Mr. E. L. Myris, collector for the Columbian, Will wait upon those indebted to this office for the purpose of receiving the amounts due. We trust that those indebted will be prepared to pay what they owe when he calls, but if not, they will again b called upon. It will scarcely be demanded of us to offer an apology for making collections, but for the satisfaction of those desiring it we will just say that as we have to pay each for every thing as we go our purse is not long or deep enough to hold out unless it is replenished with some degree of promptness.

The new Hall of Center Grange No. 56, in Center township, will be dedicated on the 21st day of August. Victor E. Piolett, Dr. M. Steck, Rev. Sharretta and Rev. The patrons of other Granges as well as the public generally, are cordially invited to attend; dinner will be served in the hall by the ladies. The Rupert Hotel was entered one night last week by burglars and after rummaging about for some time they left without taking anything worthy of mention. On the same night, and it Mr. W. M. Monroe, of the same place, was entered and a lot of silverware, consisting of knives, forks, spoons, &c., were carried away. As yet, nothing has been ascertained as to who the robbers are.

We are indebted to Col. Isaac Bruner, of Laport, for a liberal sample of Blackberry wine manufactured by him for medical purposes. It is perfectly pure and free from sediment, of excellent flavor and very palatable. Its tonic properties are superior, yet mild in its general effects, and is a most admirable remedy for summer complaints and other diseases peculiar to children during the hot season. It is sold by the proprietor in any quantity at the rate of $2-50 per gallon and is a most pleasant as well as cheap remedy in all cases where a tonic is beneficial.

The Minnequa Springs, on the line of the Northern Central railway, a few miles north of Williamsport, are becoming celebrated as a summer resort. The accommodations are represented to be all that can be desired, the enloyments ample and the water possessing extraordinary tonic merits and curative of rheumatie, dyspeptic and billious complaints. The attendance at the springs this season is unusually large, and the quality of the company, we take it, respectable. A few days or weeks of relaxation from business, especially in the heat of summer, is of great advantage to over-worked and closely confined men and women, and what they spend in going to an agreeable watering place they save in doctor bills and medicines, to say nothing of the increased strength and energy they acquire. Try Minnequa.

A NEW SWINDLING DODGE. The latest swindling dodge has been made public, the novelty and ingenuity of which is really admirable. The device consists in bring ing two telegrams and a signature book to wealthy man for his signature, the page of the book being so cut and underlaid with a blank check, that the signing of the name twice would give the elever operator a check both indersed and signed. A business man narrowly escap ed the trap, which failed for lack of a little forethought, as the paper beneath, not being secure ly fastened, slipped enough to attract attention is the name was being signed the second time This small circumstance defeated the pretty plan, and saved the discoverer a big deficit in his bank account. It is curious how much thought and ingenuity is expended in obtaining money by dishonest means, and how often the best laid plans are frustrated by a slight accident.-Erchange.

BASE BALL A game of base ball will be played on the Fair ground to-morrow afternoon (Saturday) between the Good-for-nothing nine and the Never Sweats, of Bloomsburg. The material composing the two nines is for the most part raw, but the came will no doubt be an interest ing one, and everybody interested in base ball should attend. The ground will be free to all who attend.

The O. K's, fulfilled an engagement with the The O. K's, were highly entertained at the Montour House by the Danville club after the game. The G. F. N. B. B. BERWICK. The Independent, published at Berwick grows eloquent over the beauties and excellencies of that borough, and we have only to add that we freely endorse all that it says, to wit:

There is not a town, perhaps, on the banks There is not a town, perhaps, on the banks of the Susquehanna river, from its fountain head in Osego county, N. Y., to its terminus in the Chesapeake bay, more desirably located than Berwick. For its elevated position, pure air, mountain scenery and general perspectiveness, it has few equals in the country, and all it requires to draw the tourists here who leave the large cities during the heated term, is a large and commodious hotel. From this could be observed the falls in the river at this place one hundred the falls in the river at this place one hundred feet beneath and at the same time scan the beauti-ful agricultural districts of Salem and Nescobeck townships in Luzerne county, and Briar-creek and Mifflin townships in Columbia county, with all their rural scenery and healthy retreats. In connection with these, an hour's drive over a pleasant road will bring you to Council Cup, a prominence that rises some seven hundred feet above the Susquehauma, whose windings are per-ceptible for many miles through a rich and fer-tile country, the sight of which is worth a voy-age across the Atlantic. We could speak of many more places or attractions, within a short drive over beautiful roads that lead out of Ber-wick in all directions, and if we had the facilities for accommodation as heretofore stated, we should be enabled to exclaim in the language of our Bloomsburg cotemporaries that "our town is filled with strangers." ominence that rises some seven hundred fee

Martial Deeds of Pennsylvania. Mr. Samuel P. Bates, who wrote the official history of the Pennsylvania Volunteers, has just ssued a new book entitled the Martial Deeds of Pennsylvania, which is said to be a work of much merit. We have not seen a copy, and though we are disposed to marvel whether a New Englander ould do justice to Pennsylvania history, the work is highly spoken of by critics who have examined it. By request we select the following from the published notices:

This book contains in a condensed way, the progress of events in the United States which ed to civil war—in no way partisan, but in a air, statesman—like manner, supported by cita-ions from leading public men on both sides o he controversy. It comprises the spirit of Pennsylvania history from the period of its settlement, and essays to clucidate all the prominent questions which have ntered into its progress in civil polity and marial resources.

It recounts many of the leading anecdotes of the late war, which now help to form a part of its history. The author has given biographies of the Officers in all branches of the service such as represented the grand old Keystone State in which the names of Hancock, Meade, Ord an in which the markets it manages, attack, or and a score of others figure largely and interestingly. Hairbreadth escapes and heartrending scenes are told and depicted, and in every sense the book has been got up to fill a wanting link in the history of our State as well as of our country

It is claimed that if every other book were blotted out of existence, this would reflect so com-pletely the spirit of Pennsylvania history, its origin, progress, education, physical features and resources, and more particulary the part Pennsylvania bore in the late war, and the real questions at issue, the reader could trace nearly every material fact, and in many respects it will serve to the general reader the purpose of a library. It is a work in which every inhabitant should feel a pride, illustrating, as it does, the glory and power of his good old Commonwealth. The work is embellished, with over 70 fine teel engraved portraits of Pennsylvania's sons a full-page steel engraving of the "Repulse of the Louisiana Tigers," on the evening of July 24, 1863, a steel engraving of "National Monu-ment at Gettysburg," and four maps showing the rout of the armies from Fredericksburg to Gettysourg, and their positions on each day of the bat-dle; all executed by the best artists in the country. This book will sell at $6.75, $8.75 and $15, according to style of binding. A. T. Davis & Co., publishers, 723 Sanson st. Philadelphia.

"These," he says "reach every family of the least account in their several counties, and are more carefully read than any other class of journals." If Mr. Siewart's judgment is of value, there is no difficulty in deciding which paper it is for the interest of business men to advertise in The Colemnia Democrat, upon which this paper is partially founded, was established in 1886, and the consumas now enjoys a wider circulation and vater prosperity than it ever did. It goes regular ly into two thousand families in Columbia and ad-joining counties, and by most of them is read from th first to the last line. It is the only recognised exponent of hearly five thousand Democratic voters in the county. It gives advertisements a tasty display, that makes them attractive to its patrops, thus farcest in the county, the advertising rates of the Columnan are no higher than those of other paper with barely half and several not one-fourth the number of subscribers. PURIFY THE SPRINGS OF LIFE.

It is a sine qua non of health, that the sources of itality, the "aprings of life," should be free from ntamination. The fluids which, by their action pon the food, transforms it into blood, and the reat vital nutriment itself, must be pure, if the neles, the benes and the train are to be proper ourished and kept vigorous.
