Through cars on Express Train either to New York or Philadelphia. Accommodation train runs between Catawissa and Williamsport.

E. E. Orvis Esq. will address the Democratic Club to-morrow evening at eight o'clock.

Red squirrels are said to be very numerous this year. If this be true, gray squirrels will be proportionately scarce.

The potato crop has been a failure in the county this year. In many cases the yield does not pay for the digging.

The attendance at the Centennial thus far this month has been immense. Last week the average daily admissions were seventy thousand.

The Democratic Convention of Sullivan appointed delegates to support Hon. R. P. Allen for State Senator from this district.

Cider will be cheap enough this year as the apple crop is enormous. We have heard of sales at $2.50 per barrel thus early in the season.

Weather prophets as usual are predicting a very severe winter this year. The slushes on the corn are extra thick, a sure sign of it, they say.

The Wagoning Democrat says: "Hundreds of bushels of apples are going to waste in neighboring orchards. The fruit has fallen and lies rotting upon the ground."

The river is full of sunfish, and they are exceptionally large size. Two gentlemen from Catawissa caught at the mouth of Roaring creek, a few days ago, 243 in an afternoon's fishing.

We are informed that Mr. Samuel James, of Nanticoke, caught a black bass in the river, weighing forty pounds and thirteen ounces. We did not learn the size of the fish.

The black bass fishing has not been very good in this neighborhood, and those who pretend to know the habits of the fish say that there is too much for them to eat in the way of small fish.

Sportsmen who insist on killing partridges or ruffed grouse before the 1st of October in Pennsylvania are liable to ten dollars fine for every bird killed. Deer hunting will not be in season until that time.

To DESTROY RATS.—The most simple and practical means of driving away rats without poisoning them, that we have heard of, is to take chloride of lime and scatter dry all around and into their holes, and they will leave at once.

The stables of Robert Bryson & Co. went down in the recent "cave-in" at Centraita, and two valuable gray horses were buried in the falling earth and killed. Two other horses were saved by the plank in the floor of their stalls.

The season for putting up stores has arrived, and the wretchedness of thousands of householders throughout the country is something fearful to contemplate. It is one of those unavoidable miseries inseparable from house-keeping.

The Republican party, represented by sixteen former delegates, formally disbanded at Lehigh on Monday. He cosigned himself that he was nominated as a delegate to the State Convention for 1877.

The Republicans of Columbia county have gone into line to take a fair look at the 2900 Democratic majority that is ahead of them, and the gentlemen assigned to defend this year are, D. J. Waller, Sr., for Congress; Frank Evans for Senator, and John Eggett and T. E. Smith for Assembly.—Phila. Times.

Hadn't Lehigh better apply that overgrown telegraph post that ornaments the front of the Post Office? The Democratic pole casts a shadow on it that makes it look homely, as though it longed to go back to its native forest, where it wouldn't be ashamed of itself.

Another Luzerne county official has come to grief. The accounts of Thomas Hutchins, Receiver of Deeds from 1874 to 1875, amount to $7,600 short. A civil suit for the recovery of the money has been brought, the time having elapsed within which a criminal action could be instituted.

A World of WARNINGS TO SMOKERS or CIGARETTES.—It has been ascertained that the paper with which they are wrapped produces cancer of the lips and tongue, and physicians assert that the smoke is exceedingly injurious to the lungs. It is better and safer to use cigars or a pipe.

We are sorry to hear of the death of Mr. William Brown, of Millin, father of Jas. C. Brown, of the Republicans. He died on Sunday, and Mr. Brown was a highly respected citizen, and his death will be deeply regretted by his numerous friends. He was about sixty-nine years of age.

The Grangers are having a huge time at the Centennial. Excursion rates were put at $3.50 on Monday, and large numbers took advantage of it. Two trains of twelve cars each went down on the P. & E. R. R., and eight trains of fourteen cars each on the P. & E. R. R. Ten or twelve large wagon loads of people passed through town early in the morning to take passage.

On Thursday of last week Geo. Fetterman, convicted of horse stealing, was sentenced to three years imprisonment in the Eastern Penitentiary at Philadelphia, and Milton Charles, at the same time, was sentenced to a similar term in the Penitentiary and to pay a fine of five hundred dollars. Sheriff Forward started with his prisoners Friday morning. Both Benson, convicted of larceny, received thirty days in the county jail, having already been in confinement, awaiting his trial.

We have made arrangements by which we can furnish an Albrecht & Co. piano worth $500 on more favorable terms than any agent can offer. These pianos are well known and enjoy a first-class reputation.

We also are able to furnish any one with a Marvin safe worth $300 at a considerably less price. These are standard safes, and thousands of them are in use by business men. Parties desiring either of these articles will find it to their advantage to call at the COLUMBIAN Office.

THEY'VE.—A party of this place has been making raids on D. F. Seyler's hen roost about town at various times, and on Tuesday last, Seyler, with Constable McEwen, of Beach Haven, visited a disreputable house for their raid, a short distance above that place, and found the parties busily engaged dressing turkeys for a general feast. The party was very much surprised by the sudden entrance of Mr. Seyler and Constable McEwen, who arrested two of the party and brought them before Justice Breckway in Beach Haven, where they were, in default of bail, transferred to the Wilkes-Barre jail.—Herald Independent.

Court is in session at Danville. The list of cases is a long one, and will occupy the entire week.

Louis Bernhardt is carrying on his business in the Centennial grounds. He has just put in a fine stock of clocks, jewelry, silverware, &c.

On the petition for the division of Fishers Creek township, William Lamm, Isaiah Bower and Herman G. Creveling were appointed commissioners by the Court.

There will be a meeting of the members of the Columbia County Bar in the Law Library this evening at eight o'clock to take action upon the death of Robert F. Clark, Esq.

On Wednesday morning Mr. Alfred Krause and Wm. Hoover, of this place, sold five red foxes in the neighborhood of Wolverson's station, on the D. H. & W. R. R., and all this was done inside of five hours.—Sunday Gazette.

The Republicans of Montour county have nominated Dr. S. Y. Thompson for Assembly. As the county is reliably Democratic the other fellow will likely be elected.—Phila. Times.

W. B. Koons and wife, Frens Brown and wife, John B. Townsend, N. W. Barton and others of our citizens are doing the Centennial this year. A large number will go down before the 28th, to be present on Pennsylvania Day.

Don't change your residence from one ward to another, or from one township to another, until after the November election, or you will lose your vote. The law requires that a voter must reside in the election district in which he elects, to vote sixty days before the day of election.

A daughter of Reuben Bellas, of Orange township, while playing upon a swing last Sunday, accidentally fell therefrom and struck the ground with such force as to break both arms just above the wrist. Dr. C. W. Ammerman was immediately summoned and the limbs properly set. The girl is but fifteen years old, and bore her sufferings with great fortitude.—Herald Independent.

Michael McGee, of Nanticoke, was a member of the grand jury which was in session at Wilkes-Barre during last week. The Morning Republican says: "When it is known that McGee is under bail in six thousand dollars for his appearance at the Carbon county court to answer for the complexity in the Molly Maguire murder, the more circumstances will appear quite singular."

The Rev. G. F. Freed, of Brooklyn, Pa., officiated in St. Paul's Episcopal Church on Sunday last. The heavy rain prevented a very large attendance. In the evening of several of the churches in town were closed on account of the batter of the elements.

We are informed that Mr. Breed will conduct services at the Episcopal Church for the next two Sundays.

The best way to keep moths out of a carpet is not to let them get in, and this is the simplest matter in the world. Just sweep your carpets occasionally with salt. No carpet was ever known to be infested with moths when the housewife has a habit of using salt occasionally to clean her carpet. Care, however, should be taken to salt the carpet, and not the furniture, as the salt will injure the latter.

On Tuesday afternoon last, the house of Daniel Fry, of Montour township, was entered during the absence of the family, and robbed of about $80 in money. Constable Irvin, who was cutting corn in a field near by, saw four young men pass down the road, and suspecting that they had been in Fry's house, came to Bloomsburg for a warrant. The thieves went to Danville and there got on conductor Jordan's train for Northumberland. While on their way they got into a dispute concerning the division of the money, oblivious of the fact that Mr. Jordan sat in the seat behind them and overheard their conversation. On arriving at Northumberland they crossed to Sunbury, where they were arrested by Detective McFerson, who had been notified by the telegraph operator at Northumberland, and after a hearing before the justice were committed to jail. On being searched $71 in money was found on their persons, a part of which was a lot of silver coins which Mr. Fry identified as his property, they having been given to him by his mother. They also had three large knives with which, as they allege, they intended to cut corn. On Wednesday morning Detective McFerson and constable Irvin brought them to Bloomsburg, and after a hearing before Justice Brewer were committed to jail. The names of the young men are William Fry, Charles Groves, John Brobst and Henry Rhodes and they are all residents of this town. There have been several minor robberies committed of late, both in this town and in the adjacent country, and it is suspected that these young fellows are the guilty parties.

On Monday afternoon last at about half past one, a few gentlemen from different sections of the County gathered in the Opera House and proceeded to constitute a convention representing the Republican voters of their several localities. No credentials were demanded, and therefore none presented. On motion of J. B. Robinson, Judge M. G. Hughes of Catawissa, and Legh-Laird—H. E. Smith of Bloomsburg, John Eggett.

On Wednesday evening last this community was startled by the announcement that Robert F. Clark, Esq., was no longer numbered with the living. At about half past eight he breathed his last and passed quietly away from the cares and trials of this life. Mr. Clark was taken ill on Sunday last, and complained of severe pains, but on Monday was taken to the Exchange Hotel where he was boarding, and at his office. On Tuesday also he was able to leave his room and took his dinner down stairs at the table. On Tuesday afternoon he appeared much worse, and was confined to his bed, though no fears for his recovery were then entertained. Wednesday evening at the hour before mentioned, in the presence of his son Arthur, and David Lowenberg, Esq., the spark of life went out, success, marked by a single struggle, and he slept the sleep that knows no waking.

There was perhaps no man in the whole county of Columbia better known than Robert F. Clark. For many years he was one of the leading members of the Bar, and enjoyed a very large practice. As a man he was scrupulously honest and fair in all his dealings with his fellow men; as a gentleman he was always courteous, kind and obliging; as a lawyer, no word of suspicion was ever uttered against his character. No poor man ever turned to him for legal advice, but he was called upon for lack of money to pay for services. He was generous even to a fault, and was always ready to put his hand in his pocket and assist the needy, as he was to render legal services gratuitously. His mind was naturally of a legal turn, and though never a hard student, he seemed to be able to grasp the most intricate questions that were presented to him without hesitation. His clients were always ready to testify if they followed his advice.

Robert F. Clark was born September 23d, 1821, and graduated at Princeton College in 1843. He studied law with Joshua Comly, Esq., at Danville, and was admitted to the Bar in the spring of 1847, while Judge Anthony occupied the Bench in this county. In 1865 he was appointed Collector of Internal Revenue for the 13th district by President Johnson, and held that position until 1869. He served one term as District Attorney soon after he came to Columbia county, and occupied other positions of honor and trust. He will be missed in the Courts of this county, where he practiced for nearly thirty years. He will be missed by the younger members of the Bar, to whom he was always ready to extend a helping hand; he will be missed by the older lawyers, with whom he was associated in the trial of all important causes that came before the Court; he will be missed by the community, in which he had not a single enemy, but he will be missed by his aged and loving him with all the strength of a mother's love.

The funeral services will be held in St. Paul's Episcopal Church to-morrow (Saturday) afternoon at one o'clock.

Peace to his ashes.
