Ayer's Hair Vigor

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

It is the most agreeable dressing, which is at once harmless and effectual, for preserving the hair. It restores, with its use, the hair is thickened, and baldness often though not always cured.

It checks falling of the hair immediately, and causes a new growth in all cases where the glands are not decayed; while to brassy, wet, or otherwise diseased hair, it imparts vitality and strength, and renders it pliable.

The Vigor cleanses the scalp, cures and prevents the formation of dandruff; and, by its cooling, stimulating, and soothing properties, it heals most if not all of the humors and diseases peculiar to the scalp, keeping it cool, clean, and soft, under which conditions diseases of the scalp and hair are impossible.

As a Dressing for Ladies' Hair The Vigor is incomparable. It is colorless, contains neither oil nor dye, and will not soil white cambric. It imparts an agreeable and lasting perfume, and as an article for the toilet it is economical and unsurpassed in its excellence.

Disappointments Favorably Mentioned.

The world is full of disappointments, and it is common to hear people say, 'My life has been a failure.'

Many a tearful wail at night has been the resting place of joy in the morning. Many a cavern of sadness has been the anti-chamber of happiness richer than dreams ever brought us.

Many a fit of sickness has been a renewing of life's great joy, and from many a grief has there gone into the world again, a freed and loving heart, trembling with its own silence with the sign of some distant door bringing a new lease of life—a chapter of joys with sorrows and sorrows omitted.

Many a cold wind has blown away the heart's affliction, though its blast piped right merrily for a time, and we trembled at the storm which brought us the sun. We are all born to trouble. In every heart is a safe—God knows where the key is. In every heart is some secret of life or death.

In the life of every man, woman and child, sorrow makes the heart better. Disappointments renew our love. The unfulfilled river stops not forever, but finds a new current, and like the fishing of his anger, rushes on with new force.

What if you have been disappointed? Others have been. All may look cold to-day—it will not so long to-morrow. The deepest sorrows have brought the choicest blessings—the sickness of hope proved the convalescence of joy. Never give up. Never say fail! Never be discouraged.

Failure is the servant and success of the child of effort. Look up. Look to the future—of this life or the coming one. Your heart may be the cemetery of a thousand disappointments—there is room yet for leafy-boughed success to spring from and around every grave, making the blessed future a labyrinth—howers—a wilderness of joy—mean a prosperity—a heaven of heartfelt bliss.
