its pink and drab ingrain carpet and chestnut suit, and dimly curtains at the windows.

Then Minnie made some trifling little alterations in her toilette, and proceeded to take literal advantage of Mrs. Carriscount's invitation to make herself at home in the great, charming parlors below, where she made a charming set, quiet little picture as she sat nestled in a huge silken chair, the color of the roses on her cheeks, and at which Miss Cleona Carriscount looked in astonishment, imperious disdain, and Mr. Geoffrey Fletcher in undisguised admiration as the two entered the room at the farthest entrance.

By Jove, what a lovely girl! Who is she, Miss Carriscount?

Who is she, Miss Carriscount? he asked in a tone of unusual interest. Cleona's black eyes looked unutterable anger at Mrs. Carriscount.

News from all Around.

—Gonzalez, the would-be regicide, has written to King Alfonso, asking to be pardoned.

News from all Around.

—Governor Hoyt's appointment of Judge Woodward has stirred up the Republicans of Kingston to frenzied fury, and they have been smashing his portrait.

News from all Around.

—An enormous poker has arrived at the Mischler House stables, heading from near Ephrata, Lancaster county, which is said to weigh over 1,000 pounds.

News from all Around.

—The late Judge Woodward's place on the Supreme Bench of the State has never been supplied.

News from all Around.

—The Wilkes-Barre Railroad says that an immense catamount was shot near that place the other day.

News from all Around.

—In the Lower House of the Prussian Diet the Minister of Finance, in asking a vote for the relief of the sufferers by the famine in upper Silesia, announced that the Government also contemplated the construction of two branch railway lines in Silesia, which would require a grant of 12,500,000 marks.

News from all Around.

—The Lancaster Examiner relates this: "A farmer in this county, who was rich, died within a few years. Once, when his horse took fire, the men engaged in the harvest field cut work long enough to go and put out the fire, and then they returned from burning down. When he came to settle with his men when harvest was over he took the time they were at the fire and refused to pay for it. One of them, having refused to settle in that way, brought suit for a justice and recovered for full time, at the expense of several dollars to the farmer for costs."

News from all Around.

—A few days ago George Barr, a tinsmith aged 65 years, living at Strasburg, in Lancaster county, met with a strange accident, which caused his death.

News from all Around.

—New Year's day, at the citizens' reception at the white house, in the presence of hundreds of visitors, De Alha stood up and told Mr. Hayes that he had been seeking justice here for the past eighteen months, and now had come to tell him that if Divine Providence would inflict upon him the one-buried death part of the disgrace, poverty and suffering that had been inflicted upon his (De Alha's) family for the past two years, Hayes would not have a happy moment of his life; and, he continued, "neither do you deserve it."

News from all Around.

—The incident created a great deal of excitement among the crowd, which had to be parted all through the house and at the main entrance, to let De Alha pass out. Hayes, during De Alha's shouting, kept ducking his head and attempting to greet the other visitors, who still seemed anxious to hear De Alha through.
