"DEGRADING THE PRESS." Under this caption the Gonette & Bulletin read us a lesson concerning our article last week in regard to "Printing Tickets." The criticism is right in itself but bad in its application, W did not claim that an editor should charge for editorial fabor, but alluded to the fact that a candidates received it gentuitously, they should cheerfully pay a reasonable sum for printing and circulating their tickets.

The Guette & Bulletin adds: "It is a mistaken idea that a newspaper must defend a candidate from assault. A paper run upon the proper lassis would not do so unless it had some better reason than simply the five or ten dollars which it might expect to receive from the candidate. There are few newspapers to acknowledge that such is so shameless as to acknowledge that such it

The festive season of the present winter may now be considered as over, as strict members of certain denominations of churches abstain from partaking of amusements during Lent. In large cities it is enstomary to hold high carnival on the day and night before the first day of Lent. The most solemn day of the season is Good Friday which is observed in commemoration of the sufforings of the Redcemer. Easter day closes the forty days of prayer and fasting. The fast of Lent i one of the oldest observances of the Catholic Church, as it dutes back to the very earliest days of Christianity. The Latin and Greek names of the fast signify forty days.' The English word fast means 'Spring fast.' Lenten tide in the Saxon language signifies 'The spring season.' In the second century the dispute regarding the time for the celebration of Easter-or, in other words vertisements to journals of their own creed and the close of the solemn yearly first—occurred, and then it was agreed on all sides that the solemn men of like faith, this is wise; but if they omn anti-Paschal fast of Lent should be been There is some doubt as to whether it was at first distinctly understood that the fast should has forty days, but at last the council of Antioch, in the fourth century, it was confirmed that it was by precept necessary to fast for forty days, using only dry ment. Mr. Willian Smarfer, a wheelwright, upon entering his house some little time before midday, found his wife broshing the walls of the parlor with a broom and knowing that she was in rather a delicate state of health, told her that she ought not t exert herself in such a manner, and taking the broom from her he proceeded to finish the work himself. On a couple of brackets placed agains the wall bung a loaded gun, and thinking from its appearance that it also wanted dusting, he took it off the rest and, stepping down from the chair upon which he stood, grasped the gun by the barrel and placed the stock on the chalr while he ran the broom up and down the barrel It is supposed that during this operation the hammer must have been lifted, and when the broom was rubbed in an opposite direction that it was let down, for with a load report the gan was discharged, the ball with which it was load ed entering the left eye of the unfortunate man literally blowing the top of his skull off and scattering his brains upon the ceiling and wall. Mrs. Stauffer, being engaged in a different parof the room, had not for some minutes been watching her husband, but ca hearing the report and the heavy fall of her husband, she looked around, and seeing his awful condition, swooned and fell into convulsions. CONSUMPTION CURED.

An old physician, retired from active prac-tice, having had placed in his hands by an East India Missionary the formula of a simple Vegetable Remedy, for the speedy and perm anent Cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma, and all Throat and Lung Atfectious, also a Positive and Radical Cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Com-plaints, after having thoroughly tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, feels it his duty to make it known to suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive and a conscientions desire to relieve human suffering, he will send (free of charge) to all who desire it, this recipe with full direction for preparing and successfully using it. Sent by return mail—by addressing—with stamp. naming this paper.
