

But tears can never quench my creed, Nor smooth God's righteous frown ; Though all the preachers learn to read Their Bibles upside down. I hold mine right side up with care To shield my eyes from sin, An' coaxed the Lord with daily prayer.

Forty years ago Miss Adeline Byers, living near Asheville, N. C., married Wm Pinkney Murray, of Mississippi, and wenthome with her husband. She died there, neighbor, intending to return to North Carolina, Mr. Murray disinterred the body of Mrs. Murray for the purpose of sending it back by him. Imagine how amazed he was to find it in the coffin just as he had seen it three years before. The same features-almost the same expression. But what he saw was not flesh-it was solid stone. The whole body had petrified. In that condition he carried it to North Carolina and delivered it to the aged father, Mr. Byers, who could hardly doubt that his daughter had come home to him asleep. The news spread that Adeline's body had been "turned into they were unsuccessful. All through the will be permitted to rest until the resurrec-

A little fellow, five or six years old who year-old shrugged his shoulders, shook himself, walked around, and finally burst out with, "Ma, I do feel awful lonesome in this

The lady who Stanley was to marry has wedded another. What shall it profit a man if he finds 15,000,000 heathens and loses his

A crossed-eyed minister should never get up and read tue hymn, "I will guide thee

After a temperance lecturer has been tossed by an angry bull he shouldn't be blamed if he grows profane when asked if he ever felt what it was to take a horn.

"Now my little boys and girls," said a teacher, "I want you to be very still-so that you can hear a pin drop? In a moment all was slient, when a little boy cried

SCENE IN AN IOWA COURT .- Judge