More Sheriff's sales to-morrow. The melon crop season is at hand. The Detective is still on the watch. Barney Stohmer is now a grandfader. Sweet cider will soon be in the market. The buckwheat crop is looking well and bids fair to yield an abundant harvest. Judge Elwell has gone north for the benefit of his health. Don't forget that the COLUMBIAN office is doing job work now at par prices. Rev. Dr. Thompson will preach in the Methodist Church next Sunday evening. Parties whose notes we hold for subscription past due are again notified that they had better settle soon. W. A. Marr Esq., of Ashland, and S. P. Wolverson Esq., of Sunbury were in town last week. An infant child of Mr. Rollins died last Tuesday morning. The body was taken to Scranton for interment. The new residence of E. R. Iteler Esq., is about ready for roofing. It begins to present quite an imposing appearance. The Public Schools opened on Monday last with about 600 pupils. The Normal School has its fall session next Monday. C. B. Brockway and W. J. Bucklew, Esqs. are attending the Democratic State Convention at Harrisburg this week. The soldiers are still stationed at Wilkesbarre. It is probable that regular posts will be established there and at Scranton. The refreshing showers of last week were drunk in by a grateful soil. They laid the dust and greatly benefited the corn crop. A son of W. P. White in Mt. Pleasant town, fell off a sled box and broke his leg on Thursday last. The house of Joshua Evans in Eisinger creek was burned last Saturday morning, 18th. There was some insurance on it. Bernick will talk about getting a steam fire engine now, for a few weeks, just as we always discuss the water works question after every fire. A party of young ladies and gentlemen from Bloomsburg are spending a few days at Cole's at the foot of the North Mountain. The old pump at the foot of the school hill is a public benefactor. It furnishes water to many men and beasts, and that of an excellent quality. Dr. I. L. Rabb is fast gaining popularity as a dentist. He offers his professional services to the public in a card which appears in our advertising columns. Main street at the Scott Town hill is a very bad condition. It should be attended to just as soon as possible. The Espy road is about done, and if the town has any money left it should be put on that hill. East street is pretty bad, but that is worse. The cheap excursion to Watkins' Glen, which was to have taken place the first of this month, but was postponed on account of the strike, will go on the 4th of September. There will be a festival at Bucksport, M. E. Church, for the benefit of M. E. Parsanage, on Friday and Saturday evening the 21 and 25 inst. Also supper at 4 o'clock p. m. on Saturday. There will be a Grand Festival and parade by the American Mechanics of Shalston on Saturday, September 1st. Good speakers and music will be in attendance and dancing will be enjoyed at Snyder's woods. The ladies of the Lutheran congregation will hold a social in the basement of their church on to-morrow (Saturday) evening, August 25th. Refreshments will be served. All are cordially invited to attend. Arrangements to accommodate the members of the Faculty and their families at the Normal school are being rapidly completed. Mr. Welthe, newly appointed steward has already shown himself to be the right man for that place. The Montrose Democrat of last week says Judge Steiner has sent in his resignation as President Judge of that county, and that petition asking for the appointment of Wm. H. Jessup, Esq., to fill the vacancy until the general election in 1878, are being circulated. The Jerseytown Corns Band held a festival in Sullivan's woods near Jerseytown, last Saturday, to raise money to buy a band and wagon. Soss' Silver Cornet Band of Danville, Va., Washingtonville and Millville Bands were in attendance, and every body had a grand time. The following properties were sold at Sheriff's sale on Saturday last: Property of Thos. H. Bond, to D. C. Bond, for $685.00; S. E. Vanburen, to Central Savings Fund, for $11,000. Wm. Evans, to Navilla Evans, for $180.00, and John Suggesser, to Paxton & Harman, for $301.00. It has been the custom of the Democracy in Columbia county to nominate for District Attorney, their most promising young members of the bar. The honoree this time is bestowed upon our talented friend, Robert K. Little. Mr. Little is a deserving young man, and will wear the honors of his office with dignity worthy of an older head. As a Democratic nomination in Columbia secures an election, we extend our congratulations.—Edo.

The local office of the Philadelphia & Reading Express has been removed to the store of W. C. McKinnis, who will attend to the business in town. L. I. Greiner will continue to carry express matter. Packages and orders should be left at McKinnis's office. The good people in Orange invite the publication of an Ice Cream Festival on the evening of Friday August 31 and on the afternoon and evening of Saturday Sept. 1st. The management hope to have a brass band. Proceeds to make a church debt. Festival to be held in a beautiful grove near Thos. McHenry's house. The press of the Berwick Independent having been damaged by the fire that was kindled in Bloomsburg last week through the kindness of the proprietor of the Republican. For this favor the Independent returns thanks to Dr. Beckley. What we want to know is whether that means D. D. or M. D. Brother Beckley show your diploma. We know that money is scarce with farmers as with everybody else. We know also that when we send our paper to a subscriber for a year we expect to be paid for it. In farmers cannot pay us cash they certainly can pay in produce which is as good as cash to us. We will take fresh butter and eggs on account at market prices. A limited quantity of good baking apples and spring chickens will also be taken. This is a good season for your subscription without money. Our collection will soon be on the road and he will take nothing but cash. As to the business, they are all gentlemen of character and standing, but what is left of the Republican party can refer to more for them than to put their names on paper. The centennial anniversary of the battle of Bennington is celebrated in Vermont last week. President Hayes and several members of his cabinet attended. Public Sales. Ezra Stephens, administrator of William Hess, deceased, will sell real estate in Sugarloaf Township on August 27th. Henry W. Vandercie, administrator of J. H. Vandercie, deceased will sell real estate in Mt. Pleasant township, on Saturday September 1st. Same day in Roringerick township James Keifer, committee of Daniel Gearhart, will sell real estate. See advertisements in other columns. On Thursday evening the black smith shop of F. P. Kelley in Light Street fell down nearly crushing himself and wife. The shop was built some three or four years ago and placed on posts about 8 feet long spanning a brook. The freshets in the brook washing the foundation of the shop was the cause of the accident. Kelly was repairing his horses and they were doing their cooking and eating under the shop for the past week, and at the time the shop started, himself and wife were under it. He gave the alarm, and escaped but his wife was caught by the falling shop and severely cut in the face. Mrs. John Keiser, of Benton township, a daughter of Joseph Hess, with a sad accident on last Sunday. She was going to her father's home in a buggy. When near Wm. Smith's horse became frightened at an umbrella and ran violently down the hill. The driver was thrown out soon after the horse started but Mrs. Keiser remained in the buggy till near the foot of the hill when she was violently thrown out. She was picked up unconscious and had remained so until Tuesday evening, since which time we have not heard from her. But little hope of her recovery is entertained. The deepest sympathy is felt for her five or six children.—Republican.

Attorneys. Joseph Anthony, one of the prisoners in the city jail on the charge of inflicting the late riot, attempted to "blow off his mortal coil" on Sunday afternoon last. He had become noisy and fractious and the sheriff was compelled to lock him up in a cell. After being placed there he tore up some of the bed-covering which he fastened to the window, and placing a noose around his neck threw his whole weight forward. One of the prisoners in the yard discovered the operations of Anthony and called out to the sheriff, who rushed in and cut the noose, and the prisoner fell. He was pretty well gone, rasping considerably before he was able to get his breath.—Intelligencer. Our old friend, the sea serpent, makes his appearance. This time it is inland in a pease-patch little lake near Colburn, Ontario. Having laid the broad highway of the ocean and taken to some circumvented waters, the serpent, will no doubt, prove an easy capture, and the demerol mystery with which he has hitherto surrounded will be for once and all dispipated. The Colburn (Ontario) Sentinel is the authority on this latest fish or rather serpent story. It thus tells how the monster was seen:—Two American gentlemen who are enjoying the lovely lake, and the only popular resort which affords, were out on a fishing excursion, and when off White's Island, they noticed an unusual commotion in the water, looking towards the north shore. Their surmises and doubts were soon set at rest on discovering the undulating portions of the body of a monster which was making its way up the lake towards Harwood. They at once gave chase, and were rapidly gaining on the creature, when the outrage was tested by the monster turning around and made directly for them. The view they had of it at this juncture was the best they obtained of it, and it is described by them as having a head about like that of a horse, but the color of his eyes fierce and glaring, the sides of the skin dark grey, and glistening, and having large but apparently soft fins or long hair along its back so far as seen. They could see more than about twenty feet of the animal's body, but think it must be over sixty feet. They succeeded in reaching, Iridi Wad, the monster having disappeared before they got to the shore. This was about 11 o'clock in the morning. At 1 o'clock two ladies and two gentlemen standing in the piazza of the Lake View House saw the monster pass the north side of Hick Island, going on the direction of Spoke Island. With a good opportunity they were enabled to notice more accurately the movements of the monster, and for such now it appeared to be, and in a short time it had passed behind Spoke Island and made directly for the mouth of the Onondaga, but disappeared suddenly when it was that part of the lake which is considered the river channel, and has not since been seen from here. (Captain Brady got his yacht, the Slag, under weigh at once, and cruised around the island for some time, but could discover nothing of the alarming "monster." It will let you hear of anything further is seen or heard of his snakefish.) This is what the local paper says, but a special New York World correspondent writing from Colburn through considerable doubt on the story. He says, alluding to the article above quoted: "It was on Saturday last. Nothing further has been seen of his snakefish, but a great deal has been heard of him. It appears that nobody saw him but two American tourists, and the villagers have solved the vision by the theory: A fish-tail, or a log, or a measure prohibiting the sale of whisky in quantities less than five gallons—was passed in this county, and although it will not go into operation until March next, the tavern keepers are already laying in five-gallon kegs. One of these filled with old rye whisky, intended for consumption in the lumber as a "torpedo," because shanty whisky, is believed to kill at forty rods, came into the possession of the village keeper at about whose house the two Americans were staying, and on their starting for a two days' camp out he unwittingly put it into their canoe. This was on Friday. It is presumed that they got outside of the whole five gallons, partly because the bung-hole and other relics of the keg have been found on White's Island, near the eastern end of the lake, but chiefly, of course, because they detected the sea-serpent in their water, and according to the evidence of reliable persons who had not been within range of the infernal machine, nothing more "monstrous" than a floating boom of logs. This is universally regarded as the true explanation of the vision. The tourists are from Boston, and one of them is already willing to admit that it may have been a log.
