Wetzel, the architect, had not acted fairly to all the bidders, and that he, the commissioners and Charles Keng had conspired to gether for the purpose of securing the contract at a high price. On Wednesday morning the hearing was continued, when the defendants read affilavits contradicting the allegations of the plaintiffs. The entire day was occupied in the argument. Col. Knorr opened for the plaintiffs, Col. Freeze and Mr. Comly followed for defendants, and Mr. Buckalew closed the argument. The case excited great interest and during the improperly opened by the commissioners in Mr. Buckslew closed the arguments the Stephen Pole, anxious taxpayers, The Court holds the case

A POSTPONEMENT.

At a Cabinet meeting held last Friday it was decided to postpone the extra session of Congress from the 4th of June until the 15th H. W. Kahler, of October. The reasons assigned are that the business of the country would suffer from the heated discussions that would ensue, and members of Congress would be inconvenienced by having to remain in Washington during the hot days of summer. It desse Ohl, seems more probable, however, that the true Wm. P. Leidy, F. P. Harris. reason is, that Hayes has given up the hope of securing an Administration Speaker for John G. Mosre, the House of Representatives if the House of Market in June and accordingly postpones. meets in June and accordingly postpones the meeting until later in the season. The difficulties that immediately present themselves are numerous. There is no appropriation for the support of the army, and the treams must be kept in service on the priation for the support of the army, and the troops must be kept in service on the the troops must be kept in service on the supposition that Congress will make an appropriation in October. But the House is in-Geo. W. Beagle, propriation in October. Dataset can be rethe appropriations hitherto made are too large if the army can exist three months ithout money. The Navy, too, is in a bad way. Robeson used the appropriation for pay, for other purposes and the men have not been paid since April 1. There has been some plan patched to up carry the Department, over until October, but it is sorry business at the best and will be apt to lead to trouble hereafter. The House, it will be reembered, insisted at the close of the last Army bill prohibiting the use of the troops Southern States for political purposes. What, effect the withdrawal of the troops from Louisianna and South Carolina will have in this regard remains to be seen. It is quite likely that a reduction of the force will be warmly urged.

THE WAR.

New complications are arising daily in the sitions of the various great powers which old fair to result seriously. Greece is more than anxious to take arms against the Turks. Roumania is in open revolt against them and fighting between the Roumanian and Turklah forces has already occurred. Austria's attitude in menacing and her troops have een sent to the frontiers. Derby, the English premier, has sent a reply to the Russian is thought by many to evince decided hostilivery meagre and what little has been reseived is not deemed reliable. On the Danbe nothing has been done, Russia probably being guided more by diplomatic than military motives. In Russia in Asia large bodies of troops are at or near the fortified city of Kars and the first great battle will doubtle take place there.

PRIGHTPUL ACCIDENT.

An explosion of gas occurred in the Wadesville mines, near St. Clair, on Wedesday morning last, which resulted in the killing and wounding of -nine men and the imprisoning of five others. Of these imned men four were subsequently found dead. It is probable that the deaths will number ten at least.

The Mine Inspector attributes the disaster to the fall of a heavy body of coal which liberated a large amount of gas that had accumulated in one of the old unworked breasts. An unprotected lamp was found near where the dead men lay which probably ignited the gas. The Coroner's inquest wil cause of the disaster. The Wadesville mines are but a short distance from Pottsville and have always been considered as well

The importance of this opinion will be seen at a glance. The numerous wives of Brigam Young and others have no legal title to their positions, their marriages being contrary to law and consequently null and void. If these unfortunate women have no rights which the law acknowledges, how can the law tolerate the existence of the system of polygamy which is both illegal and against public morality. William M. Evarts, who was made Secre tary of State in payment of services rendered the defendant, in the case of the People vs. R. B. Hayes, before the "Electoral Commis sion, is a thrifty soul and does not intend to be content with the barren honor of a Cabinet position. Mr. Evarts is a lawyer, and a good one if a practice worth $50,000 a year is a proof, and declines to give up his business for the $10,000 salary of Secretary of State. So he practices law as usual and runs the Cabinet business when nothing more profitable intervenes. If the demands of the State Department can be met by the subordinate officials of that bureau, why have a Secretary at all ? If the duties, on the contrary, are constant, and engrossing, why not have some one who has time to attend to them? Mr. Evarts should give up one or the other, either his practice or his appointment. He is not so wonderfully able that he can creditably fill a position by intermittent attention which required the whole care of his predecessors. Under the circumstances the people can as ill afford to put up with a portion only of his time, as he to relinquish his professional duties.

In fact it is a little difficult to tell in just what respect Hayes can be surpassed as a President. The Times still speaks of the Packard and Chamberlain governments as "usurping," but that seems to be more for the purpose of keeping up its title of "independent" than anything else. The Secretary of the Navy is thinking o asking Congress for an appropriation of $500,000 to fit out eight vessels should the war in Europe render them necessary. We eargestly hope Congress will do no such thing. Robeson spent millions ostensibly in fitting up vessels for service, and the navy to-day exists only in name. There is hardly a possibility that this country will be afected in any manner by the war between Russia and Turkey, and an appropriation will result only in patching up some of the unseaworthy hulks which Robeson and his ship building friends have been tinkering a for years. Let the Navy alone until it falls o pieces of its own weight. If any money s to be spent, let it be in hunting up some of the workings of the Department unde Robeson-perhaps it could be ascertained what became of the $1,000,000 arising from the sale of the Philadelphia Navy Yard, The United States Navy is in such a condition that it would require millions of money to place it on an equality with that of any one of the Great Powers and $500,000 would be but a drop in the bucket of expenditure.

It is reported that the Hon. Hendrick B. Wright, a distinguished Pennsylvania Congressman from the Molly Maguire district, a going to introduce a bill to rid the State of the lawless and surplus population of the mining regions. His bill provides that the Federal Government shall furnish these law less and surplus people with teams, farming implements and money, and superintentheir transfer to the remote West. He thinks that the enterprise will not cost more than $5,000,000. This plan is less practica ed that the best way to supp and poverty is to catch your criminals and paupers young and lock them up in institutions where they will have no opportunity to commit felonies or misdemeanors, and no excuse for being poor .- N. On the morning of the day after the Pre sidential election of November last, des patches were sent from Republican head puarters in New York to the chairmen of the Republican State Committees of South Carolina, Florida and Louisiana, instructing them to hold fast those States for Hayes and Wheeler. The machinery to execute these instructions was promptly put in motion and the scheme of Zach Chandler and his cou federates in due time received the sanction of the Electoral Commission. To-day, how ever, in spite of all the fraudulent preter sions which were set up, each of the above mentioned States has a Democratic Govern or and Legislature. This fact alone is a suf ficient commentary upon the validity of Last fall A. P. Barber, Republican, had najority of over 900 for Prothonotary of Luzerne county. His competitor was S. W. Trimmer, Democrat, then Prothonotrry, who ontested the election on the alleged ground that he was defeated by fraudulent votes. Barber obtained his commission from the Governor, but Trimmer refused to abdicate, claiming that under the act of 1839 he could hold over until the contest was decided. His opponent maintained that the act of 1874 re-pealed the act of 1839, and took possession of the office on January 1, at night. The next day Trimmer captured the fort. Barber had a writ of quo warranto issued, and Trimmer was ousted by order of the court of Luzerne county. To-day the Supreme Court reversed the action of the court below, and Trimmer will assume the functions of Prothonotary until the contested election case is decided, which will scarcely be within a year.

One of the most extraordinary games of base ball on record was played at St. Louis on May 1. Fifteen innings were played without scoring a run on either side. Both the Cabinet and the President's policy are upon trial, and will be Judged according to their fruits. At this moment they are neither sustained by an overwhelming prepon-derance of public opinion, as certain journals anxious to become "organs" assume; nor condemned by public opinion, as other journals, desirous of leading the opposition, as-sume. The true attitude of public opinion is that of watchful and friendly expectation, accompanied by a proper suspension of final judgment. The President is sustained in so far as that the nation approves of his avowed purpose to secure peace and good will throughout the Union; but the nation waits to see whether the steps he takes toward that end will be right steps and successful steps It waits, as we said above, with friendly expectation; but not with premature judgment. It hopes and believes that the President will do no wrong, and it earnestly desires that he may be abundantly successful; but, if these hopes and desires should unhappily be disappointed, the American people are neither time servers nor man worshippers, and will not withhold just censure if it ever becomes apparent that censure is really deserved .-

The Galveston News puts the matter very neatly when it says that "the fertilizing and timulating bayonet gave the Southern Denocracy a growth that was truly phenomenal. It was this kind of cultivation that massed the great body of bonest and intelligent white people and the less ignorant and more public spirited colored people of the South under the Democratic banner in the last Presidential election, and made the popular vote of the Southern States solid for Tilden. No other kind of cultivation could have produced such a crop of Democratic votes." But the two most unportant branches of
