The fine reputation of Bloomsborg for beauty and health, has its drawback in the want of a public supply of water. After enjoying the beauty of the loc ion, the breadth of the streets, the regularity of the pavements, the general good style of the buildings, &c., &c., comes the question, "Have you Water?" And when you answer "No," there is an inquiring look and the exclama tion "Ah !"

Water in Bloomsburg is not a private neces sity—it is a public one, one in which the public is interested. The protection of property the cleansing of streets, &c , &c. are the require ments of the hour. General health and public comfort are the results of a copious, public water supply. And therefore those who for the present represent the public should give the ubject prompt and earnest attention.

So far, a few individuals have borne the urden of the improvements of this town. But there are none who are unwilling to take advantage of the rise of property, the increase n rents, and to boast themselves to strangers, f the advantages which they opposed from first to last. ORANGEVILLE ITEMS.

The meeting of the Presbytery of Northun berland which took place last week passed off very pleasantly and profitably, About 45 mem ers were present. In the absence of the mod erator, Rev. Dr. Mitchell, Rev. J. Burrows of Williamsport presided. The opening sermo was deferred till Tuesday evening and was preached by the Moderator with great earnest ess and power. The session lasted through Wednesday closing in the evening with a pub lic meeting, at which addresses on Temperance were made by Rev. L. L. Haughawout, Rev. A Henry. These were followed by the report of the woman's Presbyterial Missionary Society, which held its meeting at the same time. This report was read by the secretary, Miss Louise Mechanicsburg made some remarks on "Wo-man's Work for Woman." Following this closing exercises were of an exceedingly interesting character and Presbytery adjourned amid the mutual congratulations of both members and the reception and examination of Mr. J. Cook Rev. James Dickson and the Chruch at Berwick. A Standing Committee on Temperance was appointed composed of Rev. A. Henry Rev. C. K. Canfield and Elder S. P. Gaston The next spring meeting will be held at Dan.

The meeting of the "Woman's Presbyteria; society" was largely attended and very much enjoyed by the ladies of Orangeville and the rrounding country. Reports were made by delegates from the auxiliary societies of which here are some 14 or 15 connected with the Presbyterial Society. Reports were also read from numerous mission Bands. The most enjoyable feature of the occasion was the Bible Recitation and the address of Mrs. S. M. Hendarson of Mechanicsburg. The president of the Society, Mrs. A. T. Young being absent the meeting was presided over by Mrs. Mary L. Neal of Bloomsburg. The next meeting was appointed to be held in Bloomsburg in March

"Scarcely has Col. Forney turned his face from Kansas, "youngest child of freedom." until our ears are assailed with the account of a tragedy which illustrates the prevailing social condition of a portion of that state T. A. Rodgers assistant postmaster of Rodgersville, writes to the Postmaster General under date of September 25th that on the 23d of September, he shot and killed his brother, Louis D. Rodgers, the postmaster. It appears from the letter of T. A. Rodgers, that he mistook his brother for George L Elwood "a notorious desperado" who dared Hudson of Williamsport and was a fine pro-duction. After this Mrs. S. M. Henderson of carrying the mail. Following this supposing it was Elwood entering the winddresses on the same subject were made by dow, "I discharged a gun at him with fatal Rev. Geo. Elliott and Rev. A. C. Clark. The result, and only too late I discovered I had shot my brother."

How will this serve as a companion pic ture to that of postmaster Nix, of Blackitizens. Among the business transactions, was ville, South Carolina, who was shot at and missed the other day, and over whose tale of as a candidate for the Ministry, also the dis outrage, all stalwardom in the north has set up so plaintive a howl? In the letter of assistant postmaster Rodgers, after giving the account of killing of his brother, he says: "Owing to the turbulent state of ou community I recommend the speedy discontinuance of said post office.' This turbulent community in which a post office cannot be kept open on account of desperadoes, is not in Mississippi nor South Carolina, but in Kansas, Republican Kansas, which a few days ago celebrated with much eciat, its foundation as a state. With proper attention the stalwart organs of the east need not draw their accounts of lawlessness and outrage from a latitude further south than Kansas. What is the need of ransacking Texas for tragedies on which to hang partisan comment when a much more nteresting field lies nearer home ?
