A lovely landscape all dotted over with... A lovely landscape all dotted over with unlighted borders is not more unpleasant to the eye than a human face disfigured with bumps of pimples...

The suit of Prevo vs. Gorrell, concerning alleged damages to the mines of the latter in Coningham Township, and involving about $200,000, is set on trial at Bloomsburg...

On Wednesday last while a party of boys were fishing in the stream about a foot below in Greenwood township, a school of Shad was taken...

Seven additional Coal and Iron policemen arrived in town on Wednesday and proceeded at once to the jail. This increase in the number of guards was, we presume, made in view of the rumors afloat concerning the rescue of the prisoners...

Our Wilkes Barre exchanges inform us that Beck and Felder of Millin Township have been found guilty of robbing the L. & E. depot at Hickory Ferry a few months ago...

Snake stories are getting worse and worse. Here's Franklin county claiming a black snake three feet long. And a Delaware man says he killed one seventeen feet, eight inches in length. That settles us.

Two fishermen are every trout in the stream went up Lyonsburg this week. It would require almost as great a miracle as that recorded in the New Testament to make the trout go around this spring—MONEY LAUNDRY.

E. P. Kinser committed an assault and battery on J. S. Sanders of the Hazleton Sentinel, recently, and was sentenced by Judge Harding of the Luzerne Courts, to pay a fine of $5 and costs for the assault.

John Struthers, of this town, who has been in jail at Wilkes Barre for some time past, charged with being implicated in the murder of a young man named Lutz, has been released. The prosecution was abandoned for want of sufficient evidence against him.

No less than seven mine accidents occurred in various places near Scranton, in one day, recently, two resulting fatally, and all arising from the fall of the roof in mines. This would seem to indicate either carelessness or a gross neglect of careful inspection.

Rye is reported in some localities of such exceeding height, that it is becoming a matter of doubt whether, if step-ladders are not used in cutting it, the straw can be stowed away in barns of ordinary size. Eight feet high and growing fast is the latest.

Chemists and assayers seem to be at odds concerning the value of properties of Paris Green, some insisting that it cannot be handled with safety, others that it can. After the season for using it has passed, we may ascertain the true inwardness of the matter.

An exchange deprecates the cooking of strawberries, insisting that they are spoiled thereby. In its native state the strawberry is luscious and refreshing, but considered as a short cake or a pie is an abomination. We are inclined to the belief that this view of the case is the correct one. All ripe fruits are better uncooked.

The editor of the Wagoner Democrat met with a severe accident, last week, by having his left hand caught in the machinery of a press. The first two fingers were completely severed. We sympathize most heartily with the gentleman in his trouble, which is the more to be regretted as it will interfere with the business of his office for a long time to come.

The diurnal feral birds of the family Hirundinidae are commonly called swallows. We are informed by an erudite exchange, Great Caesar! what a world of sorrow this would have been if some blessed fellow hadn't thought of calling them swallows? Just thinking of the thought of those graceful diurnal ferals, but no, the thought is agonizing.

On Thursday last week Dr. B. F. Gardner, assisted by Drs. Montgomery and Case, removed from the left breast of Mrs. George Brown, of Millin township, a scirrhous tumor of large size which had been growing for some two or three years. Mrs. Brown, who is fifty four years of age, endured the operation with remarkable fortitude and is doing well.

People who are temporary sojourners in lock-up had better refrain from setting fire to those institutions. George Hamilton tried it in Shickinny, recently, and in addition to the risk of burning himself to death, was sentenced to pay a fine of $10 and undergo solitary confinement, at hard labor, in the penitentiary for four years. George will never experiment again in that line we are sure.

Numerous criminal acts have been committed of late by traps—assaults, robberies and incendiaries—and in one case at least, murder. Farmers and others living in isolated places should be wise to exercise the greatest care in securing their fences, and also to prevent any strange men from hanging about their premises. The majority of these traveling pests are thieves, if not worse, and will bear careful watching.

It was our privilege last week to be shown through the office of the Sentinel Republican. The proprietor, Joseph Seranous, is an energetic editor and his establishment is complete in every particular, containing a book binding and rolling machinery and an extensive jobbing department. He has recently put in a new press at a cost of $2500. Notwithstanding the political complexion of the Republican, it is about the best daily published in this section of the state.

A new feature is reported in the case of Frank A. Beamish now awaiting sentence for forging a tax duplicate.

Ex-Confederate Capt. John Beamish employed to serve the tax warrants, has confessed that he and a confederate obtained possession of the tax duplicate, tore out the leaves, and kept $1500. The confession is written, sworn to, and will be delivered to the court.

This, of course, is intended to benefit Beamish. It would be interesting to know how Farrell's confession was obtained.

Few persons understand fully the reason why wet clothing exerts such a chilling influence. It is simply this: Water, when it evaporates, carries off an immense amount of heat, in what is called the latent form. One pound in vapor contains as much heat as nine or ten pounds of liquid water and all this heat, of course, is taken from the body.

From clothes are moistened with three pounds of water, that is, if by wetting they are three pounds heavier, these three pounds will, in drying, carry off as much heat as would raise three gallons of ice-cold water to the boiling point. No wonder that damp clothes chill us.

Mr. Mendall was but twenty six years of age—in the flower of youth—and his passing away will leave a void not easy to fill in the hearts of his loving family. To them alone can bring consolation, and relief from the bitterness of grief.

Our general friend A. E. Miller formerly of the Exchange Hotel, has been rusticated among the grave yards of Wayne county. While in Mont Pleasant Township of that county, he discovered the grave of Samuel Meredith, the first Treasurer of the United States, which he recovered to be in a ruinous condition.

The Wayne Co. Herald says: Last week we copied a letter from a Honorable correspondent to the New York Times, concerning the neglected grave at Belmont, Mt. Pleasant township, this county, of the first Treasurer of the United States. The letter suggested that a monument should be erected over the last resting place of Mr. Meredith and his wife, as a fitting tribute to the world and public services of the former. In case this should be done, the following inscription which has been furnished us by Samuel Rose Meredith, a great-grandson of Treasurer Meredith, would be very appropriate:

IN MEMORIAM. Samuel Meredith, Patriot Soldier and Statesman, The friend of Washington, Born in the City of Philadelphia, Penn. Died at Belmont, Mt. Pleasant twp. Wayne Co., Pa., Feb'y 10, 1817, Aged 76 years.

THE NEW JAIL.—Upon the recommendation of successive grand juries the Commissioners determined to build a new jail. Excavations were made to other counties to examine their plans. Plans were asked for, numerous proposals were tendered, and several examinations were held, with indications of a favorable result.

Chief of Police Woodward received a telegram on Tuesday afternoon, from Hunkeler's Creek, Luzerne county, stating that a horse had been stolen at that place, and giving a description of the animal. During the afternoon two men passed through town driving one horse and leading another and these were thought to be the thieves.

A correspondent of the New York Herald gives the following hints upon keeping cool: "Open your windows between 9 and 10 o'clock in the morning for ventilation, and then close them, so also the blinds, and keep them closed all day. A house should be regulated like a refrigerator, which, if the doors are kept tightly shut, will retain its coldness, but if it is thrown open will soon have the same temperature as the air without." Good philosophy and worth a trial.

School Directors and Auditors will find the following decision of Prof. Wickesham, State Superintendent of Common Schools, in relation to the School Journal, for this year: DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION, HARRISBURG, May, 1877.

School Boards must at the close of the School Year prepare a statement of the financial accounts of their respective districts; one fully itemized, for the Auditors, and another, more concise, for publication, to be filed in the office of the Superintendent. The first two figures were completely severed. We sympathize most heartily with the gentleman in his trouble, which is the more to be regretted as it will interfere with the business of his office for a long time to come.

The New Town Hall at Ayer. The elegant structure is now complete. In beauty of design it surpasses anything of its kind in the State. Constructed of brick and dark marble it is as permanent as it is charming. The English architect has adorned it in subdued colors, while the painter has given it the air of a palace without driving the eye. Dr. C. Ayer built and gave it to the town. In acknowledgment of the distinction they conferred upon him in taking his name. Although it is a generous gift, still the hearty good wishes of a whole people are of greater value, and the generous donor has doubtless secured them.—Globe (Mass.) Journal, June 11th.

August Flower. The most miserable beings in the world are those suffering from Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint. One out of every seventy-five percent of the people in the United States are afflicted with these two diseases and their effects, such as Stomach, Sick Headache, Halituous Costiveness, Exaltation of Heart, Heart-burn, Water-brash, gnawing and burning pains in the pit of the Stomach, yellow skin, watery tongue, and disagreeable taste in the mouth, coming up food after eating, low spirits, &c. Go to Meyer Bros., and get a 7-cent bottle of AUGUST FLOWER, or a 25-cent bottle for 10 cents. Try it. Two doses will relieve you. April 27, 77-ly.

Items. Lady Sterling Maxwell (the Right Honorable Mrs. Norton), the novelist, is dead, aged 69 years. The Rev. John S. C. Abbott, the historian, died at Fair Haven on Sunday, aged seventy-one years. Six murderers were hanged on Friday, three in New Orleans, one in Dayton, Ohio, one in Marion, Ark., and one in Newman, Georgia.

Four drunken men were drowned in the Passaic river, New Jersey, a few days ago. Another argument against mixing liquors. By the burning of a mill dam in Norwalk, N. J., on the 14th inst., a fishing party of some twenty persons was precipitated through a sluiceway and four drowned and two fatally injured.

It is stated that the Director of the Mints, in his next annual report, will recommend the coinage of a two-dollar gold piece, to take the place of the two-dollars-and-a-half gold piece.

In Dixon, Ill. Rev. S. H. McGhee was found guilty, last week, of poisoning his wife in Bloomington, Ill., and was sentenced to fifteen years imprisonment. Illinois must have a nice code of laws if a convicted murderer can get off with fifteen years imprisonment.

George Rigbold, the well known actor, and his wife, who were stopping at a New York hotel, were robbed a few days since, by a chambermaid, of money, jewelry and other property to the value of $8,000. The woman has thus far evaded arrest.

The entire freshman class of Princeton College were suspended on Saturday for lazing the entering class, serenading the tutors, and other extravagant demonstrations.

A husband in Stockdale, N. Y., filled a creek, and turned the water in a different direction. The owner of a mill further down sued the farmer who owns the land on which the slide occurred to compel him to restore the stream to its former condition.

On Thursday the workmen engaged in digging a cellar for a warehouse in Charles street, near Camden street, Baltimore, struck a mass of timber, very much decayed, which turns out to be one side of the hull of a small sized sailing vessel that was wrecked there more than a century ago.

Ex-United States Senator D. Pratt died at Logansport, Ind., on Sunday, of heart disease, aged 64 years. He was sitting in his chair dictating to his daughter, Mrs. E. S. Huntington, and feeling as well as usual. Suddenly he gave a gasp, and before his daughter could reach him, he was dead.

Two laborers named Jacobberg and Langman, quarreled near Steubenville, Pa., on Monday evening, and Gallagher threw Langman from a high bluff, killing him instantly. Some of the murdered man's friends subsequently caught Gallagher, and beat him so severely that his recovery is not expected.

George B. Johnson, late State Auditor of Louisiana, was summoned by the Grand Jury on Monday evening, and Gallagher threw Langman from a high bluff, killing him instantly. Some of the murdered man's friends subsequently caught Gallagher, and beat him so severely that his recovery is not expected.
