The colored men pall about 60,000 votes in this state, and most of them Republican, yet not a colored "genimen" is given a seat in the Legislature. In South Carolina the Democrats treat them better. There are tour Democratic members of the House there. It seems to us it is about time the negro recognizes who are his friends.

The senatorial caultron in this State is still boiling. Grow's friends are confident the necessary number in addition to those instructed for their favorite is to come from. They appear to forget that those inerructions will come under Cameron's obserabout getting around instructions, as the

It now looks as if John Sherman will have a walk-over for the senatorship, as Governor Foster has unexpectedly concluded to withdraw from the contest, which was already waxing warm. This unlooked for withdrawal of Foster has its significance While it is probable that Sherman would have beaten him, yet had he remaine! in the field the liveliest kind of a fight would have occurred, engendering a good deal of unpleasantness among the "bosses" and would have effected more injury than good to the party. Now the signs on the political excuequer plainly points to the selection of Sherman without serious opposition, and "Calico Charley" has but to bide his time and all will be well. It must be gratifying to the better class of Republicans of Onio to know that the most unpleasant factor in the canvass has been eliminated. They are fortunate in being relieved of the danger of being represented by a numb-skull,

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, D. C. December 21st,1880

Last week the Senate disagreed to a House resolution to adjourn over the holidays from to-morrow, Wednesday, but to-day the objecting Senators having folded their tents and stolen away to their homes-after making a record against a recess-the Secute concurred, and for two weeks from to-morrow the Senate and House chambers will be vacant. This adjournment resolution, by the way, is about the only piece of legislation upon which the Senate ever exactly agreed with the House. It amends everything else, even if only by adding a superfluous

The long recess was urged particularly by Republicans, and from this and other things it is believed that party desired an extra session. There are several reasons why such a session should be desired by the Radical leaders. The first and most important is connected with Garfield's well-known liberal ideas. The leaders are afraid to trust him unless they are by to watch him. On the use of troops at the polls, on the subject of All of which I freely admit except that deputy marshals at elections, on reform in the civil service, he has given expression to ideas worthy of Bayard or Thurman, or Mc Donald, but when the actual test of voting has come, and he has been surrounded by his party associates of the House, he has in variably been bulldozed into party subser viency. So they wish to compel him to call them together in extra session in March next, that they may be with him here in the early days of his administration, for fear that the good impulses of the man will prevail For this reason they will undoubtedly make use upon one or more bills of all the dilators tactics known to them, and for this reason they voted two weeks out of a short session.

Mr. Wood hopes to get up his funding bill to day and pass it through the House to-morrow. He had an understanding with the appropriation committee yesterday morning on the subject.

The four appropriation bills so far passed o the House are those which almost invarinbTy pass without debate, or material amendment. The army bill, which will be reported to day or to-morrow, the legislative executive and judicial, the Sunday civil etc. will not only cause lengthly debate, but afford opporturity for our Republican friends to put to use that knowledge of parliamentary actics which teaches how not to do it. On hese and the electoral vote resolution, and the funding bill I expect the fight for an extra session will be made.

I am very glad to say that the committee appointed to locate the proposed new Congressional Library building have decided or a large square in the centre of the city, in stead of disfiguring the Capitol building by wings, or extensions. Everybody is pleased with the building as it is, and no one knows that any one would be pleased with it after. some successor to Mullett had worked his will apon it.

A MAGNIPICENT NEWSPAPER.-This con plimentary designation has been fully applied o the Philadelphia Weekly Press under its preson able management. With a greatly strengthened editorial staff, a large corps of trained special correspondents and distinguished occasion al contributors, and an unsurpassed mechanic l equipment, it may fairly claim to have distanced all rivals in an enlarged field of usefulness. In editorial discussion it aims to be courteous as wall as fearless and independent in the collection of rews its enterprise is great; in the family departments nothing of interest standard is high, and the best stories of foreign authors appear exclusively in its columns by something in its pages every week to interest all classes. We commend the Philadelphia Weekly Press to all who are making up their lists of newspapers and periodicals for the new year. It is a neatly printed paper of eight pages, and is effered to clubs on particularly ateractive terms. Send to the Press, Philadelphia, for a sample copy.

ANCHOR WRITE LEAD COMPANY, CIN INNATI, December 6, 1880, - Colonel John Welsh in Progress (December 4, page 51), and regret that, in view of the political ourse of your paper, and especially this atack on one of our oldest and best friends, han whom there is no one in Philadelphia who is more esteemed and respected for the parity of his life, I must request you to discontinue sending me the Process from this date. Yours respectfully,

A. T. GOSHORN.
OFFICE "PROGRESS," PHILADELPHIA, PA., December 14, 1880. Hon. A. T. Goshorn Cincinnati - MY DEAR SIR: The Justice Strong, of the Supreme Court of breathe God's air. But with certain other right to stop a newspaper is like the right to the United States handed in his resignation rights it may sometimes be abused. So I hold that no man stopping his paper has a hatred on the one side and sectional humilimmediately upon its acceptance. Judge right to give confidential reasons insulting Woods of Georgia has been appointed to his the editor. Having gone through this business for more than a generation, I propose to discuss the question with perfect candor in this public reply to your letter of the 6th of December, 1880. As the wrong I con demned was a deliberate outrage upon the American people, I claim the full privilege o justify myself in denunciation of it.

Twenty one years ago James Buchanan president of the United States, set the example to his army of office-holders by stopping my paper, the Iress, because I conscientiously declared for the freedom of Kan of success. They think they know where sas. I boldly exposed his prescription to the people, and with their aid broke down his administration at the polls. When I ad vocated, almost alone among my contemporaries in Philadelphia, the movement in favation, and that he knows a thing or two vor of letting the cars run over our streets on the first day of the week for the benefit past has demonstrated time and again. The of the laboring poor of this great city, my opposition are not yet solidified, although paper was stopped by thousands who now strenuous efforts are being made to unite on | go to church in the same cars every Sunday. Henry W. Oliver. Time alone can solve the For that sincere effort I was assailed by a oncentrated cordon of augry clergymen, ne Sabbath day, calling upon the congre gations to stop the Press; and now most of these men of God frequently ride to and from church on Sunday. When, equally solitary and alone, I pleaded that the colored people should be allowed the use of the same cars, hundreds of those who now amiably sit side by side with the negro in these cars, also stopped the Press;

But my last and crowning crime was that of declaring for General Hancock for President. One man withdrew his subscription because he declared I was dishonoring the tame of the dead General Meade, the most of the survivors of whose family voted for the living hero of Gettysburg. Another, who was one of the loudest to applaud Gen eral Hancock in July, 1863, for his magnificent service to our state and city, stopped Progress because he could not train, he said, with the party which supported Lee in the ebellion. Still another discontinued his paper because the election of General Hanock, in his belief, would be a decree against the control of his special ring in this counry. Others, not quite so bold, waited to see if General Hancock could be elected in November, in wh ch event no doubt your name would still be inscribed on my books.

John Welsh was among the list. He like ou, waited for Hancock's defeat before he ired his anger. In addition to his note withdrawing his name from Progress, he declared that he could not stand my theory hat the empire was certain to be successful if mere money was hereafter permitted to country.

Now I have your letter of the 6th of Deember. Instead of meeting the direct isue-instead of discussing on fair grounds the doctrine that there can be no free un trammeled suffrage in this country if capi al is allowed to muzzle conscience and to turn the laboring population into so many white slaves, you speak of Mr. Welsh as one of your (my) oldest and best friends, than whom there is no one in Philadelphia who, is more estremed and respected for the which relates to the friendship between Mr. Weish and myself. That has always been maintained by perfect independence of all money relations between us. But if in this remark, you mean that I went abroad under his invitation as Centennial commissioner, in 1874-75, please remember that, besides doing my duty honertly, according to your records and the public judgment, I spent housands of dollars out of my own pocket, in addition to the $250 a month allowed by he finance committee. So much for that, t is because Mr. Welsh is precisely what you say he is, because he is so good a mau, because his life heretofore has been a model. secause of the purity of that life (virtues you claim for him, and I concede), that i fatal force was given to his secret application for the money of the millionaires to buy a man into the presidency, convicted by the republican party of the United States of brazen corruption in the American con

The purity of John Welsh's life made he impusity of that example more terrible. Until he signed the monstrons circular of the 14th of September, 1880, General Hancock was the foreordained president of the Juited States. Hancock's friends bad just carried Maine, and Mr. Garfield himself, and the trained bands of his party-the officethe trained bands of his party—the office-holders and the reckless managers who have been getting rich for twenty years from the plunder of the general government—saw and transhed before that the student lamp, which has heretofore had the reputation of being the safconvenient than the student lamp, which has berelv fore had the reputation of being the safe and the wall." At this point John Welsh took the field against General Hancock. Up to the Maine election in September, John Welsh stood aloof. The thrilling record of General Hancock, his splendid contradiction of all charges or suspicious against himself, the attractive incidents of his stainless life, and the graceful dignity with which he avoided all offensive advertisement of his person and his claims had reached thousands of hearts, and there is no doubt that if these evangelizing influences had been permitted to control, Hancock would have been the choice of the American people.

At this moment, John Welsh, of all men, the same and the cannow the safest, most convenient and best tamp made.

There are three reacons why agents should need to cannows for—first for its leading and profess the safest, most convenient and best tamp made.

At this moment, John Welsh, of all men, the very man whose purity of life should have led him to yield to these great facts made his ap carance as the author of the extraordinary circular which I republish. Up to that time he had stood aloof. And when that paper appeared there was not a gentleman in Philadelphia, outside of the aspirants for office, who did not read this demand for a corruption fund with amaze demand for a corruption fund with amaze. ment. This shameless circular was a blow exclusive territory to canvass in. nov.5-13w arrangement with the publishers; there is in the dark, struck from an unexpected quarter, struck under the mask of confidence in when John Welsh promised to keep the money sent to him to buy the suffrage a so cret, he admitted all of which he now stands convicted. By this pledge of secreey he confessed he was wrong. "The purity of his life" was a living reproach upon his delib- out & Co., 10 Barclay street, New York, Send erate act, and the success of his wrong for their catalogue and terms, sep.10,'80-1y crowned his own dishonor. It was he who sounded the challenge. His was the bugle-W. Forney. Philadelphia-Dear Sin: I call to bribery. He re-aroused the elements have just read your criticism on Mr. John of hatred against the south. He organized capital against labor in the north. He stimulated the worst passions amongst the worst men. His bid was the boldest bid against conscience since the days of the Bank of the United States, and it was a more audacious assault upon individual integrity than that great corporation. It was a more formidable temptation to parties and to the press, in proportion as the money John Welsh, marshalled against General Hancock was a thousand times more than that

> States. And so, long before the day of election, John Welsh became the text of sectional iation on the other. The money be raised was the open treasury from which desperate men could draw ad libitum, and last November the states bought by that money were handed over,like manacled prisoners,to the tender mercies of the rescued office hol ders and their chief at Mentor.

> Was I to stand silent before such an occa sion as this? Was I to remain muzzled before the exposure of the dark secret? Had I consented to such a shame I would have been a partner in the conspiracy itself. 23 SOUTH THIRD STREET, PHILADELPHIA September 14th, 1880.-At a meeting of a number of business men of Philadelphia, held Thursday, September 9th, Hon. You will perceive, Mr. Goshorn, that I do not stop to discuss the sincerity of the excuses of John Welsh for this correption fund. If I did, I might say that there is not an honest man between the two oceans who believes that if General Hancock had been elected president last November he would of Pen Knives from 10 cents to have destroyed our manufactures, impaired $4,50 each, seissors, shears and ra- Speer's Port Grape Wine our national banking system, or interferred with the safety of our American figance. Hancock's whole life is a protest sgainst the scandalous assumption. He is a citizen of Pennsylvania, known to John Welsh, far and Children's better known to John Welsh than John Weish is known to you or by you. Hancock was born in Montgomery county, almost within sound of Independence Hail, and yet because a man whose whole life heretofore has been a single illustration of "purity of crush and control free judgment in this character," alleges all these things against General Hancock (I will not insult John Weish by the intimation that he believes what he wrote and signed,) but because he alleges such things against General Hancock, he did not besitate to recommend of great states, and to take the lead in a crusade against the consciences of thousands of poor workingmen who had to vote against General Haucock on the matter of being turned out into the streets, or being made

CET THE BEST. ESTEY ORGANS,

STRONG COMPETITION

In the manufacture of Organs is resulting in the production and sale of cheap goods, made from inferior materials. I refer particularly to bogus Organs that are continually springing into existence, without any merit whatever, except to be offered cheap, and then when purchased found to be dear at any price. Will you not then, reader, If you Contemplate Buying an Organ consider it your only safeguard to select an instrument bearing the names of first class, wholly responsible makers. A good assortment of styles of the celebrated Fsiey Organs can now beseen at the new rooms of the Only Authorized Agent for the Estey Organs in Columbia County. A guarantee for five years from the manuacturers accompanies every Estey Organ.
