Washington, D.C. April 12th, 1880. DISTINGUISHED DEFENDANTS, LAWYER BELVA A, LOCKWOOD AS A PROS

ECUTION.

The sensations of the past week have been egal rather than legislative. Two very disinguished gentlemen, the Admiral of the Navy and Senator Hill, of Georgia, have appeared before the U. S. District court as lefendants. Admiral Porter was charged with diverting money due from the Governnent to a clerk in his employ, or rather conelling this clerk, through threats of disharging him, to pay the money to the clerk's livorced wite. The plaintiff was non-suits), and will renew his claim in the courts of

New York. The suit against Senator Hall has all endy become a celebrated case. The plaintiff is a woman suring for seduction and the support of her child. Her lawyer is a woman whom neither the polished paragraphs of the New York Nation, nor the studied contempt of the distinguished counsel who advocated he cause of Mr. Tilden before the Electoral Commission, can suppress. Mrs. Belva A Lockwood is perhaps the most irrepressible respectable woman of this wicked general ion, Mary Watker and Susan B. Anthony not excepted. She is a very thorn in the his year strongly resembled the old game of flesh, and lioness in the paths of masculine "Pussy wants a corner." Several families are trailty. She has no tears for an erring brothtimes a "corner," and are compelled to take to er's shame. Great Ceasar! what will become of us in this phenomenal civilization? With wner, Mrs. Wesler, who will no doubt try to of creation will be no more respectable than the ladies of creation with whom they sen, Mr. Barton, of Bloomsburg, is at present man. the professions." Alas for the moral, alas for the Vation! I am not assuming the guilt of Senator Hill; that is a question for the courts to decide, but neither the ability nor respectability of the defendant and his counsel entitle him to a favorable prejudgment by the pre-ssefore the evidence is all in. If Senator Hill is innocent, it is deplorable that he has been made to suffer; if he is guilty he should meet the consequence like any other man. Meanwhile Washington political society will be prodded into improved circum spection by such suits as this, and political society here can carry a good deal more circumspection without the reproach of ansterity and Paritanism.

After the nomination at Cincinnati, there will be, to a far greater extent even than i Democrats on trumpery political documents. The mails from this city, New York and speeches, statistics, prophysics and denunciations, all of which will be expected to atand November, there is no doubt that elo quent speakers will have their influence by lay night. The guests thoroughly enjoyed the jappeals from the stump, but the speeches o of a pamphlet, will only kindle the morning fire or be made useful for other non-po litical purposes in and around the voters' houses. We ask Judge Pearson, if a poor, friendless man had committed a crime, plead guilty, fled from justice till after the term of the court at which he confessed his guilt by a plea of guilty had closed, came back to the jurisdiction, if in that case he, the judge, would have bailed him for his appearance at the next term of the court for sentence?
