The most malignant enemy of South Carolina could wish her no worse This beats Luzerne and Schuylkill,

The Auditors also complain about the payment of $10,356,00 for County advertising. In Democratic Columbia the Courty only paid $1,013,60 for advertising, blanks,

We commend these facts to our Republican brethren. Stealing is so natural to the Radical office bolder that it is not surprising that corruption taints every official at Washington, and in this State has Philadelphia, Pittsburg and Lancaster as abiding

A WORD TO SUPERVISORS.

As a faithful journalist it is not only our duty to keep our readers informed on the topics of the day,-to point out abuses and suggest remedies-but also to instruct ignorant or careless officials as to their public duties. If after such public notice, they fail in the discharge of their offices, the people themselves are responsible for not punishing their neglect.

The following is an Act of Assembly forty years old, but is so generally neglected that we reprint it :

"The Supervisors of every township shall cause posts to be erected at the intersection of all public roads within their respective townships (where trees are not convenient with boards firmly fixed there-on, and index-hands pointing to the direction of such roads; on which boards shall be inscribed, in large, legible characters, the name of the town, village, or place, to which such roads may lead, and the distance thereto compu-

CARRYING CONCEALED WEAPONS.

It is about time that the wholesome pro risions of the law against carrying concealed weapons should be enforced by the proper officers. As it is at present, the law is a dead letter. The evil is spreading with great rapidity, and there is scarcely a boy over 14 years of age that has not his revolver, loaded | Luzerne county would take the place in jail and ready for use, carrying it about with We can scarcely pick up a paper that has not an account of an accidental shocting, or what is worse, a premeditated one. Even in the rural districts at all gatherings of a social, literary or religious character, it is not unusual after the close of the exercises to hear the report of several pistols as the folks are retiring to their homes. A young man is not fully equipped unless he has a revolver or pistol in his hip pocket, The strong arm of the law should be invoked and an example made of a few, so that the rest may be deterred from this vicious prac

There is no doubt, however, that the means used to pass the bill and to defeat it were corrup and disgraceful.

Since the Senate has passed a bill fixing the President's salary hereafter at $25,000 per year, Grant has concluded that he cannot afford to devote six months in the year to the affairs of the country for such a paltry consideration. He is growing quite indignant about the matter, and says if the "sa viors of the country" are to be treated in that shabby kind of style, there ain't much inducement for a man togo into the savior business very extensively.

The death of A. T. Stewart is the second of the triumvirate of great millionaires of New York-Astor, Stewart and Vanderbilt.

New York—Aster, Stewart and Vanderbilt.

Considering the amount of wealth possessed by these men the good they have done in the world is small indeed. Their lives were given to making money not spending it.

The President has aigned the act to provide for a deficiency in the printing and engraving bureau of the treasury department and for the issue of silver coin of the United States in place of fractional currency, and has vetoed the bill reducing the President's salary to $25,000, from and after the 4th of March next.

In South Carolina, however, the matter.

In South Carolina, however, the matter. In South Carolina, however, the matter has gone too far, and even the thick-skinned Press speaks out as follows:

Republican conventions like that in session In South Carolina, however, the matter to him, that there is any connection what-ever with any public act that Congress has a for the past few days at Columbia, South Carolina, are a disgrace to the majority which controls them, to the State they preright to investigate or to found any legisla-tion upon, that he was ready to answer any questions that might be put to him." But he declined upon the ground that "his busiwhich accompanied the proceedings fitly illustrate the character of the majority as ness was with private citizens and that the government had no right to inquire into it." Many Democrats hold that Kilbourn was right and that the House committed an er-ror in sending him to Jail. Under a law passed some years ago, the Speaker certified Kelbourn's case to the District Court and he was indicted. Marshall Sharpe demanded Jacob Greenawait, President, met and that a control of her political affairs ought to be economical, upright, above suspicion. "Re-solved. That the sergeant-at-arms be, and he is hereby directed, to make careful return to the writ of Habeas Corpus in the case of Hallett Killbourn, that the person is duly orders from them. But it is not alone South Carolina which is affected by this defeat. Republicanism suffers with her. If it is true that the Republicans of the Palmetto held by the authority of the House of Rep State are really in favor of pure and honest government, it is equally true that the Re-publicans of the nation are standing or resentatives to answer in proceedings against him for contempt, and that the sergeant-at-arms take with him the body of said Kelbourn before said court when making such return, as required by law." After long discussion the minority report was adopted by a vote of 105 yeas to 72 mays. THE STATE CAPITOL.

HARRISBURG, April 18th, 1876. The snail's pace at which legislation mov-ed during the first half of the session, which characterizes every Legislature and which forces the conviction on the mind of a casual observer that lawmakers are truly a lazy set of men, has given place at last, since the time for final adjournment has been fixed, to a busy activity and pushing forward of the work, which bids fair soon to divest the calendars of their plethoric appearance and to leave them in a condition in striking con-trust to that of last year. As is customary, appropriation bills were given precedence in consideration by the House, and all that appeared upon the calendars, a large number, have been passed to third reading, leaving the House free to consider much of the tardy legislation, local and otherwise in character.

Among the matters of importance which have transpired since our last letter are the following: On Wednesday the committee appointed by the House to examine into the Eleven years ago on the 14th of April which was Good Friday, President Lincoln was assassinated.
