

THE COLUMBIAN.

BLOOMSBURG, FRIDAY, APRIL 28, 1930

Go see "Our Candidate" to-night.

Plenty of good fresh in the market.

Spring styles of Hats and Bonnets at Misses Everett and Green.

The men working at the water works are paid each Friday.

Frank Unangst is lying dangerously ill at the residence of his father, Philip Unangst.

"Our Candidate" to-night, at the Opera House.

Charles Krug is repairing the planing mill preparatory to working it.

D. A. Cressy has erected a new awning in front of his store.

S. H. Miller & Son have been making additions and improvements in their store.

H. B. Clark is now in New York city purchasing goods. Look out for something nice on his return.

W. H. Smith, editor of that brightly lit daily, the "Morning Star," was in town on Monday.

The Buckwalter brothers had their sprinkler repaired and repainted. It is now in first class trim for its summer "heat."

The new string band, under the skillful instructions of Thomas Metherell, is making splendid progress.

Bald's Minstrels played here, Monday night, at a fair house. The entire performance was excellent. We hope they will soon return.

Three persons were confirmed by Bishop Howe at St. John's church, Catawissa last Sunday morning.

Jerome Woodring left last Friday, for Johns town, where he has secured employment in a store.

C. C. Galignan advertises in this issue. He is a first class mechanic and all persons wanting anything in his line will do well to call on him.

T. W. Conner has enlarged his store by taking on the partition and through the room used by E. Madenbach as an office into the store room. He has also added to his stock.

Go to Snyder and get your Photographs, new rooms, better facilities and a guarantee for first class work. Rooms in Clark's building.

The commissions for the newly elected Justices of the Peace have been received at the Recorder's office for delivery on the first Monday of May.

The attempt at a facetious report of the proceedings of the Democratic Standing Committee, in the Republics of last week, was a failure. It lacked two essential points, wit and accuracy.

NOTICE.—In order to reduce my immense stock of boots and shoes, I will sell for 60 days at cost. Come one and all secure great bargains at Gross' N. Y. Store, two doors above City Hotel.

There will be a meeting of the Stockholders of the State Normal School on Monday, May 3rd, at two o'clock in the afternoon at the office of F. P. Billmeyer, Esq., Secretary, to elect four persons to serve as trustees for the stockholders for three years, and also to name four persons to the Superintendent of Public Instruction, from which list it will be necessary to serve for three years on the part of the State.

A very large congregation attended the service at the Episcopal church on Sunday evening. A class of eighteen persons were confirmed by Bishop Howe. A very able discourse was delivered by the Bishop on the doctrine and customs of the church. Rev. Mr. Fosenden, of Catawissa, assisted the Rector in his services.

No one who appreciates fine acting should fail to attend the performance of "Our Candidate" to-night. The play and troupe are first class, and it is only through the energy of the managers of the Opera house, that they have been induced to show in a town so small. Turn out and give them a full house.

At the special meeting of the Council, the committee on the park reported that G. W. Sterner desired to lease the park ground for three years, and that he was willing to pay $20 for the first year, $25 for the second, and $30 for the third, and keep the fencing in as good repair as at present. The report was accepted and the committee instructed to enter into an agreement with Sterner. A permit was granted Kooner & Winterstein to erect a building on the corner of Seventh street and Strawberry alley. On motion adjourned.

There are a certain lot of men in this town, who are chronically opposed to every improvement. They were opposed to the incorporation of the town, but as soon as the law was passed, they were the first ones to step forward and signify their willingness to hold office under the town law. They were opposed to the Gas works, but when these were completed this same set of men were the first to ask for lamp posts in front of their houses, to be paid for by the town. They are now opposed to the water works. As soon as water is put into the town these persons will all be demanding fire plugs in their immediate vicinities. They ought to have them by all means. Such enterprise deserves a reward.

The Danville and Shamokin Railroad, under contemplation, is being pushed forward by the interested parties. We are informed that some of the parties, who are most actively interested in the building of this new line, have been investigating the Bearinger route, and the indications now seem to be that this route will be adopted. From our own knowledge of the route of the center we think this is a wise conclusion, beside, this route will put the Bear Gap coal, which is said to be the best domestic coal in this section, and will be within easy access to Danville and other points. It will give Danville consumers of coal better facilities and probably at cheaper rates.—Danville Record.

LOCKARD'S CARBONS.— Through the courtesy of Lockard Brothers, we were shown through their establishment on Saturday last. We were aware that their shop was run on an extensive scale, but had no idea of the amount of work done there until we made a personal inspection. There is a blacksmith shop, machine shop, foundry, planing mill, pattern shop, paint shop and lumber yard, all of which are now busily engaged in the contract for one hundred oil cars for the New Jersey Central Railroad. As soon as this new order they will begin on an order for two hundred gondola cars for the Boston and Hudson tunnel road. Four cars are completed every day, and to do this about one hundred men are employed. Eight thousand feet of lumber and nine tons of iron are used per day. Lockard Brothers have a large amount of expensive machinery and is still adding to it.

Such an establishment as this is a blessing to any community. It is only to be regretted that there are not more such in this town. They afford employment to laboring men, bring strangers here and add greatly to the prosperity of the town. It is to be hoped that after the completion of the water works, capitalists at home or from abroad will start other manufacturing establishments here. There is no better point in the State.

Charles Rice returned from Philadelphia on Monday, where he was attending his father's funeral.

All the latest styles of Hats and Bonnets trimmed to suit at Misses Everett and Green.

The Town Council held a special meeting on Tuesday evening and ordered an injunction to be asked for, restraining the Water company from proceeding to lay pipes unless they leave the street just as they found it. We do not know much about such matters, but would suppose that if the street is packed down, the first rain would settle it level, the surface and leave a depression to be filled out. The gas pipes were put down in the same manner, and there were no ridges in the streets after a few rains.

Who are the tax payers that requested this action on the part of the Council?

"Laugh and grow fat" is an old adage which cannot fall of verification in case of your attendance at the Opera House, this Friday evening. The Comedy, "Our Candidate," has received the highest encomiums of the press wherever it has been produced.

Heavy rain and thunder storm Friday evening.

Lord's day was a very pleasant one, and there was a good attendance at church.

The Stillwater Singing Class gave an exhibition at the school house on Saturday evening. We know it was a very pleasant and enjoyable affair, though the attendance was small.

Mr. J. F. McHenry is in the city this week, purchasing his spring and turned it over to "Chap Joe," as he is familiarly called, is doing a good business here.—Mr. James Stoker, his clerk, is a very gentlemanly and clever fellow, and we are sorry to say that his only child is now dangerously ill.

Rollins, Holmes & Schuyler, of Bloomsburg, Pa., the firm who contracted for the putting in of the steam heating apparatus, gas fitting, and the entire plumbing of the court house, have completed their work and turned it over to the commissioners. It has all been done by skilled workmen, and is a first class job in every respect. Special care has been used in the plumbing, and every possible precaution has been taken to prevent the escape of sewer gas into the building, and thus jeopardize the health of the county officials. They have also scientifically remedied the plumbing in a large number of private dwellings in town, to the entire satisfaction of the patrons. The above firm are extensive contractors for the warming and ventilating of dwellings, stores and public buildings by steam. Having their works located in a town where heat and wages are low, in comparison with the large cities, they are prepared to make remarkably low estimates, and guarantee satisfaction. The boiler they use is of guaranteed quality, non-explosive and automatic, requiring no more attention than an ordinary stove and a small amount of water. The heat produced by it is most healthy, an even temperature is kept by it without any difficulty, and it is absolutely free from dust and coal gas. An unusually large number of people and officers of justice, to the entire satisfaction of the work of Rollins, Holmes & Schuyler.—Heraldic Citizen.

"Our Candidate" should receive the hearty and united support of all our people, irrespective of age, sex, or party.

James Beckle and Hattie Grant were married, Thursday morning, at Rev. O. D. S. Mar day, in the Lutheran church.

B. F. Fruit and W. H. Jacoby went to Sullivan county, Thursday.

Mr. William Wats, formerly of this place, who had come up from Danville on Wednesday, to obtain some medicine for the disease with which he was afflicted, suddenly died about half past 11 o'clock on Thursday morning. Dropsy was the cause of his death. He will be buried at Danville on Sunday with the honors of war.

Comrades of Est. Post, 252 G. A. R., are requested to attend their hall, this Friday evening, April 27th, at half past seven o'clock, as business of importance is to be transacted.

BREWSTER LETTER.

EDS. COLUMBIAN: Mr. G. R. Crispin, of the firm of Bowman & Crispin, merchants, has been in Philadelphia the past few days buying goods. Mr. H. B. Clark, also a merchant, left on Monday for the same place for a like purpose. He is accompanied by his daughter Minnie.

Mr. Williams does not sell any liquor, but is not deterred from entertaining the public at his residence. He has put the first class hotel card, which contained a great deal of amusement to the most spectators, that daily congregate on the scene.

The pupils of the high school, accompanied by their teacher, W. E. Smith, have lately indulged in five mile walks, after school, out into the woods in quest of Trailing Arbutus. If this were daily practiced by our town schools, we would have healthier and longer-lived men and women. All our schools should devote some time to athletic exercises.

At the library last week, Woman's Suffrage was discussed by F. Stewart, N. Stiles, Isaiah Fowler, Dr. Hill and Andrew Freas. The audience extracted considerable amusement from the remarks of Stewart and Hill, the former championed the fair sex with an effusion of poetry and earnest encomiums the latter opposed the measure with all the vindictive spirit that could command. The other speakers were for the lady. Two of the judges, being unmarried men, dared give a decision based on a comparison of the arguments, which was adverse to the affirmative. The other judge was Dr. Freas. His eminently lady like a lively interest in the literary proceedings.

The "Party" race had not yet subsided last week. Mr. M. W. Jackson and I had open doors for a large number of invited guests on Wednesday evening. The ladies were lavishly dressed, some quite handsomely, making a bright throng in the gay light. The games were merry, particularly the acting charade which afforded infinite amusement. Refreshments which consisted of delicious varieties of ice cream, cakes, coffee, confections, etc., were partaken of in the course of the evening. A fine affair occurred at the house of Mr. McHenry on Friday evening. Refreshments, amusements and all were a counterpart of the above. All the guests enjoyed themselves hugely, while they forgotful of time.

A CORRECTION.

EDS. COLUMBIAN.—Dear Sir: I noticed in the Stillwater Journal of the 23rd inst. that Mr. Benjamin Peeler, who for many months under the care and treatment of a physician and grew worse all the time had discharged for his expense, abandoned drugs, and was now under the best treatment and careful nursing of her mother-in-law, out of danger.

Now the Rev. Scribbs has either been misinformed, or informed at all in regard to this case, or he has wilfully departed from the truth in the statements he has made. Mrs. Benjamin Peeler's physician has not been discharged, neither has she abandoned the use of drugs, but is taking them regularly, and her physician has seen her regularly since her first sickness. It is true that a great deal of praise is due Mrs. John Peeler for her care and devotion to her afflicted one (for without this care thousands have died who might have recovered) and her recovery thus far is in great measure due to the nursing of kind friends and the moral care of Mrs. Peeler, but as to the balance contained in that article, it is utterly false.

C. W. AMERMAN, M. D., Orangeville, April 19, 1930.

A purely vegetable medicine, containing all the virtues of calomel without any of the injurious tendencies so justly dreaded by the Sinner's Liver Regulator will be found prompt to start the secretion of the liver, and give a healthy tone to the entire system, without saturation or any injurious effects. When used as a cathartic, it is no wise disorders the system, nor does it produce any nausea or sick stomach when used to purge. It is so mild in its action as not to interfere with business or pleasure.

Recalled to Life.

Pesth, April 17.—A most extraordinary case of resuscitation is reported to have taken place at Raab on the 14th inst. Raab is about sixty seven miles from this city and was formerly a fortified city. It is built on the river of the same name and is a place of commercial importance. The story that comes from there reads more like one of the grim contents of the legends of Balzac than an occurrence of the present day. A young convict named Takas, who had murdered two women, was hanged. He was about 23 years of age. After the body was cut down and examined by the physicians life was pronounced extinct. As a scientific experiment the body was subjected to an electro-galvanic current, and after a few hours signs of life were perceptible. The resuscitated convict completely recovered the use of his senses, and his first actions were of violence toward the prison officials by whom he was surrounded. He soon began to suffer from congestion of the brain and became delirious during the night. He made repeated attacks upon the keepers and committed violent pains asking them to give him time for milk and water. Death released him finally from his sufferings on Tuesday morning. The entire medical faculty in this city is considerably exercised over the case.

A Building Association Case.

The Supreme Court has rendered a decision in the case of O'Rourke vs. the West Penn Loan and Building Association, holding that where a building association has declared that the stock of a certain series has reached its full value of $200, but which cannot be paid owing to some of the money being invested in real estate which cannot be realized on, that a stockholder cannot bring an action at law for the matured value of stock, but must, where there is anything wrong done him, bring a bill in equity. O'Rourke owned ten shares in the West Penn Building Association. About the latter part of February, 1928, the tenth annual report was issued, which put the first series of stock at $200, but, as a considerable part of the assets was in real estate, it would not have been possible to pay the first series shares, holders unless the real estate could be converted into cash. This could not be done without a sacrifice, which the association refused to do. O'Rourke brought an action for the matured value of his ten shares. He was non-suited, and Judge Yerkes refused to take the non-suit off, saying: "We cannot see that building associations are exceptions to the general law governing corporations, that a shareholder cannot sue at law as a shareholder. It follows that if he wishes to participate in all of the profits of the association he must wait until the corporation winds up the series to which he belongs. Of course, there may be cases where he may invoke the aid of a court of equity." The Supreme Court affirms this judgment.
