WINTER TIME TABLE. On and after SUNDAY, NOV. 21, 1875, the trains on the Philadelphia & Erie Railroad Division will run as follows:

Some weeks ago a Detroit wife disguised her chronography and wrote her husband a love letter under an assumed name. He answered it very promptly, and a correspondence ensued, which lasted six weeks. He finally threatened to commit suicide in case his unknown correspondent did not meet him, and the wife had a parlor scene and exhibited the letters. The attempts of the husband to laugh, and declare that he knew her handwriting all the time, and wanted to see her as soon as she would, were among the most lamentable failures of the present sad year.

He Didn't Flinch.—He came back to his mother looking very forlornly, with a big red swelling under his left eye and four or five handfuls of torn shirt hanging over his forehead. Then he put on airs and I got mad, and I was a bit of a brute and I played I was a duke. Then he put on airs and I got mad, and I was a bit of a brute and I played I was a duke.
