THE FISH POLICY.

Great Britain's mackerel catch of $5,500. 000 is reported, together with correspondence, which let the United States down gently, and permitted a proud people to pay its debts. This portion of the message the President handles as though he were sitting over a powder magazine, meantime waiting for an explosion. Probably not even the Southern question will be the cause of so much acrimony and indignation as this part of the mes sage. In the Senate and In the House there are piles of bricks waiting to be thrown at the administration's fish policy.
