From the wail of indignation that come com a certain editor there seems to be some one hurtabout the nomination for Poor Direct r. When the nomination was quietly made three years ago by the standing committee to the liking of this loyal editor, no fault of one or two men dictating to the masses was found. but now the committee met by the call of their Chairman and had the meeting published in a ound democratic paper, and the committee met at the appointed time and place and nominated Democrats, not boiters, for the office of Poor Directors. Now as this loyal editor has no fault to find with old directors he believes they have done their duty it is pretty certain who he is trying to slander through his smut suchine, The people of Scott know who coted for the Poor House and who voted rair at it, and the list of votes and voters will cil who voted for Sheriff last fall.
