The midwinter (February) 'Scribner' has always been a special number, as rich as the choicest literary matter and the most beautiful wood engravings can make it. Of last year's midwinter number the London "Times" said: "It is a really magnificent triumph of American pictorial art and literary genius." The English publisher of "Scribner" has telegraphed for 17,000 copies of the present number—an advance of 6,000 upon his orders last year, and the largest edition of an American magazine ever sent to England—in fact it is said to be larger than the monthly sales of any English magazine. The American edition of Scribner has grown during 1880 about 20,000 copies.

A delightful feature of the magazine this year is a series of sparkling novelties, or condensed novels, instead of a serial story. "A Fair Barbarian," the story of a piquant American girl in England, by Mrs. Francis Hodgson Burnett, begins in this February number with a twenty-two page instalment, and will run through three issues. Since the death of George Eliot it may be said that Mrs. Burnett commands a larger English-speaking audience than the death of any other woman. Her novelette will be followed by one by George W. Cable, author of "The Grandissimes," etc., and afterward Boysen's "Queen Titania" will be published. "Peter the Great," Eugene Schuyler's historical work, begun in February, 1880, will be finished in October of this year. By means of the recently published special offers of "Scribner," the whole of this great work with its wealth of illustrations, can be had at a very low price, in connection with a year's subscription. All booksellers can give the terms.

In the same ratio that "Scribner's Monthly" is prospering, "St. Nicholas," the famous magazine for girls and boys, issued by the same publishers grows apace. About 100,000 copies of the Christmas (December) number were sold, while the January number has been for some time out of print. In February, there is a full account of the Obelisk, richly illustrated from sketches and photographs showing the great monolith in all stages of moving. The midwinter "Scribner" and "St. Nicholas" are now ready.

No Hospital Needed.

No hospital needed for Hop Bitters patients, nor large salaried, talented puffers to tell what Hop Bitters will do or cure as they tell their own story by their own certain and absolute cures at home.—New York Independent.

Semi-Masculine Dress.

A rector of Philadelphia in a sermon to women says: "I object to cigarette hats and long-tailed jacket or coats. Man, who is logical, may wear mathematically-cut garments, but a Christian woman should not appear to be mannish." Then, as if to be talked to from the pulpit were not enough, the Philadelphia Press makes an attack on those who wear the cigarette or tall beaver hats, as follows: "We admire the beaver hats, because girls who have more than the usual quantity of nose, or who have ugly ears, can conceal their misfortune beneath the brim, and those who have no 'store-braid' can likewise hide its absence." Nothing more wonderful, or hideous, for street wear was ever invented than the stiff beaver hat, which was introduced only for equestriennes to wear riding, but with the American idea of utility, now it is too cold for horseback riding, is worn on the street.

A Great Enterprise.

The Hop Bitters manufacturing company is one of Rochester's greatest business enterprises. Their Hop Bitters have reached a sale beyond all precedent, having from their intrinsic value found their way into almost every household in the land.—Graphic.

In the course of excavations in connection with the proposed restoration of Stratford-on Avon Parish church, the laborers have come upon the old chancel house, consisting of a capacious vault on the north-east side of the chancel. It is said not to have been used for sepulchral purposes since the time of the Reformation and was finally closed in 1686. The vault was full of human bones some of which were in a good state of preservation, particularly the skulls. The remains were six to eight feet in depth, and extended on all hands, there being, it is computed, several tons of them. A large quantity was removed and reinterred in different portions of the church yard. The face of a strongly-built Saxon archway was then revealed, about six feet in the opening. The roof continues towards the chancel wall, and is exactly opposite Shakespeare's tomb. It is not yet known whether the explorations will be continued.—Liverpool (England) Post.

Living Witnesses

The hundreds strong, hearty, rugged and very healthy looking men, women and children that have been rescued from beds of pain, sickness and well nigh death by Parker's Ginger Tonic are the best evidences in the world of its sterling merit and worth. You will find such in almost every community. Read of it in another column.

WHAT CAUSED THEIR INSANITY.—Of the 1,143 insane inmates of the Danville asylum three males and seven females were crazed by religious excitement, while but one man's reason was dethroned by political excitement. Intemperance crazed sixty, of whom 3 were females, disappointed affection was the cause of one invalid, and three female's lunacy, and disappointment in business brought one man to the asylum. Seven males and three females became crazy from fright, and one male from fear. Homesickness caused one female to loose her reason. Domestic troubles crazed fourteen males and thirteen females, and business troubles thirty males and thirteen females. Starvation had one male within, and poverty one male and one female. Ten males and eight females were made crazy by bereavement, and three females by spiritualism. It is a remarkable fact that but one printer has been confined in the asylum, and that there were no crazy editors.

Speer's Horehound Rye and Rock.

Made of old pearl rye, rock candy crystal, and the Horehound herb, a simple and effective remedy for coughs, colds, hoarseness and sore throats, highly recommended for consumptives. This is no patent medicine mixture, but it is the pure extract of Rye, Horehound and Rock Candy, combined with one other medicine much used by consumptives. Sold by C. A. Kleim.

There was a fight imminent between two boys on Elm street, Monday evening. One of them darkly hinted that he was bigger than the other. The smaller, who is the son of a deacon, defiantly retorted, "I don't care if you're as big as a church debt; you can't scare me."—Danbury news.

A small boy declined to eat soup at dinner the other day, on the ground that he hadn't any teeth that were little enough for soup.

A Head Pressed Out of Shape.

One of the most extraordinary stories ever told appears in The Erie Dispatch, and reads as follows: Brakeman Snodgrass, of Corry, met with an accident at that place while making a coupling that has probably never before been experienced by any man who lived to tell the tale. He had his head caught between the bumpers and was so horribly squeezed it was not deemed possible that he could live, but he is now getting along finely. His head, which was once round, was pressed, by the accident, out long and slim. He is also from one-half to three quarters of an inch taller. The terrible squeeze which his head received has made him crosseyed, but strange as it may seem, his mind is as clear and as bright as it ever was.

There is a tramp who haunts the east end of Galveston who has got it down fine. He has reduced it to a perfect system. He knocked at the door of a house. The owner came out. As soon as he laid eyes on the tramp he said: "Now, look here, only recently I gave you a nickel to stay away for ten days, and here you are back again. "The tramp put his hand to his forehead and was lost in thought for several minutes. Then he said: "You are right, colonel—Your regular assessment is not due yet. When I get back to my counting room I'll pay off my head bookkeeper and discharge him. He has neglected to give you the proper credit on the ledger." "Well, go on, now." "All right, colonel, this is not a professional call it; is only complimentary. No extra charge.

Shoot Low to Hit a Jury.

Tom Corwin, of Ohio, once said: "The trouble with members of the bar is that they don't get down low enough. They shoot over the heads of the twelve numskulls before them. I have seen Ewing, Stanberry and Hunter, leading luminaries as they are, dumbfounded, being beaten by some stump-tailed, pennyroyal bull of a country attorney, with no more law in his head than a snake in dog-days. I never score a success in a jury trial that I don't feel humiliated. Even if my side has the right, I know I have used means to win that ought to shame a down East stock peddler."

A negro was suspected of surreptitiously meddling with his neighbor's fruit, and, being caught in the garden by moonlight, nonplussed his detectors by raising his eyes, clasping his hands and piteously exclaiming "Good heavens! dis yere darkey can't go nowhere to pray anymore without ba in' surbed.'

Mark Twain says there is something very fascinating about science—it gives you such wholesale returns of conjecture, for such trifling investments of fact.

Horses have been known to get blind from being kept in dark stables The stables should be so lighted that the light will not fall directly on the horse's eyes. The window should be at the rear of the stalls

THE BEST REMEDY FOR
Diseases of the Throat and Lungs.

In diseases of the pulmonary organs a safe and reliable remedy is invaluable. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL is such a remedy, and no other so eminently merits the confidence of the public. It is a scientific combination of the medicinal principles and curative virtues of the finest drugs, chemically united, of such power as to insure the greatest possible efficiency and uniformity of results. It strikes at the foundation of all pulmonary diseases, affording prompt relief and rapid cures, and is adapted to patients of any age or either sex. Being very palatable, the youngest children take it readily. In ordinary Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Influenza, Clergyman's Sore Throat, Asthma, Croup, and Catarrh, the effects of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL are magical, and multitudes are annually preserved from serious illness by its timely and faithful use. It should be kept at hand in every household for the protection it affords in sudden attacks. In Whooping-cough and Consumption there is no other remedy so efficacious, soothing, and helpful.

Low prices are inducements to try some of the many nostrums, or syrups, made of cheap and ineffective ingredients, now offered, which, as they contain no curative qualities, can afford only temporary relief, and are sure to deceive and disappoint the patient. Diseases of the throat and lungs demand active and effective treatment; and it is dangerous experimenting with unknown and cheap medicines, from the great liability that these diseases may, while so trifled with, become deeply seated or incurable. Use AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, and you may confidently expect the best results. It is a standard medical preparation, of known and acknowledged curative power, and is as cheap as its careful preparation and fine ingredients will allow. Eminent physicians, knowing its composition, prescribe it in their practice. The test of half a century has proven its absolute certainty to cure all pulmonary complaints not already beyond the reach of human aid.

Has a Pad differing from all others. It operates with Self-Adjusting Ball's action, adapts itself to all positions of the body, with the Elastic Pad the cup presses back the intestines just as a person would with the fingers. It never slips, but presses the hernia back only as it should, retains it there, and a radical cure follows. It is easy, genteel and cheap. Sent by mail. Circular free. Address
