"WILLIAM TELL" AT THE OPERA HOUSE, DECEMBER 3.

Mock, of the Watchman, alludes to Hartranft as "H- excellency." We thought P. Gray was above such vendetta-ism

Dr. Carwen, Superintendent of the State Lunatic Hospital, is of the opinion that no child under sixteen years should be required to spend more than six hours a day over its lessons.

Ann Given was placed in jail last Tuesday on the charge of murdering her child. She seems to belong to the German peasant class, and is thought by some to be weak minded. The punishment should come upon the man who betrayed her.

The large Thorndale tannery, four miles from Laporte Sullivan county, contains 200 vats, and the Laporte tannery 183 vats. They are both running on full time on Spanish sole leather, and employ 100 hands. This company owns 35,000 acres of bark lands.

Charles Fary, an Irishman, about twenty-six years of age, rather above the medium height, left his home at Wilkes-Barre on the 25th of October to attend a miners' parade or meeting at Hyde Park, since which time nothing has been heard of him. Any information concerning him will be most thankfully received by his wife in Wilkes-Barre, or his sister, at the house of E. L. Stritman.

THE CATAWISSA BRIDGE was opened for travel on Monday last, and a number of free rides were taken. Under the agreement the contractors will receive the tolls for about three weeks,—quite an item. We congratulate our sister town on the completion of this important work. A bridge at that point is alike a necessity and a convenience.

Tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon, at one o'clock, Charles Fox will walk a rope from Stphen's hotel to Clark & Wolf's building. Mr. Fox is an experienced rope walker, and performs many difficult feats during his performance. Last week he walked the wire ferry rope at Catawissa, where a large crowd witnessed the daring undertaking. Those who are fond of such sights should not fail to be present. 1w.

The Iron works of Harman and Hassert began operations on Tuesday last. This establishment is prepared to do all kinds of work in their line, and as the proprietors are both experienced mechanics, they deserve a liberal patronage. Enterprises of this character should be encouraged, as they extend the business and add to the prosperity of the community. Patrons of Harman & Hassert may be sure of getting the best of work.

LOOK OUT FOR "THE THESPIANS" on the evening of Friday, December 3d. Their bills are up, and a great treat may be expected. The programme will consist of the play of "William Tell," an exciting drama, and the farce entitled "A Convenient Distance," with a few varieties in the shape of songs, dancing, &c. Every body will be there, of course, as the performance is for the benefit of the Normal School. Seats can be secured at Geo. A. Clark's book store.

M. C. Sloan & Bro. have just completed the finest piece of work, in the shape of a two horse sleigh, ever made in this part of the country. It is intended for Mr. George Geisinger, of Danville. This firm enjoys an enviable reputation, not only at home, but through the State, a fact which is clearly shown by the large number of orders received by them from a distance. They are now employed in turning out a stock of single sleighs for the winter's trade, which cannot be surpassed. Their work can be seen at any time at their ware rooms.

The Williamsport Sun makes extracts from Gen. Henry Frick's Miltonian, published in 1821. Among them we find the following: There is an account of the trial of Gen. Wm. Ross, a Whig, for casting George M. Hollenback at Wilkes-Barre, at the election. The Gen. was fined $100. Hollenback was a son of one of the Associate Judges. General Ross was then 70 years old, and Hollenback 23, and the Republican Press thought it an outrage that the General should have been mulcted so severe, though we recollect, now, that he rather took pride in paying for his punch at young Hollenback's eye.

DAYS OF GRACE AND INTEREST.—Being interrogated as to whether a party, a bank or otherwise, has a right to demand interest on the three days grace on a note made payable "with interest," the Journal of Commerce answers that "the days of grace upon a promissory note, for the purposes of reckoning interest, are as much a part of the running time as if embodied in the document itself. If the maker of a note promises to pay a given sum 'six months from date, with interest,' this promise is interpreted to mean that he will pay a sum equal to the principal and interest on the same for six months and three days. The general lawful reckoning would be to calculate upon the said principal the interest for six-twelfths and one-tenth of one-twelfth of the interest for one year. Any other calculation is illegal. If the maker refused to pay the principal and interest thus reckoned in lawful money, the note may be protested, no matter who holds it."

DISTRESSING ACCIDENT.

On last Monday Mr. Jackson Leidy of the firm of Leidy Bro. & Co. had his right arm taken off at the elbow. The circumstances are as follows. On the second floor of the furniture factory stands a universal wood-worker on which is a small planer, which, when in motion, makes three thousand revolutions per minute. The cylinder moves beneath the table, near which is a belt connecting with the feed roller. This belt came off and Mr. Leidy attempted to put it on without stopping the machine, and in this operation threw his elbow up so that it came in contact with the cylinder of the planer, which took off the elbow joint instantly, leaving but a little skin on the front to connect the upper and lower part of the arm. It was done so suddenly that Mr. Leidy realized no pain whatever and did not know that his arm was off until he attempted to use it, when he perceived that the hand was dangling and the blood flowing freely. He at once called to Mr. Cottonfield, who was in the room, who came to his assistance and seized the stump, gripping it as tightly as possible to prevent the flow of blood while Mr. L., the victim, carried the hand and amputated arm in his own hand, and thus the two went up town a distance of about two hundred yards, while the blood flowed copiously. He showed remarkable nerve and presence of mind. Arriving at the store a surgeon was immediately called in and the blood stopped. The unfortunate man was then carried to the house of his brother, Mr. Martin Leidy, where he has since been. As soon as possible the arm was amputated and dressed. He is doing well and is not likely to meet with any difficulty other than the pain and inconvenience consequent to the wound. It seems strange, but Mr. L. says that he has experienced almost no pain from the wound. It is a very sad affair as Mr. Leidy is about forty years old, and it is hard at that time in life to part with a right arm.—Carthage Patriot.

Mr. Leidy had just returned home from a visit to this county to attend the funeral of his father. In common with all his friends we deeply regret his accident.

MESSRS. EDITORS: The Republican seems elated over the Republican vote of Beaver Township, and also boasts that no money was spent to influence votes; but it does not inform the public what other influences were used to increase this vote.

A certain individual who employs a number of men, distributed Republican tickets and said you can vote this or quit work. It was one of the most disgraceful acts that a party can be guilty of and leaves very little room for boasting BEAVER.

LAWYERS IN LUZERNE COUNTY.—By reference to the new rules of Court, prepared by Geo. P. Kulp, Esq., it will be seen that there are one hundred and eight-six lawyers resident in Luzerne county. Of these, ninety-six reside in Wilkes-Barre; fifty-six in Scranton; seven in Carbondale; six in Pittston; four in Hazleton; four in Plymouth; two in Shickshinny; while Sugar Notch, Ashley, Nanticoke, Wyoming, Dunmore and Waverly have one each.

Plymouth has the oldest and also the youngest lawyer in the county. James A. Gordon admitted August 7, 1822, and Henry C. Magee admitted October 21, 1875.

OBITUARY.—Frederick B. Swaby died at the residence of his son, Frederick J. Swaby, in this village, on Friday last, having attained the ripe age of 85 years. Mr. Swaby was born in the island of Jamaica, in the year 1791. He was educated in England, and during the years 1805 and 1806 was a scholar at the school near Barnet Castle, in Yorkshire, which has since been rendered celebrated by being described in a vein of very broad but amusing caricature by Dickens in his novel "Nicholas Nickleby," under the name of "Dotheboys hall," and Mr. Swaby is perhaps the last survivor of that institution. He came to this country with his family in company with his father-in-law, Capt. John Haigh of the British army, in 1821, and settled at the village of Espy, Columbia county, Pa., where he resided until 1846, surrounded by many warm friends, for whom he to the last cherished the kindest recollection and regard. In that year he removed to Seneca Falls, where he has since resided with his sons. His father, Joseph Swaby, died in Jamaica in the year 1811; he was born in 1727; the lives of the father and son consequently extended through a period of 148 years. During the nearly thirty years residence of Mr. Swaby in Seneca Falls, he has been little in public life, being rather retiring in disposition, but in the home circle and among those whose acquaintance with him became intimate, he was highly prized. He possessed the keenest sense of honor, which was always manifest in his intercourse with the world, and the probity of his character was ever conspicuous. He was a communicant in the church of England, and always maintained the highest standard of a devout Christain. His genial and cheerful temperament rendered him peculiarly a favorite among the young. It was while participating with them in their innocent amusements, some five months since, that he received injuries from a fall, which hastened his death. His memory will remain as a precious legacy to those to whom he has been a loved companion for years, and toward them the sympathies of all will be extended. His funeral was attended on Monday at the Episcopal church, Rev. Dr. Guion officiating.—Courier.

NEWSPAPER PATRONAGE.

The Advertisers' Gazette, a weekly journal devoted to the interest of advertisers, published in New York, publishes the following excellent thoughts on the above subject:

There seem to be a great many different ways of defining and understanding the phrase "newspaper patronage," and as a party interested in a correct definition of the same, we give the following disquisition on the subject by one who knows whereof he speaks. It may serve perhaps as a mirror in which certain parties may be able to "see themselves as others see them."

"Many long and dreary years in the publishing business has forced the conviction upon us that newspaper patronage is a word of many definitions, and that a great majority of mankind are either ignorant of the correct definition, or are dishonest in a strict Biblical sense of the word. Newspaper patronage has as many colors as the rainbow, and is as changeable as the chameleon.

"One man comes in, subscribes for a paper, pays for it in advance, and goes home and reads it with a proud satisfaction that it is his. He hands in his advertisement, and reaps the advantages thereof. This is patronage.

"Another man asks you to send him the paper, and goes off without saying a word about the pay. Time flies on; you are in need of money, and ask him to pay the sum he owes you. He flies into a passion, perhaps pays, perhaps not, and orders his paper stopped. This is called patronage.

"One man brings in a fifty cent advertisement and wants a two dollar puff thrown in, and when you decline he goes off mad. Even this is called patronage.

"One man don't take your paper. It is too high priced, but he borrows and reads it regularly. And that could be called newspaper patronage.

"One man likes your paper, he takes a copy, pays for it, and gets his friends to do the same; he is not always grumbling to you or others, but has a friendly word. If an accident occurs in his section he informs the editor. This is newspaper patronage.

"One hands you a marriage or other notice, and asks for extra copies containing it; and when you ask him to pay for the papers he looks surprised: "You surely don't ask pay for such small matters?" This is called newspaper patronage.

"One (it is good to see such) comes in and says: "The year for which I paid is about to expire, I want to pay for another." He does so and retires. This is newspaper patronage."

It will be seen from the above that while certain kinds of patronage are the very life of the newspaper, there are other kinds more fatal to its health and circulation than the coils of a boa constrictor are to the luckless prey he patronizes.

Daring Robbery at Ashland.

On Friday night of last week, a most daring robbery occured at the house of Solomon Silliman, Ashland. All the circumstances connected with the case are of an exceedingly curious character, and are as follows: Mr. Silliman is an engineer at the Locust Run colliery, where his father fills the position of superintendent. On last Wednesday, Mr. Silliman went to the First National Bank of Ashland, and drew therefrom the sum of $580, which he intended to deposit in the Safe Deposit Bank of Pottsville, on Monday, November 15th, but for the time being he locked it in the upper drawer of a bureau which stood in his bed room, after which he put the key in what he considered a safe place. Nothing occurred to disturb the security either of the money or the family, until Friday morning, when, as Mr. Silliman was about to arise from his slumbers, he was stopped by his wife who said, "wait a moment, Solomon, until I tell you of a strange dream I had last night."

MRS. SILLIMAN'S DREAM.

Last night I dreamt that I saw two men, with masks upon their faces, enter our room with a light and proceed towards the bureau where the money was. I then thought that I awoke and said, "what are you doing here?" when one of the men (the tallest of the two) came towards me and putting a pistol to my head, said that if I made any noise that he would blow my brains out. I knudged you and tried to wake you, but it was of no use. Then one of the men tried to open the bureau drawer, in which the money was, but the key wouldn't fit and he said "this is not the right key," whereupon the other man said "well we are bound to get the right one out of a dozen." Taking up the bunch of keys that were lying on the table they opened the drawer and seeing the package of money, one of the men grabbed it and put it in his breast. They also took two suits of your clothes out of another drawer and having looked around the room and at me, they went up stairs. I heard them come down stairs again and say "the thought that silver and money was pretty safe, and will blame it on some of his friends, but he will be fooled." The last thing that I remember was hearing them go down stairs.

Although this was a most extraordinary dream, Mr. Silliman did not pay much attention to it, but before dressing he thought that he would look at the money to satisfy himself that it was safe. He received a shock upon discovering that the drawer in which he had placed the money was open, but his feelings altogether overcame him when he saw the money was gone. He searched wildly in every corner of the bureau and room and tried to persuade himself that he had placed the money in some other place but it was all of no use. The money was gone. Mr. Silliman then rushed down stairs and noticed that the kitchen door was wide open and that the two suits of clothes of which his wife had made mention in her dream were lying upon the kitchen table. These facts satisfying him that thieves had indeed broken in and stole he ran up stairs and told his wife that her dream was too true. Remembering that he had left his watch upon a small table near the head of the bed, he lifted the cover which was thrown upon it in a careless manner and found that the watch was safe, also another watch which was hanging against the wall. Just then thinking of the silver which was in another bureau up stairs, he went and searched for that and found that it also had been taken. The silver was composed of a lot of old coins which had been brought from England by his grandfather, who had made him a present of it and of which he was very careful.—Shenandoah Herald.

Death of William B. Astor.

NEW YORK, November 24.—William B. Astor died this morning in the eighty-fourth year of his age. He had been in ill health for a long time, and the event was not, therefore, unexpected.

Murder or Suicide?—A Schuylkill County Mystery.

POTTSVILLE, Pa, November 23.—The remains of a human body were found on the mountain near Mount Carbon, yesterday. Near by was found a revolver, with one empty chamber, and a slouch hat, coat and a Hebrew book. The body which has not yet been indentified, appears to have been lying in the woods for several months.

The fact that Jefferson Davis is not a citizen of Mississippi, and has not been a resident of the State for seven years, will materially interfere with the plan of sending him to the United State Senate, in accordance with the little programme telegraphed all over the country by the Republican alarmists. HELP TO MOTHERS NURSING INFANTS.—It is a conceded fact that mothers who have the care, anxiety and draught of nursing infants are weak and need the aid of some strengthening tonic to make up the nourishment required for the growth of the child. Ale, porter, and lager beer have often been recommended. Of late, since physicians have become aware that Port Grape Wine produced by Alfred Speer, of Passaic, N. J., is strictly pure they have prescribed it instead of ale and porter. This wine is principally sough for by mothers who have nursing infants as the best supply medium to be found. The wine is rich in body and not intoxicating but gently stimulating. Druggists generally keep it, and sell it for a dollar a bottle.—Enquirer.

A TRAIN OF EVILS.

If weakness of the stomach is allowed to become chronic, the following evils supervene—digestion is permanently impaired, the system is very imperfectly nourished, the blood becomes thin and watery, and the bile, being unemployed for digestive and evacuative purposes, enters the circulation through the thoracic duct and injects itself into the superficial veins, giving to the skin and the whites of the eyes the saffron tinge indicative of biliousness. Headache, nausea, constipation, pains in the side, heartburn, and many other distressing symptoms which accompany the internal derangement above described, which, if unchecked, is sure to be followed by serious disease, as the rising of the sun by its setting. It is manifest, therefore, that an inability of the stomach to act upon the food should be overcome without delay. The invigorating influence on the stomach of Hostetter's stomach bitters is speedily felt in the disappearance of all the disagreeable symptoms alluded to. The prescribed mineral remedies for general debility usually fail to achieve any lasting result because they do not invigorate the stomach; Hostetter's Bitters always succeed for that is their primal effect. The very fact that they are such an excellent stomachic constitutes them one of the best general tonics in existence. To restore digestion is the final step towards the recovery of health, which is signalized by any of the multifarious complaints which spring from dyspepsia, and that will be found to have been taken by the invalid who has availed himself of this famous anti-dyspeptic remedy.

—o—

THE BEST PROTECTION.

The best safeguards against epidemic diseases are thorough digestion and firm nerves. It is because they secure the regular performance of the digestive process, and invigorate the nervous system that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are such a sovereign protective against the influences which beget intermittent maladies and those which directly affect the stomach and bowels. If the nerves are healthfully tranquil the assimilation of food perfect, as they are sure to be under the influence of this standard tonic and nervine, malaria may be defied; and if, in the absence of the most reliable of medical safeguards, the system has fallen a prey to disease of an intermittent or remittent type, the fetters will, if persisted in, eradicate every vestige of the malady. Biliousness, constipation, and dyspepsia yield with equal certainty to the operation of this potent vegetable alterative.

Schenck's Pulmonic syrup, for the cure of consumption, coughs and colds.

The great virtue of this medicine is that it ripens the matter and throws it out of the system, purifies the blood, and thus effects a cure.

Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic, for the cure of dyspepsia, indigestion, &c.

The Tonic produces a healthy action of the stomach, creating an appetite, forming chyle, and curing the most obstinate cases of indigestion.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills, for the cure of liver complaint, &c.

These pills are alterative, and produce a healthy action of the liver without the least danger, as they are free from calomel, and yet more efficacious in restoring a healthy action of the liver.

These remedies are a certain cure for consumption as the pulmonic syrup ripens the matter and purifies the blood. The mandrake pills act upon the liver, create a healthy bile, and remove all diseases of the liver, often a cause of consumption. The sea Weed tonic gives tone and strength to the stomach, makes a good digestion, and enables the organs to form good blood, and thus create a healthy circulation of healthy blood. The combined action of these medicines, as thus explained, will cure every case of consumption, if taken in time and the use of the medicines persevered in.

Dr. Schenck is professionally at his principal office, corner Sixth and Arch sts., Philadelphia, every Monday, where all letters for advice must be addressed.

THE BEST PRINTING OFFICE.

The present is a good opportunity to remind the friends of the paper, and the public generally, that the COLUMBIAN JOB PRINTING OFFICE has no superior in this section, and, in some respects, is without an equal. During the last year we have completely renewed our types and made large additions, and it is no idle boast to say that we have now the best Presses, the best Assortment of Type, the best Stock of Paper, Cards, &c., and the best Workmen in the country. our workmen are specially employed in their places, and we make it a point to always give our customers a neat, correct and satisfactory job.—We do not claim to do work for less than others, but will warrant it to be as cheap as can be done anywhere and yield a decent profit. All who are in need of Job Printing of any kind—Plain or in Colors—will find it to their interest to give the COLUMBIAN office a trial. We have on hand every Variety of Cards, Paper, Ink, Envelopes, Tags, &c., that is likely to be called for, and can furnish any quantity or style of work on short notice. Binding to order. tf.

WHERE TO ADVERTISE.

A. T. Stewart says the best advertising medium he has ever found "are the old established organs of the two political parties, at the seat of county seats throughout the Union." "These," he says "reach every family of the least account in their several counties, and are more carefully read than any other class of journals." If Mr. Stewart's judgment is of value, there is no difficulty in deciding what paper it is for the interest of business men to advertise in. THE COLUMBIA DEMOCRAT, upon which this paper is partially founded, was established in 1830, and the COLUMBIAN now enjoys a wider circulation and greater prosperity than it ever did. It goes regularly into two thousand families in Columbia and adjoining counties, and by most of them is read from its first to the last line. It is the only recognized exponent of nearly five thousand Democratic voters in the county. It gives subscribers a tasty display, that makes them attractive to the patrons, thus ensuring a greater certainty that they will peruse the same. While its circulation is undoubtedly much the largest in the county, the advertising rates of the COLUMBIAN are no higher than those of other papers with barely half and several not one-fourth the number of subscribers. Facts like these speak for themselves. No shrewd business man will neglect to insert his advertisements in the COLUMBIAN. tf.

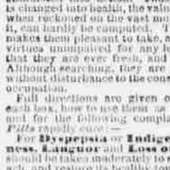
Ayer's Cathartic Pills,



For the relief and cure of all derangements in the stomach, liver, and bowels. They are a mild aperient, and an excellent purgative. Being purely vegetable, they contain no mercury or mineral whatever. Most serious sickness and suffering is prevented by their timely use; and every family should have them on hand for their protection and relief, when required. Long experience has proved them to be the safest, surest, and best of all the Pills with which the market abounds. By their occasional use, the blood is purified, the corruptions of the system expelled, obstructions removed, and the whole machinery of life restored to its healthy activity. Internal organs which become clogged and sluggish are cleansed by Ayer's Pills, and stimulated into action. Thus incipient disease is changed into health, the value of which change, when reckoned on the vast multitudes who enjoy it, can hardly be computed. Their sugar coating makes them pleasant to take, and preserves their virtues unimpaired for any length of time, so that they are ever fresh, and perfectly reliable. Although searching, they are mild, and operate without disturbance to the constitution, or diet, or occupation.

Full directions are given on the wrapper to each box, how to use them as a Family Physic, and for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach, and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symptoms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Jaundice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it.

For Dysentery or Diarrhœa, but one mild dose is generally required.

For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change these complaints disappear.

For Dropsy and Dropsical Swellings, they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression, a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy.

As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to promote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists. One who feels tolerably well, often finds that a dose of these Pills makes him feel decidedly better, from their cleansing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus.
