Ex-Governor Bigler died at Clearfield on Monday last. He was elected Governor of this State by the Democrats, and held many other prominent positions.

And now the cry of fraud comes from Alabama. The Democrats carried the State sold them for 75 per cent. of their face. Of course, the Democrats The proceeds of the bonds sold and the cash either killed or intimidated about 75,000 negro voters, which changed the result. The same kind of intimidation will be found everywhere this fall.

The attention of the Democrats throughout the county is especially called to the following dates.

Hancock. Thus are the ranks constantly

So far as we know the nominations were fairly made, and the candidates are entitled to the support of every Democrat. Experience has taught that it is not safe for anyone to assume that a nomination is equivalent to an election in this county. Candidates are expected to work not only for themselves, but for the whole ticket, National to the Union Pacific road into private State and county, from this time until the purses.

Now that the Convention has been held, it is time that the two wings of the Democratic party in this county should drop their personal differences, and work together for him to vote, should attend to the matter at are two wings is an undisputed fact, and that the only question between them is as to which shall control the party machinery is also a fact. This difference resulted last year in the nomination and subsequent defeat of a candidate of one wing, and this year in the nomination of a candidate for intention; but when an alien has been a Assembly by the other wing, and there is already some talk of an effort to defeat him at the polls. A bird flies high when its wings flop in unison, otherwise it falls to the ground. Let us take warning.

CONVENTION NOTES.

South Conyugham cast but two votes in Convention for Representative, because the voters of that district chose to instruct for Mr Vanderslice alone. They did not choose to vote for a second candidate and by rule uninstructed delegates are not permitted to vote. This limitation was adopted some years since in convention to prevent the complaint that a few uninstructed delegates could always control the result as they pleased in any close contest, which would be unfair to other districts and lead to intrigue if not corruption in nominations. In other cases in Convention a candidate was allowed to receive only the whole proper vote of a district and no more; for to al low him a doubled vote would be plainly wrong. That would be to allow him the ties or States, can get full papers here by votes that can only be given to a second showing first papers; and if these are not in candidate where two are to be nominated hand, copies can be obtained by mail from together, which is the case as to representaany part of the Union. tives and county commissioners. Colonel Forney as a Democratic Recruiting

The nomination of representatives for second term has been the usage in this county, and in the few instances where it has been departed from, the departure has been a subject of complaint. The reasons in any case for disregarding this usage ought to be very clear and strong.

The Congressional and Senatorial nominations (so far as this county acts alone) were settled by the voters at the primary elections. It only remained for the Convention to verify results by receiving and announcing the returns, and then to appoint conferees. Following this action the table of voting for the whole county, now published, will show how each caudidate was supported in each district, and that he had fairly and justly allotted to him his share of the convention vote.

He was an Emancipation Commissioner under Lincoln, and has held many offices of trust and honor. As the republicans do not yet seem to have a clear idea who is their candidate for Vice-President, we again inform them that it is Chester A. Arthur, late collector of customs at the port of New York. And in giving them that information we furnish them also with the following testimonial of character. They should cut it out and paste it in their hats. It is from Sherman's letter to Presi-

"But it is to be held that, to procure the removal of Mr. Arthur, it is sufficient to reasonably establish that gross abuses of administration have continued and increased during the incumbency; that many per sons have been regularly paid on his rolls who rendered little or no service; that the expenses of his office have increased, while collections have been diminishing; that gratuities in the nature of bribes, have been received by his subordinates in the Custom House; the efforts to correct these abuses have not met his support, and that he has not given to the duties of the office the requisite diligence and attention, then it is submitted that the case is made out.
