"He Married her for her Money."

Married her for her money, did he ? Why lid he not kill her outright, and take it? Indeed, that is what a man who makes a match with such motives would really like to do. He wants the hard dollars, not the soft woman who owns them, and he hates her because he has had to take her also. Poor little heiresses, with such delightful fortunes-poor little widows, with a snug sum settled on you by the husband who had "Oh. no; he was not a marrying man, your comfort at heart, how much better that you should be penniless women, sewing for your living at ten cents a shirt. Then, some strong, loving hand might gather you up to was all for yourself-all, every bit of it.

Now, with so many fortune-hunters aflost, what are you going to do? Married for money, was she? And that is why her face is so hard, and her eyes so cold. She knows it, one can see.

She remembers the kisses that were so much cold "courting," and did not come said, "I take this woman for her property." She understood that long ago, no doubt. God help her !
