

Published weekly every Friday morning at No. 237 Broadway, New York, N.Y. For the year ending December 31, 1875, the price will be $5.00 in advance...

JOB PRINTING. The Printing Department of THE COLUMBIAN is very complete and well equipped. All work done on short notice and at moderate prices.

Columbia City Official Directory. President Judge—William Howell. Assessor—John A. Taylor. Police Commissioner—John A. Taylor.

Bloomsburg Official Directory. Bloomsburg Banking Company—John A. Fustion, President. H. L. Co. Cashier. C. W. Miller, Vice-President.

CHURCH DIRECTORY. BAPTIST CHURCH. Preaching—Rev. J. P. Thiel. Sabbath School—9:30 a.m. and 6 p.m. PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH. Preaching—Rev. J. P. Thiel.

DAVID LOWENBERG, Merchant Tailor. HENRY KLEIN, Manufacturer and dealer in boots and shoes. J. R. EVANS, M. D., Surgeon and Physician.

BLOOMSBURG HOTEL. B. STÖHNER, Proprietor. Accommodations First-Class—$1.25 per day. Restaurant attached.

VULCAN IRON WORKS. DANVILLE, MONROE COUNTY, PA. WILLIAM H. LAW, Manufacturer of Sheet Iron, Bridges, Castings, etc.

BLOOMSBURG TANNERY. G. A. HERRING. Respects fully announces to the public that he has reopened his establishment.

CONFESIONS OF A VICTIM. Published in a new and striking manner in a small tract. Sent free on receipt of a postal note for 10 cents.

ORANGEVILLE DIRECTORY. A. B. HEARING, Carpenter and builder. D. O. A. MERRILL, Physician and Surgeon.

NEW MUSIC STORE. OPERA HOUSE, 3d ROOM, BLOOMSBURG, PA. B. H. STRICKLAND. Respectfully informs the public that he has opened a New Music Store in the Bloomsburg Opera House.

W. M. Y. KESTER, TAILOR. BLOOMSBURG, PA. H. B. SHREVE, Attorney-at-Law. Office in the city building.

KEYSTONE CARRIAGE WORKS! BLOOMSBURG, PENN. A. S. CROSSLEY has on hand and for sale cheaply and on reasonable terms.

BUGGY & CARRIAGE MANUFACTORY. LIGHT STREET. BLOOMSBURG, PENN. H. F. OMAN hereby informs the public that he has removed from the city of Bloomsburg.

A GREAT STRIDE! Up and Over Old Methods found to be faulty or objectionable, discarded! A NEW AND VASTLY ADVANTAGEOUS PLAN HEREBY ADOPTED BY G. M. & J. K. LOCKARD.

Plows and Threshing Machines, and all kinds of CASTING and MACHINE WORK. REPAIRING promptly attended to.

TREES SEEDS. BULBS. N. YORK TRIBUNE—THE LEAD-ING AMERICAN NEWSPAPER. Published every day, except on Sundays and public holidays.

The Columbian.

BLOOMSBURG, PA., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 24, 1875.

making small wheels and shafts, and putting together odd contrivances, which he would exhibit with immense pride and satisfaction. This peculiar trait in the young fellow gained for him the humorous title of the "inventor." All the men felt a great kindness for him, even though their manner toward him was occasionally harsh and impatient.

Such was the person left to help watch the great blast for the casting of the king bell of the chime of St. John's. Faithfully he kept his place before the furnace, while the man George sat down at a little distance and began to eat his supper. Doubtless the latter intended to keep a general oversight, but he certainly made the inventor's eyes doze in the most agreeable manner.

George finished his supper, and snatched into one of the tool shops to fill his pipe. The inventor sat alone before the great blast, an obedient but somewhat nervous attendant. He had recovered his reason, and was fast getting back his strength. His large gray eyes instantly fastened themselves on the bell, that splendid masterpiece, whose making meant so much to him.

Where was George? Was the unfaithful fellow still hunting for his pipe? The furnace was bustling, with only a poor, half-idiot lad to guard it. What could he do? He did not perhaps know the name of his pipe, but he had heard that the inventor had a pipe of his own, and he had heard that the inventor had a pipe of his own.

The town clock struck six. It was time for supper. All the men threw down their tools, and ran and put on their outer clothing. "He has had a bad day's work," cried the inventor, "and he will need a good supper."

"All right, sir!" cried the men in response. "He has had a bad day's work," cried the inventor, "and he will need a good supper." The young fellow looked stupidly around at the men, who had more to stake than he, and he had no more to lose.

"Don't take your eyes off it!" cried the inventor, "and he will need a good supper." The young fellow looked stupidly around at the men, who had more to stake than he, and he had no more to lose. "He has had a bad day's work," cried the inventor, "and he will need a good supper."

"He has had a bad day's work," cried the inventor, "and he will need a good supper." The young fellow looked stupidly around at the men, who had more to stake than he, and he had no more to lose. "He has had a bad day's work," cried the inventor, "and he will need a good supper."

"He has had a bad day's work," cried the inventor, "and he will need a good supper." The young fellow looked stupidly around at the men, who had more to stake than he, and he had no more to lose. "He has had a bad day's work," cried the inventor, "and he will need a good supper."

With some interest they listened to the inventor's account of the work he had done. They found that he was a very clever fellow, and they were much interested in his work. They found that he was a very clever fellow, and they were much interested in his work.

"Come with me, two or three of you!" cried the master. "I think I know who you are. It's a miracle!" They hurried away to the home of the half-wit boy. The attendant met them with his finger on her lips.

"This is the greatest producer of coffee that known in the trade as Rio is a Brazilian coffee. Of the 718,000,000 pounds produced by the world per annum, Brazil furnishes 400,000,000, or more than one half of the whole."

"You shall see," said the inventor, "and they were much interested in his work. They found that he was a very clever fellow, and they were much interested in his work. They found that he was a very clever fellow, and they were much interested in his work."

"He has had a bad day's work," cried the inventor, "and he will need a good supper." The young fellow looked stupidly around at the men, who had more to stake than he, and he had no more to lose. "He has had a bad day's work," cried the inventor, "and he will need a good supper."

"He has had a bad day's work," cried the inventor, "and he will need a good supper." The young fellow looked stupidly around at the men, who had more to stake than he, and he had no more to lose. "He has had a bad day's work," cried the inventor, "and he will need a good supper."

"He has had a bad day's work," cried the inventor, "and he will need a good supper." The young fellow looked stupidly around at the men, who had more to stake than he, and he had no more to lose. "He has had a bad day's work," cried the inventor, "and he will need a good supper."

"He has had a bad day's work," cried the inventor, "and he will need a good supper." The young fellow looked stupidly around at the men, who had more to stake than he, and he had no more to lose. "He has had a bad day's work," cried the inventor, "and he will need a good supper."

"He has had a bad day's work," cried the inventor, "and he will need a good supper." The young fellow looked stupidly around at the men, who had more to stake than he, and he had no more to lose. "He has had a bad day's work," cried the inventor, "and he will need a good supper."

RATES OF ADVERTISING. One line, twelve times or the equivalent in larger space. Daily, per line, 10 cents. Weekly, per line, 50 cents.

Greenland Dogs. Two of these dogs drag as much as one man. Nothing can be more exhilarating than dog sledding in the Arctic regions on a fine day.

Where Perfumes Come From. Our fair readers may be interested to learn where, for the most part, perfumes, essences, and other articles of the kind are made.

Shearn's Opinion of Grant. "Grant was a man of a high order of intellect, and a man of a high order of character. He was a man of a high order of intellect, and a man of a high order of character."

The Dismissal of McClellan. (From the Count de Paris' new volume.) On the 7th of November, at evening, in a storm of snow early for the climate, McClellan found himself under arrest with General Burnside.

A Good Word for the Blackbirds. A farmer writes from Wood's Hole to the Boston Advertiser: "A few days ago, as the barley in my field was ripening, the blackbirds began to gather about it, and my farmer began to antagonize them as thieves and robbers, feeding upon what they did not sow."

The World is Full of Sunshine and Beauty. "It is right, most and our bonny duty," that should open our hearts to all the soothing, healing, invigorating influences of the sky that bends over us in changing loveliness.

Some persons seem to forget that mere talking is not conversing; that it requires two to make a conversation, and that each must in a turn be listener, but no one can be an agreeable companion who is not as willing to listen as to talk.

There is something soothing and delightful in the recollection of a pure-minded woman's affection. It is the oasis in the desert of a worldly man's life, to which his feelings turn for refreshment when wearied with the unalloyed passion of this working-day world.

There is something soothing and delightful in the recollection of a pure-minded woman's affection. It is the oasis in the desert of a worldly man's life, to which his feelings turn for refreshment when wearied with the unalloyed passion of this working-day world.