STATE TICKET.

SUPREME JUDGE, GEORGE A. JENKS, Jefferson county AUDITOR GENERAL,

ROBERT P. DECHERT, Philadelphia.

An exchange currley remarks: The Demo cratic Governor of New York allowed Tweed to die in the penitentiary, even after he bad given up his property and made a confession. The Republican Governor of Pennsylvania pardoned Wm. H. Kemble before he not to the penitentiary, for fear he would

There is a weekly paper published at Washington which purports to be an organ of the "Greenback" party. It is really republican paper in disguise. It is suppor ted and circulated by republicans. The matview of injuring the democratic party with such a National view as the republican man agers are anxious shall be taken by democrats of "gree uback" proclivities.

Now that the candidates for the different generally will be called upon and their influence and votes solicited. Do not prom- services. ise the first man who approaches you on the subject, simply because he is the first. Wait until all the caudidates are in the field and then give your support to the one whom you believe to be the most compet, nt, and deserving. There must be no bolting this tall, and in order to prevent it let the nom inces be solid Democrats, and the nominations be made fair and square, and withou a suspicion of corrupt means.

STATE SENATOR.

A Williamsport correspondent of the Harrisburg Patriot has this to say about the

"As to Senator, to fill the vacancy causeby the death of the lamented George D Jackson, of Sullivan, there is a strong disposition to nominate Mr. Nathan B. Kim ble, of Williamsport, for the place. He made one of the best members Lycoming ever had, and is deservedly popular with al parties. His name stands above reproach for honesty and integrity, and he would make an excellent Senator, Sullivan or Columbia will likely claim the nominee, but it is believed that if Mr. Kimble will consent to be a candidate, the popular feeling in his behalf is so strong that he would ride into the office on a genuine boom."

While the ability of Mr. Kimble is uninquestioned, the right of Lycoming to claim the next Senator is and will be very strongly contested. She had the office for the two terms immediately preceding &r. Jackson's election, and while there are three other counties in the district, each with a democratic majority, it is not likely that the Senas to which county should have it, but are

STANDING COMMITTEE.

BLOOMSBURG, Pa. June 2, 1880. MESSES EDITORS :-

Now that the meeting of our standing committee is over, as well as the sessions of our State convention, it may not be amiss to call the attention of your Democratic readers to some propositions that should underlie, if they do not, our county delegate

At the outset let me say that ourdelegate to the State Convention-Col. J. G. Freeze and John M. Clark, esqs, were men who were eminently fit for the position and who could have been elected under any circumstances I also believe that they properly represented in convention the wishes of the Democracy of this county. The old rule was for the Convention to select the chairman, and as I am informed he selected the Standing Committee, which was gradually enlarged from five to eleven, I have not the data by me to be exact. At any rate this one man Power was frequently abused, especially by the "bolt" in 1866, in the contest between Chalfant and Tate. To remedy this evil new rules were adopted, and among them was one providing that the Standing Committee should consist of one member from each election district and that they should be elected by the Democratic voters at the Delegate elec tion. This salutary rule was intended to give the people rerepsentatives of their own choice, and it followed of course that there wis a full representation of the minority.

But at the late meeting of the Standing Committee, despite protest, it was prostitu ted, and whilst no injury was done at that time, the precedent is fraught with danger

In the first place we do not believe there is any authority for any substitutions, certainly not in the rules. The members are elected, not appointed, and if for any reason the man chosen cannot attend, the power of substitution falls back to the people.

But granting that he has the power of substitution all reason and precedent show that his successor must come from the body which elected him. Otherwise our present rule is worse than the old one. At the last meet ing blank substitutions were collected and the names filled in at the will of the holder. A number of these men resided in Bloomsburg, and possibly never set foot in the districts they pretended to represent. The same process might enable the whole to be represented by men living in Bloomsburg. On the same theory it would be easy for a man to go through the county and collect a majority if not all the substitutions and insert had adjudged them deserving of the treathis own or any other name. This would be minority representation with a vengeance, but is unwarranted, and undemocratic. We int no one man power in this county. It can readily be seen how easy it is to get these subititutions. There is no pay con nected with the position and many are loath to leave their business for a matter in which they may think they have no immediate concern. Others may act from motives of friendship, promises as to the future, pecuniary the Protestant Episcopal Church for the Di motives, or other inducements.

this question, and the people should elect the rite of confirmation over twelve Indian these who are able and willing to serve, or it children, eight boys and four girls. The substitutions are to be made let it be by the prople of the district, or of one from among

The sermon of Rev. Thomas K. Beecher of Elmira was heard at Williamsport on Sunday last by telephone. The distance is seventy-eight miles.

The Republican says that "Dr. S. Y. Thom, son of Danville was unable to go as thousand dollars. It is said on good authora delegate to Chicago, W. J., Baldy went as ity. Besides this, it is alleged that he ala substitute." How does it come that a paper lowed the Chairman of the State Committee signed by twenty-two of the Pennsylvania to overdraw his committee account with the delegation protesting against Grant's nomination contains the name of S. Y. Thompson instead of W. J. Baldy ? The paper was drawn in Chicago on Tuesday.

Cadet Whittaker, the colored boy at West Point, who alleged that an outrage had been committed upon him in his room, by tying him, slitting his ears, and otherwise mutilating his person, an investigation of which charge has occupied several weeks at West Point, has been found guilty of committing the outrage upon himself. The motive is supposed to have been for the purpose of exing sympathy as he stood low in his class and was afraid he would not graduate. He has been placed under arrest, but still protests

The supreme Court of Pennsylvania ha recently rendered several important decisions of general interest in the matter of road taxes. The right of farmers to work out their road tax has been generally, if not universally, conceded, supervisors in a few townships insist that the tax must be paid in money A test case has been decided in ter it contains is carefully prepared with a favor of the tax payers, and their right to work out their taxes distinctly and finally confiding and unsuspecting people. It is just affirmed. In other cases collectors of road taxes have claimed a commission on the taxes worked out, as well as that paid into the county treasury. The Supreme Court decides that all claims for such commissions should be rejected, the working out of the county offices are growing numerous, voters tax imposing no labor on the treasurer, but on the supervisor, who is fully paid for his

The undersigned delegates to the Republican National Convention, representing our several Congressional districts in the State of New York, desiring above all the success of the Republican party at the approaching election and realizing the hazard attending an injudicious nomination, declare our purpose to resist the nomination of General U. S. Grant by all honorable means. We are sincere in the conviction that in New York at least his nomination would ensure defeat, We have a great battle to fight, and victory is within our reach, but we earnestly protest atorship will be conceded to Lycoming per-petually. Indians at Carlisle.

Spotted Tail, Red Cloud, American Hors and White Thunder and other chiefs, on a visit to the Indian school at the old barracks, were highly delighted with the management of the institution, except in one particular—the rule providing for the punishment of serious misbehavior by imprisonment in the guard house being distasteful to them.

The meeting of the chiefs who have chil very affecting. Two Strike, who has two boys in the institution, and Spotted Tail, who has four boys and one girl there, warmy embraced their children and shed tears joy. The chiefs were conducted through the several school departments and gave the exercises the closest attention.

Subsequently Spotted Tail made an ear the other visiting Indians and a number of whites. He complimented the management of the school, except its military feature, remarking that the children had been sent there to be educated, and not to have them inverted into soldiers.

He complained that some of the boys who vere too young to have hearts had been put nto the guard house. Captain Pratt, who has charge of the school, demanded the names of the pupils so treated, and Spotted Tail reluctantly replied that one of his sons bad been treated in that manner. After being told there was no military significance in the blue uniforms and drilling exercises his feelings were much mollified, but he insisted that the guard bouse punishment was not founded on humane principles Other boys have been committed to the guard house, but only after a court of their fellows ment.

The visiting Indians were conducted through the various workshops connected Spotted Tail and Red Cloud sent congratulatory telegrams to their friends in Dakota Territory. On Thursday evening interesting ceremo nies were held in the chapel of the school Right Rev. M. A. Why Were They Pardoned

The reasons for the pardon of Kemble, the legislative briber, are gradually coming to light. It is stated that Kemble's contribution to the Hoyt campaign of 1878 was ten People's Bank to the extent of thirty thousand dollars. It is in the nature of man to be grateful, and there are better reasons for Kemble's pardon than the little legal screen Attorney General Palmer put forth. Some of these reasons are best known to Cameron, who is the arch-conspirator. Kemble is only a satellite. Above and beyond him are the true offenders. Villainy has its day everywhere, and it will have it in this State. Some rich developments will then be made --Mauch Chunk Democrat.

It is believed that there will not be a quorum in the House of Representatives at Washington this week, owing to the hegira popular boys, safe and sound from their sea of Republican members to Chicago. It was difficult to drum up a quorum last week selves to the service of the public, and will greatly increased. Most of the Republican be inaugurated or a deserving charity to be secured pairs. In some instances it is stipulated that the pairs are not too hold good these things will be neglected by the Heir if the votes of the members present who are purpose of attending political conventions. It is to hoped that the Democrats in Congress will not imitate the bad example set by the republicans. Let them remain in their places and attend to the public business. There is statesmanship sufficient outside of congress to nominate a presidential ticket .- Patriot.

WASHINGTON LETTER. Washington, D. C. May, 27th 1880.

Fillibustering was the order of the day in both Houses of Congress yesterday, the republican minority in the Senate on the passtrong candidate" which simply means a sage of the new electoral rule, and the antinan who has the audacity to attempt to have adjournment party in the House. After a himself inaugurated whether he should be spirited debate, and the non concurrence in numerous amendments, the joint rule passed the Senate by a vote of 25 to 15. It is to be nan by a compromise, and it was agreed that boped that Congress will not adjourn until not a more important and imperative duty devolving on them than the establishment of no news has been received of a nomination some rule for counting the votes of Electors ing election will be a most exciting one. The minds of the entire nation will be wrough up to a high state of partizan feeling, the memory of the crime of 1876-7 will add to the animosity that will be engendered. Before the furious war of words is inaugurated Congress should see to it that every precaution and available means is taken against ending in another and more severe mode of war f are. No sane man is or should be willing to ske the swful risk which was taken in 1877 There, a cival war was imminent one in comparison to which the late war would have been but a drop in the bucket, and it surely would have been inaugurated carrying devas tation and ruin into every village and hamlet throughout the land had it not been for the patriotic forbearance of the Democratic pardren in the school with their offspring was ty. The electoral Commission was bound it would not inquire into fraudulent returns-It accepted them steeped in all manners of in quities and stole the votes of two states in order to seat in the Presidential chair a fraud The people at large want no more electoral commissions. Upon another such a trial forbearance would cease to be a virtue.

The joint rule reported by Senator Mor nest speech in the chancel in the presence of gan provides for an orderly, dignified and equitable count of the votes-When objecions are made to returns or alleged returns the two Houses are to separate, and one hour is to be allowed for the determination of each disputed case.

If but one list of votes of electors from any states has been submitted to each House for its decision and it shall appear that the Houses have not concurred in rejecting said list, such votes shall not be counted-if more than one list of votes of electors from any one State, or paper purporting to be such list has been submitted to each House for its decision upon objections made thereto, and it shall appear that the Houses have not concurred in receiving such list they shall each be declared by the President of the Senate in the presence of the Senate and the House of Representatives, as being rejected. And no list of votes of the electors so rejected shall afterwards be read in the presence of the two Houses except for information. I further provides a careful and circumspec mame for all the details of the joint conven tion and its proceeding to the announcemen of the final result. I fail to see the ground upon which the Republicans base their objections, unless it is that they wish to enact the proceedings of

SOCIETY AND BEEF.

LONDON, England, May 19, 1880,

We are treading close upon the heels of the London season. What, then, are the prospects for trade and pleasure during the coming months, when the metropolis will be turned into one huge fair, the streets crowded, the roadways blocked with carriages, the daytime almost too brief for the fulfill ment of innumerable engagements, night literalls-turned into day, and society hurrying to and fro between dinner party and ball, cricket match and flower show, park and opera, afternoon reception and French play? The most confirmed grumbler can scarcely look with jaundiced eyes on the summer programme that is already issuing. On all sides there are signs of encourage ment and promise. The youthful are cheerfully determined to face the fatigues of so ciety, and the middle aged follow their lead, The Prince and Princess of Wales with their trip, are prepared as ever, to devote themand since then the number of absentees has be found wherever there is a good work to members who have gone to Chicago have encouraged. Philanthrophy, science and literature, music and the drama-none o to the Throne of England, whose most gepaired should become necessary to show a nial countenance will certainly be seen quorum. But in many cases the pairs are wherever his presence can promote what is absolute. Members of Congress have no useful, and wherever his assistance is requibusiness to leave their posts of duty for the site for the better development of manly sports and exercises. Meanwhile, political antagonism and doubt are at an end. The new Parliament will soon have settled down, and the business of the Session got into good working order. New brooms will do their utmost to sweep clean; work and play will be cheerfully alternated; and, as there is a vast amount of labor to be accomplished, in order that promises may be duly fulfilled, there is every prospect of a busy Session, which means a season protracted far into the suitry days of summer.

Notwithstanding the severe prohibitory regulations that restrict the traffic, the importation of cattle from foreign countries has of late gone on increasing. In 1878 the number of foreign animals landed at the six privileged ports was 1,200,423. In 1879 it was 1,241,847; and if, as most people expect, trade continues to improve and wages rise, the import will, of course, grow rather than fall off. The fact that some 15,000 cat tle are killed every week at the Debtford landing-place ought to indicate that not only is the foreign cattle trade a large one, but that the regulations enforcing slaughter at the port of debarkation must seriously raise the price of beef. It may thus come to grave question whether it would not be pos sible to reax the restrictions now placed upon importation of cattle from the United States. There is no virulent type of disease ranging in that country. No case of plague can be discovered within its frontiers; and, although sometimes cattle from American ports show symptoms of pleuro pneumonia when they are landed, yet i must be borne in mind that when brought over alive they are exposed to weather of the worst sort and deprived of exercise in captivity. The strongest and healthiest atimals, in such cases, may contract pulmonary diseases, but, for all that, it may very well be that no pleuro pneumonia was among them when they were put on board ship. If this is the case-and there is good scientific authority for saying that it is so-Mr. Mundelia should set about making the foreign cattle trade as free as is compatible with general safety. He should put Ameri-

On Tuesday last, Capt. R. J. Linden, the well-known detective, accompanied by three of Pinkerton's men, arrived in this city, and immediately posted themselves about the principal hotels and cigar stores in the city. From their movements it was evident that they were after big game. Yesterday afternoon, as the four o'clock train was about leaving for New York, three well-dressed nen, each carrying a valise, arrived at the depot and purchased tickets for New York. They were about taking passage on the train when they were surrounded by Captain Linden and his detectives and taken before Alderman Graul, who had issued a warrant for their arrest. Upon their arrival at the al derman's office, their valises were searched and found to contain $7,700 in counterfei $5 and $10 Philadelphia and Reading railroad scrip. The men arrested were Edward Hall, a notorious New York forger, who issued the scrip; Mike Walsh, a noted cracks man, who served a term of five years in the eastern penitentiary for robbing a bank at Wellsboro, this State, and Robert White, another noted New York criminal. After a hearing before the alderman they were taken to the county prison. The bogus scrip is exceedingly well executed, the signatures of Franklin B. Gowen and S. E. Bradford, the treasurer, being perfect. The scrip wa in packages of $500 each. Pinkerton's de tective agency, at Philadelphia, had received information some weeks ago which led them to believe that bogus scrip was being manufactured and circulated, and the detectives have been shadowing Hall, day and night, having arrived in Reading on the train immediately following the counterfeiters. The men found some difficulty in dis posing of their scrip, and concluded to dis tribute it along the line. It is understood that they have some confederates in this city, who are also known to the officers .-

CLOSING SALE OF DRY GOODS

An Extraordinary Scale

We hereby announce to the public that our Kebuilding Operations now in progress, will include some radical changes in our present store and during the summer materially reduce the size of the building, We find ourselves with the largest stock we have ever had at this

And it is not only desirable, but necessary, that a large portion thereof should be closed at once. Although the great bulk of this stock was contracted for on a basis of values much lower than now, we have determined after careful consideration, instead of storing away the goods, to distribute among our

We do not claim to have reduced everything, for there are certain goods in such limited supply that we can scarcely meet the demand. Such Goods Will Not Be Reduced. But outside of these a radical mark-down has taken place, and many goods that are selling well are marked away down to insure their immediate clearance. The opportunity to secure bargains is a very unusual one, and buyers of saving, to anticipate their wants should visit us in person. I rom present indications the goods will be sold too rapidly to insure in all cases perfect satisfaction in the filling of orders through the Mail Order Department during the continuance of this great closing sale, Discarding all sensational or exaggerated statements we throw upon the market this immense stock of Dry Goods, determined to sell the

Our organization and our facilities for distributing large quantities of goods are believed to be unequaled, but every effort will be made to strengthen it and increase its efficiency during this closing sale, so that all who visit us may be waited on promptly and to their entire
