issue. The writ was issued, and was served on General Hancock, who has the custody of Mary E. Surratt, the party on whose behalf the writ was obtained. The writ required him to have the body of Mrs. Surratt, with the cause of her detention, before this Court this morning at ten o'clock; he has neglected to obey the order of the Court and the question now before us is, "what is the Court to do under the circumstances."

This is the only question before the Court at this time. Any discussion on the merits involved would now be out of place. The Court acknowledges that its powers are inadequate to meet the military power possessed by General Hancock. If the Court were to decide at this moment that General Hancock was in contempt the only process which it would issue would be an attachment for the disregard of its authority. But why issue an attachment against the whole military power of the United States? This Court acknowledges that the laws are silent, and that it is without power in the premises, and therefore declines to make any order whatever.

If there be a disposition on the part of the military power to respect the authority of the civil courts they will respect the writ which has already been served. If, on the other hand, it is their determination to treat the authority of this court with contempt in this matter, they have the power and will to treat with equal contempt any other process which the court might order. The Court, therefore, must submit to the supreme physical force which now holds the custody of the petitioner, and decline to issue an attachment or to make any other order in this case.

GENERAL HANCOCK APPEARS.

At 11½ o'clock General Hancock to whom the writ was addressed, came into court accompanied by Attorney-General Speed. The trial of Miss Mary Harris, charged with the murder of Mr. Burroughs, a clerk in the Treasury Department, which was then pending, was immediately suspended, when Attorney General Speed addressed the Court as follows:

May it please the Court:—In regard to the writ of habeas corpus directed to General Hancock, I desire to say, by way of apology for his not sooner making a return, that the process was not served upon him until about breakfast time this morning, and that owing to his having a great many persons to see, a great many important matters requiring immediate attention, and this distance from the court house, he was unable to get here at an earlier hour.

I wish to assure the Court that no disrespect was intended to it by the delay to which it has been unavoidably subjected.

The Court declined to make any order in the case. The Attorney General and General Hancock, in obedience to the writ, makes the following return:

Headquarters Middle Military Division, Washington, D. C., July 7, 1865.—To Hon. Andrew Wylie, Justice of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia:—I hereby acknowledge the service of the writ hereto attached and return the same, and respectfully say that the body of Mary E. Surratt is in my possession under and by virtue of an order of Andrew Johnson, President of the United States and Commander-in-Chief of the Army and Navy, for the purposes in said order expressed, a copy of which is hereto attached and made part of this return; and that I do not produce said body by reason of the order of the President of the United States, indorsed upon said writ, to which reference is hereby respectfully made, dated July 7, 1865.

WINFIELD S. HANCOCK,
Maj. Gen. U. S. Vols. Com'd'g. Mid. Div.

THE PRESIDENT'S INDORSEMENT.

EXECUTIVE OFFICE, July 7, 1865, 10 a. m.—To Major General W. S. Hancock, Commander, &c.—I, Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, do hereby declare that the writ of habeas corpus has been heretofore suspended in such cases as this, and I do hereby especially suspend this writ, and direct that you proceed to execute the order heretofore given upon the judgment of the Military Commission, and you will give this order in return to the writ.

ANDREW JOHNSON,
President.

The Court.—This Court finds itself powerless to take any further action in the premises, and therefore declines to make orders which would be vain for any practical purpose. As regards the delay, it having been fully accounted for, the Court has no fault to attach to the respondent in that respect.

Attorney General Speed.—It may not be out of order for me to say here, that this whole subject has, of course, had most earnest and anxious consideration of the Executive, and of the war making power of the Government.

Every man upon reflection, and particularly every lawyer knows that war cannot be fought by due process of law, and armies cannot be maintained by due process of law. There must be armies. There must be battles; if war comes the law of war, and usage permits battles to be fought, permits human life to be taken without the judgment of the court, and without the process of the court. It permits prisoners to be taken, and prisoners to be held, and your honor will not undertake to discharge them, although the Constitution says that human life shall not be taken, or man be deprived of his liberty or property without due process of law. Conflict of necessity comes up when war comes between the Executive and the Judicial, if the war power or war does not transcend the civil. War is made for the maintenance of the civil power, that is when peace comes for the purpose of giving us the benefit of the civil.

This country is now in the midst of a great war, and the Commander-in-Chief of the armies of the United States was slain in the discharge of his duties, and if the armies of the United States cannot, under the laws of war protect their Commander-in Chief from assassinations and if the laws of war cannot protect, by military law, the Commander-in-Chief from assassination and destruction, what has the Government come to?

The thing appears to me to be too plain for consideration. But as your honor has disposed of the case, I only make these remarks for the purpose of satisfying your Honor that we have anxiously, and I think most maturely considered this matter, giving your Honor credit for having done what you regard to be your duty in this matter, and are very glad to hear that your Honor gives us credit for having done what we have done and regarded to be our duty.

The Court—The writ was applied for, and I had no authority to refuse to grant it. It is a writ dear and sacred to every lover of liberty indispensible to the protection of citizens and can only be constitutionally set aside in times of war and insurrection, when the public safety requires it, and in regard to offenses committed in connection to the army or the military when called into active service.

With reference ro the merits of this case, which has so much occupied the attention of the public, and in fact of the whole civilized world, it would be out of place for the court to express an opinion. The case is not before it. The Court can only say that it has no doubt the gentlemen connected with the Government who have had the duty of conducting this trial, are truly convinced in their own minds as to the manner in which they have performed their duties. I do not feel at liberty: I could not; I dared not refuse to grant the writ.

The return which has been made to the writ, is from the President of the United States, and declares that the writ of habeas corpus is to be suspended in this case as has been in other and similar cases. The Court has no further power in the case; if the Government desires to carry out its purpose in regard to the petitioner, the Court cannot prevent it; and I do not know that it would be possible, ever hereafter, to bring the case for argument in this Court, for if the petitioner be executed this day, as designed, the body cannot be brought into Court, and therefore is an end to the case. The jurisdiction of this Court yields to the suspension of the writ of habeas corpus from the President of the United States.

General Hancock then asked leave to retire, which was granted, and he left in company with Attorney-General Speed.

A Loosing Joke.

A prominent physician of Pittsburgh said jokingly to a lady patient who was complaining of her continued ill-health, and of his inability to cure her, 'try Hop Bitters!' The lady took it in earnest and used the Bitters from which she obtained permanent health. She now laughs at the doctor for his joke, but he is not so well pleased with it, as it cost him a good patient.

It is not suprising that every few years we hear of the suffering of the famine stricken people of Egypt, when the small amount of cultivated land compared with the population is taken into consideration. The country is naturally barren, but millions of acres of land are made fertile by the annual overflow of the Nile. Notwithstanding the country has a population of about 7,000,000 the entire land under cultivaton is said not to exceed the state of New Jersey in extent.

Despondency, if allowed unchecked, will often produce a morbid condition, so that the least unsatisfactory affair that happens will swell into terrifying proportions. The mind being warped often imparts torpidity to the body, all of which more frequently is the effect of inaction of the liver than from any other cause, and by resorting to Simmons' Liver Regulator the mind will often find relief with the body.

Thousands suffering from Dyspepsia, Habitual Costiveness, Liver and Kidney Complaints, Scrofula and all Blood Diseases, will find in the Great Mexican and wonderful discovery, which is a direct conqueror and health restorer, has no equal in modern medicine. The great Mexican Remedy was first introduced into California in 1849, and in the few months it effected so many wonderful cures as to create a demand for the medicine from Maine to Florida. It is the only medicine in the world compounded from the active plants, roots and herbs of Mexico. It cures all blood diseases, from the worst scrofula to a common blotch, pimple, or eruption, while it clears and beautifies the complexion. In diseases of the Stomach, Blood, Liver and Kidneys it has permanently cured thousands. I defy it, in cases where all other known remedies had failed. One dose will cure any case of Sick Headache. Two doses will break up any ordinary attack of chill. Persons suffering with Heartburn, Waterbrash, Sour stomach, Biliousness, Costiveness, Piles, Palpitation of the Heart, Low Spirits, and kindred affections, will find the Mexican remedy a swift and sure relief. And soon compound by skill alone
His miraculous Bunion Balsam,
Tormented with Bunion, Corn or Bruise,
Thousands of sufferers heard the news,
The remedy that meets the views
