pieces of sheet music, entitled "Darling Arson" and "Pretty Little Jakey."

Showers to the north of us, showers to the south of us, showers to the east of us and showers to the west of us, but no real old-fashioned drenching showers in Bloomsburg.
A Bloomsburg dandy hastened the departure of a lingering gentleman caller the other night, by remarking as he looked out of the window: "I think we shall have a beautiful sunrise."

Mr. Geo. H. Brown connected himself with the Exchange Hotel on last Monday. We are safe in asserting that under his management the Messrs. Koon & Brown, the Exchange will be one of the best hotels in the State.
The firm of Brown, Blackburn & Curtis, of Lock Haven, has been awarded the contract for supplying the timber for the Catawissa bridge. They are prompt and reliable business men who will perform their contract to the letter.

The Rev. Mr. Hewitt has resigned the Rectory of St. John's Episcopal Church, Catawissa, to take effect at once. He has also declined for the second time to consider a call to the Church of the Good Shepherd, Bloomsburg, N. Y.
On Friday last, Ashton, a son of Mr. Wm. Saunders, while at work in the planting mill had his right hand terribly mangled by coming in contact with a circular saw. Dr. Turner and Reber were immediately summoned who found it necessary to amputate two of his fingers.

Last Saturday evening, about sixty ladies and gentlemen of Bloomsburg went to Danville to witness Charlotte Thompson in the character of "Jane Eyre" at the Opera House. Had it not been for the liberal turnout from this place, Miss Thompson would have had a slim house.
On last Monday, Isaiah Andrews, an employee at the Columbia Iron Works, met with a painful accident by having his hand terribly mangled with a circular saw, two leaders being severed. Dr. Butler was immediately called upon who dressed the wound and Mr. Andrews is getting along finely.

Rev. Dr. McCrea D. D., of Hagerstown, Maryland, will preach in the Lutheran Church, at Bloomsburg, on Sunday, July 10th, morning and evening. Dr. McCrea is a clergyman of very high reputation and people will seldom have an opportunity of hearing a gentleman of so much distinction.
Tomorrow, Saturday, Catawissa will celebrate under the auspices of the Order Sons of America. The secret orders of that place will all turn out, and the Milton and Kettlewells houses are expected to participate. A lively time is anticipated. A cordial invite is extended to the public to be present and help celebrate.

The Rev. Charles E. Fessenden, late of Delaware, has received and accepted a unanimous call to the Rectory of St. John's Episcopal Church, Catawissa, and will enter upon his duties on Sunday next. The usual session of the Sunday School will be held in the morning at 10 o'clock. Evening service with a sermon, at 8 o'clock in the afternoon.

THE WILLIAMSON GAZETTE & BULLETIN SAYS:

"There are a less number of low liquor saloons open in this city now under the license law than there used to be at times under the local option act."

Dr. J. F. Chapin has removed from Benton to Schoolcraft, Michigan, where he has taken up his residence and hung out his shingle. He enjoyed a good practice at Benton, was a gentleman of exemplary character, and his departure is regretted by the people of that region. He carries with him to his new home the best wishes of many friends in Columbia county.

If anybody doubts the efficacy of advertising as a means for hard times, let him take note of Barron's wonderful success, consequent on the almost prophetic of his payments to newspapers for columns of advertising. To run Barron's show he costs $50,000 a day, or $500,000 a week. His expenses for advertising, show bills, etc., will exceed $500,000 for the year. Last year he paid for show bills alone the starting sum of $200,000. This year it will reach $300,000. Barron is now paying newspapers at the rate of $1,000 per day. The expenses are large, and yet the income warrants the expenditure. Nothing says like the printers ink, when properly mixed with brains.

Dr. Turner and Reber performed a novel operation on the throat of a boy from Scott township about a week ago, who had a chunk of meat lodged near his stomach, completely blocking it up. On examination, it was found that a proemis disease had caused a constriction about the size of a pencil, which could not be withdrawn. The boy was placed under the influence of chloroform and an instrument passed into the stomach through the meat, and withdrawn, bringing out portions of it until reduced in size sufficient to pass into the stomach, when the boy recovered. That boy is probably thankful that grinders were furnished him by nature the proper use of which is to masticate food before he swallows it.

On last Tuesday morning Chief of Police Woodard arrested Otto Lang, Wm. Crossley and Chas. Taylor for violating the bathing law, and gave them a hearing before Esquire Brover. The facts of the case are that these young men were bathing in Fishing Creek just below town in broad daylight. They had gone to the opposite side of the creek, which abated them in Headlock township and outside of the Town limits, thinking, as do a great many others, that by so doing they would evade the law, as it only applies to the Town limits, while it is a State law and one of the most rigid chapters. But "ignorance of the law excuses no one" as they will find out at the next term of court, for they were found over in the sum of $200 each to appear for trial in September.

How to advertise is the great conundrum with most people. They know they ought to advertise—are willing to expend a generous sum therefor—but they don't know how and won't risk the ordinary everyday method of reaching the public eye and ear. For such we quote from an exchange about the best advice to advertisers: "We have met with, which is as follows: Every advertisement fulfills its purpose to some extent, but the one that is most effective is not powerful in favor of the skillful purveyor. The words should be few and chosen, the style epigrammatic, terse, pointed, and the result likely to lead to the desired result. The advertisement should be as concise as possible, but should not be dispensed by starting word cuts, which attract the eye but once, and then lose their power and all the beauty they ever possessed. Advertisers will always do well to consult their wives and lady friends, who are the best style for getting up a telling advertisement."

The pastor of the Episcopal Church in this place, Rev. Mr. Hewitt, on Sunday morning, the 20th ult., read to his congregation, a summary of his fifth annual report, which was read to the Convention of the Episcopal Church of Central Pennsylvania, held in Reading the 8th inst. The summary is as follows: Families, 90; Baptisms, 19; Confirmed, 18; Communicants, 173; Marriages, 9; Burials, 12; Public Services, 191; Money receipts from all sources, $37,121. For the first four and six months of his pastorate, the total number of baptisms is given as 85; Confirmed, 50; added to the Communion list, 66; lost by death and removal 35; present number, 173; Marriages, 23; Burials, 49; money received from all sources have been, for 1871, $3,622.18; 1872, $3,848.99; 1873, 6,692.78; 1874, $4,742.21. No account for six months of 1875, but for four months, $18,555.07. During that period it is estimated that upwards of $5,000 has been paid on the building debt of the new Church.

We are informed that Mr. Hewitt has served as Superintendent of the Sunday School for more than three years. For three years he has also acted as Rector of St. John's Church, Catawissa, where two years ago an English property was purchased and fitted up for Church purposes. For more than a year he has served in the public hall of the Masonic building, every alternate Sunday; no service is held every Lord's day in the afternoon. Four years ago the number of communicants was 3; since added, 17; lost by death and removal, 3; present number, 17.

It will be seen that Mr. Hewitt holds services and preaches three times every Sunday, besides superintending the Sabbath School.
DEKISSON SEMINARY, WILLIAMSPORT. The commencement exercises took place at Dickinson Seminary last week, closing on the morning of the 24th ult. The valedictory address, which is highly spoken of, was delivered by Wilbur F. Reeder, of Catawissa. The following are the concluding sentences of the address: "There are times when the glory of one hour is deemed more than a lifetime of defeat. It is a time of glory and of defeat. It is a time when the influence of one will not pass away as a shadow. The time of noble glory, and the faint glimmer of future dignity, have made man superior to circumstances, and helped him to surmount the seemingly unsurpassable elements in his varying condition."

Whether we tread heedlessly on the path of our pathway, or study it with interest; whether we behold with admiration the gentle gliding stream, or gaze in awe and wonder at the cataract, we are called to see evidence of a divine Creator, and to trace Him throughout the universe. Now classmates, we have attained that for which we have long waited. We now are reaping the reward of past toil and labor. Let not the influence of this pass away with it, but let it burn fresh in your memories. Ours is the dream of life you will refer to it, and be urged on by its inspiration. Our Honored President: You have watched our successes and failures, and have urged us on to kindness and encouragement. Now our relations are about to change. The instructions you have imparted will not be forgotten. We can only hope that success may crown your efforts in the future as it has in the past. And now classmates, we must part. Together we have toiled in the weary yet delightful paths of science. No more students shall we engage in friendly strife, but with kind regards for all, each will go in his way, and wonder at the cataract, we are called to see evidence of a divine Creator, and to trace Him throughout the universe. Now classmates, we have attained that for which we have long waited. We now are reaping the reward of past toil and labor. Let not the influence of this pass away with it, but let it burn fresh in your memories. Ours is the dream of life you will refer to it, and be urged on by its inspiration. Our Honored President: You have watched our successes and failures, and have urged us on to kindness and encouragement. Now our relations are about to change. The instructions you have imparted will not be forgotten. We can only hope that success may crown your efforts in the future as it has in the past. And now classmates, we must part. Together we have toiled in the weary yet delightful paths of science. No more students shall we engage in friendly strife, but with kind regards for all, each will go in his way, and wonder at the cataract, we are called to see evidence of a divine Creator, and to trace Him throughout the universe. Now classmates, we have attained that for which we have long waited. We now are reaping the reward of past toil and labor. Let not the influence of this pass away with it, but let it burn fresh in your memories. Ours is the dream of life you will refer to it, and be urged on by its inspiration. Our Honored President: You have watched our successes and failures, and have urged us on to kindness and encouragement. Now our relations are about to change. The instructions you have imparted will not be forgotten. We can only hope that success may crown your efforts in the future as it has in the past. And now classmates, we must part. Together we have toiled in the weary yet delightful paths of science. No more students shall we engage in friendly strife, but with kind regards for all, each will go in his way, and wonder at the cataract, we are called to see evidence of a divine Creator, and to trace Him throughout the universe. Now classmates, we have attained that for which we have long waited. We now are reaping the reward of past toil and labor. Let not the influence of this pass away with it, but let it burn fresh in your memories. Ours is the dream of life you will refer to it, and be urged on by its inspiration. Our Honored President: You have watched our successes and failures, and have urged us on to kindness and encouragement. Now our relations are about to change. The instructions you have imparted will not be forgotten. We can only hope that success may crown your efforts in the future as it has in the past. And now classmates, we must part. Together we have toiled in the weary yet delightful paths of science. No more students shall we engage in friendly strife, but with kind regards for all, each will go in his way, and wonder at the cataract, we are called to see evidence of a divine Creator, and to trace Him throughout the universe. Now classmates, we have attained that for which we have long waited. We now are reaping the reward of past toil and labor. Let not the influence of this pass away with it, but let it burn fresh in your memories. Ours is the dream of life you will refer to it, and be urged on by its inspiration. Our Honored President: You have watched our successes and failures, and have urged us on to kindness and encouragement. Now our relations are about to change. The instructions you have imparted will not be forgotten. We can only hope that success may crown your efforts in the future as it has in the past. And now classmates, we must part. Together we have toiled in the weary yet delightful paths of science. No more students shall we engage in friendly strife, but with kind regards for all, each will go in his way, and wonder at the cataract, we are called to see evidence of a divine Creator, and to trace Him throughout the universe. Now classmates, we have attained that for which we have long waited. We now are reaping the reward of past toil and labor. Let not the influence of this pass away with it, but let it burn fresh in your memories. Ours is the dream of life you will refer to it, and be urged on by its inspiration. Our Honored President: You have watched our successes and failures, and have urged us on to kindness and encouragement. Now our relations are about to change. The instructions you have imparted will not be forgotten. We can only hope that success may crown your efforts in the future as it has in the past. And now classmates, we must part. Together we have toiled in the weary yet delightful paths of science. No more students shall we engage in friendly strife, but with kind regards for all, each will go in his way, and wonder at the cataract, we are called to see evidence of a divine Creator, and to trace Him throughout the universe. Now classmates, we have attained that for which we have long waited. We now are reaping the reward of past toil and labor. Let not the influence of this pass away with it, but let it burn fresh in your memories. Ours is the dream of life you will refer to it, and be urged on by its inspiration. Our Honored President: You have watched our successes and failures, and have urged us on to kindness and encouragement. Now our relations are about to change. The instructions you have imparted will not be forgotten. We can only hope that success may crown your efforts in the future as it has in the past. And now classmates, we must part. Together we have toiled in the weary yet delightful paths of science. No more students shall we engage in friendly strife, but with kind regards for all, each will go in his way, and wonder at the cataract, we are called to see evidence of a divine Creator, and to trace Him throughout the universe. Now classmates, we have attained that for which we have long waited. We now are reaping the reward of past toil and labor. Let not the influence of this pass away with it, but let it burn fresh in your memories. Ours is the dream of life you will refer to it, and be urged on by its inspiration. Our Honored President: You have watched our successes and failures, and have urged us on to kindness and encouragement. Now our relations are about to change. The instructions you have imparted will not be forgotten. We can only hope that success may crown your efforts in the future as it has in the past. And now classmates, we must part. Together we have toiled in the weary yet delightful paths of science. No more students shall we engage in friendly strife, but with kind regards for all, each will go in his way, and wonder at the cataract, we are called to see evidence of a divine Creator, and to trace Him throughout the universe. Now classmates, we have attained that for which we have long waited. We now are reaping the reward of past toil and labor. Let not the influence of this pass away with it, but let it burn fresh in your memories. Ours is the dream of life you will refer to it, and be urged on by its inspiration. Our Honored President: You have watched our successes and failures, and have urged us on to kindness and encouragement. Now our relations are about to change. The instructions you have imparted will not be forgotten. We can only hope that success may crown your efforts in the future as it has in the past. And now classmates, we must part. Together we have toiled in the weary yet delightful paths of science. No more students shall we engage in friendly strife, but with kind regards for all, each will go in his way, and wonder at the cataract, we are called to see evidence of a divine Creator, and to trace Him throughout the universe. Now classmates, we have attained that for which we have long waited. We now are reaping the reward of past toil and labor. Let not the influence of this pass away with it, but let it burn fresh in your memories. Ours is the dream of life you will refer to it, and be urged on by its inspiration. Our Honored President: You have watched our successes and failures, and have urged us on to kindness and encouragement. Now our relations are about to change. The instructions you have imparted will not be forgotten. We can only hope that success may crown your efforts in the future as it has in the past. And now classmates, we must part. Together we have toiled in the weary yet delightful paths of science. No more students shall we engage in friendly strife, but with kind regards for all, each will go in his way, and wonder at the cataract, we are called to see evidence of a divine Creator, and to trace Him throughout the universe. Now classmates, we have attained that for which we have long waited. We now are reaping the reward of past toil and labor. Let not the influence of this pass away with it, but let it burn fresh in your memories. Ours is the dream of life you will refer to it, and be urged on by its inspiration. Our Honored President: You have watched our successes and failures, and have urged us on to kindness and encouragement. Now our relations are about to change. The instructions you have imparted will not be forgotten. We can only hope that success may crown your efforts in the future as it has in the past. And now classmates, we must part. Together we have toiled in the weary yet delightful paths of science. No more students shall we engage in friendly strife, but with kind regards for all, each will go in his way, and wonder at the cataract, we are called to see evidence of a divine Creator, and to trace Him throughout the universe. Now classmates, we have attained that for which we have long waited. We now are reaping the reward of past toil and labor. Let not the influence of this pass away with it, but let it burn fresh in your memories. Ours is the dream of life you will refer to it, and be urged on by its inspiration. Our Honored President: You have watched our successes and failures, and have urged us on to kindness and encouragement. Now our relations are about to change. The instructions you have imparted will not be forgotten. We can only hope that success may crown your efforts in the future as it has in the past. And now classmates, we must part. Together we have toiled in the weary yet delightful paths of science. No more students shall we engage in friendly strife, but with kind regards for all, each will go in his way, and wonder at the cataract, we are called to see evidence of a divine Creator, and to trace Him throughout the universe. Now classmates, we have attained that for which we have long waited. We now are reaping the reward of past toil and labor. Let not the influence of this pass away with it, but let it burn fresh in your memories. Ours is the dream of life you will refer to it, and be urged on by its inspiration. Our Honored President: You have watched our successes and failures, and have urged us on to kindness and encouragement. Now our relations are about to change. The instructions you have imparted will not be forgotten. We can only hope that success may crown your efforts in the future as it has in the past. And now classmates, we must part. Together we have toiled in the weary yet delightful paths of science. No more students shall we engage in friendly strife, but with kind regards for all, each will go in his way, and wonder at the cataract, we are called to see evidence of a divine Creator, and to trace Him throughout the universe. Now classmates, we have attained that for which we have long waited. We now are reaping the reward of past toil and labor. Let not the influence of this pass away with it, but let it burn fresh in your memories. Ours is the dream of life you will refer to it, and be urged on by its inspiration. Our Honored President: You have watched our successes and failures, and have urged us on to kindness and encouragement. Now our relations are about to change. The instructions you have imparted will not be forgotten. We can only hope that success may crown your efforts in the future as it has in the past. And now classmates, we must part. Together we have toiled in the weary yet delightful paths of science. No more students shall we engage in friendly strife, but with kind regards for all, each will go in his way, and wonder at the cataract, we are called to see evidence of a divine Creator, and to trace Him throughout the universe. Now classmates, we have attained that for which we have long waited. We now are reaping the reward of past toil and labor. Let not the influence of this pass away with it, but let it burn fresh in your memories. Ours is the dream of life you will refer to it, and be urged on by its inspiration. Our Honored President: You have watched our successes and failures, and have urged us on to kindness and encouragement. Now our relations are about to change. The instructions you have imparted will not be forgotten. We can only hope that success may crown your efforts in the future as it has in the past. And now classmates, we must part. Together we have toiled in the weary yet delightful paths of science. No more students shall we engage in friendly strife, but with kind regards for all, each will go in his way, and wonder at the cataract, we are called to see evidence of a divine Creator, and to trace Him throughout the universe. Now classmates, we have attained that for which we have long waited. We now are reaping the reward of past toil and labor. Let not the influence of this pass away with it, but let it burn fresh in your memories. Ours is the dream of life you will refer to it, and be urged on by its inspiration. Our Honored President: You have watched our successes and failures, and have urged us on to kindness and encouragement. Now our relations are about to change. The instructions you have imparted will not be forgotten. We can only hope that success may crown your efforts in the future as it has in the past. And now classmates, we must part. Together we have toiled in the weary yet delightful paths of science. No more students shall we engage in friendly strife, but with kind regards for all, each will go in his way, and wonder at the cataract, we are called to see evidence of a divine Creator, and to trace Him throughout the universe. Now classmates, we have attained that for which we have long waited. We now are reaping the reward of past toil and labor. Let not the influence of this pass away with it, but let it burn fresh in your memories. Ours is the dream of life you will refer to it, and be urged on by its inspiration. Our Honored President: You have watched our successes and failures, and have urged us on to kindness and encouragement. Now our relations are about to change. The instructions you have imparted will not be forgotten. We can only hope that success may crown your efforts in the future as it has in the past. And now classmates, we must part. Together we have toiled in the weary yet delightful paths of science. No more students shall we engage in friendly strife, but with kind regards for all, each will go in his way, and wonder at the cataract, we are called to see evidence of a divine Creator, and to trace Him throughout the universe. Now classmates, we have attained that for which we have long waited. We now are reaping the reward of past toil and labor. Let not the influence of this pass away with it, but let it burn fresh in your memories. Ours is the dream of life you will refer to it, and be urged on by its inspiration. Our Honored President: You have watched our successes and failures, and have urged us on to kindness and encouragement. Now our relations are about to change. The instructions you have imparted will not be forgotten. We can only hope that success may crown your efforts in the future as it has in the past. And now classmates, we must part. Together we have toiled in the weary yet delightful paths of science. No more students shall we engage in friendly strife, but with kind regards for all, each will go in his way, and wonder at the cataract, we are called to see evidence of a divine Creator, and to trace Him throughout the universe. Now classmates, we have attained that for which we have long waited. We now are reaping the reward of past toil and labor. Let not the influence of this pass away with it, but let it burn fresh in your memories. Ours is the dream of life you will refer to it, and be urged on by its inspiration. Our Honored President: You have watched our successes and failures, and have urged us on to kindness and encouragement. Now our relations are about to change. The instructions you have imparted will not be forgotten. We can only hope that success may crown your efforts in the future as it has in the past. And now classmates, we must part. Together we have toiled in the weary yet delightful paths of science. No more students shall we engage in friendly strife, but with kind regards for all, each will go in his way, and wonder at the cataract, we are called to see evidence of a divine Creator, and to trace Him throughout the universe. Now classmates, we have attained that for which we have long waited. We now are reaping the reward of past toil and labor. Let not the influence of this pass away with it, but let it burn fresh in your memories. Ours is the dream of life you will refer to it, and be urged on by its inspiration. Our Honored President: You have watched our successes and failures, and have urged us on to kindness and encouragement. Now our relations are about to change. The instructions you have imparted will not be forgotten. We can only hope that success may crown your efforts in the future as it has in the past. And now classmates, we must part. Together we have toiled in the weary yet delightful paths of science. No more students shall we engage in friendly strife, but with kind regards for all, each will go in his way, and wonder at the cataract, we are called to see evidence of a divine Creator, and to trace Him throughout the universe. Now classmates, we have attained that for which we have long waited. We now are reaping the reward of past toil and labor. Let not the influence of this pass away with it, but let it burn fresh in your memories. Ours is the dream of life you will refer to it, and be urged on by its inspiration. Our Honored President: You have watched our successes and failures, and have urged us on to kindness and encouragement. Now our relations are about to change. The instructions you have imparted will not be forgotten. We can only hope that success may crown your efforts in the future as it has in the past. And now classmates, we must part. Together we have toiled in the weary yet delightful paths of science. No more students shall we engage in friendly strife, but with kind regards for all, each will go in his way, and wonder at the cataract, we are called to see evidence of a divine Creator, and to trace Him throughout the universe. Now classmates, we have attained that for which we have long waited. We now are reaping the reward of past toil and labor. Let not the influence of this pass away with it, but let it burn fresh in your memories. Ours is the dream of life you will refer to it, and be urged on by its inspiration. Our Honored President: You have watched our successes and failures, and have urged us on to kindness and encouragement. Now our relations are about to change. The instructions you have imparted will not be forgotten. We can only hope that success may crown your efforts in the future as it has in the past. And now classmates, we must part. Together we have toiled in the weary yet delightful paths of science. No more students shall we engage in friendly strife, but with kind regards for all, each will go in his way, and wonder at the cataract, we are called to see evidence of a divine Creator, and to trace Him throughout the universe. Now classmates, we have attained that for which we have long waited. We now are reaping the reward of past toil and labor. Let not the influence of this pass away with it, but let it burn fresh in your memories. Ours is the dream of life you will refer to it, and be urged on by its inspiration. Our Honored President: You have watched our successes and failures, and have urged us on to kindness and encouragement. Now our relations are about to change. The instructions you have imparted will not be forgotten. We can only hope that success may crown your efforts in the future as it has in the past. And now classmates, we must part. Together we have toiled in the weary yet delightful paths of science. No more students shall we engage in friendly strife, but with kind regards for all, each will go in his way, and wonder at the cataract, we are called to see evidence of a divine Creator, and to trace Him throughout the universe. Now classmates, we have attained that for which we have long waited. We now are reaping the reward of past toil and labor. Let not the influence of this pass away with it, but let it burn fresh in your memories. Ours is the dream of life you will refer to it, and be urged on by its inspiration. Our Honored President: You have watched our successes and failures, and have urged us on to kindness and encouragement. Now our relations are about to change. The instructions you have imparted will not be forgotten. We can only hope that success may crown your efforts in the future as it has in the past. And now classmates, we must part. Together we have toiled in the weary yet delightful paths of science. No more students shall we engage in friendly strife, but with kind regards for all, each will go in his way, and wonder at the cataract, we are called to see evidence of a divine Creator, and to trace Him throughout the universe. Now classmates, we have attained that for which we have long waited. We now are reaping the reward of past toil and labor. Let not the influence of this pass away with it, but let it burn fresh in your memories. Ours is the dream of life you will refer to it, and be urged on by its inspiration. Our Honored President: You have watched our successes and failures, and have urged us on to kindness and encouragement. Now our relations are about to change. The instructions you have imparted will not be forgotten. We can only hope that success may crown your efforts in the future as it has in the past. And now classmates, we must part. Together we have toiled in the weary yet delightful paths of science. No more students shall we engage in friendly strife, but with kind regards for all, each will go in his way, and wonder at the cataract, we are called to see evidence of a divine Creator, and to trace Him throughout the universe. Now classmates, we have attained that for which we have long waited. We now are reaping the reward of past toil and labor. Let not the influence of this pass away with it, but let it burn fresh in your memories. Ours is the dream of life you will refer to it, and be urged on by its inspiration. Our Honored President: You have watched our successes and failures, and have urged us on to kindness and encouragement. Now our relations are about to change. The instructions you have imparted will not be forgotten. We can only hope that success may crown your efforts in the future as it has in the past. And now classmates, we must part. Together we have toiled in the weary yet delightful paths of science. No more students shall we engage in friendly strife, but with kind regards for all, each will go in his way, and wonder at the cataract, we are called to see evidence of a divine Creator, and to trace Him throughout the universe. Now classmates, we have attained that for which we have long waited. We now are reaping the reward of past toil and labor. Let not the influence of this pass away with it, but let it burn fresh in your memories. Ours is the dream of life you will refer to it, and be urged on by its inspiration. Our Honored President: You have watched our successes and failures, and have urged us on to kindness and encouragement. Now our relations are about to change. The instructions you have imparted will not be forgotten. We can only hope that success may crown your efforts in the future as it has in the past. And now classmates, we must part. Together we have toiled in the weary yet delightful paths of science. No more students shall we engage in friendly strife, but with kind regards for all, each will go in his way, and wonder at the cataract, we are called to see evidence of a divine Creator, and to trace Him throughout the universe. Now classmates, we have attained that for which we have long waited. We now are reaping the reward of past toil and labor. Let not the influence of this pass away with it, but let it burn fresh in your memories. Ours is the dream of life you will refer to it, and be urged on by its inspiration. Our Honored President: You have watched our successes and failures, and have urged us on to kindness and encouragement. Now our relations are about to change. The instructions you have imparted will not be forgotten. We can only hope that success may crown your efforts in the future as it has in the past. And now classmates, we must part. Together we have toiled in the weary yet delightful paths of science. No more students shall we engage in friendly strife, but with kind regards for all, each will go in his way, and wonder at the cataract, we are called to see evidence of a divine Creator, and to trace Him throughout the universe. Now classmates, we have attained that for which we have long waited. We now are reaping the reward of past toil and labor. Let not the influence of this pass away with it, but let it burn fresh in your memories. Ours is the dream of life you will refer to it, and be urged on by its inspiration. Our Honored President: You have watched our successes and failures, and have urged us on to kindness and encouragement. Now our relations are about to change. The instructions you have imparted will not be forgotten. We can only hope that success may crown your efforts in the future as it has in the past. And now classmates, we must part. Together we have toiled in the weary yet delightful paths of science. No more students shall we engage in friendly strife, but with kind regards for all, each will go in his way, and wonder at the cataract, we are called to see evidence of a divine Creator, and to trace Him throughout the universe. Now classmates, we have attained that for which we have long waited. We now are reaping the reward of past toil and labor. Let not the influence of this pass away with it, but let it burn fresh in your memories. Ours is the dream of life you will refer to it, and be urged on by its inspiration. Our Honored President: You have watched our successes and failures, and have urged us on to kindness and encouragement. Now our relations are about to change. The instructions you have imparted will not be forgotten. We can only hope that success may crown your efforts in the future as it has in the past. And now classmates, we must part. Together we have toiled in the weary yet delightful paths of science. No more students shall we engage in friendly strife, but with kind regards for all, each will go in his way, and wonder at the cataract, we are called to see evidence of a divine Creator, and to trace Him throughout the universe. Now classmates, we have attained that for which we have long waited. We now are reaping the reward of past toil and labor. Let not the influence of this pass away with it, but let it burn fresh in your memories. Ours is the dream of life you will refer to it, and be urged on by its inspiration. Our Honored President: You have watched our successes and failures, and have urged us on to kindness and encouragement. Now our relations are about to change. The instructions you have imparted will not be forgotten. We can only hope that success may crown your efforts in the future as it has in the past. And now classmates, we must part. Together we have toiled in the weary yet delightful paths of science. No more students shall we engage in friendly strife, but with kind regards for all, each will go in his way, and wonder at the cataract, we are called to see evidence of a divine Creator, and to trace Him throughout the universe. Now classmates, we have attained that for which we have long waited. We now are reaping the reward of past toil and labor. Let not the influence of this pass away with it, but let it burn fresh in your memories. Ours is the dream of life you will refer to it, and be urged on by its inspiration. Our Honored President: You have watched our successes and failures, and have urged us on to kindness and encouragement. Now our relations are about to change. The instructions you have imparted will not be forgotten. We can only hope that success may crown your efforts in the future as it has in the past. And now classmates, we must part. Together we have toiled in the weary yet delightful paths of science. No more students shall we engage in friendly strife, but with kind regards for all, each will go in his way, and wonder at the cataract, we are called to see evidence of a divine Creator, and to trace Him throughout the universe. Now classmates, we have attained that for which we have long waited. We now are reaping the reward of past toil and labor. Let not the influence of this pass away with it, but let it burn fresh in your memories. Ours is the dream of life you will refer to it, and be urged on by its inspiration. Our Honored President: You have watched our successes and failures, and have urged us on to kindness and encouragement. Now our relations are about to change. The instructions you have imparted will not be forgotten. We can only hope that success may crown your efforts in the future as it has in the past. And now classmates, we must part. Together we have toiled in the weary yet delightful paths of science. No more students shall we engage in friendly strife, but with kind regards for all, each will go in his way, and wonder at the cataract, we are called to see evidence of a divine Creator, and to trace Him throughout the universe. Now classmates, we have attained that for which we have long waited. We now are reaping the reward of past toil and labor. Let not the influence of this pass away with it, but let it burn fresh in your memories. Ours is the dream of life you will refer to it, and be urged on by its inspiration. Our Honored President: You have watched our successes and failures, and have urged us on to kindness and encouragement. Now our relations are about to change. The instructions you have imparted will not be forgotten. We can only hope that success may crown your efforts in the future as it has in the past. And now classmates, we must part. Together we have toiled in the weary yet delightful paths of science. No more students shall we engage in friendly strife, but with kind regards for all, each will go in his way, and wonder at the cataract, we are called to see evidence of a divine Creator, and to trace Him throughout the universe. Now classmates, we have attained that for which we have long waited. We now are reaping the reward of past toil and labor. Let not the influence of this pass away with it, but let it burn fresh in your memories. Ours is the dream of life you will refer to it, and be urged on by its inspiration. Our Honored President: You have watched our successes and failures, and have urged us on to kindness and encouragement. Now our relations are about to change. The instructions you have imparted will not be forgotten. We can only hope that success may crown your efforts in the future as it has in the past. And now classmates, we must part. Together we have toiled in the weary yet delightful paths of science. No more students shall we engage in friendly strife, but with kind regards for all, each will go in his way, and wonder at the cataract, we are called to see evidence of a divine Creator, and to trace Him throughout the universe. Now classmates, we have attained that for which we have long waited. We now are reaping the reward of past toil and labor. Let not the influence of this pass away with it, but let it burn fresh in your memories. Ours is the dream of life you will refer to it, and be urged on by its inspiration. Our Honored President: You have watched our successes and failures, and have urged us on to kindness and encouragement. Now our relations are about to change. The instructions you have imparted will not be forgotten. We can only hope that success may crown your efforts in the future as it has in the past. And now classmates, we must part. Together we have toiled in the weary yet delightful paths of science. No more students shall we engage in friendly strife, but with kind regards for all, each will go in his way, and wonder at the cataract, we are called to see evidence of a divine Creator, and to trace Him throughout the universe. Now classmates, we have attained that for which we have long waited. We now are reaping the reward of past toil and labor. Let not the influence of this pass away with it, but let it burn fresh in your memories. Ours is the dream of life you will refer to it, and be urged on by its inspiration. Our Honored President: You have watched our successes and failures, and have urged us on to kindness and encouragement. Now our relations are about to change. The instructions you have imparted will not be forgotten. We can only hope that success may crown your efforts in the future as it has in the past. And now classmates, we must part. Together we have toiled in the weary yet delightful paths of science. No more students shall we engage in friendly strife, but with kind regards for all, each will go in his way, and wonder at the cataract, we are called to see evidence of a divine Creator, and to trace Him throughout the universe. Now classmates, we have attained that for which we have long waited. We now are reaping the reward of past toil and labor. Let not the influence of this pass away with it, but let it burn fresh in your memories. Ours is the dream of life you will refer to it, and be urged on by its inspiration. Our Honored President: You have watched our successes and failures, and have urged us on to kindness and encouragement. Now our relations are about to change. The instructions you have imparted will not be forgotten. We can only hope that success may crown your efforts in the future as it has in the past. And now classmates, we must part. Together we have toiled in the weary yet delightful paths of science. No more students shall we engage in friendly strife, but with kind regards for all, each will go in his way, and wonder at the cataract, we are called to see evidence of a divine Creator, and to trace Him throughout the universe. Now classmates, we have attained that for which we have long waited. We now are reaping the reward of past toil and labor. Let not the influence of this pass away with it, but let it burn fresh in your memories. Ours is the dream of life you will refer to it, and be urged on by its inspiration. Our Honored President: You have watched our successes and failures, and have urged us on to kindness and encouragement. Now our relations are about to change. The instructions you have imparted will not be forgotten. We can only hope that success may crown your efforts in the future as it has in the past. And now classmates, we must part. Together we have toiled in the weary yet delightful paths of science. No more students shall we engage in friendly strife, but with kind regards for all, each will go in his way, and wonder at the cataract, we are called to see evidence of a divine Creator, and to trace Him throughout the universe. Now classmates, we have attained that for which we have long waited. We now are reaping the reward of past toil and labor. Let not the influence of this pass away with it, but let it burn fresh in your memories. Ours is the dream of life you will refer to it, and be urged on by its inspiration. Our Honored President: You have watched our successes and failures, and have urged us on to kindness and encouragement. Now our relations are about to change. The instructions you have imparted will not be forgotten. We can only hope that success may crown your efforts in the future as it has in the past. And now classmates, we must part. Together we have toiled in the weary yet delightful paths of science. No more students shall we engage in friendly strife, but with kind regards for all, each will go in his way, and wonder at the cataract, we are called to see evidence of a divine Creator, and to trace Him throughout the universe. Now classmates, we have attained that for which we have long waited. We now are reaping the reward of past toil and labor. Let not the influence of this pass away with it, but let it burn fresh in your memories. Ours is the dream of life you will refer to it, and be urged on by its inspiration. Our Honored President: You have watched our successes and failures, and have urged us on to kindness and encouragement. Now our relations are about to change. The instructions you have imparted will not be forgotten. We can only hope that success may crown your efforts in the future as it has in the past. And now classmates, we must part. Together we have toiled in the weary yet delightful paths of science. No more students shall we engage in friendly strife, but with kind regards for all, each will go in his way, and wonder at the cataract, we are called to see evidence of a divine Creator, and to trace Him throughout the universe. Now classmates, we have attained that for which we have long waited. We now are reaping the reward of past toil and labor. Let not the influence of this pass away with it, but let it burn fresh in your memories. Ours is the dream of life you will refer to it, and be urged on by its inspiration. Our Honored President: You have watched our successes and failures, and have urged us on to kindness and encouragement. Now our relations are about to change. The instructions you have imparted will not be forgotten. We can only hope that success may crown your efforts in the future as it has in the past. And now classmates, we must part. Together we have toiled in the weary yet delightful paths of science. No more students shall we engage in friendly strife, but with kind regards for all, each will go in his way, and wonder at the cataract, we are called to see evidence of a divine Creator, and to trace Him throughout the universe. Now classmates, we have attained that for which we have long waited. We now are reaping the reward of past toil and labor. Let not the influence of this pass away with it, but let it burn fresh in your memories. Ours is the dream of life you will refer to it, and be urged on by its inspiration. Our Honored President: You have watched our successes and failures, and have urged us on to kindness and encouragement. Now our relations are about to change. The instructions you have imparted will not be forgotten. We can only hope that success may crown your efforts in the future as it has in the past. And now classmates, we must part. Together we have toiled in the weary yet delightful paths of science. No more students shall we engage in friendly strife, but with kind regards for all, each will go in his way, and wonder at the cataract, we are called to see evidence of a divine Creator, and to trace Him throughout the universe. Now classmates, we have attained that for which we have long waited. We now are reaping the reward of past toil and labor. Let not the influence of this pass away with it, but let it burn fresh in your memories. Ours is the dream of life you will refer to it, and be urged on by its inspiration. Our Honored President: You