

BLOOMSBURG, PA. Friday, July 9, 1880.

Democratic National Ticket.

FOR PRESIDENT, Gen. W. S. HANCOCK, OF PENNSYLVANIA.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT, Wm. H. ENGLISH, OF INDIANA.

STATE TICKET.

SUPREME JUDGE, GEORGE A. JENKS, Jefferson county.

DEMOCRATS, ORGANIZE NOW.

We smell the battle from afar, and it brings with it the confidence that after the smoke shall have cleared away and the contest is ended, the banners of Democracy will be seen floating triumphantly over the body of defeated Republicanism.

THE SURREAT MATTER.

The following letter written by "A conscientious Catholic" to the Williamsport Banner contains much in little.

Democratic State Committee.

The Democratic State committee had a meeting at Bolton's Hotel, Harrisburg, last week Wednesday, presided over by Hon. A. H. Dill, the new chairman.

Hancock & English clubs are being organized in all parts of the county.

Bayard and Hendricks are enthusiastic supporters of Hancock. Will Grant, Confield, Cameron & Co. are doing for Confield very little if any.

Republican papers console themselves with the announcement that the Hancock enthusiasm will soon die out.

And now the republican organs have suddenly discovered that "General Order No. 40" was not written by General Hancock.

Gen. Hancock's Pedigree.

From the Rochester Union and Advertiser. John Hancock was born in 1703, died in 1799 aged eighty three. He was minister at Lexington, Mass.

Thousands of Pension Claims.

A special dispatch from Washington says the pension bureau is so overwhelmed with work that it is estimated the present force could not in thirteen years dispose of the claims now on file and unsettled.

Principles, Not Men.

Since the republican organs have made the distressing discovery that the record of their presidential candidate will not bear the rigid scrutiny to which it has been subjected, they have raised the demagogic cry of "principles, not men."

Another Great Republican for Hancock.

A BRAVE PENNSYLVANIA GENERAL DECLARES IN FAVOR OF THE DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE.

THE ATTEMPT AT CHICAGO.

It was attempted at Chicago to renominiate a man who typified nothing but brute force and arbitrary power.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, D. C. July 6, 1880.

LOCAL POLITICAL FEELING, ABOUT CIVIL SERVICE—GREAT FEAR OF REDUCTION BY DEMOCRATIC ADMINISTRATION.

There is much that is interesting, though but little that is new, in the political situation here, the country at large, no doubt somewhat interested in a presidential election, but Washington city lives, moves, and has its being in politics.

At the head of the Navy Department.

At the head of the Navy Department, that employs much the smallest service of the Departments, there has been during the present administration a phenomenal manager.

THE FERRY TEST.

No, gentlemen, let me ask you one thing. Having passed through this fire of examination, let me know the result.

Hancock's Louisiana Order.

WASHINGTON, November 30, 1867. My Dear General: This moment I read your admirable letter.

WHAT JUDGE BLACK THOUGHT AND SAID AT THE TIME.

WASHINGTON, November 30, 1867. My Dear General: This moment I read your admirable letter.

TO MAJOR GENERAL HANCOCK.

A BRAVE PENNSYLVANIA GENERAL DECLARES IN FAVOR OF THE DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE.

THE ATTEMPT AT CHICAGO.

It was attempted at Chicago to renominiate a man who typified nothing but brute force and arbitrary power.

HON. CHARLES S. WOLFE.

Hon. Charles S. Wolfe has been nominated by the republican party of Union county for legislature and it is said the nomination was unanimously tendered him.

THE STATESMANSHIP OF HANCOCK.

Senator Bayard delivered the following speech before the Senate at Washington on Wednesday last Friday night.

Fellow citizens: Do not know that my voice can reach the ears of you in this vast crowd, and I have to ask you to give me credit.

THE LOGIC OF HANCOCK.

The logic of Hancock is that the civil power is above the military. It is the duty of the government to be ruled by the people.

A Looseing Joke.

A prominent physician of Pittsburgh said of his continued ill-health, and of his inability to cure her, "I hope I never see her again."
