Subscribers who have paid the retiring editor of the COLUMBIAN in advance will be credited with the amount on the books of Brockway & Elwell. The new firm will also fill all advertising contracts.

NOTICE.

All contracts made by Mr. Diefenbach for advertisements, and pre paid subscriptions will be carried out by the present proprietors of this paper. Business cards in the directory will be continued, at the old rates, unless otherwise ordered, and will date from Oct. 1st, 1875. Indebtedness to the COLUMBIAN on any account from July 1st, 1873, to Oct. 1st, 1875, will settle with Mr. Diefenbach. Persons desiring to stop their paper, if any, and those wishing to subscribe or to have their post office changed, will please notify us at once. The paper will be continued to old subscribers unless otherwise ordered. Owing to the great amount of work incident upon taking charge of the office we have not had time to change the dates on the printed directions. Next week they will be changed to Oct. 8th, 1875.

Our legal duties will not be neglected by reason of our having taken charge of this paper One member of the firm, and both, when necessary, will constantly look after the interests of our clients.

Natchintown, beyond Catawissa, is improving and may soon rival its neighbor.

A new version of an old song—"Boys, boys, boys, the tramps are marching."

Our genial friend, John Schatz, of Montgomery county, is in our neighborhood buying cows.

Hemlock promises to do better than ever. She wishes to regain the delegate she lost in 1872.

The silence of the Republicans in this county is truly commendable, for what can they say for themselves?

SNOW.—We are informed that on last Tuesday morning there were four inches of snow on the North Mountain.

The real estate of Adam Gable, located in Locust township, was sold on Saturday last to Peter Hower for $2,000.

By the last number of the Benton Weekly we observe that E. E. Orvis, Esq, has withdrawn from that institution as a partner.

The epizootic is here again, in a milder form, however, than before. Many horses in town, and through the county are suffering from it.

Some of our contemporaries say that the Governor elected this year will serve four years. He will not do so until after the election of 1878.

The voters of our county are getting aroused, and the meetings already held have been successful. Let every vote be polled and we will secure 2,200 majority for Pershing and Piollet.

Jacob S. Evans will sell at public sale on the 28th inst. at his residence in Greenwood township, a large lot of stock, farming utensils, and other things pertaining to a well-kept farm.

Lycoming county juries pass away the time when nothing else is to do by pitching pennies. We witnessed this operation the other day from our office windows.—Exchange.

Our jobbing department is complete. Any kind of work from the smallest cards to the largest posters printed in the neatest manner on short notice. In prices we are ready to compete with any establishment in the county.

MUSIC.—On Monday last an itinerant band of musicians with four horns (brass,) travelled our streets, and by hard blowing and some excellent music, depleted the pockets of some of our liberal citizens of stray nickels and coppers.

A NEW PENITENTIARY.—The Gazette & Bulletin wants a "prosperous, well managed penitentiary" at Williamsport. We suppose the people of Lycoming will agree to fill it with their own citizens, so as to make it "prosperous."

Col. Piollet will address Turbot Grange, No. 249, on Saturday, Oct. 16th, on the fair grounds of the Milton and Pleasant Valley Agricultural Society. It is to be a basket pic-nic, and of course there will be plenty to eat, and lots of good talk.

DEMOCRATIC BANNER.—The standing committee, at their last meeting, decided to present a fine banner to the township showing the largest percentage of gain on the vote for Governor this year compared with the vote cast for Lieutenant Governor in 1874.

As this is the stove pipe season, we give the following excellent suggestion from an exchange:

In putting up stove pipe remember that the elbow was made to fit the oven door, and that six blows from an axe will knock thunder and lightning out of any joint.

The new M. E. church, near White's school house, in Orangeville circuit, will be dedicated on the 31st of October. Rev. J. J. Pearce, of Williamsport, and Rev N. S. Buckingham, presiding elder of Danville district, will officiate on the occasion. A cordial invitation is extended to all. F. GEARHART, Pastor.

Mr Clark, president of the Pershing Club at this place, has appointed as an executive committee the following named gentlemen: John B. Casey, Andrew Sollheder, J. M. Clark, M. M. Russel and Henry Yost. We failed to mention last week that George Hassert and Jacob R. Graul had been elected vice presidents of our club.

The Centennial Dramatic Association gave a creditable entertainment at the Opera House last night, in the presentation of "The Hidden Hand." This evening they will all appear as "The Handsome Husband," to be followed by a farce. As the material of the Association is made up entirely of home talent, they ought to be liberally patronized.

Mr. H. A. Steen has eighty scholars in his department, all of whom he is supposed to oversee, look and instruct during school hours.—Berwick Independent.

The gentleman above named is well known here. From his success in teaching in our schools, we have no doubt that he fills his present contract to the entire satisfaction of every body.

DEMOCRATIC MEETINGS.—In addition to meetings already announced, there will be meetings held as follows:

At Catawissa, in Masonic Hall, on Tuesday evening, Oct. 19th.

At Buckhorn, in school house, on Monday evening, Oct. 25th.

At Mifflin Cross Roads, Beaver township, on Tuesday, Oct. 26th.

The jury in the case of Joseph Yankirk vs. the Philadelphia & Erie railroad, tried last week in the Snyder County court rendered a verdict in favor of the plaintiff, and gave him $3,000 damages. The suit was brought for being forcibly ejected from a passenger train some five years ago, after he had given his ticket to the conductor.—Northumberland Press

We congratulate Uncle Joe, and will stop with him the next time we go to Northumberland.

We regret to announce the death of William Buckley and Thomas Maxwell two prominent citizens of Danville.

The Democratic and Republican senatorial conferences are in session at the Exchange Hotel. We hope to be enabled to announce the nomination of Mr. Barkley next week.

There will be a Democratic meeting held at the Opera House tomorrow (Saturday) evening, at 7½ o'clock, when the Hon. C. R. Buckalew will discuss the issues of the campaign. All citizens interested in the welfare of the Commonwealth are invited to attend.

The Columbia County fair closes today. It is accompanied with the usual number of sideshows, horse races, and swindling vendors of useless articles that has characterized it for years. Whether it has proven a success financially or not we are unable to say at this writing.

The Bloomsburg Sentinel prints this week a report of the Sunday School Convention, which report appeared in the COLUMBIAN last week. All right, neighbor, we are willing you should borrow from us occasionally, so that your readers may have a little news once in a while, but when an article appears over the initials of our reporter, we would like to have credit for it.

A little child of Franklin Keller's, on Iron street, on Tuesday last fell into a kettle of hot water which had been placed on the floor. The child was left asleep in the room, and the members of the family who had stepped out for a moment were hastily summoned by the screams of the child. It had awakened and by some means fallen into the kettle. Its injuries are serious, and little hopes are entertained of its recovery.

A child of Mr. Wash. Shearman, who resides at Black Creek, Luzerne county, had his finger severely crushed with an axe on Tuesday, Oct. 7th. The doctor was sent for a day afterward, but as mortification had already set in it was too late to save the finger. It was amputated successfully by Dr. L. S. Creasy, of Mifflinville, Columbia county. The child was about two and a half years old. It is now getting along finely.

SUICIDE.—At Aspinwall Corners, Columbia township, Mr. George Fairbanks cut his throat with a jackknife, so successfully carrying out his intentions that he died on Thursday night of last week. The jugular vein was parted. He had been out of his head for some time and no good reason can be assigned for his self destruction, except for causes arising from his aberration. He was a man of considerable means, and left a wife and two children.—Bradford Argus.

We noticed last week the death of Charles Ray, of Sunbury, who was killed on the cars at Lime Ridge. We clip the following from the Northumberland Public Press:

The Coroner's Jury decided that the unfortunate man was shot before being run over. He went out on his train on Tuesday evening, and should have been back to Sunbury at 9 o'clock on Wednesday evening. He was not missed from the train until it had run about 20 miles this side of Lime Ridge, when they went back for him and found him cut to pieces.

On Monday last, the 11th inst, Samuel Bogart who was committed to jail for the killing of his father-in-law, W. A. Kline, a few weeks since, was brought before Judge Elwell and Associate Judge Monroe on a writ of Habeas Corpus. The examination occupied much of the day, and a large number of people were in attendance. We refrain from giving any of the testimony as the case will probably be tried in December. The result of the hearing was that Bogart was held in $10,000 bail, which being furnished he was ordered to be released.

THAT OPINION.—Judge Elwell's late opinion, delivered at the last session of the county court, on the subject of the discretionary power in the courts on the question of granting hotel licenses, in which he holds different views from other Judges in the matter, has elicited much comment. The general conflict is that Judge Elwell is right. Our chief, who assisted to pass the law, says that he is satisfied that such was the intention of its framers.—Danville Intelligencer.

We can now breathe easy. We may have had some doubts before, but now that Judge Elwell is sustained by Captain Chalfant, we feel assured of the correctness of the decision.

The Democratic managers of this senatorial district are getting somewhat anxious about the attitude of the Hon. Thomas Chalfant, of Montour. Mr. Chalfant is a peculiar politician to deal with, and when he has a good thing for a while, he, like Oliver Twist, wants more. He is now firmly of the belief that he is entitled to the senatorial nomination for another term, notwithstanding there are three anxious patriots waiting around for a slice of the same loaf. There is a general feeling that Chalfant would enjoy a Republican nomination—which he certainly cannot get—in the event that the conference at Bloomsburg next week does not put him on the ticket.—Gaz. & Bul. (Rep.)

On Saturday afternoon of last week, as Dr. Turner was about to get in his buggy in front of Lutz & Sloan's, the horse suddenly took fright and started up the alley by the Court House on a keen jump. The wagon was left at the door of Alstatt's barber shop, and the horse was caught at the head of the alley. In its short run it caused quite an excitement, and if a certain gentleman who was coming down the alley had not placed himself pretty rapidly inside the Court House fence, the Democratic Standing Committee might have been without a Chairman. We understand the Dr. hitched his horse up to another vehicle immediately and finished his ride.

ACCIDENT.—Last Friday Clarence Billmeyer, son of Charles Billmeyer, of Liberty township, this county, met with a terrible accident which may yet result in death. In placing a rifle that he had been using back into a corner it struck the trigger of another gun standing there with others and discharged it. The load from the gun struck young Billmeyer in the head near the eyebrow, tearing away a passage through the frontal bone. On examination it was found that the wound left a portion of the brain uncovered, and indeed it is feared that a small portion of it was carried away. Dr. McCreary, of Milton, who attends the wounded man, says that although old medical testimony declares such a wound necessarily fatal, nevertheless he had seen, while acting as surgeon in the army, cases where there had been slight loss of brain, and yet the patient recovered. The wounded man lies in a very precarious state. Should inflammation supervene no doubt the result will be fatal; otherwise by great care and attention he may recover. He bears the reputation of being a very worthy young man.—Danville Intelligencer

Now that the heated summer evenings have passed, it is just the time for entertainments at the Opera House, and the particular one of which we propose to speak is for an object in which the sympathies and pocket-books of every citizen of Bloomsburg ought to be enlisted. The immediate rebuilding of the Normal School dormitory depends greatly upon the amount of money that can be raised for that purpose, and it is therefore our duty as citizens to put our shoulders to the wheel and assist the enterprise in every possible manner. We have plenty of home talent, competent to give an excellent entertainment, and we suggest that this talent be utilized in giving a concert in the Opera House for the purpose of raising funds for the Normal School. A musical performance could be presented with less trouble than any other kind, as the several church choirs and the many other musicians of the town would furnish ample material. It would be less expensive than a dramatic performance, and much more satisfactory than a festival. Do not let this suggestion fall on deaf ears, but discuss it and carry it through, and we predict that the interest of this community in the prosperity of the School will be manifested by a packed house.

COMMUNICATIONS.—A mass of communications is before us, but our correspondents should understand that we cannot surrender all our space to them in stirring times like these. The following one is short, however, to the point, and coming from our distinguished County Superintendent, we give it as written:

ORANGEVILLE, Col. Co., Pa., Oct. 7th, 1875.
To the editor of the COLUMBIAN.

Dear sir: As I am taking too many county papers at present, I therefore request you to discontinue sending me the COLUMBIAN till I discontinue some of the rest. By so doing you will oblige WM. H. SNYDER.

Yours respectfully, &c.,

The economy of Mr. Snyder is commendable, although the matter has just occurred to him. On account of hard times his salary has only been increased to $1,200. Of course his arduous labors during the school year entitle him to $200 per annum more than Mr. Barkley, his predecessor, received.

DEMOCRATIC MEETINGS.

The campaign opened in this county on Monday evening last at Buckhorn and Light Street.

At the former meeting there was a large attendance, notwithstanding the short notice. Charles Neihart was selected as president of the meeting, and J. S. Grimes secretary.

W. J. Buckalew, chairman of the Standing Committee, addressed the crowd, stating the issues of the campaign, and defining the position of our candidates. He was followed by C. R. Brockway and W. H. Shoemaker. Hemlock will do well.

The Espy meeting was well attended, and organized by electing Peter Ent president. It was addressed in an able manner by Hon. George D. Jackson, B. F. Zarr, Esq., and Hon. C. R. Buckalew. Scott will keep her third delegate and do well in November. In fact, it always was a safe township, and contains some of our most active Democrats.

A Democratic meeting was held at Dietterick's school house in Montour township on last Tuesday evening. The attendance was fair, and excellent addresses were delivered by B. Frank Zarr and E. E. Orvis, Esqs. The corruption in the administration of the government, and the finance question were fully discussed.

The meeting at the Half-way House in Centre township, was well attended, and the vital issues of the day were fully discussed by W. J. Buckalew and C. R. Brockway. Joseph Pohe presided. He is now aged 85 years, fought in the war of 1812, and is yet hale and vigorous, and will be early at the polls in November.

THE ALLENTOWN FAIR.—It was the best we ever saw. Beautifully shaded grounds, fountains, handsome and permanent buildings which protected the goods displayed, and acres of people. It showed what liberal advertising would do. They let the people of the County and State know that they were going to have a good exhibition; and in fact excelled even the State fair.

The senior Editor of the COLUMBIAN was there to address a political meeting. In speaking of it the Allentown Democrat says:

The meeting on the opposite side of the square was presided over by Hon. Samuel A. Bridges—a most excellent choice. He in a short speech, pointed effective, introduced as the first speaker Capt. C. R. Brockway, of Columbia county, who after a few prefatory remarks launched forth into the issues connected with the present canvass. He was most happy and elegant in his remarks. His argument was calm, earnest, dignified, full of facts, making points against the Radical party which were unanswerable and which laid bare the hypocrisy and scoundrelism of that rotten and corrupt organization. His exposition of the financial question was clear, thorough and convincing. Every one present was made to feel the outrages being perpetrated upon the laboring people by the present system of our finances, where millions and millions go untaxed at the expense of those who are compelled to labor. He reviewed all the vital questions at issue in a statesman-like manner to the satisfaction of all who were unbiased, and who were not so wedded to the prevailing prejudices of the Radical party as to banish their good sense and judgment. His speech was greeted with great applause.

LOYALTY TO JOHN BARLEYCORN.

When John Barleycorn once gets a subject he generally keeps him. Now and then one breaks away, and ever after treads softly for fear of falling. The little army who have deserted the ranks have a fight for a lifetime before them.

The nephew of the late Thad. Stephens was in the habit of taking a drop too much. Indeed considering his weakness, one drop was always too much. The "Great commoner" had no notion of leaving his money to be spent in guzzling whisky. So he provided in his will that his nephew should have a considerable part of his estate provided he remained temperate for six years; that is, did not once wet his whistle in all that time with old Bourbon. The nephew started out, but has already stumbled in his cold water race and has probably lost his fortune. He should have gone to an inebriate asylum and made a contract with the keeper that for six years only cold water should have dominion over him and soak him internally. At the expiration of that time he would have been in splendid condition to enjoy his fortune. As the case now stands he is probably doomed to cheap whisky all his days, and a fortune goes in some other channel. Here is a poor fellow, who could not be hired for a matter of a quarter of a million to "purge and live cleanly" for six years What a tyrant reigns under the plausible exterior of JOHN BARLEYCORN.

The Pittston Gazet furnishes its readers with the following historical sketch of the enterprising village of Berwick:

Nearly a hundred years ago Evan Owens, a Scotchman of some means, came up the river in a periguan from Harrisburg, and finding it difficult to ascend the Nescopec falls, landed upon the western shore and encamped for the night. In the morning a partial survey was made, and Mr. Owens concluded to locate there. He was from Berwick-upon-the-Tweed, and when his town was laid out, naturally it received the name of the place of his nativity.

In the old stage coach days Berwick was an important relay between Easton and Towanda, Northumberland and Owego. But as railroads, lager beer and other improvements were introduced into the country, Berwick became isolated, in common parlance was "knocked higher than a kite," so far as business and prosperity were concerned. It was a dear, dead old town, until the Jackson & Woodin Manufacturing Company took it in their hands. Now it is one of the most thriving towns between Pittson and Harrisburg. A rolling mill, the largest car and car wheel manufactory in the State are among its substantial means for further development. With few advantages, here is an example by which our Pittston capitalists might learn a lesson. If Berwick, without coal or iron in its immediate neighborhood, can reach such a degree of prosperity, what is there not possible for Pittston to accomplish, where all these means are available.

HOW TO TREAT THE NEW HORSE MALADY.—The appearance of a recent horse malady, the origin of which is not yet determined, but in its operation is said to be different from the once famous epizooty, and the likelihood of its becoming epidemic, induces an eminent veterinary surgeon to make public the following remedy for the new disease: "In the first place, when the primary symptoms present themselves apply a strong solution of camphor to the nose of the animal on a sponge, internally administering twenty drops of the tincture of the aconite root in an ounce of water every hour for eight or ten hours, followed by twenty grains boracic acid in warm water, externally applying mustard and flax seed poultices to the throat every three hours. Where there is much irritation in the throat, with coughing, give ten drops of the tincture of belladona every hour alternately with the tincture of aconite. Soft food and a stable temperature of seventy degrees are indispensable. The disease is essentially of cryptogamic origin and can only be overcome by such agents as act directly and specifically upon the sporic development.

OBITUARY.

MRS. MARGARET SLOAN.

After a lingering illness of several years, early on Thursday morning the 7th inst, Mrs. Margaret Sloan passed to her final reward. She will be remembered the widow of the late Major William Sloan, who was one of the pioneers of our town and among the first to enter upon business enterprises here, being the founder of the widely known Carriage Manufactory now carried on by his sons under the firm name of M. C. Sloan & Brother.

Though for a long time a sufferer with the disease that terminated her life, it may be said that Mrs. Sloan set an example of patient endurance and cheerful resignation seldom met with in these days of "the suspense of faith." In all things that strictly concerned her soul's salvation her faith was not only well founded, but it was well built up into the whole structure of her life by daily exercise. During the last four or five years of her life she was unable to go up to the House of the Lord to engage with God's people in the public services of the sanctuary, but in private devotions at the family altar, in which she always joined with heart and voice, the simplicity of her soul was most beautifully displayed. She was "a mother in Israel" whose heart did not grow weary in "waiting for the consolation," and in whose eyes tears of joy would often stand when "the glory that shall be revealed, was spoken of as the christian's hope. She was brought up under the influence of the teachings of the Presbyterian Church, but some fifteen or sixteen years ago she connected herself with the Protestant Episcopal Church, and received the rite of Confirmation.

Mrs. Sloan was born in Bloomsburg in 1803, and at the time of her death was about 73 years old. All her days were spent here, and with her has passed away another of those who have witnessed the many changes of nearly three-quarters of a century in this community. She left a large circle of relatives and friends who will cherish her memory as "the memory of the just" which "is blessed."

The funeral ceremonies were held in St. Paul's Episcopal Church, and were attended by a large concourse of people.

The remains were interred in Rosemount Cemetery.

MISS CATHARINE BEIDLEMAN.

The subject of this notice was the daughter of Elias and Catharine Beidleman, and sister of Jacob Beidleman of Bloomsburg, she was born in Northampton county March 10, 1805. Her health had appeared to be reasonably good, but on the 1st inst she was suddenly stricken down, and on the 4th her spirit passed to the God who gave it. She was a member of the Lutheran Church, having been baptized in infancy, and confirmed in early life by the Rev. Wm. Mensing of Cherryville, Northampton county. Her faith in her Savior never faltered, and she died in the hope of the faithful. Her remains were buried in Rosemont Cemetery on Friday last. Thus one by one, with the falling leaves, is a generation passing away.

SUSAN KINNEY.

Miss Kinney died at the residence of Mrs. Robbins in this place, on Saturday Oct. 9th, aged 72 years 1 month and 9 days. At an early age she came from Northampton county to Hemlock Township, and recently removed to this place. She was well known in our community and highly respected.

The constant increase in sales of the Singer Sewing Machines in 1874 (when they sold two hundred and forty-one thousand machines in one year) shows that families have learned their real merits and advantages over all others, and buy two thousand a week more Singers than of any other make.

They having received the first premium by the regularly appointed and competent judges at a former Fair of this county the machines will this year be shown at the office in the Opera House where as good or better work will be done than by any machine on the Fair ground. Oct. 8 2w

HELP TO MOTHERS NURSING INFANTS.—It is a conceded fact that mothers who have the care, anxiety and draught of nursing infants are weak and need the aid of some stregthening tonic to make up the nourishment required for the growth of the child. Ale, porter, and lager beer have often been recommended. Of late, since physicians have become aware that Port Grape Wine produced by Alfred Speer, of Passaic, N. J., is strictly pure they have prescribed it instead of ale and porter. This wine is principally sought for by mothers who have nursing infants as the best supply medium to be found. The wine is rich in body and not intoxicating but gently stimulating. Druggists generally keep it, and sell it for a dollar a bottle.—Enquirer.

TOWN AND COUNTRY.

WHERE TO ADVERTISE.

A. T. Stewart says the best advertising mediums he has ever found "are the old established organs of the two political parties, at the several county seats throughout the Union." "These," he says "reach every family of the least account in their several counties, and are more carefully read than any other class of journals." If Mr. Stewart's judgment is of value, there is no difficulty in deciding which paper it is for the interest of business men to advertise in. The COLUMBIA DEMOCRAT, upon which this paper is partially founded, was established in 1836, and the COLUMBIAN now enjoys a wider circulation and greater prosperity than it ever did. It goes regularly into two thousand families in Columbia and adjoining counties, and by most of them is read from its first to the last line. It is the only recognized exponent of nearly five thousand Democratic voters in the county. It gives advertisements a fair display, that makes them attractive to its patrons, thus ensuring greater certainty that they will peruse them. While its circulation is undoubtedly much the largest in the county, the advertising rates of the COLUMBIAN are no higher than those of other papers with barely half and several not one-fourth the number of subscribers. Facts like these speak for themselves. No shrewd business man will neglect to insert his advertisements in the COLUMBIAN tf.

THE BEST PRINTING OFFICE.

The present is a good opportunity to remind the friends of the paper, and the public generally, that the COLUMBIAN JOB PRINTING OFFICE has no superior in this section, and, in some respects, is without an equal. During the last year we have completely renewed our types and made large additions, and it is no idle boast to say that we have now the Best Dresses, the Best Assortment of Type, the Best Stock of Paper, Cards, &c., and the Best Workmen in the country. Our workmen are specially adapted for their places, and we make it a point to always give our customers a neat, correct and satisfactory job.—We do not claim to do work for less than others, but will warrant it to be as cheap as can be done anywhere and yield a decent profit. All who are in need of Job Printing of any kind—Plain or in Colors—will find it to their interest to give the COLUMBIAN Office a trial. We have on hand every variety of Cards, Paper, Ink, Envelopes, Tags, &c., that is likely to be called for, and can furnish any quantity or style of work on short notice. Bladders to order. tf.

Health, the poor man's riches, the rich man's bliss is found in AYER'S MEDICINES, after a fruitless search among other remedies. A word to the wise is sufficient.

The Blood owes its red color to minute globules which float in that fluid, and contain in a healthy person, a large amount of Iron, which gives vitality to the blood. The Peruvian Syrup supplies the blood with this vital element, and gives strength and vigor to the whole system.

DYSPEPSIA. DYSPEPSIA. DYSPEPSIA.

Dyspepsia is the most perplexing of all human ailments. Its symptoms are almost infinite in their variety, and the forlorn and despondent victims of the disease often fancy themselves the prey, in turn of every known malady. This is due, in part, to the close sympathy which exists between the stomach and the brain, and in part also to the fact that any disturbance of the digestive function necessarily disorders the liver, the bowels and the nervous system, and effects, to some extent, the quality of the blood.

E. F. Kunkel's Bitter Wine of Iron a sure cure. This is not a new preparation, to be tried and found wanting; it has been prescribed daily for many years in the practice of eminent physicians with unparalled success; it is not expected or intended to cure all the diseases to which the human family is subject, but is warranted to cure Dyspepsia in its most obstinate form. Kunkel's Bitter Wine of Iron never fails to cure. Symptoms of Dyspepsia are loss of appetite, wind and rising of food, dryness in mouth, heartburn, distension of the stomach and bowels, constipation, headache, dizziness, sleeplessness and low spirits. Try the great remedy and be convinced of its merits. Get the genuine. Take only Kunkel's, which is put only in $1 bottles. Depot, 29 North Ninth St., Philadelphia.

For sale by all druggists and dealers everywhere.

TAPE WORM

Entirely removed with purely vegetable medicine, passing from the system alive. No fee until the head passes. Come and refer to patients treated. Dr. E. F. Kunkel, No 29 North Ninth St., Philadelphia. Advice free. Scald Pin and Seatworm Powders also removed. The medicine for removing all others but Tape Worm, can be had of your druggist, ask for KUNKEL'S WORM SYRUP. Price $1. E. F. Kunkel Philadelphia, Pa.

AN IMPORTANT FACT.

The voluntary testimony of thousands establishes beyond all doubt a fact of vital importance to the sick and debilitated, viz, that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is an absolute specific for remittent and intermittent fever, dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness, mental depression, sleeplessness, chronic diarrhœa, and all diseases of the stomach, liver, and bowels. The unmedicated stimulants usually prescribed in these cases only aggravate the symptoms, instead of removing them. The Bitters on the contrary, act as a corrective and invigorant, without producing the unpleasant and dangerous consequences of the old school practice. The action is mild and soothing to the irritated stomach and bowels, promoting digestion and preventing flatulency, nausea, heartburn and all intestinal irregularities. A wineglassful before meals greatly assists digestion. The convalescent may use them with great benefit, as a means of restoring strength and cheerfulness.

THE GREAT ANTI-PERIODIC

The certainty and promptitude with which Hostetter's Stomach Bitters conquer the most obstinate cases of malarial disease, and the complete protection which they afford the system against the miasmatic poison which impregnates the air of low-lying, marshy localities, stamp them as the foremost of American antiperiodics. Wherever on this continent fever and ague is a regular visitant—in the bottom lands of the South, the new clearings and mining districts of the West, and in all localities in the Eastern and Middle States where malaria prevails, the Bitters are recognized as the only true specific for the disease, and its most reliable preventive. They are, moreover, a safe and agreeable as well as a certain remedy, and on this account are immeasurably superior to the preparations of quinine, arsenic, bismuth, and other mineral poisons mistakenly administered as curatives for maladies caused by miasma, and which if persisted in work irreparable injury to the constitution.

Unfortunately, fever and ague, and the other febrile complaints generated by miasma, are not the only evils which result from it. A great variety of disorders are superinduced by the irritation which it causes. Among these are neuralgia, rheumatism, gout, periodical headache, palpitation, painful affections of the spleen, and various derangements of the stomach. When traceable to malaria, the above affections are apt to assume, like the disease which originated them, an intermittent type; that is to say they recur at regular intervals. Hostetter's Bitters, however, obviates them all, by banishing the miasmatic virus from the system.

Consumption can be cured

by a timely resort to this standard remedy, as is proved by hundreds of testimonials it has received.
