state, is that of the gentleman whose name is at the head of this article. Although this farm is only about three miles from the beautiful borough of Girard, I venture to say that many persons in this township, who are admirers of rural beauty and choice fruit have never seen it. Of the 10,000 or 12,000 bearing fruit trees on these two hundred acres, 6,000 are apple trees ; 1,500 pear trees; 2,500 peach trees, and 500 quince trees, all of choice varieties. When I visited the farm in June, the prospects for a fine yield of apples, pears, and peaches, was flattering. But the severe and protracted drouth has caused much of the fruit to wither and fall. Mr. B. has six acres of grapes, mostly Concords, although he grows Catawbas, Isabelias, and other choice kinds to ac commodate his customers. As his farm is bounded on the west by a dense forest, his fruits have never been injured by that destructive insect, the rosebug.

Fourteen acres of the farm are planted in strawberries. Mr. B. prefers the Crescent seedling to any other strawberry for the table or market. Its yield is wonderful. It is larger than the Wilson, and has a finer color or flavor.

Although the extremely dry weather ha probably reduced the yield one-half. I present the figures below as a result of Mr. B.'s strawberry season : Whole amount gathered from one and one-fourth acres, 275 bushels, mostly Wilsons. Whole amount of Crescent seedings gathered from one-tenth of an acre, 471 bushels, or at the rate of 75 bushels per acre. Amount of sales from one and one-fourth acres, $482 .-51, after deducting the expense of marketing. Paid for picking the berries, $51,21. Profit from one and one-fourth acres of land, $431,30 ; not a bad result, considering the unfavorable season.

I noticed on the farm some splendid specimens of Lancashire swine, the most profitable breed of hogs ever introduced into this country. They run in the orchard and become fat easily and in a short time, by feeding on the grass, and on the diseased and immature fruit that drops from the trees. Mr. B. imports and breeds them. J also noticed four caged crows, some fine fowls, and twenty-five hives of bees, from one of which rushed a colony that I took good care to give a wide berth .- Lancaste Intelligencer.

What our Boys and Girls are Reading.

The flashy newspapers that are sold upon the news-stands and the vile publication that are hawked about more secretly, are not however, the whole of the mischievous read ing that falls into the hands of our boys and girls. The libraries, and the public libraries the Sunday-school libraries furnish then with a great deal of reading that, as they use it, is extremely hurtful to them. The statistics that our librarians give us showing the great excess of novels over all othe classes of books issued to the patrops of the libraries give us food for rather discourage ing reflection. From the Hartford Public Library one boy took one hundred and two novels in six months, and a girl one hundred and twelve in the same time. Think of the condition of these children's minds at the end of such a carnival of sensations ! Even though no books of positively immoral character are admitted into the public libraries it is clear that the provision of so much mental excitement for our young people is doing them great damage. The late convention of librarians in Bos ton discussed this matter very earnestly and tried to reach some practical conclusions One radical suggestion was that a city of town has no right to tax the people for the furnishing of mere amusement to anybody, and that therefore no fiction that is not clear ly educational in its character should find oom upon the shelves of the public libraries Another proposition was that school child dreu (and the restriction need not be limited to the children at school) should not be al lowed to take more than one story a week. That rule ought to be immediately adopted and rigidly enforced in all the public libraries. It is simple debauchery for any young person to read more than one novel week .- Sunday Afternoon.
