We find in the Independent a sketch given by a lady correspondent of a sermon that she heard in Georgia, nearly halt a century ago, preached by a man who introduced the Massachusetts agricultural college, and en county, a Half Hard and Half Soft Shell great deal of interest has been awakened by both racy and suggestive :

"God didn't make us all slike, my brethren; but every man has his own spere. When God has a place to fill, he makes a man and puts him in it. When he wanted General Jackson, he made him, and set him to fightin' Injuns and the English; wherehe wanted George Whitefield, he made him for to blow the Gaspel trumpet as no man ever blowed it; and when he wanted Old Club-Ax Davis, he made him and set him to grubbin' in the back woods,

"But my shell isn't so hard but I can see good pints in everybody; and as for the Presbyterians, they are a long way ahead of us Baptists and Methodists in some things, They raise their children better than anybody on the face of the earth. Only a few days ago a Methodist class-leader said to me : 'Brother Club-Ax, I was born a Methodist, I was raised a Methodist, and by the grace of God I hope to die a Methodist; but, thank God, I've got a good Presbyterian wife to raise my children.' And I believe, my brethren, if the Lord should open the way for me to marry again, I'd try my best to find a Presbyterian woman, and run my chances of breakin' her into the saving dectrines of feet-washin' and immersion after-. . . It ain't three weeks since I was out a cattle huntin', for two of my yearlins had strayed off; and I stopped in at old Brother Harker's, on Mud Creek, and took dinner. He's a deacon in a Presbyterian church over thar. Well, as true as I stand here, brethren, sister Harker had a little gal a standing right before her, with toes just even with the crack on the floor, and her hands was hangin' down by her side, and mouth turned up like a chicken when it drinks, and she was a puttin' this question to her out o' that Catechism : ... What are the benefits which in this life they do. I know their prayers are might long, and they pray all over creation; but, after all, it's the right way-it's better than prayin' too little.

"Now my father and mother were good Baptists, and raised their children to be honest and industrious; but I never heard one of them pray in my life, and I was 'most : grown man before I ever prayed a prayer myself, and it was in this wise:

"There was a big meetin' over in Elbert county, and I knowed a pretty gal over there that I wanted to go and see. So I borrowed a little Jersey wagon-that was a stylish thing in them days-and went over to her house, and stayed all night, and engaged her to ride to meetin with me the next day, which was Sunday.

"We went, and had a glorious time-and I may as well say right here that she was afterwards my wife; but a comin' home I met with a powerful accident that I never got over to this day. As I was a comin' down a steep hill, some part of the gearin' give way, and let me and the wagon on my cretur's heels; and bein' young and skeery, and not much used to wheels, she wriggled and kicked and tore from one side of the road of the other, till I was pitched head-foremost as much as ten feet in a gully, and it's a miracle of mercy that my neck wasn't brok-

Dr. Cressay, an accomplished and trainhimself as "Old Club-Ax Davis, from Seriv- he has been lecturing in Vermont, where a him in regard to veterinary subjects. Here We make the following extract as being is what, in one of his lectures, he had to say concerning colic in the harse: The most common kind of colic in horses is known as wind colic. This arises > is brought in tired and is fed immediately, and fills his stomach, there may not be sufficient gastrie juice to perform its office. to The food will then ferment. Soon the horse will bloat; the breathing becomes hard, with frothing at the mouth. This may not be confounded with the hard breathing in lung fever, since in the latter there is no bloating. The passage of the stamach and bowels becomes clogged with masses of indigested food, the gas arising from the fermentation cannot pass out of the stomach, which secomes distended, and presses the diaphragm forward so that the lungs cannot expend, the breath becomes short, and the rapid breathing will shortly induce frothing. If the trouble reaches this stage the horse will rarely live more than an hour. In th s disease time is of the greatest value. As soon as you see your horse bloating give something to stop the fermentation, For this a heaping tablespoonful of saleratus is the best thing. Spirits of hartshorn in a dose of half an ounce, very much diluted, is also good. If now you have checked the fermentation for five minutes, the next th'ng is to make the gas pass off. To do this give warm water injections freely, injecting all the animal will hold, if it is a pailful. Turn the horse's head down hill, and use a small force pump, if you have one, or, if not, use a piece of rubber tube, which should be inserted as far as it will go with ease, and the end of the tube may then be turned up and and a funnel put in, into which turn warm water. After you have put in all that the horse will hold, turn him about and let it pass away, and repeat the operation till the bowels become free and the gas passes off. Meanwhile, another hand should be preparing a dose of physic, which should be from one-half to three-fourths of an ounce of aloes. This, if put into water by itself, will not dissolve, but, if put into a pint of warm water in which a heaping tablespoonful of saleratus has been dissolved, the aloes will dissolve and the saleratus will be useful as an antiseptic to stop the fermentation; to this can be added some molasses to make it God's love, peace of conscience, loy in the more palatable. with thick boots to walk across him back

G. W. Smalley writes to the Tribune from London, concerning our old friend, the potato bug:

Next after Gen. Grant, the greatest Amer-

can celebrity of the London season is the Colorado beetle. He is not invited out to dine with dukes, but his movements are watched with an attention most flattering to him, and his appearance at Millheim on the Rhine produced intense alarm on the Thames. Followed as it was, yesterday, by an announcement that he had been seen in Dublin crawling ashore on a bable, the alarm became a panic. This morning the panic is abated, on the assurance of an eminent entomologist that the Dublin insect was not a Colorado beetle at all, but only looked like him. Long before this, however, extraordinary precautions had been taken respecting the dreaded visit. Questions are asked about him in Parliament and letters written to the newspapers-those being the two resources of the Briton on all occasions of peril or annoyance. The privy council has sent out circulars about himfor it is one of many oddities of English administration that her majesty's privy council deals with such agricultural calamities as the cattle plague and the potato plague. thought I ought to ask the Lord for mercy; Pictures of the interesting animal have been sent all over the kingdom, more particularcouldn't think of the first thing to say, but ly in Ireland, where an enterprising far mers' journal has given him the widest poseatin', when he had company, and which sible circulation. WHERE TO ADVERTISE.

A. T. Stewart says the best advertising mediums he has ever found "are the old established organs of the two political parties, at the several county seats throughout the Union." "These," he says "reach every family of the least account in their several countes, and are more carefully read than any other class of journals." If Mr. Stewart's judgment is of value, there is no difficulty in deciding which paper it is for the interest of business men to advertise in The Collings and Democrate, upon which this paper is partially founded, was established in 1886, and the Collings and Democrate, upon which this paper is partially founded, was established in 1886, and the Collings outless and by most of them is read from the first to the last line. It is the only recognised exponent of nearly five thousand bemocratic volers in the county. It gives advertisements a tasty display, that makes them attractive to its patrons, thus ensuring greater certainty that they will persee them. While its directuation is undoubtedly much the largest in the county, the advertising rates of the Collimns are no higher than those of other papers with barely Balf and several not one-fourth the number of subscribers. Facts like these speak for themselves. No shrewd business man will neglect to insert his advertisements in the Collings.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds.

Whooping Cough,

The reputation it has attained, in consequence of the marvellous cures it has produced during the last half century, is a sufficient assurance to the public that it will continue to realize the happiest results that can be desired. In almost every ection of country there are persons, publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs, by its use. All who have tried it, acknowledge its superiority and where its virtues are known, no one hesitates as to what medicine to employ to relieve the distress and suffering peculiar to pulmonary affections. CHERRY PECTORAL always affords instant relief, and performs rapid cures of the milder varieties of broughial disorder, as well as the more formidable diseases of the lungs. As a safeguard to children, amid the distressing diseases which beaet the Throat and Chest of Childhood, it is invaluable ; for, by its timely use, multitudes are rescued and restored to health. This medicine gains friends at every trial, as the cures it is constantly producing are too remarkable to be forgotten. No family should be without it, and those who have once used it

Eminent Physicians throughout the countr prescribe it, and Clergymen often recommend it from their knowledge of its effects,

My wife for the past ten years has been in feedbe health—very much obditated generally. Last spring she concluded to try a bottle of Francium System, and was so well pleased with the result, continued its use mult three or bottles had been used, and she is now is better health than any time for fen years, and has increased in weight from 19 pounds to 120). I have employed physicians and used a great many varieties of patent medicines, to the extent of hundreds of dollars, and I know she received more benefit from the Francium Syster than all the rest together. My sales of the syrip are very large and constantly increasing, and I do not health to recommend so good an article to suffering humanity.

Dear Sir—From early youth I was in feeble health, troubled with humor in my blood, weakness and debility of the system generally; was unable to labor much and only at some light business, and then only with great caution. Seven years ago the past spring I had a severe stack of diptheria, which left my limbs paralyzed and useless, by was unable to walk or even sit up. Nothing the advertisement of Francisca System from found my health improving. I continued the use of the Svyer until three bottles had been used, and was rentored to complete health and have remained so to this day.

cas restored to complete meanth entirely to the use of 1 attribute my present health entirely to the use of Psacrian Symp, and hold it in high estimation. I cannot speak too highly in its praise. I have in several cases recommended it in cases very similar to my own with the same good results.

THE INTERNATIONAL REVIEW

The "International" for 1878 will present the usual number of articles upon religious, scientific, art, politicar and social subjects ment occupying the public attention. It will devote space to Kuropean inatters so far as they are likely to be interesting of Americans. It will continue to introduce the most popular foreign writers to compete for favor with the best American writers. It will aim to be able, strong at opractical, as well as popular, in the character and style of its presentations. It is safe to say that no other magazino in the word can supply its place in the libraries of Americans who love to consider the progress of events strong at supply its place in the libraries of Americans who love to consider the progress of events stronghout the word, and to know their bearing upon the Interests of the United States. Processors turins, Irottsmoor, vogel, br. Dollinger, Pr. Lorner, Dr. Neumeyer, Ir. Carl Abe, Mr. Milma Unboc. Briggsh Bey. McGilling, Thomas Briggsty, M. P. Thus to organize des proversion of correction of the contents of the co is not known that there is any reason why copies of the "lieview" should not be found in every house-hold. It has already the largest circulation of any secular Review, because of its popular attractions, These attractions will be developed gradually, and increased as their need is made known.
