SOUND DOCTRINE.

fr Columbian. Grass BROCEWAY& ELWELL, Editors. BLOOMSBURG, PA. Friday, April 18, 1879. "REVOLUTION !"

In the absence of anything better, the Republican leaders have started this war cry because of the proposed Democratic legislation in Congress, and a partisan press obedisatly re echoes the sentiment. Revolutions may be peaceable or forcible. The former is the Democratic method, and the latter that adopted by our opponents. The people at the polls reinstated the Democratic party to correct certain abuses inaugurated by the Republicans. Chief among them are the Supervisors' Law, the Jurors' Test Oath Law, and that in relation to the use of Federal bayonets at elections. We have already referred to the first two subjects, and now desire to call especial attention to the last Even England under the reign of so arbitrary a monarch as George 11, in reference to the use of troops at the polls, had the following law passed by Parliament, which was reenacted under Queen Victoria : "Sec. 4. And be it enacted, that on every day ap-pointed for the nomination or for the election or for initial for the nomination or for the election of an entropy of the nomination or for the election of an entropy of the optimation of the election of an ion solider within two mites of any city, burough, town, or place where such nomination or election and be declared or poll taken shall be allowed to yo out of the barrack or quarters in which be is station-ed, in eas for the purpose of mounting or releving that every solider allowed to yo out for the for y stuck purpose within the limits aforesaid shall reform a so it to mark or quarters with all cost cost of any stuck purpose within the limits aforesaid shall reform to the sone as his guard shall have been relevined or vote sone as his guard shall have been relevined or vote sone as his guard shall have been releving or vote sone as his guard shall have been releving or vote sone as his guard shall have been releving or vote sone as his guard shall have been releving the sone of the sone of

The third section of the British law de clares that whenever such an election is appointed, notice of it shall, with all convemient speed, be sent to the War Office, and in writing, "to the general officer commanding in each district of Great Britain, who shall thereupon give the necessary orders for enforcing the execution of this act in all places under his command."

The interference of the military with the functions of the civil power in the Colonies led to the Revolution, and was sternly desounced in the Declaration of Independence. It was the war cry of the Republican party against Buchanan's administration of afhirs in "Bleeding Kansas," The Constitu- Grant's continued and growing popularity tion of Pennsylvania says : "Elections shall be free and equal ; and no power, civil or property-holders, the glamour of heroism military shall at any time interfere to prevent the free exercise of the right of suffrage. The law itself was revolutionary, but the power It gives was also exercised in war times, and notably when the "sainted Lincoln" sent soldiers to various polls in this County -to overawe voters and re-elect himself. Even Gen. Geary when Governor of this State, warned the President not to send civil service of the country, with or with-Federal troops to Philadelphia to enforce the election laws, as was proposed, and threatened to oppose them by force, asserting in a message to the Legislature that it was an interference with State Rights. Now what does the Army Bill propose ?

This is its language :

"That section 2,003 of the Revised Statutes be meaded no as to read as follows: "No military or aral officer, or other persons engaged in the civil, dillary, or haval service of the United states shall aval of

How do the existing statutes differ from the proposed statutes ? In the sole particular that the two former now contain, after the words "to repeal armed enemies of the United States," the additional exception, "or to keep the peace at the polle."

The Republican argument is two-fold : FIRST, that the existing law "is right." We have already answered that point, but would add that if it is just why did the Republicans agree to help repeal it as a separate SECOND. It is objected that it should not be a rider to an appropriation bill. We answer that it became a law by the Repubans fastening it to an army appropriation bill in 1867. #### LET THE PEOPLE REJOICE.

The "Riot Bill" has been defeated by the close vote of 101 to 98. On the motion to re- owe it to themselves to purge their ranks of ider, Vanderslice voted to reconsider, and Enittle against it. It is now in order to kill the iniquitous "Border Raid Bill," and then the Legislature might as well adjourn.
