A frightful murder was committed in Tusca r ora, Bradford county, on the night of Saturday April 1st. Two masked burglars forced an enrance into the house of George Houser and after beating him and his sister, bound them securely and ransacked the house. After securing $300 in money, a gold watch and some ewelry, the burglars decamped, leaving Mr. Houser and his sister bound. About nine o'clock the following morning a man driving by the house noticed that the door was open nd, on entering, discovered the unfortunate inmates. Miss Houser died in a few hours, her head having been crushed by the blows received. Mr. Honser was terribly cut about the head, but will recover. HARRISBURG, April 11th, 1876. A jovial Representative and a man of infinite jest is the Hon. D. P. Simeon P. Ryan, one of the members hornet's nest about the ears of his fellow of the Legislature from this county, died on Representatives and raising a Legislative Wednesday last, at his residence in North row, upon the history of which the changes would be rung from one end to the other of the Commonwealth.

> has proven to be a very serious matter for certain, at least, of our honorable law-makers. No sooner had the committee appointed in pursuance of the resolution held one meeting than it was most evident that there was rather more in the matter than had at first been anticipated. Examination of the members was commenced taking them in alphabetical order. This was done, the Committee sitting with open doors. A few members were examined when where there had been but a little smoke the fire began to burn brightly, and it was found necessary to close he doors of the Committee rooms and hernetically seal them to the inquisitive representatives of the Press. It had, however, already been made public that certain members had testified that the Hon. Peter Herdie, the chief boomer against the Boom Bill, had through his representatives at least inand $400 for an adverse vote. Then through the testimony of Speaker Patterson the name of Hon. Themas A. Scott was associated with the bill, rather more as a peace-maker, however, than anything else, but it was considered necessary by the Com-directly made offers of money for "dodgers" and voters against the bill, $200 for a dodge mittee to close its doors. Since that time the Committee has pursued its duties arduously, attempting to keep its work a strict secret. There have been leakages, however and some of them of a rather startling character, and the fun of it the Herdicites are not the only parties burt but lo, the other side, the immaculate Lumbermen, are discovered in the role which they so virtuously condemned in their oronents. The journal clerk of the House aptain Skinner is called to the stand and he testifies that on several occasions a certain member from Philadelphia named Petroff who by his actions in general was supposed to be a firm friend of Herdic, had evinced to him an ardent desire to know what Embick-the chief of the Lumbermen was willing to do on the boom. Skianer being a personal friend of Em-bick and as he testifies interested in the passage of the boom bill, in an official point of view, desiring to be rid of the trouble ome measure and relieved from keeping its roublesome and intricate record, recounts his interviews with Petroff to Embick, at the same time giving Embick to understand that Petroff and his crowd were brewing mischief. He then states that for the purpose of testing this party a check for $7,500 was drawn by Embick and given into Skinner's hands. Petroff becoming cognizant of this fact grew keener than ever and want so far as to go to a certain bank and inquire whether or not Embicks check was good for the above amount. Being satisfied on this point he was ready for action but, Skinner becoming convinced of the character of the man returned the check to Embick, with the information that Petroff was trying to he was made one of the board of Canal Com- play a sharp dodge. Mar ch 31-3w DRAGGING OUT EXISTENCE.—The nervou bragging Out Existence.—The nervous, weakly invalid does not enjoy life, but merely "drags out existence," as the phrase is. Unfitted for the active pursuits of life, and incapable of partaking of its pleasures, to which health alone can give a zest; disinclined to social intercourse, and a prey to melancholy, the valetudinarian is indeed an object of pity. Yet there is nothing in all this that cannot be remedied by that genial alterative tonic and nervine, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which sunvine, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which sup-plies deficient stamins, braces the nervous sys-tem, and overcomes those bedily irregularities tem, and overcomes those bedfly irregularities to which nervous weakness is most frequently attributable. Diseases of the kidney and bladder imperfect digestion and uterine troubles are fertile sources of debility. Their eradication however, becomes a matter of certainty when Hostetter's Stomach Bitters are systematically used for that purpose. The Bitters likewise annihilate and prevent fever and ague and other debilitating febrile complaints of a malarial nature.
